In re WOAX, Incorporated (WTNJ), Trenton, New Jersey, Docket No. 6161, File No. B1-ML-1084; The City of Camden (WCAM), Camden, New Jersey, Docket No. 6144, File No. B1-ML-1069; Radio Industries Broadcast Company (WCAP), Asbury Park, New Jersey, Docket No. 6145, File No. B1-ML-1070; Independence Broadcasting Company (WHAT), Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Docket No. 7309, File No. B2-P-4435; Foulkrod Radio Engineering Company (WTEL), Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Docket No. 8100, for modification of license.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of February 1947;

The Commission having under consideration (1) its proposed decision and supplemental proposed decision (B-224) issued October 17, 1945, and September 5, 1946, respectively, proposing to grant the application of Radio Industries Broadcasting Company (WCAP) for renewal of license and modification of license and to deny the applications of the City of Camden (WCAM) and WOAX, Inc. (WTNJ) for renewal and modification of their respective licenses; (2) its proposed decision (B-293) issued October 31, 1946, proposing to grant the application of Ranulf Compton d/b as Radio WKDN for a new standard broadcast station at Camden, New Jersey, to be operated on 800 kc, 1 kw, daytime only, and denying the applications of Camden Broadcasting Company and Independence Broadcasting Company (WHAT) for use of these facilities in Camden and Philadelphia, respectively; (3) the application of Valley Broadcasting Corporation (File No. BP-4790) for a new standard broadcast station at Allentown, Pennsylvania, to be operated on 790 kc with 1 kw power, unlimited time; and (4) the petition of Valley Broadcasting Company requesting reconsideration and further hearing on the proposed grant of the application of Ranulf Compton d/b as Radio WKDN; and

Whereas, the City of Camden (WCAM) and WOAX, Inc. (WTNJ) have filed exceptions to the decision proposing to deny their applications and oral argument was heard thereon before the Commission on December 27, 1946; and

Whereas, Camden Broadcasting Corporation and Independence Broadcasting Company (WHAT) have filed exceptions to the decision proposing to deny their respective applications and to grant the application of Ranulf Compton d/b as Radio WKDN, and oral argument was heard thereon before the Commission on December 27, 1946; and

Whereas, Stations WCAP, the only station in Asbury Park, New Jersey, WCAM, the only station in Camden, New Jersey, and WTNJ, one of two stations in Trenton, New Jersey, now operate on 1310 kc, under a time-sharing arrangement and Stations WHAT and WTEL, Philadelphia, operate on 1340 kc under a time-sharing arrangement which does not permit operation during that portion of the day when WCAM is in operation because of the mutual interference which would be caused thereby; and

Whereas, it appears to the Commission that as a result of these time-sharing arrangements, the communities served by the respective stations do not now have adequate local service; and

Whereas, it appears that, in the event the licenses of Stations WTNJ and WCAM should be renewed, a more fair and equitable distribution of facilities among the communities involved might be obtained by modification of the respective licenses of these stations as follows:

WCAM, Camden, from 1310 kc, 500 w (S-WCAP, WTNJ) to 1340 kc, 250 w, unlimited.

WTNJ, Trenton, from 1310 kc, 500 w (S-WCAM, WCAP) to 1300 kc, 250 w, daytime only.

WCAP, Asbury Park, from 1310 kc, 500 w (S-WCAM, WTNJ), to 1310 kc, 250 w, unlimited.

WTEL, Philadelphia, from 1340 kc, 100 w (S-WHAT) to 860 kc, 250 w, daytime only.

WHAT, Philadelphia, from 1340 kc, 100 w (S-WTEL) to 800 kc, 1 kw, daytime only;

Whereas, the operation of Station WHAT at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on 800 kc might result in mutual interference with the proposed station of Valley Broadcasting Company operating on 790 kc at Allentown, Pennsylvania;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That, pursuant to section 312 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, WOAX, Inc., the City of Camden, Radio Industries Broadcasting Company, Independence Broadcasting Company, and Foulkrod Radio Engineering Company show cause at a hearing to be held in Washington, D. C., at 10:00 o'clock a. m. on March 10, 1947, why the licenses of their respective stations, if they are renewed, should not be modified as follows: WCAM to operate on 1340 kc, 250 w, unlimited time; Station WTNJ to operate on 1300 kc, 250 w, daytime only; WCAP to operate on 1310 kc, 250 w, unlimited time; Station WHAT to operate on 800 kc with 1 kw power, daytime only; and WTEL to operate on 860 kc, 250 w, daytime only; and

It is further ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the application of Valley Broadcasting Corporation be, and it is hereby designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding with the aforesaid proceeding under section 312 (b) of the act, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial, and other qualifications of the applicant corporation, its officers, directors and stockholders to construct and operate the proposed station.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain primary service from the operation of the proposed station and the character of other broadcast service available to those areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with any existing broadcast stations and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with the services proposed in any pending applications for broadcast facilities, and if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed station would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine whether a more fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service would be accomplished by a grant of the application of Valley Broadcasting Corporation or by the following plan of allocation of facilities to the following stations: WCAM, 1340 kc, 250 w, unlimited time; WTNJ, 1300 kc, 250 w, daytime only; WCAP, 1310 kc, 250 w, unlimited time; WHAT, 800 kc, 1 kw, daytime only; WTEL, 860 kc, 250 w, daytime only; and

It is further ordered, That the proceeding involving Docket Nos. 5893, 6161, 5361, 6144, 5778, and 6145 and the proceeding involving Docket Nos. 7065, 7309, and 7481 be, and the same are hereby consolidated and designated for further hearing with the hearing ordered herein, pursuant to section 312 (b) of the act, and the hearing ordered herein upon the application of Valley Broadcasting Corporation.

(2) Application of Denver Broadcasting Company (File No. BP-5141) for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on the frequency 810 kc with power of 25 kw, 50 kw-LS, using directional antenna day and night at Denver, Colorado; and

(3) Request of American Broadcasting Company (KGO) that Station WGY, Schenectady, New York, be required to install a directional antenna which would afford nighttime protection to Station KGO operating as proposed in the aforesaid application; and

It appearing, that Station WGY now operates unlimited time at Schenectady, New York, on the frequency 810 kc with 50 kw power; that Station KGO is authorized to operate unlimited time, with directional antenna, on the same frequency at San Francisco, California, with 50 kw power; and that the said request of American Broadcasting Company, Inc. pertaining to the installation of a directional antenna by Station WGY, would, if granted, be a modification of the broadcast license of Station WGY;

Applicant recites that the proposed facilities are necessary to provide sufficient pipeline capacity to enable it to adequately supply the firm gas needs in its markets north of its Clifton, Kansas, Compressor Station.

Applicant proposes to start construction of the proposed facilities as soon after they are certificated as materials and supplies can be obtained and contracts for construction entered into. Construction will be completed as rapidly thereafter as practicable.

[Docket No. G-874]

UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MARCH 11, 1947.

Notice is hereby given that on February 12, 1947, United Gas Pipe Line Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at Shreveport, Louisiana, and authorized to do business in the states of Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing Applicant to construct and operate the following facilities:

(1) Construct approximately 93 miles of 18-inch pipe line, and appurtenant facilities, beginning at a point in the Baxterville gas field in Marion County, Mississippi, and extending in an easterly direction to a point of connection with Applicant's Benton Junction-Mobile and Lirette-Mobile Transmission Lines at or near their junction (Whistler Junction) near the city of Mobile, Alabama.

(2) Remove approximately 8.3 miles of 12-inch pipe line on Applicant's Mobile-Pensacola Main Transmission Line, being that part of said line extending in an easterly direction approximately 8.3 miles from Whistler Junction, near Mobile, Alabama, and replace same with 16-inch pipe.

(3) Loop the present 6-inch tap line extending from Applicant's Mobile-Pensacola Main Line to the plant of Florida Pulp and Paper Company, near Cantonment, Florida, with approximately 3.5 miles of 8-inch pipe.

Applicant states that on July 2, 1946, the Federal Power Commission issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity to Applicant authorizing Applicant to construct (along with other projects set out therein) approximately 10.3 miles of 12¾-inch O. D. pipe line, and appurtenant facilities, including measuring equipment, beginning at a point in the Baxterville Field and extending in a westerly direction to a point of connection with Applicant's Bogalusa main transmission line at approximately mile post 51.4.

Applicant states that since the issuance of the certificate in Docket No. G-724, the demand for natural gas in the Mobile-Pensacola area of Applicant's "Jackson District Market" has increased very rapidly due to new customers secured by Applicant and increased requirements of its present customers; that if Applicant proceeded with the "Baxterville Project" as heretofore authorized the increased demand in the Mobile-Pensacola area could not be met without looping a large portion of the lines now serving that area; that Applicant believes it would be highly desirable and good operating practice to substitute the facilities described in the present application for the "Baxterville Project" heretofore authorized in Docket No. G-724.

Applicant estimates that the total gas reserves in the Baxterville Field are approximately 250 billion cubic feet, and states that it has a gas purchase contract with Gulf Refining Company covering an estimated 150 billion cubic feet of such reserves. Applicant estimates that the maximum daily delivery capacity from the wells to be connected under its contract with Gulf Refining Company will be in excess of 150,000 M. c. f., and states that additional delivery capacity will be available from wells of others with whom Applicant expects to make gas purchase contracts.

Applicant proposes to operate the 93 miles of 18-inch pipe line with an inlet pressure of approximately 650 pounds p. s. i. g., and with an outlet pressure of approximately 520 pounds p. s. i. g. With these pressures it is estimated that the 18-inch line will have a maximum capacity of approximately 77,000 M. c. f. per day. It proposes to increase the inlet pressure of its Mobile-Pensacola line from 300 pounds p. s. i. g. to 520 pounds p. s. i. g., and, with this increase in pressure through the new 16-inch line which will replace the existing 12-inch line extending eastward from Whistler Junction, it is estimated the capacity of the line will be increased from approximately 26,000 M. c. f. to approximately 49,000 M. c. f. Applicant proposes to increase delivery of gas to Florida Pulp and Paper Company from approximately 5000 M. c. f. to approximately 13,750 M. c. f. per day with the proposed 3.5 miles of 8-inch loop line extending from Applicant's Mobile-Pensacola main line to the plant of Florida Pulp and Paper Company near Cantonment, Florida.

The estimated overall capital cost of the proposed facilities is approximately $3,150,000, which Applicant proposes to finance from cash on hand, or, if necessary, to be borrowed by Applicant from its parent, United Gas Corporation.

Operation of the proposed facilities will be supervised by Applicant's Transmission Pipe Line Department.

Any interested State Commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

The application of United Gas Pipe Line Company is on file with the Commission and is open to public inspection. Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application shall file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than fifteen days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a petition to intervene or protest. Such petition or protest shall conform to the requirements of the rules of practice and procedure (effective September 11, 1946), and shall set out clearly and concisely the facts from which the nature of the petitioner or protestant's alleged right or interest can be determined. Petitions for intervention shall state fully and completely the grounds of the proposed intervention and the contentions of the petitioner in the proceeding, so as to advise the parties and the Commission as to the issues of fact or law to be raised or controverted, by admitting, denying, or explaining specifically and in detail, each material allegation of fact or law asserted with respect to the application.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN. ET AL.

ORDER GRANTING EXEMPTION ON COMPETITIVE BIDDING FOR STOCK AND RESERVING JURISDICTION ON OTHER POINTS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 11th day of March 1947.

In the matters of New England Gas and Electric Association, File No. 54-120; New England Gas and Electric Association et al., File No. 59-34.

The Commission, by Order dated February 11, 1947, approved the alternate plan for recapitalization of New England Gas and Electric Association ("New England") under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and other applicable provisions thereof. Pursuant to the terms of its alternate plan which provides, among other things, for the retirement of New England's outstanding debentures in the principal amount of $34,998,500, New England will issue and sell $22,425,000 principal amount of collateral trust bonds and 77,625 cumulative convertible preferred shares having a dividend rate not in excess of 5%. Under the terms of the alternate plan 766,776 shares of new common will be allocated for distribution to holders of the outstanding $5.50 preferred shares at the rate of 8 new common shares for each share of preferred held. In order to provide New England with $4,312,500 of cash, needed by it (in addition to the proceeds from the sale of the new bonds and preferred shares) to carry out the terms of the plan, the holders of the outstanding $5.50 preferred shares will receive transferable rights to subscribe for 5 additional shares of new common (or a total of 479,235 shares) at $9 a share. Each holder of $5.50 preferred will also receive non-transferable rights to subscribe pro rata to not more than 20 additional common shares to the extent that the transferable rights are not exercised. The latter provision is designed to provide an additional means of raising the said $4,312,500 of cash in the event that the transferable rights are not fully subscribed. However, New England states that in order to provide complete assurance that the necessary cash will be obtained it is essential that a standby agreement be entered into for the purchase of the shares of common not subscribed for pursuant to the rights offering.

Under the terms of the alternate plan, the bonds will be sold at competitive bidding. Since the alternate plan is silent as to whether the new preferred shares will be sold at competitive bidding or by a negotiated sale the Commission, in approving the plan, reserved jurisdiction, among other things, to pass upon such matters. New England has now filed an amendment to its application under section 11 (e) requesting an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 with respect to the new preferred and unsubscribed for common shares.

New England in its amendment states that successful consummation of the alternate plan can be assured only by the granting to it of an exemption from Rule U-50 in the disposition of the preferred and common shares. The reasons, among others, for such exemption as set forth by New England may be summarized as follows:

1. New England has a debenture maturity in the principal amount of $13,206,000 on September 1, 1947 which if not provided for will accelerate its other debenture maturities of 1948, 1950, 1962 and 2031 in the additional aggregate principal amounts of $21,792,500;

2. New England is a Massachusetts voluntary association. Thus, as an incorporated issuer, some questions arise as to the marketability of its securities as a result of blue sky, insurance, etc., qualifications in certain jurisdictions making necessary more extensive preparation by the underwriter in seeking out the available markets than would otherwise be necessary;

3. Pursuant to the terms of its amended plan approved by the Commission on June 24, 1946, New England invited bids on Collateral Trust Bonds and common shares in August 1946 and on learning that in the then condition of the market no bids were to be received withdrew the invitation. In its peculiar situation and considering its imminent maturities, New England states that it must adopt that procedure most likely to assure consummation of its recapitalization and that repetition of the experience of last summer might be disastrous since it might preclude the possibility of subsequent successful sale of its securities by negotiation.

In the particular circumstances of this case, including the imminent maturities of New England's outstanding debentures and the consequent necessity for prompt consummation of the recapitalization of New England, and taking into account the nature of the issuer and the securities involved as well as the history of this reorganization, we conclude that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to grant New England's request for an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 with respect to the new preferred and common shares.

It is therefore ordered, Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act, that the application for exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 with respect to the proposed cumulative convertible preferred shares and common shares to be sold pursuant to the terms of the alternate plan, be, and hereby is, granted forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions and reservations of jurisdiction prescribed in the said order of February 11, 1947 approving the alternate plan, including the reservation of jurisdiction over the reasonableness of the price to be paid for the securities; the terms of the offering thereof; the underwriter's spread and the fees and expenses in connection therewith.

Secretary.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 7th day of March 1947.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration, as amended, has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company. Applicant - declarant has designated sections 6, 7, 9, and 10 of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 24, 1947, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said application-declaration, as amended, which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. At any time after March 24, 1947 said amended application-declaration, as filed or as further amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application-declaration, as amended, which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

1. GPU requests authority to acquire not more than 479,235 new common shares ($8.00 par value per share) of New England Gas and Electric Association ("Negas"), a registered holding company, pursuant to the provisions of the Alternate Plan of Recapitalization of Negas ("Alternate Plan") which was approved by this Commission on February 11, 1947 and as to which an application seeking enforcement has been filed with the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts. The alternate plan provides, among other things, that GPU, as the holder of 23,744 shares of the $5.50 preferred shares of Negas now outstanding, shall have the right to receive (a) transferable rights to subscribe at $9.00 per share, for 118,720 of the new common shares of Negas, and (b) non-transferable rights to subscribe, at $9.00 per share, for such new common shares of Negas as shall not have been taken up by the exercise of the transferable subscription rights by holders of the $5.50 preferred shares. The maximum number of such new common shares which GPU might acquire pursuant to the exercise of its non-transferable rights is 360,515.

2. (a) GPU proposes to issue and sell to commercial banking institutions unsecured promissory notes in an aggregate principal amount which will not exceed $9,600,000. The proceeds of such issuance and sale are to be used (i) in an amount not to exceed $4,300,000 for the acquisition of not more than 479,235 new common shares of Negas as set forth above, and (ii) in an amount of $2,000,000 to repay a bank borrowing in like principal amount, and (iii) in an amount of $3,300,000 partially to reimburse the treasury of GPU for net capital contributions of $10,500,000 made by it to its subsidiaries since June 1, 1946.

(b) An aggregate principal amount of $3,000,000 of such promissory notes will bear interest at the rate of 1½% per annum and will mature on December 15, 1947. The remaining principal amount of such notes will bear interest at the rate of 1¾% per annum and will mature one year after the date of issuance; however, the loan agreement with respect to the latter notes provides for successive one-year extensions, with the consent of this Commission, on terms which will require their equal annual amortization over a total period of five years. The loan agreement securing such promissory notes will provide, among other things, (i) that any amounts which may ultimately be received by GPU as the result of certain cash payments made by Negas pursuant to the provisions of the Alternate Plan (expected to aggregate approximately $1,900,000) will be applied against the latest maturing promissory notes, and (ii) that the net proceeds of the sale of any or all of the new common shares of Negas received by GPU pursuant to the exercise of its subscription rights, or otherwise, will be applied to the payment of the first maturing promissory notes.

3. GPU stipulates that, if the Commission approves and permits to become effective the application-declaration, as amended, it will dispose of such new common shares of Negas as it will acquire pursuant to said order within a period of one year from the date of acquisition or within such additional period as the Commission may approve.

Applicant-declarant states that the proposed transactions are not subject to the approval of any Commission other than this Commission.

Applicant-declarant requests that the date of issuance and effectiveness of the Commission's order be not later than March 25, 1947.

STANDARD GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 11th day of March 1947.

Standard Gas and Electric Company, a registered holding company, has filed a declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, regarding the proposed sale, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, of 140,614 shares (representing 56.42% of the presently outstanding 249,233 shares) of common stock, without par value, of Mountain States Power Company, a Delaware corporation, owned by Standard Gas and Electric Company, and the application of the net proceeds from said sale toward the payment of interest and principal on its promissory notes dated April 10, 1946, issued to banks under the Bank Loan Agreement of declarant, dated December 21, 1945, as later amended (copies of which are on file with the Commission, File No. 70-1211).

The Commission having by order dated December 12, 1946, permitted said amended declaration to become effective, except as to the price to be paid for the purchase of said common stock, the underwriters' spread and their allocation, as to which matters jurisdiction was reserved; and the Commission having by Supplemental Order dated February 26, 1947 granted an extension of time within which declarant may consummate said sale under the provisions of said order dated December 12, 1946; and

Standard Gas and Electric Company having filed a further amendment to its declaration, as amended, in which it is stated that, in accordance with the permission granted by said orders of the Commission dated December 12, 1946, and February 26, 1947, it has offered such common stock for sale pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 and on March 10, 1947, has received the following bids per share:

Syndicate headed by:	Price to company
Blyth & Co., Inc.	$32.29
Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc.	32.07
Kidder, Peabody & Co.	31.61

Said amendment having further set forth that Standard Gas and Electric Company has accepted the bid of the syndicate headed by Blyth & Co., Inc., for the purchase of said common stock, as set out above, and that the successful bidder will offer said common stock for sale to the public at a price of $34.50 per share, resulting in an underwriters' spread of $2.21 per share; and

The Commission having examined the record in the light of said amendment, and finding no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be paid for said common stock or the underwriters' spread and their allocation;

It is ordered, That jurisdiction heretofore reserved over the price to be paid for said common stock and the underwriters' spread and their allocation be, and the same hereby is, released, and the said declaration, as further amended, be, and the same hereby is permitted to become effective, subject, however, to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

NEW ENGLAND PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 11th day of March A. D. 1947.

We have before us for consideration and disposition separate motions filed by Harry C. Blatchley and Allen L. Goldfine, which in effect request modification or vacation of our findings, opinion and order of October 11, 1945, issued pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, which approved, subject to the approval of the United States District Court for the District of Maine, a plan of reorganization for New England Public Service Company ("NEPSCO") involving a sale by NEPSCO of its interests in certain industrial subsidiaries to Coffin & Burr, Incorporated and The First Boston Corporation ("Burr-Boston") for the sum of $16,500,000 in cash. Blatchley owns 30 shares of the prior lien preferred stock of NEPSCO. Goldfine owns no stock, and his standing, if any, is predicated on his desire to bid for NEPSCO's interest in the properties sold.

The Blatchley motion alleges that the sale of the non-utility assets of NEPSCO was not fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan within the meaning of section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; that the consideration was inadequate; that the management of NEPSCO failed to perform its responsibilities to security holders, including the charges that various key officials of NEPSCO had a certain pecuniary interest in selling the assets to Burr-Boston and to no other group; and that in various respects, full disclosure was not made to the Commission. The prayer of the Blatchley motion is that the Commission "make and enter findings of fact and conclusions of law in accordance with the foregoing and take such action as it may deem appropriate to amend or rescind its order, findings of fact and conclusions of law heretofore made, to cause the appointment of a Trustee to assist and collect for the benefit of NEPSCO security holders in the causes of action referred to above, or otherwise to permit prosecution for the benefit of NEPSCO security holders of the causes of action which arise from the transactions in connection with NEPSCO's plan."

The Goldfine motion makes substantial similar allegations, but its prayer for relief is solely that the plan be set aside and the properties again be made subject to bidding.

In order to examine these motions in their present setting, it is necessary to recite in some detail certain events which occurred subsequent to the issuance of our findings, opinion and order on October 11, 1945. Shortly thereafter, and at the request of NEPSCO, we applied to the United States District Court for the District of Maine to enforce and carry out the plan. After appropriate notice, the application came on for a hearing before the District Court on October 25, 1945. At that time the representative of the Commission, as well as representatives of various groups of security holders requested the Court to approve the plan and order it carried out. Goldfine appeared by counsel and offered to bid $17,500,000. Goldfine had not appeared in the administrative proceedings before the Commission and the Court ruled that he was without standing to object to the sale. Blatchley had not appeared in the administrative proceedings and did not appear before the District Court. On the same day the Court entered an order approving the plan and ordering it carried out.

Subsequently, Blatchley and Goldfine filed petitions to review the Commission's order of October 11, 1945, and appeals from the District Court's order of October 25, 1945, in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. While these petitions for review and appeals were still pending, and on June 13, 1946, Blatchley filed in the District Court (1) a petition in the nature of a bill of review, and (2) a petition for leave to file the same and making charges similar to those contained in his motion now under consideration.

The bill of review and petition for leave to file the same came on for a hearing before the District Court on July 10, 1946. On this date we filed a cross-motion in which Blatchley orally joined, asking that the District Court:

(1) Remit to the Commission for preliminary consideration at a hearing before it the petition by Harry C. Blatchley in the nature of a bill of review and the petition for leave to file the same;

(2) That the Commission be authorized, insofar as authority of this Court is necessary therefor, to inquire into the new matters therein alleged and as to whether there are any other new matters making it fair and equitable that there be a modification of the order of the Commission dated October 11, 1945 and the order of this Court dated October 25, 1945;

(3) That the Commission be authorized to modify or supplement its findings as to the facts in respect of the plan which accompanied the Commission's order of October 11, 1945 by reason of such additional evidence as may be adduced at said hearing before the Commission; and

(4) That the Commission be authorized to file with this Court its modified or new findings and its recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of its original order and the original order of this Court.

At the conclusion of the hearing on July 10, 1946, the District Court denied the Commission's cross-motion, which has been joined in by Blatchley. This ruling was later embodied in a formal order entered August 8, 1946. The District Court indicated, however, that it would have no objection to the Commission making such investigation as it deemed appropriate,[1] but stated that it would treat any report filed by the Commission as advisory only. The Court indicated that it would hear evidence on the petition in the nature of a bill of review and set the matter down for hearing on a day certain. Subsequently, the District Court, in view of the action thereafter taken by Blatchley, in the Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, continued the matter generally. The petition in the nature of a bill of review and the petition for leave to file the same are still pending in the District Court, no interested party having requested that they be called up for hearing.

On August 8, 1946, Blatchley filed a notice of appeal from the District Court's order of July 10, 1946, denying the motion to remit the petition in the nature of a bill of review to the Commission, to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, and on September 11, 1946, filed in the same Court a petition for leave to file a petition for a writ of mandamus directed to the District Judge to require him to remit the bill of review to the Commission for the taking of testimony and the making of such recommendations and modifications of the Commission's findings of October 11, 1945, as might seem appropriate.

The petition for a writ of mandamus and Blatchley's appeal from the District Court's order of July 10, 1946, together with the petitions to review the Commission's order of October 11, 1945, and the appeals from the District Court's order of October 25, 1945, theretofore filed by Blatchley and Goldfine, were heard together in the Circuit Court of Appeals. In that Court the Commission, as well as other respondents, urged that the Court could not properly entertain either the petitions for direct review of the Commission order approving the plan or the appeal from the District Court's approval order dated October 25, 1945. The Commission also urged the remitting of the bill of review to the Commission for the taking of testimony. It took no position as to certain other procedural problems present in the case. By opinions filed on October 29, 1946, the Circuit Court of Appeals denied the petition for leave to file a petition for a writ of mandamus, and dismissed the two petitions for review and the three appeals.[2]

[1] The Commission ordered, on July 23 1946, a public investigation and public hearings were held in connection therewith. Previously, the Commission had conducted a private investigation, and the evidence taken in this prior private investigation was made part of the record of the public investigation.

In the mandamus matter, the Circuit Court of Appeals denied the application for leave to file upon the ground that it was not "the mandatory duty of the district court to remit the bill of review to the Commission for hearing thereon at this time."

Blatchley filed a petition for rehearing, which, we in part supported. The petition for rehearing was denied on December 18, 1946.

While we have at all times taken a position at variance with the conclusion of the Circuit Court of Appeals on the propriety of remitting the bill of review to the Commission for the taking of testimony and for a possible modification of our findings, opinion and order of October 11, 1945, we consider it inappropriate, in view of the present status of the case and of the opinion of the Circuit Court of Appeals, to entertain the Blatchley motion on its merits. Accordingly, it will be dismissed without prejudice to its renewal at a later date if circumstances should so warrant. In the case of the Goldfine motion, we have at all times taken the position, and now find, that as a potential bidder only, and owning no stock, Goldfine is without standing to object to the sale of the NEPSCO assets. His motion is denied. Our determination, of course, involves no finding on the truth or falsity of the allegations and charges contained in the motions.

And to that effect it is so ordered.

By the Commission.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

STEVE SANDRENE

Steve Sandrene, 827 Johnston Street, Akron, Ohio, on or about August 16, 1946, without authorization of the Civilian Production Administration, began and thereafter carried on construction of a commercial building for use as a restaurant and bar located at 959 East Waterloo Road, Akron, Ohio, the estimated cost of which was in excess of $1,000.00. The beginning of construction and the carrying on of construction as aforesaid constituted a violation of Veterans' Housing Program Order No. 1. This violation has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.1117 Suspension Order No. S–1117. (a) Neither Steve Sandrene, his successors or assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on the premises located at 959 East Waterloo Road, Akron, Ohio, including putting up, completing or altering the structure, unless hereafter authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration.

(b) Steve Sandrene shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which he may file with the Civilian Production Administration relating to the above premises.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall relieve Steve Sandrene, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

CITY CHEVROLET CO. AND O. B. PEAVEY

The City Chevrolet Company, of 310 West "C" Street, San Diego, California, is a California Corporation that services and repairs passenger cars, trucks, and other vehicles, and O. B. Peavey is its President. On or about June 24, 1946, authorization on behalf of said Corporation was obtained from the Civilian Production Administration by O. B. Peavey, its President, for the construction of an open shed with concrete sills and floors, a total area of 3,380 feet, at an estimated cost of $18,500. The City Chevrolet Company did thereafter begin and carry on construction of an automobile service and repair shop building at the above address approximating 14,000 square feet in area, at an estimated cost of $80,000, of which $75,000 has already been expended. An application of November 1, 1946 for additional authorization beyond that of June 24, 1946 was denied November 16, 1946. These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.1116 Suspension Order No. S–1116. (a) Neither the City Chevrolet Company (a California Corporation) nor O. B. Peavey, their successors or assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on the building on the premises bounded by Kettner Boulevard, Indiana Street, Ash Street and Beach Street, San Diego, California, including putting up, completing or altering said structure, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration.

(b) The City Chevrolet Company and O. B. Peavey shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which they may file with the Civilian Production Administration for authorization to carry on said construction.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve the City Chevrolet Company or O. B. Peavey from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

JOSEPH KUKURUZA & STEPHEN KUKURUZA AND CHARLES MICK

Joseph Kukuruza, 4816 Stickney Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, and Stephen Kukuruza, 3724 Cypress Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, as owners, and Charles Mick, 12733 Plover Avenue, Lakewood, Ohio, as contractor, on or about August 2, 1946 without authorization of the Civilian Production Administration began construction and thereafter until about August 15, 1946 carried on construction of a one-story commercial building at 5398 State Road, Parma, Ohio, at an estimated cost of $2,000. Thereafter, on or about October 25, 1946 the same parties, after a change of plans and without authorization of the Civilian Production Administration or the Federal Housing Administration, resumed construction and carried on construction of said building which was then to consist of two stories of which the ground floor was to be used for store and commercial purposes and the second story was to be used for residential purposes, and having an estimated cost of approximately $8,500. The beginning and carrying on of construction as originally planned and the resumption and carrying on of construction under changed plans, as aforesaid, constituted grossly negligent violations of Veterans' Housing Program Order No. 1. These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.1121 Suspension Order No. S–1121. (a) Neither Joseph Kukuruza, Stephen Kukuruza, Charles Mick, their successors or assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on the building located at 5398 State Road, Parma, Ohio, including putting up, completing or altering the structure, unless hereafter authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration.

(b) Joseph Kukuruza, Stephen Kukuruza and Charles Mick shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which either of them may file with the Civilian Production Administration for priorities assistance or for authorization to carry on construction.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Joseph Kukuruza, Stephen Kukuruza, Charles Mick, their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Chapter XXIII—War Assets Administration

[Reg. 14,[1] Order 7]

PART 8314—DISPOSAL TO NONPROFIT INSTITUTIONS AND DISCOUNTS FOR EDUCATIONAL OR PUBLIC-HEALTH INSTITUTIONS OR INSTRUMENTALITIES

DISPOSAL OF PERSONAL PROPERTY TO EDUCATIONAL AND PUBLIC-HEALTH INSTITUTIONS AND INSTRUMENTALITIES

War Assets Administration Regulation 14, Order 7, January 13, 1947, entitled "Disposal of Personal Property to Educational and Public-Health Institutions and Instrumentalities," as amended January 27, 1947 (12 F. R. 396, 866), is hereby revised and amended as herein set forth.

The War Assets Administrator has determined that there is an urgent need by educational and public-health institutions for various types of equipment, which need in the case of educational institutions has become acute because of an abnormal increase in enrollment in the face of an accelerated obsolescence of existing equipment; that in the case of elementary and secondary educational institutions present facilities are wholly inadequate to provide proper instruction, and existing budgets are insufficient to enable said institutions to purchase the needed equipment; that with respect to public-health institutions a similar situation exists because of increased demands for health services, and the need for suitable equipment is acute.

The War Assets Administrator has further determined that the property which is listed in Exhibit A herein is critically needed by such educational and public-health institutions, that such property is suitable for educational and public-health use, and that it would be of great public benefit to make such property available to said institutions at a nominal price.

In view of the foregoing considerations, the War Assets Administrator finds that the benefit which will accrue to the United States from the use of such property by educational and public-health institutions justifies disposal to them of such property at a nominal price, approximately sufficient to cover the cost of disposition, and that such nominal price should be five (5) percent of the fair value of the property as established by the disposal agency.

Pursuant to the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 8314.57 Disposal of personal property to educational and public-health institutions and instrumentalities. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of § 8314.9 of this part, disposal agencies, after making such provisions as may be necessary for offerings to priority claimants in accordance with the provisions of Part 8302,[2] are hereby authorized to sell property listed in Exhibit A herein to educational and public-health institutions and instrumentalities, as defined in § 8314.1, whose orders have been approved by the War Assets Administration, at a price equivalent to five (5) per cent of the fair value thereof, f. o. b. location.

(b) In considering applications or orders of individual educational institutions or instrumentalities for property listed in Exhibit A, special consideration shall be given to the needs of elementary and secondary educational institutions.

(c) Applications or orders for instructional equipment which have been or shall be approved by the Federal Works Agency, in accordance with § 8314.56[3] of this part, shall not be affected by the provisions of this section.

(d) When any of the property listed in Exhibit A herein is or shall be in conflict with any list of property set aside for veterans under § 8302.59[2] as now or hereafter in effect, the provisions of § 8302.59 shall be controlling.

This revision of this section shall become effective March 13, 1947.

ROBERT M. LITTLEJOHN,
Administrator.

Regulations No. 3, as amended (20 CFR, Cum. Sup., 403.1 et seq.), are further amended as follows:

1. Section 403.101 is amended by changing the word "eight" in the last sentence of the second paragraph thereof to read "nine."

§ 403.101 Scope of regulations. • • •

Subpart J: Benefits in case of deceased World War II veterans.

3. A new Subpart J is added immediately following Subpart I, to read as follows:

Sec.
403.1001 General effect of section 210 of the act.
403.1002 Requirements under section 210 (a).
403.1003 Rights conferred under section 210 (a).
403.1004 Meaning of terms.
403.1005 Relation of social security payments to Veterans' Administration benefits.
403.1006 Time of death of veteran as affecting application for and payment of benefits and a lump sum.
403.1007 Supporting evidence as to right to receive benefits and lump sums.

SUBPART J—BENEFITS IN CASE OF DECEASED WORLD WAR II VETERANS

§ 403.1001 General effect of section 210 of the act. Section 210 of the act, as amended, is designed, in general, to give survivors of a veteran of World War II who meets certain requirements the same old-age and survivors insurance rights to which they would be entitled had the veteran died fully insured. Any veteran who meets these requirements and who died within 3 years following separation from active service is deemed to have died fully insured, to have an average monthly wage of not less than $160, and to have been paid wages of not less than $200 in each calendar year in which he had 30 days or more of active military or naval service after September 16, 1940.

The benefits provided are not available where death occurs in active military or naval service, or where the veteran is separated from active service after the expiration of 4 years and 1 day following the termination of World War II. Survivors otherwise eligible for such benefits are barred from receiving benefits or a lump sum where pension or compensation under veterans' laws is determined by the Veterans' Administration to be payable with respect to the death of the veteran, but this does not preclude payment of benefits or a lump sum based on the veteran's covered employment.

Under certain conditions, benefits are payable retroactively to the time of the veteran's death, and benefits otherwise payable on a veteran's wage record may be recomputed where a higher average monthly wage or additional increment years are granted by section 210.

Claims of survivors will not be adjudicated under this subpart if entitlement to all benefits provided by section 210 may be established on the basis of the veteran's wage record.

SECTION 210 (a) OF THE ACT (60 STAT. 979)

Any individual who has served in the active military or naval service of the United States at any time on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to the date of the termination of World War II, and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable after active service of ninety days or more, or by reason of a disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty, shall in the event of his death during the period of three years immediately following separation from the active military or naval service, whether his death occurs on, before, or after the date of the enactment of this section, be deemed:

(1) To have died a fully insured individual;

(2) To have an average monthly wage of not less than $160; and

(3) For the purposes of section 209 (e) (2), to have been paid not less than $200 of wages in each calendar year in which he had thirty days or more of active service after September 16, 1940.

This section shall not apply in the case of the death of any individual occurring (either on, before, or after the date of the enactment of this section) while he is in the active military or naval service, or in the case of the death of any individual who has been discharged or released from the active military or naval service of the United States subsequent to the expiration of four years and one day after the date of the termination of World War II.

SECTION 210 (e) OF THE ACT (60 STAT. 981)

For the purposes of this section the term "date of the termination of World War II" means the date proclaimed by the President as the date of such termination, or the date specified in a concurrent resolution of the two Houses of Congress as the date of such termination, whichever is the earlier.

§ 403.1002 Requirements under section 210(a) — (a) When requirements are met. An individual meets the requirements of section 210 (a) provided:

(1) He served in the active military or naval service of the United States (see § 403.1004 (a)) on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to the date of termination of World War II; and

(2) He was discharged or released from active service under conditions other than dishonorable (see § 403.1004 (c)); and

(3) He had at least 90 days active service, or, if his total service was less than 90 days, he was discharged or released by reason of disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty (see § 403.1004 (b)); and

(4) He died within 3 years after his separation from active service.

(b) When requirements are not met. An individual does not meet the requirements of section 210 (a) where:

(1) He died while in the active military or naval service; or

(2) He was separated from active service more than 4 years and 1 day after the date of termination of World War II (see § 403.1004 (d)).

Example 1: V, a reserve officer, is released to inactive duty in September 1945 after 38 months of active satisfactory service in the Marine Corps. He dies in December 1947. V meets the requirements of this section.

If V had been recalled to active duty and died in service, he would not meet the requirements of this section.

Example 2: V enlists in the Army in 1945. V is honorably discharged in January 1952 and dies in 1953.

If World War II should be officially terminated on June 30, 1947, V would not meet the requirements of this section since he was separated from active service more than 4 years and 1 day after the end of the war.

§ 403.1003 Rights conferred under section 210 (a)—(a) Fully insured status. An individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) is deemed to have died a fully insured individual (see § 403.201).

Example: V is honorably discharged from the Army in 1946 after 3 years of active service. He dies in 1948. He was never in covered employment.

V is deemed to have died a fully insured individual.

(b) Average monthly wage. An individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) is deemed to have an average monthly wage of not less than $160. Where the average monthly wage, computed on the basis of such an individual's wage record (see § 403.302), exceeds $160, benefits or a lump sum may be paid based on such higher average monthly wage provided that entitlement to such benefits or a lump sum may be established without recourse to section 210 of the act (see paragraph (a) of this section).

Example 1: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), was fully insured on the basis of his wage record and had an average monthly wage of $100.

Benefits or a lump sum may be payable to qualified survivors computed on the basis of the average monthly wage of $160 provided under section 210.

Example 2: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), was currently insured on the basis of his wage record and had an average monthly wage of $200. He is survived by a widow, W, age 30, and a child, C, age 5.

Upon filing applications for widow's current and child's benefits, benefits may be paid to W and C if they are otherwise qualified for benefits, based on the average monthly wage of $200 because such benefits can be paid without recourse to section 210.

However, when W qualifies for widow's benefits at age 65, benefits will be paid based on the average monthly wage of $160 provided under section 210, since such benefits would not be payable to W except by recourse to the fully insured status provided under section 210.

(c) "Increment years." An individual who meets the requirements of section

[1] 12 F. R. 570.

210 (a) (see § 403.1002) is deemed for the purposes of section 209 (e) (2) of the act (see § 403.301 (b)) to have been paid not less than $200 of wages in each calendar year in which he had 30 days or more of active service after September 16, 1940. The years on which the computation provided in section 209 (e) (2) of the act are based are referred to as "increment years."

If such individual was fully or currently insured on his wage record, and entitlement to the benefits or the lump sum payable could have been established without recourse to section 210 of the act (see paragraph (a) of this section), the "increment years" based on the wage record will be combined with those provided under section 210 of the act. Not more than one "increment year" may be allowed for any calendar year.

Example 1: V served in the Army from November 1, 1944, until his honorable discharge in March 1946. He died in August 1946 survived by a widow and child, age 5. He had never worked in covered employment.

Benefits will be computed on the basis of an average monthly wage of $160 plus 3 "increment years."

If V had been fully or currently insured on the basis of his wage record and had earned at least $200 of wages in the calendar year 1944, only 2 "increment years" for military service would be allowed even though he also had 30 days of active service in 1944. However, an "increment year" for 1944 would still be allowed based on the wage record.

Example 2: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), was fully insured, had an average monthly wage of $165 and 3 "increment years" for 1941, 1942 and 1943 on the basis of his wage record. He also had 1 "increment year" for military service in 1944. He died in March 1947.

Benefits or a lamp sum may be payable computed on the basis of the average monthly wage of $165 and the 3 "increment years" shown on the wage record plus 1 "increment year" for military service.

Example 3: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), was currently insured, had an average monthly wage of $200 and 3 "increment years" for 1941, 1942 and 1943 on the basis of his wage record. He also had 1 "increment year" for military service in 1944. He died in 1946 survived only by his widow, W, age 35.

Upon filing a timely application, a lump sum may be paid to W based on the average monthly wage of $200 and the 3 "increment years" shown on the wage record plus the "increment year" for military service since a lump sum would be payable without recourse to section 210.

However, when W qualifies for a widow's monthly benefit at age 65, benefits will be paid only on the basis of the average monthly wage of $160 provided in section 210 and the "increment year" allowed for military service since such benefits would not be payable to W except by recourse to the fully insured status provided under section 210.

§ 403.1004 Meaning of terms—(a) An individual who has served in the active military or naval service of the United States includes any person, male or female, commissioned, enlisted, enrolled or drafted, who served in any of the armed forces of the United States, including the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or any of the components thereof. It does not include a member of units such as the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (WAAC), Coast Guard Auxiliary, Coast Guard Reserve (Temporary) or the Civil Air Patrol.

(b) Active service of 90 days means one or more periods totalling at least 90 days (whether or not consecutive) which are served after September 15, 1940, and before the date of termination of World War II. Where 90 days were not served wholly after September 15, 1940, and before the date of termination of World War II, but such service began prior to September 16, 1940, and concluded on or after that date, or began prior to the date of termination of the war and concluded on or after that date, the requirements of active service of 90 days is met only if such service of 90 days was continuous. Active service of 90 days is not necessary in the case of a veteran who was in active service on or after September 16, 1940, or before the date of termination of the war, and who is separated therefrom by reason of a disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service in line of duty.

Example: V enters the Army on July 25, 1940, and continues in active service until his honorable discharge on October 31, 1940. 46 days of this service was performed beginning with September 16, 1940.

V has the requisite number of days of active service since he had more than 90 days of continuous service extending into the period beginning with September 16, 1940.

If V had been discharged on or after September 16, 1940, for a disability incurred in service in line of duty he would meet the service requirement even though his period of service was less than 90 days.

(c) Conditions other than dishonorable. An honorable discharge or separation from the active military or naval service is a discharge under "conditions other than dishonorable." Any other discharge or release from the active military or naval service of the United States is under "conditions other than dishonorable" except a discharge or release which is:

(1) A dishonorable discharge issued pursuant to a sentence of a general court martial of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard; or

(2) A bad conduct discharge issued pursuant to a sentence of a general court martial of the Navy Marine Corps or Coast Guard; or

(3) For desertion; or

(4) In the case of an officer, by resignation accepted for the good of the service; or

(5) On the ground that the individual was a conscientious objector who refused to perform military duty or refused to wear the uniform or otherwise to comply with lawful orders of competent military authority; or

(6) By reason of a conviction by a civil court for treason, sabotage, espionage, murder, rape, arson, burglary, robbery, kidnaping, assault with intent to kill, assault with a dangerous weapon, or of an attempt to commit any of these crimes.

(d) Date of the termination of World War II means some future date proclaimed by the President as such date or specified in a concurrent resolution of the two Houses of Congress, whichever is the earlier.

SECTION 210 (b) OF THE ACT (60 STAT. 979)

(1) If any pension or compensation is determined by the Veterans' Administration to be payable on the basis of the death of any individual referred to in subsection (a) of this section, any monthly benefits or lump-sum death payment payable under this title with respect to the wages of such individual shall be determined without regard to such subsection (a).

(2) Upon an application for benefits or a lump-sum death payment with respect to the death of any individual referred to in subsection (a), the Federal Security Administrator shall make a decision without regard to paragraph (1) of this subsection unless he has been notified by the Veterans' Administration that pension or compensation is determined to be payable by the Veterans' Administration by reason of the death of such individual. The Federal Security Administrator shall notify the Veterans' Administration of any decision made by him authorizing payment, pursuant to subsection (a), of monthly benefits or of a lump-sum death payment. If the Veterans' Administration in any such case has made an adjudication or thereafter makes an adjudication that any pension or compensation is payable under any law administered by it, by reason of the death of any such individual, it shall notify the Federal Security Administrator, and the Administrator shall certify no further benefits for payment, or shall recompute the amount of any further benefits payable, as may be required by paragraph (1) of this subsection. Any payments theretofore certified by the Federal Security Administrator pursuant to subsection (a) to any individual, not exceeding the amount of any accrued pension or compensation payable to him by the Veterans' Administration, shall (notwithstanding the provisions of sec. 3 of the Act of August 12, 1935, as amended (U. S. C., 1940 edition, title 38, sec. 454a)) be deemed to have been paid to him by the Veterans' Administration on account of such accrued pension or compensation. No such payment certified by the Federal Security Administrator, and no payment certified by him for any month prior to the first month for which any pension or compensation is paid by the Veterans' Administration, shall be deemed by reason of this subsection to have been an erroneous payment.

§ 403.1005 Relation of social security payments to Veterans' Administration benefits—(a) Effect of payment of pension or compensation by Veterans' Administration. If the Veterans' Administration determines under any law administered by it that any pension or compensation is payable (even though later terminated) to anyone on the basis of the death of a veteran who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002), any benefits or a lump sum payable under title II with respect to the wages of such individual shall be determined without regard to section 210 of the act (see §§ 403.1002 and 403.1003). National Service or United States Government Life Insurance payments or burial allowance payments made by the Veterans' Administration are not considered pension or compensation.

Example: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), had incurred a disability in service in line of duty. Burial expenses are paid by the Veterans' Administration. His wife and child are also receiving payments as beneficiaries of his National Service Life Insurance policy.

In the absence of a determination by the Veterans' Administration that pension or compensation is payable on the death of V, child's and widow's current benefits may be payable.

If the Veterans' Administration determines that pension or compensation is payable on the death of V, benefits are payable only if V died either fully or currently insured on his wage record (see §§ 403.201 and 403.202).

(b) Determination and certification of payments. An application for payment of benefits or a lump sum with respect to the death of an individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) shall be determined without regard to section 210 (b) (1) of the act (see paragraph (a) of this section) unless the Administrator has been notified by the Veterans' Administration that pension or compensation is determined to be payable by the Veterans' Administration by reason of the death of such individual.

Upon such notification by the Veterans' Administration, the Administrator shall certify no further benefits for payment, or shall recompute the amount of any further benefits payable, as may be required by section 210 (b) (1) of the act (see paragraph (a) of this section).

Example: V has an average monthly wage of $100 and is currently insured at the time of his death. At the time his survivors file application for benefits, the Veterans' Administration has made no determination that pension or compensation is payable. It is determined that V meets the requirements of section 210 (a). Benefits are awarded computed on the basis of section 210 of the Act.

If the Veterans' Administration subsequently notifies the Administrator that pension or compensation is payable on the death of V, benefits under section 210 will be terminated and further benefits, if any, will be recomputed and paid on the basis of V's currently insured status and average monthly wage of $100.

(c) When payment is not deemed erroneous. Any payments certified to any individual in accordance with section 210 of the Act prior to notification to the Administrator by the Veterans' Administration that pension or compensation is determined to be payable (see paragraph (b) of this section), not exceeding the amount of any accrued pension or compensation payable to him by the Veterans' Administration, shall be deemed to have been paid to him by the Veterans' Administration on account of such accrued pension or compensation. No such payment certified by the Administrator and no payment certified by him for any month prior to the first month for which any pension or compensation is paid by the Veterans' Administration shall be deemed by reason of this section to have been an erroneous payment.

Example: Based on the death of V, monthly benefits under section 210 are certified to W beginning in January 1947. The Veterans' Administration notifies the Administrator in July that pension has been determined to be payable on the death of the same veteran. The amounts certified prior to receipt of notice are not recoverable by the Administrator, but are reported to the Veterans' Administration for such adjustment as it may direct pursuant to section 210 (b) (2) against accrued pension or compensation, if any, payable by the Veterans' Administration.

However, if any payments were made to W for months when deductions or reductions should have been imposed (see subpart E of this chapter), such payments will be considered erroneous and recovery or adjustment thereof may be made (see subpart F of this chapter)

SECTION 210 (c) OF THE ACT (60 STAT. 980)

In the event any individual referred to in subsection (a) has died during such three-year period but before the date of the enactment of this section:

(1) Upon application filed within six months after the date of the enactment of this section, any monthly benefits payable with respect to the wages of such individual (including benefits for months before such date) shall be computed or recomputed and shall be paid in accordance with subsection (a), in the same manner as though such application had been filed in the first month in which all conditions of entitlement to such benefits, other than the filing of an application, were met;

(2) If any individual who upon filing application would have been entitled to benefits or to a recomputation of benefits under paragraph (1) has died before the expiration of six months after the date of the enactment of this section, the application may be filed within the same period by any other individual entitled to benefits with respect to the same wages, and the nonpayment or underpayment to the deceased individual shall be treated as erroneous within the meaning of section 204;

(3) The time within which proof of dependency under section 202 (f) or any application under 202 (g) may be filed shall be not less than six months after the date of the enactment of this section; and

(4) Application for a lump-sum death payment or recomputation, pursuant to this section, of a lump-sum death payment certified by the Board or the Federal Security Administrator, prior to the date of the enactment of this section, for payment with respect to the wages of any such individual may be filed within a period not less than six months from the date of the enactment of this section or a period of two years after the date of the death of any individual specified in subsection (a), whichever is the later, and any additional payment shall be made to the same individual or individuals as though the application were an original application for a lump-sum death payment with respect to such wages.

No lump-sum death payment shall be made or recomputed with respect to the wages of an individual if any monthly benefit with respect to his wages is, or upon filing application would be, payable for the month in which he died; but except as otherwise specifically provided in this section no payment heretofore made shall be rendered erroneous by the enactment of this section.

§ 403.1006 Time of death of veteran as affecting application for and payment of benefits and a lump sum—(a) Monthly benefits—(1) Where death occurred on or after August 10, 1946. Where an individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) died on or after August 10, 1946, an application for benefits on account of such death is effective as provided in § 403.701 (f) of this chapter.

Example: V, who died in January 1947, meets the requirements of section 210 (a). If his widow and child file applications in February, March, or April, they may become entitled to benefits beginning with January, but if they file in May, February is the first month for which they could become entitled.

(2) Where death occurred prior to August 10, 1946. Applications for benefits on account of the death of an individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) and who died prior to August 10, 1946, shall be effective as stated below:

(i) If the application is filed after February 10, 1947, such application is effective as provided in § 403.701 (f) of this chapter.

Example: V, who died prior to August 10, 1946, meets the requirements of section 210 (a). His widow and child file for benefits in March 1947. The date of entitlement is December 1946.

(ii) If the application is filed on or before February 10, 1947, benefits payable with respect to the wages of such individual for any month in and after the month of death (including benefits for months before August 1946), shall be computed as provided under section 210 (see § 403.1003 (b) and (c)), or recomputed to make previously paid benefits for such months, if lesser in amount, equal to the amount payable under section 210.

Example: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), dies in September 1943, fully insured on his wage record with an average monthly wage of $200. His widow and child, age 8, file in March 1944 and are entitled as of December 1943.

Upon filing under section 210 on or before February 10, 1947, they will be entitled to monthly benefits for September, October and November 1943, computed solely under section 210. The benefits based on the wage record will then be recomputed to include any "increment years" based on military service (see § 403.1003 (c)), and the difference in the rate for the months from December 1943 to the month before filing application under section 210 will be paid. Thereafter benefits will be payable at the recomputed rate.

If V's average monthly wage on the basis of his wage record was $100, benefits would be paid for September, October and November 1943, computed solely under section 210. The benefits based on the wage record will then be recomputed at the higher average monthly wage provided under section 210 and any "increment years" given by section 210 will be included. The difference in the rate for the months from December 1943 to the month before filing under section 210 will be paid. Thereafter benefits will be payable at the recomputed rate.

(iii) If any individual who upon filing application would have been entitled to benefits or to a recomputation of benefits under section 210 (c) (1) of the act (see subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph), dies on or before February 10, 1947, application may be filed on or before February 10, 1947, by any other individual entitled to benefits with respect to the same wages and the nonpayment or underpayment to the deceased individual, shall be treated as erroneous (see § 403.601).

Example: V, who died December 15, 1945, meets the requirements of section 210 (a). He is survived by a widow, W, and child, C, age 8. W dies in October 1946, without ever having filed an application for herself or C. If, on or before February 10, 1947, an application for benefits on behalf of C is filed, benefits which would have been payable to W will be added to C's benefits provided W's entitlement is established in all respects except for the filing of application.

(3) Filing of proof of dependency for parents' benefits. Where an individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) died before August 10, 1946, proof of parent's dependency and support (see § 403.407 (a)) shall be filed on or before February 10, 1947, or within 2 years after the death of such individual, whichever is later.

Example: V, who died on December 20, 1941, meets the requirements of section 210 (a). Proof of parent's dependency must be filed on or before February 10, 1947.

If V died on December 20, 1945, such proof must be filed on or before December 20, 1947.

(b) Lump sums—(1) Where death occurred on or after August 10, 1946. Where an individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) died on or after August 10, 1946, an application for a lump-sum death payment shall, except as otherwise provided in § 403.701 (j), be filed within 2 years following the death of such individual.

(2) Where death occurred prior to August 10, 1946. Where an individual who meets the requirements of section 210 (a) (see § 403.1002) died before August 10, 1946, an application under section 210 for a lump-sum death payment or for recomputation of a lump-sum death payment certified prior to August 10, 1946, with respect to the wages of any such individual, shall be filed on or before February 10, 1947, or 2 years after the death of such individual, whichever is later. Any additional payment required by such recomputation shall be made to the same individual or individuals as though the application were an original application for a lump-sum death payment with respect to such wages.

Example 1: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), died currently insured on November 29, 1943. A lump sum is paid to his widow based on V's average monthly wage of $100.

Application by the widow for recomputation of the lump-sum death payment based on section 210 must be filed on or before February 10, 1947.

If V had died November 29, 1945, the application for recomputation must be filed on or before November 29, 1947.

Example 2: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), has an average monthly wage of $200 and is currently insured at the time of his death in 1943. His widow's claim for a lump sum is disallowed since it was filed more than 2 years after his death. She files under section 210 before February 10, 1947.

The amount of the lump-sum payment will be computed solely under section 210.

Example 3: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), died currently insured in 1943, survived by his mother, M, who is the sole person entitled to a lump sum based on relationship. The lump-sum death payment is computed on the basis of an average monthly wage of less than $160 and is paid to M. M dies in 1944. In January 1947, V's brother, B, who has paid his burial expenses, files application as a person equitably entitled.

The lump sum will be recomputed under section 210 and the balance will be paid to B to the extent necessary to reimburse him for the payment of the burial expenses.

(3) No lump-sum death payment shall be made or recomputed with respect to the wages of an individual if any monthly benefit with respect to his wages is, or upon filing application would be, payable for the month in which he died; but except as otherwise specifically provided (see § 403.1005), no payment heretofore made shall be rendered erroneous due to the fact that monthly benefits are now payable under section 210.

Example: V, who meets the requirements of section 210 (a), died on May 15, 1943. He is survived by his mother, age 68, to whom a lump sum is paid based on V's currently insured status. If the aged parent files an application and proof of dependency on or before February 10, 1947, the lump sum paid is not deductible from the monthly benefit now payable as of May 1943.

§ 403.1007 Supporting evidence as to right to receive benefits and lump sums. In addition to such evidence of eligibility as is required by § 403.702 or as may be otherwise expressly required by the Administration in connection with an application, an applicant for benefits or a lump sum on the basis of the death of an individual under section 210, shall file supporting evidence as to such individual's period of active military or naval service and his discharge or release from the active military or naval service. Such evidence shall be of the following character:

(a) An original certificate of discharge, or an original certificate of service, from a branch of the armed forces; or a certified copy of such a certificate made by the State, county or municipal agency or department in which the original certificate is recorded; or

(b) A certification from a branch of the armed forces indicating such individual's period of active service and type of discharge; or

(c) A certification from a local selective service board indicating such individual's period of active service and type of discharge; or

(d) Other evidence of probative value.

Acting Commissioner for Social Security.

Production and Marketing Administration

UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR BERRIES FOR PROCESSING[1]

NOTICE OF RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance, as hereinafter proposed, of the United States Standards for berries for processing pursuant to the authority contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1947 (Pub. Law 422, 79th Cong., 2d Sess., approved June 22, 1946). This is the first issue of these standards which are to become effective May 1, 1947.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards and the effective date of the standards shall file the same in quadruplicate with the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, Room 0308, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., on the 20th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 51.213 Berries for processing—(a) Grades. (1) U. S. No. 1 shall consist of berries of similar varietal characteristics which are free from caps (calyxes), mold or decay, and from dried, undeveloped and distinctly immature berries and from damage caused by overmaturity, crushing, shriveling, dirt, or other foreign matter, hail, sunscald, moisture, birds, disease, insects, mechanical or other means.

(i) At least 85 percent, by volume, of the berries in the lot shall be well colored.

(ii) In order to allow for variations, incident to proper handling, not more than 10 percent, by volume, of the berries in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of this grade, including not more than 3 percent for distinctly immature berries. No part of any tolerance shall be allowed to reduce the percentage of well colored berries required in the grade.

(2) U. S. No. 2 shall consist of berries which meet the requirements for U. S. No. 1 grade except for color and except for the increased tolerance for defects specified below.

(i) At least 75 percent, by volume, of the berries in the lot shall be well colored.

(ii) In order to allow for variations incident to proper handling, not more than 20 percent, by volume, of the berries in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of this grade, including not more than 5 percent for distinctly immature berries. No part of any tolerance shall be allowed to reduce the percentage of well colored berries required in the grade.

(b) Unclassified shall consist of berries which fail to meet the requirements of either of the foregoing grades. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards but is provided as a designation to show that no definite grade has been applied to the lot.

(c) Definitions. (1) "Dried" means appreciably lacking in juice. Dried berries are excessively seedy and often shriveled.

(2) "Undeveloped" means lack of development due to frost or insect injury, lack of pollination or other means which cause the berry to be dwarfed or badly misshapen.

(3) "Distinctly immature" means that the berries are light red, whitish, or green in the case of types or varieties which are characteristically blue or black when well ripened; and that the berries are whitish or green in the case of types or varieties which are characteristically red when well ripened.

(4) "Damage" means any injury or defect which materially affects the berries for processing purposes. The following shall be considered as damage:

(i) Overmaturity when the druplets of the berry have lost their luster and are excessively soft. Such berries usually disintegrate when washed under pressure.

(ii) Crushing, when more than one-fourth of the druplets of the berry have been crushed.

(iii) Shriveling, when the berry is materially shriveled as evidenced by drying or undevelopment of more than one-fourth of the druplets of the berry.

(iv) Dirt, when it cannot be removed from the berry in the ordinary washing process.

(5) "Well colored" means that the berry has the color characteristic for a well ripened berry of the type or variety.

[SEAL] JESSE B. GILMER,
Administrator.

[F. R. Doc. 47-2487; Filed, Mar. 17, 1947; 8:46 a. m.]

[1] These standards apply to berries of the genus Rubus, such as blackberries, dewberries, Boysenberries, Loganberries, Youngberries and other similar types of berries, but not raspberries.

FRESH PEACHES GROWN IN GEORGIA

DETERMINATION WITH RESPECT TO MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER REGULATING HANDLING

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 99 and Order No. 62 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 962.1 et seq.), and the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), notice was given in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 3, 1947 (12 F. R. 48), that a referendum would be conducted among the growers who, during the calendar year 1946 (which period was determined to be a representative period) had been engaged, in the State of Georgia, in the production of peaches for market to determine whether a majority of such growers favored the termination of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order.

Upon the basis of the results of the aforesaid referendum, which was conducted during the period January 31 to February 10, 1947, both dates inclusive, it is hereby found and determined that the termination of the marketing agreement and order, regulating the handling of fresh peaches grown in the State of Georgia, is not favored by the requisite majority of such growers.

MIDDLE WEST CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 11th day of March 1947.

In the matter of The Middle West Corporation, North West Utilities Company, File No. 70-1277; The Middle West Corporation, North West Utilities Company, Wisconsin Power and Light Company, File No. 59-23.

Notice is hereby given that North West Utilities Company ("North West"), a registered holding company, and The Middle West Corporation ("Middle West"), also a registered holding company and corporate parent of North West, have filed, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), a Plan of Distribution of Assets and Dissolution of North West Utilities Company ("Plan"), which is stated to be for the purpose of compliance with the provisions of section 11 of the act and the order of the Commission dated September 10, 1943, (Holding Company Act Release No. 4552) requiring that North West be liquidated and its existence terminated. Such plan is filed as an amendment to applications-declarations, as amended, previously filed with the Commission and described in the Commission's notice of filing and order for hearing dated May 10, 1946 (Holding Company Act Release No. 6625) and is in substitution for the proposals contained in said applications-declarations.

All interested persons are referred to the aforesaid Plan which is on file in the office of this Commission for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

North West has no indebtedness except for current liabilities. The following table shows the outstanding securities of North West, the shares held by Middle West and by the public, and the amounts ($100 and accrued dividends per share) payable, as of December 31, 1946, on liquidation under the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation:

	Shares outstanding	Shares held by—		Amounts payable on liquidation as of Dec. 31, 1946
		Middle West	Others	Per share	On Middle West's shares	On other shares	On all shares
7 percent prior lien preferred stock (par value $100) [1]	44,000	26,573 (60.4%)	17,427 (39.6%)	$203.25	$5,400,962	$3,542,038	$8,943,000
7 percent preferred stock (par value $100) [1]	60,755	21,687 (35.7%)	39,068 (64.3%)	204.125	4,426,859	7,971,755	12,401,614
$6 cumulative preferred stock (no par value) [1]	24,000	24,000 (100%)	None	189.25	4,542,000	None	4,542,000
Total	128,755	72,260 (56.12%)	56,495 (43.88%)	----------	14,369,821	11,516,793	25,886,614
Common stock (par value $1)	260,531	260,531 (100%)	None	----------	----------	----------	----------

[1] The 7 percent prior lien preferred stock is preferred as to dividends and, upon liquidation (voluntary or involuntary), as to $100 per share and accrued dividends over the preferred stock and the common stock. The 7 percent preferred stock and the $6 cumulative preferred stock rank pari passu and are preferred as to dividends and, upon liquidation (voluntary or involuntary), as to $100 per share and accrued dividends over the common stock.

The assets of North West, consisting of 1,259,850 shares of common stock of Wisconsin Power and Light Company ("Wisconsin") (representing 98.35% of said stock outstanding) and net cash assets of approximately $25,000, will be distributed to the holders of the outstanding shares of North West's capital stock upon surrender of said shares for cancellation and in satisfaction of all rights in respect of said shares, on the following bases:

(1) The public holders of the 7% Prior Lien Preferred and the 7% Preferred stock will receive for each such share, 10½ and 10 shares, respectively, of Wisconsin common and cash in an amount equivalent to the dividends accrued on each such share of preferred stock from December 31, 1946, to the effective date of the Plan. Warrants will be issued in lieu of fractional shares.

(2) Middle West will receive for all shares of stock of all classes of North West held, all of the assets of North West not required by the foregoing paragraph (1) or required for the payment of any debts of North West.

The warrants to be issued in lieu of fractional shares of Wisconsin common will be in bearer form, dated as of the effective date of the Plan, and will be non-dividend bearing and non-voting. The warrants, when combined with others entitling the bearer to one or more full shares of common stock of Wisconsin, may be surrendered within five years from the date of the warrants to Wisconsin Power and Light Company or its Transfer Agent, Illinois Stock Transfer Company, in exchange for full shares of Wisconsin common. Upon the expiration of five years, all rights of the holders of warrants not so surrendered for exchange will thereupon cease, and the shares of common stock represented by expired warrants will be retained by Wisconsin Power and Light Company free of any and all claims.

On the basis of the proposed distribution by North West, holders of the capital stock of North West, other than Middle West, will receive 573,663.5 shares (45.534%) and Middle West will receive 686,186.5 shares (54.456%) of the common stock of Wisconsin.

Middle West proposes to acquire the shares of common stock of Wisconsin to which it is entitled under the Plan. Middle West intends to distribute to its stockholders the shares of common stock of Wisconsin now owned by it and the shares of such stock to be acquired by it under the Plan, subject to a future declaration to be filed with respect to such distribution and the approval of the Commission.

The expenses and fees incidental to the consummation of the Plan and to the proceedings relating thereto, incurred by North West or others, will be paid or reimbursed by North West, subject to the approval by the Commission and the United States Court of items subject to their jurisdictions.

The applicants request the Commission, in the event the Plan as filed is approved, to apply to an appropriate District Court of the United States for an order to enforce and carry out the provisions of the Plan. The effective date of the Plan will be the date on which the said Order enforcing the Plan is entered.

Applicants have also requested that, if the Commission approves the Plan, its order shall conform to the requirements of and contain the recitals specified in sections 371, 372, 373, and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

As soon as practicable after the effective date of the Plan, North West will be dissolved pursuant to applicable provisions of the Corporation Law of Delaware.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act, before approving any plan thereunder, to find after notice and opportunity for hearing that the plan, as submitted, or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 of the act and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission that a hearing be held upon the Plan to afford all interested persons an opportunity to be heard with respect thereto; and

The Commission having by its above-mentioned order dated May 10, 1946 consolidated for consideration proceedings previously instituted by the Commission pursuant to section 11 (b) of the act (File No. 59-23) directed to Middle West, North West, and Wisconsin Power and Light Company with the proceedings relating to the above-mentioned applications-declarations, as amended, (File No. 70-1277), and public hearings having been held pursuant to said order and having been continued subject to the call of the hearing officer;

It is ordered, That the hearing in these consolidated proceedings be reconvened under the applicable provisions of the Act and the rules thereunder on April 8, 1947, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pa. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings shall notify the Commission in the manner prescribed by Rule XVII of the rules of practice on or before April 7, 1947. In the event that amendments to the Plan are filed during the course of said proceedings, no notice of such amendments will be given unless specifically ordered by the Commission. Any person desiring to receive further notice of the filing of any additional plans or amendments should file an appearance in these proceedings or otherwise specifically request such notice.

It is further ordered, That Allen MacCullen or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at the hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Public Utilities Division of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the Plan and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration without prejudice to its specifying additional matters or questions upon further examination.

(1) Whether the Plan, as submitted or as hereafter may be modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 of the act, and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

(2) Whether the Plan, as submitted, or as hereafter may be modified, is in compliance with the order of the Commission dated September 10, 1943, requiring that North West be liquidated and its existence terminated.

(3) Whether the proposal by Middle West with respect to the acquisition and subsequent disposition of the common stock of Wisconsin Power and Light Company is appropriate in the light of the Commission's order of January 24, 1944, issued pursuant to proceedings under Section 11 (b) (1) directed to Middle West and subsidiaries, and has the tendency required by section 10 (c) (2) of the act.

(4) Whether the accounting entries to be made on the books of Middle West in connection with the proposed Plan are proper, and meet the requirements of the act and the Uniform System of Accounts for Public Utility Holding Companies, promulgated thereunder.

(5) Whether, if the proposed Plan is approved in whole or in part by the Commission, it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors or consumers that any terms and conditions be imposed in connection with such approval and, if so, what such terms and conditions should be.

(6) Whether the fees and expenses proposed to be paid in connection with the consummation of the Plan and all transactions incidental thereto are for necessary services and are reasonable in amount.

(7) Generally, whether the proposed transactions comply with all the applicable provisions and requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and if not, whether and what modifications, terms or conditions should be required or imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing be given to The Middle West Corporation, to North West Utilities Company, to Wisconsin Power and Light Company, to the Wisconsin Public Service Commission, to the Federal Power Commission, and to all persons who have heretofore applied for or who have been granted participation in the proceedings, by registered mail and to all other persons by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER and by general release of the Commission distributed to the press and mailed to the persons on the Commission's mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

It is further ordered, That North West Utilities Company notify the holders, other than The Middle West Corporation, of its 7% Prior Lien Preferred Stock and its 7% Preferred Stock, to the extent that their addresses are known or available to it, by mailing a copy of this notice and order to said security holders not later than fifteen days prior to April 7, 1947.

[File No. 59-15]

NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND CO. AND NEW ENGLAND PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 11th day of March 1947.

Notice is hereby given that New England Public Service Company ("NEPSCO"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Northern New England Company, also a registered holding company, on March 10, 1947, filed an application, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for approval of an amended plan providing in effect for the retirement of all of its outstanding Prior Lien Preferred Stock by the payment of cash or through an exchange offer of common stock of Public Service Company of New Hampshire ("New Hampshire"), a public utility subsidiary of NEPSCO. Applicant states that the plan is designed to utilize the $16,500,000 cash proceeds received by it from the sale of its industrial assets toward the retirement of its Prior Lien Preferred Stock in a manner to preserve to NEPSCO tax benefits estimated by the company to amount to $3,200,000. It is stated that the plan is further designed as a step to effect compliance with the order of the Commission dated May 2, 1941 requiring the recapitalization or liquidation of NEPSCO. The amended plan is filed in complete substitution for the plan of NEPSCO dated November 23, 1946.

All interested persons are referred to said application and amended plan which are on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

NEPSCO will retire the outstanding 118,747 shares of its Prior Lien Preferred Stock, $7 Dividend Series, and the outstanding 60,000 shares of its Prior Lien Preferred Stock, $6 Dividend Series, by paying to the holders thereof an amount equal to $120 per share for the $7 Dividend Series and $110 per share for the $6 Dividend Series, plus in both cases an amount equal to the dividends accrued thereon to the date of consummation of the amended plan, subject to the right of the company to elect one or more of the alternatives hereinafter described. Payment of this amount will be in cash or, at the election of the holder of Prior Lien Preferred Stock, payment will be made in common stock of New Hampshire taken at the initial public offering price per share, to be determined at competitive bidding, provided that elections to receive common stock of New Hampshire will be reduced, pro rata, if and insofar as shall be necessary for NEPSCO to use the entire $16,500,000 cash proceeds from the sale of its industrial assets to retire Prior Lien Preferred Stock. No fractional shares of common stock of New Hampshire other than tenths of a share will be issued in making such exchanges and in lieu of each fraction of a share in excess of one or more tenths of a share, the company will pay in cash the value thereof based upon the value at which whole shares of such common stock are taken by holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock. No election will be effective unless certificates representing the Prior Lien Preferred Stock are deposited at the office of a bank or trust company ("Plan Trustee") designated by NEPSCO, accompanied by a duly executed letter of transmittal in the form furnished by NEPSCO, on or before the expiration of an exchange period of not less than ten days (which shall expire not more than ten days prior to the receipt by NEPSCO of bids for the purchase of shares of New Hampshire); notice of such exchange period will be mailed to holders of record of Prior Lien Preferred Stock before the first day thereof.

In carrying out the said retirement of, and offer of exchange to, the Prior Lien Preferred Stock, NEPSCO will sell all of the common stock of New Hampshire owned by it (565,553 shares) and not taken by the holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock, at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 promulgated under the act.

Alternative 1: NEPSCO may elect to cancel the competitive bidding for common stock of New Hampshire if no competitive bidding has been had, or may elect to proceed no further with the sale of such stock if no bids acceptable to NEPSCO have been received. In such event, NEPSCO will thereupon fix a price at which Prior Lien Preferred stockholders will take such stock and will include such price in the notice to such stockholders, or if such notice has gone out, NEPSCO will give a new notice providing a period of not less than ten days thereafter within which holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock may determine whether or not they will take such stock at the price so fixed by NEPSCO. Before electing this alternative, NEPSCO will give written notice to the Commission of the action it proposes to take and the reasons therefor, and if the Commission within five days after receiving such notice notifies NEPSCO that it objects, NEPSCO will not proceed unless and until the Commission shall, with or without a hearing, have approved.

Alternative 2: NEPSCO may elect to cancel the privilege of the holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock to receive shares of common stock of New Hampshire and to cancel competitive bidding for such common stock if no competitive bidding has been had, or may elect to proceed to further with the sale of such stock if no bids acceptable to NEPSCO have been received on competitive bidding. In such event, NEPSCO will thereupon borrow the necessary funds, to enable it to carry out the particular one or more alternatives it has elected, from one or more banks for a term of one year with the right to two successive renewals of one year each at an interest rate to be negotiated but not to exceed 2½%, but only after it has complied with the same provisions in regard to notice to, and approval by, the Commission as set forth under Alternative 1. Such loan will be secured by a pledge of stock of New Hampshire and Central Maine Power Company (another public utility subsidiary of NEPSCO) having a quoted market value from time to time equal to twice the amount of the loan. NEPSCO will be obligated to pay on account of principal not more than $1,600,000 per year, but will have the privilege of prepaying the loan in whole or in part without penalty, out of earnings or the proceeds of sales of assets. No dividends will be paid on any class of stock of NEPSCO so long as any part of the loan remains unpaid. In order to insure that such loan will be available if needed, NEPSCO has entered into a loan agreement with five banks containing the commitment of said banks to lend $13,500,000, and has paid one-fourth of 1% of the amount of the loan for such commitment. It is stated that NEPSCO has no commitment from such banks to lend the additional funds which would be required under this alternative, but believes that such a commitment could be obtained. If NEPSCO shall borrow as aforesaid, it will within one year after the date of the loan sell, at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50, or in such other manner as the Commission may approve, sufficient of its holdings of utility stocks to repay the loan in full; Provided, That NEPSCO may request, and the Commission may grant one or more extensions of said period of one year. In case NEPSCO adopts this alternative, any certificates for Prior Lien Preferred Stock at the time deposited with the Plan Trustee for the purposes of exchange for New Hampshire common stock shall not be returned but the holders thereof shall be paid in cash at the same time as holders of non-deposited Prior Lien Preferred Stock.

Alternative 3: The amended plan further provides that NEPSCO may elect to postpone any payment to the holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock in excess of $100 per share and accrued dividends thereon until a final court order shall have determined whether, and to what extent, the full amount specified in this plan is payable to such holders. In such case, NEPSCO will presently pay the holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock in cash, with the election to take stock, or solely in cash depending on whether or not Alternative 2 has been adopted, $100 per share and accrued dividends thereon and will issue to such holders certificates of contingent interest evidencing their right to receive any additional payment (not exceeding $20 per share for the $7 series and $10 for the $6 series) and such compensation for delay in payment as shall be determined by final court order. It is provided that the certificates of contingent interest be registered and transferable. The certificates will become void in case a final court order determines that no such additional payment be made and they will become void if not presented for payment within five years from the date of such final order determining additional payment. NEPSCO, in order to insure the payments, if any, called for by the certificates of contingent interest will, at or before the issue of said certificates, deposit with the Plan Trustee $4,000,000 in cash under an Escrow Deposit Agreement providing that on or before a date fixed or approved in the final order, the Plan Trustee shall make available to the holders of said certificates, against the surrender thereof, the amounts payable by said order. In the event of the Escrow deposit, the option of the holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock to take stock, if then in effect, will exclude such additional payment and will be confined solely to $100 per share plus accrued dividends. Any cash not needed for payment in full of certificates will be delivered and paid over (subject to reasonable compensation and expenses of Plan Trustee) to NEPSCO or as the final order shall direct.

The amended plan further provides that the cash, stock and any certificates called for will be paid or delivered by NEPSCO on or before the date of consummation of this plan to the Plan Trustee under appropriate instructions for distribution (except as to the said $4,000,000 deposit to secure certificates of contingent interest, if issued) to the holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock upon surrender of their stock certificates. It is stated that such payment and delivery of cash, stock and any such certificates distributable hereunder, will, upon the date of mailing of the notice described below to all Prior Lien Preferred stockholders of record, constitute payment and delivery to them and thereupon the Prior Lien Preferred Stock will cease to be outstanding and the rights of the holders thereof will terminate, except the right to receive cash, stock and any certificates of contingent interest provided for by this plan, and if they presently receive less than the call price, to assert the right to additional payment as aforesaid.

The date of consummation of the amended plan (except for the payments called by certificates of contingent interest, if issued) will be such date as fixed by NEPSCO in a notice to be mailed to all holders of record of Prior Lien Preferred Stock (with copies to the Commission and any Court then exercising jurisdiction over this plan) not less than fifteen days prior to the date so fixed and as soon as reasonably practicable after the determination of the price for the common stock of New Hampshire or after the borrowing described in Alternative 2.

NEPSCO will pay such fees and will reimburse others for such expenses in connection with this amended plan as are subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission and are approved by it.

NEPSCO requests that the order of the Commission include recitals to bring the transactions incident to carrying out this amended plan within the provisions of section 1808 (f) and Supplement R of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended. NEPSCO further requests that the Commission, in the event the plan is approved, apply to an appropriate District Court for enforcement of such plan.

It is stated by NEPSCO that as soon as practicable after the retirement of the Prior Lien Preferred Stock, it will file with the Commission a further plan proposing action to complete compliance with section 11 of the act, the present intention of NEPSCO being to propose in such plan a distribution of its net assets among the holders of its plain Preferred and Common stocks and its dissolution.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act, before approving any plan thereunder, to find after notice and opportunity for hearing that the plan, as submitted, or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 of the act and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission that notice should be given and that the hearings heretofore held in this proceeding should be reconvened for the purpose of adducing evidence with respect to the matters set forth in said application and amended plan, as submitted, or as modified, and for the purpose of affording opportunity to all interested persons to be heard;

It is ordered, Pursuant to sections 11 and 18 of the act, that the hearings in this proceeding be reconvened on April 1, 1947, at 10:00 a. m., c. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated on such date by the hearing-room clerk in Room 318.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty, the hearing officer previously designated, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Public Utilities Division of the Commisson having advised the commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application and amended plan and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration by the Commission without prejudice to its specifying additional matters and questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the amended plan as submitted, or as hereafter modified, including the various alternatives therein provided, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and is a proper step toward compliance with the order of the Commission dated May 2, 1941.

2. Whether the amended plan, as submitted, or as hereafter modified, including the various alternatives therein provided, is fair and equitable to the person affected thereby, more particularly whether the treatment proposed to be accorded to the holders of Prior Lien Preferred Stock in regard to their respective claims is fair and equitable to the security holders of NEPSCO.

3. Whether the proposals by NEPSCO to dispose of its shares of common stock of New Hampshire meet the applicable provisions of sections 12 (d) and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-44 and U-50 promulgated thereunder.

4. Whether in the event securities are proposed to be issued by NEPSCO, such securities meet the standards of section 7, and other applicable standards of the act.

5. Whether in the event the bank loan is made, the amended plan requires the filing of subsequent declarations with respect to the two successive renewals of one year each, and if not, whether the amended plan should be modified to so provide.

6. Whether the fees and expenses and other remunerations which may be claimed in connection with the amended plan and all transactions incident thereto are for necessary services and are reasonable in amount.

7. Whether the accounting treatment of the proposed transactions is proper and in conformity with sound accounting principles and the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts for Public Utility Holding Companies.

8. Whether, and to what extent, the amended plan should be modified, or terms and conditions imposed, to insure adequate protection of the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers and compliance with the requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and rules promulgated thereunder.

9. Whether this amended plan, or a plan proposed by the Commission, or by any person having a bona fide interest, in accordance with the provisions of section 11 (d) of the act, should be approved for the purpose of effectuating the order of the Commission of May 2, 1941, and if proposed by the Commission, what the terms and provisions of such plan should be.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said reconvened hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with this proceeding, or proposing to intervene herein, who has not already done so, shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before March 31, 1947, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be reserved to separate, either for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions or matters herein set forth or which may arise in these proceedings or to consolidate with these proceedings other filings or matters pertaining to the subject matter of these proceedings, and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of this Commission shall serve notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing a copy of this order by registered mail to the parties above-named herein, to all persons heretofore granted participation in these proceedings, to the Public Service Commissions of the States of New Hampshire and Vermont, to the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Maine and to the Federal Power Commission, and that notice of said hearing shall be given to all other persons by general release of this Commission, which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

COMMONWEALTH & SOUTHERN CORP. (DEL.)

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 11th day of March 1947.

The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation ("Commonwealth"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly section 12 (c) thereof and Rule U-46 thereunder, regarding the proposed payment of a dividend of $3.00 per share (payable on the 28th day after approval by this Commission to stockholders of record at the close of business on the 14th day after such approval) or an aggregate of $4,323,741 on the outstanding shares of its preferred stock; and

The Commission having heretofore instituted proceedings under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the act with respect to Commonwealth and its subsidiaries; and

Commonwealth having filed a plan for compliance with such sections of the act, providing, among other things, for the liquidation of Commonwealth; and

Commonwealth having stated in the instant declaration that "The Board • • • recognizes that, in view of the pending proceedings, the 'Earned Surplus' account may be so qualified that, under the rules and practice of the Commission, payment of said dividend is subject to the requirement of Commission authorization under the provisions of section 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-46 in spite of the fact that, as authorized by section 34 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the source of payment of such dividend under such Law is Commonwealth's net profits for the current and preceding fiscal years"; and

The instant declaration having been filed on February 21, 1947 and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified in the said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission deeming that it would not be necessary or appropriate to deny effectiveness to the declaration under the standards of section 12 (c) of the act and Rule U-46 if it should be found that the proposed payment were to be made out of capital and that, therefore, it is unnecessary for the Commission to determine whether said proposed payment is being made out of capital; and

The Commission therefore deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit said declaration to become effective insofar as section 12 (c) and Rule U-46 are applicable to the proposed payment; and

Commonwealth having requested that the Commission's order be issued herein on or before March 11, 1947, and become effective forthwith so that Commonwealth may pay the proposed dividend not later than April 8, 1947, and the Commission deeming it appropriate to grant such request:

It is hereby ordered pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that the aforesaid declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith: Provided, however, That this order shall not be construed as a determination that such dividend payment is or is not taxable to the recipient pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, and, Provided further, That Commonwealth accompany the dividend checks with a statement to the effect (1) that Commonwealth filed the declaration regarding the proposed dividend payment pursuant to section 12 (c) and Rule U-46 by reason of its uncertainty as to whether the "Earned Surplus" account may be so qualified that, under the rules and practice of the Commission, payment of the proposed dividend is subject to the requirement of Commission authorization under the act and the rules thereunder and that the Commission permitted the declaration to become effective without determining whether the proposed payment is being made out of capital and (2) that the Commission's action in permitting the declaration to become effective should not be construed as a determination that such dividend payment is or is not taxable to the recipient pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

By the Commission.

LOUIS AND LUCY SPINELLI

Louis and Lucy Spinelli of 110 Sage Avenue, Bridgeport, Connecticut, own and operate a restaurant at 1219 Pembroke Street, Bridgeport, Connecticut. A one-story addition to this restaurant approximately 40' x 43' in area to cost an estimated $6,000 was begun by Louis Spinelli in October of 1946. After being advised by telegram that this construction appeared to be in violation of VHP–1, an application for authorization for the construction of this addition was filed with the Civilian Production Administration and denied on November 5, 1946. Further work on this addition was done by Louis Spinelli after the denial of the authorization, and a temporary suspension order was issued by telegram dated November 22, 1946. The beginning of construction of this addition as above described was a violation of Veterans' Housing Program Order No. 1 and the carrying on construction of this addition after the denial of an authorization constituted a wilful violation of Veterans' Housing Program Order No. 1. These violations diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.1120 Suspension Order No. S–1120. (a) The temporary suspension order issued against Louis and Lucy Spinelli by telegram of November 22, 1946, is hereby revoked.

(b) Neither Louis nor Lucy Spinelli, their successors or assigns nor any other person shall do any construction on the premises at 1219 Pembroke Street, Bridgeport, Connecticut, unless specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration.

(c) Louis and Lucy Spinelli shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which they may file with the Civilian Production Administration for authorization to carry on construction.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Louis and Lucy Spinelli, their successors or assigns from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Issued this 18th day of March 1947.

CIVILIAN PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATION,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 43 [1]—REPORTS (FILING OF INFORMATION, CONTRACTS, PERIODIC REPORTS, ETC.)

REVISION OF ANNUAL REPORT FORM R FOR USE BY CLASS A AND CLASS B RADIOTELEGRAPH CARRIERS

MARCH 7, 1947.

At a meeting of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of March 1947:

It appearing, that Annual Report Form R is a form which is required to be filed annually by Class A and Class B radiotelegraph carriers pursuant to section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 43.21 of the Commission's rules and regulations (47 CFR Cum. Supp. § 43.21); and

It further appearing, that Annual Report Form R provides for reporting by said carriers, among other matters, certain information and data related to the capital stock, stockholders, funded debt, property, franchises and equipment, employees, officers, and directors, revenues and expenditures, and financial operations and statements of said carriers; and

It further appearing, that a revision of said Form R in content and format has been under consideration by the Commission and that all radiotelegraph carriers subject to said section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 43.21 and the Commission's rules and regulations (47 CFR Cum. Supp. § 43.21) have been consulted concerning said revision and have had actual notice thereof; and

It further appearing, that the Commission has received suggestions and comments which have been carefully considered, and which, in some instances, have been adopted by the Commission; and

It further appearing, that public interest, convenience, and necessity will be served by such revision of said Annual Report Form R, including a change in format, a consolidation of several of the individual schedules, the addition of seven new schedules, the withdrawal of 26 schedules and the expansion of two schedules thereof;

It is therefore ordered, That Annual Report Form R for Class A and Class B radiotelegraph carriers, required to be filed pursuant to section 219 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 43.21 of the Commission's rules and regulations (47 CFR Cum. Supp. § 43.21), be, and it is hereby revised in the manner and form indicated in the attachment hereto [2] and that the present Annual Report Form R be superseded thereby; and

It is further ordered, That all Class A and Class B radiotelegraph carriers be furnished with copies of the revised Annual Report Form R immediately, and that copies thereof be made available at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.; and

It is further ordered, That the revisions adopted herein shall become effective immediately.

The Commission finds that general notice of proposed rule making required under the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable. Section 219 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, provides, with regard to the filing of Annual Reports, that "Such reports shall be for such twelve months' period as the Commission shall designate and shall be filed with the Commission at its office in Washington within three months after the close of the year for which the report is made, unless additional time is granted in any case by the Commission; . . ." Further, the provisions of § 43.21 of the Commission's rules and regulations (47 CFR Cum. Supp. § 43.21) issued pursuant to the aforementioned section 219 of the Communications Act, require that these reports be filed by March 31st in each year. Accordingly, it is necessary to effectuate said revisions immediately in order to apprise the radiotelegraph carriers of the changes made, and in order to supply them with copies of the Revised Form R in ample time for completion thereof, in accordance with the foregoing statutory requirements.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter XI—Production and Marketing Administration (War Food Distribution Orders)

[WFO 82, Termination and Liquidation]

WALNUTS

The provisions of War Food Order No. 82, as amended (8 F. R. 13283, 16643; 9 F. R. 4321, 4319, 9584, 11419, 13619; 10 F. R. 103, 10419; 11 F. R. 5105), are hereby terminated effective as of 11:59 p. m., P. s. t., March 31, 1947.

The affairs of the Program Committee established pursuant to the provisions of said War Food Order No. 82, as amended, shall be liquidated in accordance with the following terms and conditions:

(a) Before the close of business on March 31, 1947, the Program Committee shall deliver to the custody or control of the members of the Walnut Control Board (hereinafter described more fully) all the money, other assets, books, and other records in the possession, or under the control, of said Program Committee, at that time, in its capacity as the administrative agency under War Food Order No. 82, as amended. Said Walnut Control Board, whose address is 213 Wholesale Terminal Building, Los Angeles 21, California, is the administrative agency established pursuant to the provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 62, as amended, and Marketing Order No. 1, as amended (7 CFR 901.1 et seq., as amended, 7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 901.4, 901.17), and its members, hereinafter referred to as the "Board of Trustees," are appointed trustees for the handling of this liquidation action: Provided, That, while this order is in effect, any change in the membership of the said Walnut Control Board shall operate automatically to make a corresponding change in the membership of the Board of Trustees.

(b) For the purpose of handling this liquidation action, the officers of the Board of Trustees shall be the same as the officers of the aforementioned Walnut Control Board, exercising the same respective types of powers and performing the same respective types of duties, insofar as such powers and duties are applicable hereunder.

(c) Meetings of the Board of Trustees may be held, when necessary in connection with the liquidation of the affairs of the said Program Committee, at any time and at any place in California, Oregon, or Washington, on the call of the Chairman. The rules of procedure to be followed in connection with each such meeting, including, but not limited to, the method and manner of voting, shall be the same as those prescribed in that regard in the aforementioned marketing agreement, as amended, and marketing order, as amended, for the Walnut Control Board, except that all decisions of the Board of Trustees shall be by a majority vote of all the members.

(d) The members of the Board of Trustees shall serve without compensation, but they shall be allowed their necessary expenses. These and all other necessary liquidation expenses shall be paid from funds of the Program Committee which are involved in this liquidation action.

(e) The Board of Trustees shall keep books, and other records of its operations, which clearly reflect all of its acts and transactions as trustee, which books and other records shall be subject, at any time, to examination by the Secretary of Agriculture, or his designated representative. The Board of Trustees shall cause the books and other records of the Program Committee (in connection with its operations under War Food Order No. 82, as amended), and its own books and other records as trustee hereunder, to be audited by one or more competent accountants as of the close of the liquidation period, as provided for herein, and shall submit promptly, to the Secretary of Agriculture, copies of such audit reports.

(f) Any furniture, fixtures, or other personal property of the Program Committee may be sold by the Board of Trustees for such price and under such conditions as may be approved in writing by the Director of the Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

(g) After payment of outstanding obligations, if any, and the expenses necessary to be incurred in connection with this liquidation action, from the funds involved in such liquidation action, the remaining funds, including funds derived from the sale of any furniture, fixtures, or other personal property of the Program Committee, shall be distributed, by the Board of Trustees, to each person from whom an assessment was collected, pursuant to War Food Order No. 82, as amended, for the period beginning September 1, 1946, and ending March 31, 1947, in the proportion that the amount of assessment so paid by such person bears to the total amount of the assessments paid by all persons during that period.

(h) Upon completion of the liquidation of the affairs of the Program Committee, the books and other records (together with the file cabinets or other containers thereof) of both the Program Committee and the Board of Trustees shall be delivered to, and retained by, the aforementioned Walnut Control Board.

(i) The liquidation of the affairs of the Program Committee shall be completed, and a final report of the Board of Trustees in connection therewith shall be submitted to the Secretary of Agriculture, on or before June 30, 1947.

With respect to violations, rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under said War Food Order No. 82, as amended, prior to the effective time of this termination action, all provisions of the said War Food Order No. 82, as amended, in effect prior to the effective time of this termination action shall be deemed to continue in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding in regard to any such violation, right, liability, or appeal.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter III—Claims and Accounts

PART 305—PAYMENT OF BILLS AND ACCOUNTS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following amendments and additions to the regulations contained in Part 305 are hereby prescribed:

1. Rescind §§ 305.5 and 305.6 and substitute the following:

§ 305.5 To whom payment may be made—(a) Other than lowest bidder. Payment may be made to other than the lowest bidder where the award was made in accordance with §§ 802.201 to 802.282, inclusive of Chapter VIII of this title; (Procurement Regulation No. 2) and §§ 803.301 to 803.398A, inclusive of Chapter VIII of this title, (Procurement Regulation No. 3).

(b) Other than original contractor. Payment may be made to other than the original contractor when the rights under the contract have been validly assigned or transferred. See Subpart J, §§ 803.390 to 803.398b, inclusive, of Chapter VIII of this title, (Procurement Regulation No. 3). Also see R. S. 3477 (31 U. S. C. 203); R. S. 3737 (41 U. S. C. 15; M. L. 1939, Sup. III, sec. 739); act of October 9, 1940 (54 Stat. 1029; 31 U. S. C. 203; 41 U. S. C. 15).

§ 305.6 When payment may be made—(a) Advances of public money prohibited. Section 3648, Revised Statutes (31 U. S. C. 529), as amended by act of August 2, 1946 (Pub. Law 600, 79th Cong.) prohibits payments in advance of the delivery of supplies or rendition of service unless authorized by the appropriation concerned or other law. Purchases of coupon books for gasoline and oil are within the prohibition, and payment may not be made until the supplies are actually furnished. (See 8 Comp. Gen. 454.) For authorized exceptions to the general prohibition contained in section 3648, Revised Statutes, as amended see section 1 (c), act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 712); as amended by section 103, act of September 9, 1940 (54 Stat. 875; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. V, 1171); sec. 201, Title II, First War Powers Act December 18, 1941 (55 Stat. 839; 50 U. S. C. App., Sup. V, 611); Title I, Executive Order 9001, December 27, 1941.

(b) Procedure for making advance payments. The procedure for effecting advance payments to contractors under the statutes and Executive order set forth in paragraph (a) of this section is set forth in Subpart G, §§ 803.319 to 803.321–12, inclusive, of Chapter VIII of this title, (Procurement Regulation No. 3).

2. In § 305.7 paragraph (c) (3) is amended and paragraph (d) is added as follows:

§ 305.7 What payment is authorized. • • •

(c) Customs duties on foreign purchases. • • •

(3) Philippine export tax. No export shall be imposed or collected by the Philippines on articles exported to the United States. See sec. 322, act of April 30, 1946 (Pub. Law 371, 79th Cong.).

(d) Taxes—Federal, State and local. See §§ 808.801 to 808.897–6, inclusive, of Chapter VIII of this title (Procurement Regulation No. 8).

3. Amend paragraphs (b), (c) (2), (d), (f) (3) (i) and (f) (3) (v) of § 305.8 to read as follows:

§ 305.8 Adjustments. • • •

(b) Contract provisions for price adjustment. The contract may contain provision for price adjustment. Payment will be made in accordance therewith.

(c) Transportation costs. • • •

(2) Land-grant deductions. Effective October 1, 1946, land-grant deductions were discontinued except where transportation was specifically contracted for prior to such effective date.

• • • • • •

(d) Inferior goods. Varying contract provisions are found dealing with goods that do not conform to specifications but are nevertheless retained and used by the Government. For instance, certain quartermaster contracts dealing with canned foods provide for deduction from the contract price and for cash reimbursement, in lieu of the right to reject and require replacement of defective cans. Other contracts provide that, if public necessity requires use of rejected goods not conforming to specifications, payment therefor shall be made at a proper reduction in price. Payment for rejected goods so retained and used has usually been on the basis of their reasonable value as distinguished from the contract price. (See Barry v. United States, 229 U. S. 47; Cor & Sons v. United States, 55 Ct. Cl. 7; 5 Comp. Gen. 993.) Where contract terms provide for payment of a lesser amount in the event that inferior goods are accepted under proper authority, payment may be made by disbursing officers on the basis of the determination of the contracting officer without reference to the Office of the Chief of Finance; Provided, There is received by the disbursing officer an invoice certified by the contractor in the reduced amount covering the inferior goods. In all cases where inferior goods are accepted at reduced prices, and the covering contract does not provide for such acceptance, the disbursing officer will submit the voucher for such reduced payment to the Office of the Chief of Finance for consideration.

• • • • • •

(f) Delay in performance • • •

(3) When liquidated damages provided for in contract—(i) Whenever under a contract containing a liquidated damages clause, the contractor fails to perform within the stipulated period and the time is not extended or the liquidated damages waived, the disbursing officer will deduct the maximum amount of liquidated damages for which the contractor may be liable and claim credit for the net amount only, crediting the amount so deducted to the open allotment and project account for the reserve for settlement of claims subject to a determination whether all or part of the amount of liquidated damages withheld is due to the contractor and, if appropriate, the taking of repayment action set forth in TM 14–702. Except in such instances where repayments are made, amounts withheld on account of liquidated damages will not again become available for obligation or for payment by disbursing officers, and any protests made by the contractor against the deduction of liquidated damages will be forwarded, together with a statement of all payments made, citations to all vouchers, and a detailed statement from the contracting officer, through the Chief of Finance. Attention: Receipts and Disbursements Division, The Pentagon, Washington 25, D. C., to the General Accounting Office. See 16 Comp. Gen. 374.

• • • • • •

(v) In the event that liquidated damages are credited to the open allotment account established for the reserve for settlement of claims, and subsequently it is determined that such amounts were withheld erroneously or are otherwise found to be due to the contractor, by reason of changes in the contract terms or by reason of any other procedures approved by appropriate authority providing for repayments of amounts so withheld, the amounts so determined to be payable may be certified on a payment voucher and charged to the open allotment account established for the reserve for settlement of claims under the applicable appropriation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 40.1 to 40.70, inclusive, issued under Pub. Law 585, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 755 et seq.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 40.1 Basis and purpose. The regulations in this part, for the control of source material essential to the production of fissionable material, are promulgated by the United States Atomic Energy Commission pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 755) in order to assure adequate source material for production, research, and development activities and to prevent the use of such material in a manner inconsistent with the national welfare.

§ 40.2 Definitions. (a) As used in this part, the term "source material" means any material, except fissionable material, which contains by weight one-twentieth of one percent (0.05%) or more of (1) uranium, (2) thorium, or (3) any combination thereof.

(b) "Fissionable material" means fissionable material as defined in section 5 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 and regulations which may be issued pursuant to that act by the Commission.

(c) "Raw source material" means (1) source material which has not been chemically processed in any manner and (2) source material in the form of residues or tailings.

(d) "Refined source material" means source material other than raw source material.

(e) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, firm, association, trust, estate, public or private institution, group, the United States or any agency thereof, any government other than the United States, any political subdivision of any such government, and any legal successor, representative, agent, or agency of the foregoing, or other entity, but shall not include the Commission or officers or employees of the Commission in the exercise of duly authorized functions.

(f) "The United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes all territories and possessions of the United States and the Canal Zone.

(g) "Commission" means the Atomic Energy Commission created by the Atomic Energy Act of 1946, or its duly authorized representative.

TRANSFER OF SOURCE MATERIAL

§ 40.10 Restriction on transfers. Unless authorized by a license issued by the Commission, no person may transfer or deliver, receive possession of or title to, or export from the United States, any source material after removal from its place of deposit in nature. This includes the disposition of raw source material (including residues or tailings) by dumping into streams or sewers, or disposition in such other manner that recovery cannot be made. The restriction of this section does not apply to any transfer, delivery, or receipt of possession or title exempted by § 40.11.

§ 40.11 Exempted transfers. Except where export is intended or where export occurs, the restriction of § 40.10 does not apply to any transfer, delivery, or receipt of possession or title, of the following:

(a) During any single calendar month a quantity of raw source material after removal from its place of deposit in nature which contains less than 10 pounds of uranium or thorium or any combination thereof, or

(b) Products listed in Schedule I (§ 40.60).

LICENSES

§ 40.20 Applications for licenses. Applications for licenses to transfer or deliver, receive possession of or title to, or export source material shall be filed with the United States Atomic Energy Commission, P. O. Box 42, Station F, New York 16, New York. Applications should be filed on Form AEC–2, copies of which are available at the above address. When it is impracticable to use this form, applications may be made by letter or telegram, giving the information required by Form AEC–2.

§ 40.21 Issuance of licenses. Upon a determination that an application meets the requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946 and of the regulations of the Commission, the Commission will issue a license in such form and upon such conditions as it deems appropriate and in accordance with law.

§ 40.22 Standards for issuance of licenses. In making the determination mentioned in § 40.21, the Commission will be guided by the following standards:

(a) Assurance of the common defense and security;

(b) Assurance of adequate source materials for production, research and development;

(c) Prevention of the use of source materials in a manner inconsistent with the national welfare;

(d) Preservation of health and safety.

So far as consistent with these standards, licenses will be granted upon conditions that will not interfere with the conduct of normal business activities. No license will be issued to any person if to do so would, in the opinion of the Commission, be inimical to the common defense and security.

§ 40.23 Types of licenses. Licenses are of two basic types, general and specific. General licenses are issued to an identified class of persons who are not designated by name, such as common or contract carriers, retail druggists or physicians, and others, to permit transfers of source material under specified conditions without the filing of an application with the Commission. General licenses now in effect are set out in Schedule III (§ 40.62). Specific licenses are issued to named persons in response to applications filed with the Commission. Specific licenses may authorize a continuing activity or, as in the case of exports, may be limited to an individual transaction. So far as consistent with the purposes of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946, licenses will be tailored to fit the normal business requirements of the licensee.

§ 40.24 Conditions of licenses. Each license will require the licensee to comply with certain conditions, including the filing of reports with the Commission and restrictions upon the use of source material. Willful failure of a licensee to file any such report which truthfully sets forth all information required, or willful failure to comply with any other condition of the license, shall constitute a violation of the regulations in this part.

§ 40.25 Revocation, suspension, modification of licenses. Any license may be modified, withdrawn, suspended, revoked, or annulled at any time in the discretion of the Commission upon a determination by the Commission that the public health, interest or safety requires such action or that the licensee has willfully failed to comply with any condition of the license. In the absence of such a determination, no modification, withdrawal, suspension, revocation, or annulment of any license will be made except upon application therefor by the licensee or unless, prior thereto, facts or conduct warranting such action have been called to the attention of the licensee in writing and the licensee has been accorded opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance with all lawful requirements. Nothing in this part shall limit the authority of the Commission to issue or amend its regulations in accordance with law.

§ 40.26 Renewal of licenses. In any case in which a licensee has filed an application in proper form for a renewal or a new license not less than 30 days prior to expiration of his existing license, such existing license, to the extent that it has reference to any activity of a continuing nature, shall not expire until the application for a renewal or a new license has been finally determined by the Commission.

§ 40.27 Transfer of licenses. Licenses shall be non-transferable.

§ 40.28 Licenses to transfer uranium for certain uses. Unless justified by exceptional circumstances licenses will not be issued for transfers of source material which contains by weight uranium in excess of one-twentieth of one percent (0.05%) for use in the manufacture of or for incorporation in any of the products listed in Schedule II (§ 40.61).

§ 40.29 Control or possession of source material by persons who do not hold specific or general licenses. (a) Any person who has, or who hereafter obtains, possession of or title to (1) a quantity of raw source material after removal from its place of deposit in nature which contains 10 pounds or more of uranium, thorium, or any combination thereof, or (2) a quantity of refined source material which contains 1 pound or more of uranium, thorium, or any combination thereof (except refined source material imported in products listed in Schedule I (§ 40.60)) shall, not later than 30 days after the effective date of the regulations in this part or after the date of obtaining such possession or title, whichever is later, file with the Commission a reasonably detailed statement of:

Interested persons were thereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the amendments by submitting data or arguments within 30 days from date of publication of the notice. PART 130—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

FORT PECK INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA

On January 25, 1947 there was published in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER notice of intention (1) to amend paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 130.38; and (2) to provide for the delivery of water when available to certain lands adjacent to the Big Porcupine Unit under the service area of the Big Porcupine or Wiota pumping plant (12 F. R. 544).

Interested persons were thereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the amendments by submitting data or written arguments within 30 days from date of publication of the notice. Objections were received from four water users of the 1946 season. Three of those filing objections farmed only a part of their assessable acreage; the other one did not apply for water to irrigate any of his irrigable land. They were opposed to the increase of rates mainly because each is farming only a part of his assessable acreage, and they are required to pay on the total irrigable acreage. This results in a larger per acre payment for the lands actually farmed. Their objections have been considered and it has been determined that the increased cost of material and labor required to operate this Unit fully justifies the increase proposed in the assessable rates. Accordingly § 130.38 (25 CFR, Cum. Supp.) is amended as follows:

Paragraph (a) is unchanged, paragraphs (b) and (c) are amended to read as follows; paragraphs (d) and (e) are redesignated (e) and (f) respectively and a new paragraph (d) is added as follows:

§ 130.38 Charges. • • •

(b) On that part of the Big Porcupine Unit that is under the service area of the Big Porcupine or Wiota pumping plant, water when available will be furnished to all irrigable non-Indian lands and to all Indian owned allotments leased to non-Indians, to which delivery of water can be made, at a minimum rate of $1.50 per acre per annum. Payment of the minimum rate entitles the water user to the delivery of one and one-half acre feet of water per acre of irrigable land included in each farm unit or allotment. Any additional water delivered shall be charged for at the rate of $1.00 per acre-foot or fraction thereof.

(c) For Indian land farmed by the Indian owner or leased and farmed by Indians, under the part of the Big Porcupine Unit that is within the service area of the Wiota pumping plant, water when available will be furnished at the minimum rate of $1.50 per acre per annum for the entire irrigable area included in the allotment. Payment of the minimum rate entitles the Indian water user to the delivery of one and one-half acre-feet of water per acre included in the allotment. Any additional water delivered shall be charged for at the rate of $1.00 per acre-foot or fraction thereof.

(d) For all irrigable lands situated adjacent to and outside of that part of the Big Porcupine Unit that is under service area of the Big Porcupine or Wiota pumping plant, surplus water, when available and not required for irrigation of lands within the Big Porcupine Unit, will be furnished at the flat rate of $1.85 per acre-foot. Water measurement and delivery thereof will be made at project limits.

[SEAL] WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, Jr.,
Acting Commissioner.

PART 130—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

COLORADO RIVER INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, ARIZONA

On January 30, 1947 there was published in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER notice of intention to amend §§ 130.6 to 130.8a inclusive (12 F. R. 687). Interested persons were thereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the amendments by submitting data or arguments within 30 days from date of publication of the notice. No communications, written or oral, having been received within the prescribed period, the said sections are hereby amended and promulgated:

§ 130.6 Charges. Pursuant to the provisions of the acts of August 1, 1914 and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583, 45 Stat. 210; 25 U. S. C. 385, 387), the annual basic charge against the land to which water can be delivered under the Colorado River Indian irrigation project in Arizona, for the operation and maintenance of that project, is hereby fixed until further notice at $3.50 per acre per annum for the delivery of not to exceed four acre feet of water per acre per annum, except hat when, with the approval of the Superintendent, certain alkali tracts are planted to rice with a view of reclaiming the lands, a quantity of water reasonably sufficient to carry away alkali salts may be furnished to any such tracts of land for not more than two successive years at a rate of $3.50 per acre per annum: Provided, however, That the owners of Indian lands that are not under lease to non-Indian lessees and whose lands are located within the boundaries of Township 8 and 9 North, Ranges 20 and 21 West, S. & G. R. B. M., commonly known as the old portion of the project, shall be required to make only a partial cash payment of $1.75 per acre per annum until such time as in the opinion of the Superintendent these lands are re-subjugated to the standards now being followed in the development of new lands in other parts of the project. The remaining unpaid part of the $3.50 basic assessments in such cases shall stand as a first lien against the land until paid. The foregoing charges shall become effective for the irrigation season of 1947 and continue in effect thereafter until further notice.

§ 130.7 Excess water charge. Additional water, if and when available, in excess of 4 acre feet per acre per annum, may be delivered upon request of landowners or lessees at the rate of $1.50 per acre foot, or fraction thereof.

§ 130.7a Charges for stock water. For stock water delivered through the project canal and lateral system to residents, using reservation lands for stock purposes only, a charge of $1.00 shall be made for each filling of a stock water tank.

§ 130.8 Time of payments. The basic water charge fixed in § 130.6 shall become due on March 1 of each year and shall be payable on or before that date each year, except that in cases of Indians who have been in possession of lands under tribal permit or assignment less than six months on said date, the payment shall become due the first day of July following.

The excess water charge is payable at the time of written request for such water and must be paid prior to delivery of the excess water.

Stock water charges are payable at the time of written request therefor, and must be paid prior to delivery of any such water.

No water shall be delivered for use on Indian trust lands under lease until the Superintendent of the Indian Reservation has certified that the lessee has paid the annual operation and maintenance charges and complied with all the terms of the lease contract.

§ 130.8a Advance payment may be waived. Upon certification by the Superintendent that any Indian farming his own land or tribal assignment not to exceed 10 acres in any one case, is financially unable to pay the required charges on the due date, water may be delivered to not to exceed such 10 acres farmed by such Indian. The charges therefor shall be entered on the accounts and will stand as a first lien against the land until paid, but without penalty for delinquency. (38 Stat. 583, 45 Stat. 210; 25 U. S. C. 385, 387)

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Office of Indian Affairs

[25 CFR, Part 130]

FLATHEAD INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA

OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

MARCH 14, 1947.

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act of June 11, 1946 (Pub. Law 404—79th Cong., 60 Stat. 238), and authority contained in Acts of Congress approved August 1, 1914; May 18, 1916; and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583, 25 U. S. C. 385; 39 Stat. 1942; and 45 Stat. 210, 25 U. S. C. 387), and by virtue of authority delegated by the Secretary of the Interior to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs September 14, 1946 (11 FRDI 10279), notice is hereby given of intention to modify §§ 103.16, 130.17 and 130.18 of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, dealing with irrigable lands of the Flathead irrigation project not subject to the jurisdiction of the several irrigation districts:

(1) By increasing the annual minimum charge against all lands within the Jocko Division to which water can be delivered from $1.33 per acre to $1.92 per acre; (2) by increasing the annual per acre charge against all irrigable lands within the Mission Valley and Camas Divisions of the project from $1.63 per acre to $2.10 per acre; and (3) by modifying or changing § 130.18 to read as follows:

§ 130.18 Lands with secretarial private water rights. For all areas recognized by the Secretary of the Interior as entitled to so-called private water rights where the water is regulated by the Flathead irrigation project and delivered through any part of the Flathead irrigation project system, a charge equal to fifty percent of the annual operation and maintenance charge for project lands not having such private water rights in the same general area shall be made for water delivered up to two acre-feet per acre or such quantity of water allowed for each acre under the Secretary's private water right findings.

Upon filing a written application on the approved form by the owner of land with a Secretarial private water right for a pro rata per acre share of the available water, natural flow and project stored supply, which application shall be a recognition that his land has relative water requirements as the soils of similar character of project lands, then there shall be delivered each irrigation season thereafter to his land the pro rata per acre share of the available water for which shall be paid the annual per acre charge fixed in §§ 130.16 and 130.17. The lands covered by any application filed pursuant to this section shall be treated from the date of the application as a part of the Flathead Indian irrigation project and subject to all the terms and conditions of applicable law and regulations.

The foregoing proposed changes are to become effective for the irrigation season 1947 and continue in effect thereafter until further notice.

Interested persons are hereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the proposed amendments by submitting their views and data or argument in writing to Paul L. Pickinger, District Director, U. S. Indian Service, 315 Federal Building, Billings, Montana, within 30 days from the date of the publication of this notice of intention in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

TEMPORARY AIR-TRAFFIC CONTROL-TOWER OPERATOR CERTIFICATES AND PARACHUTE TECHNICIAN CERTIFICATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULES

MARCH 17, 1947.

A substantial lapse of time occurs before the issuance of an air-traffic control-tower operator certificate or a parachute technician certificate to an applicant who has successfully completed the prescribed tests. The issuance of a temporary certificate would authorize the holder to exercise the privileges of such certificate during the interval between successful completion of the prescribed tests and receipt of the permanent certificate. Therefore, it is proposed to provide for a temporary certificate to permit applicant to exercise the privileges of such certificate.

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act the Safety Bureau of the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby gives notice that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments to Parts 25 and 26 of the Civil Air Regulations as follows:

1. By adding a new § 25.701 to read as follows:

§ 25.701 Temporary certificates. The Administrator or his authorized representative may issue a temporary parachute technician certificate for a period of not to exceed 90 days, subject to the terms and conditions specified therein by the Administrator.

2. By adding a new § 26.40 to read as follows:

FLIGHTS OF KITES AND MOORED BALLOONS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULES

MARCH 14, 1947.

Kites and moored balloons are now being flown in sufficient numbers to constitute a hazard to the flight of aircraft. The Civil Air Regulations now make no provision for the control of flights of such kites and balloons. In order that control of such a hazard to the flight of aircraft be established, regulations governing the operation of kites and moored balloons should be promulgated.

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act the Safety Bureau of the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby gives notice that the Bureau will propose to the Board an amendment to Part 43 of the Civil Air Regulations by adding the following:

§ 43.7 Operation of kites and moored balloons.

§ 43.70 General. The following rules shall govern the operation of kites capable of supporting more than 25 pounds and moored balloons having a diameter of more than 6 feet or a gas capacity of more than 115 cubic feet. Such kites or moored balloons may be operated without permit from or notice to the Administrator when operated below 150 feet above the surface at a location more than 5 miles from the nearest boundary of an airport.

§ 43.71 Operation requiring permit. Unless operated under the conditions specified in § 43.70, no kite or moored balloon shall be operated except under the authority of and in compliance with the terms and conditions of a permit issued by the Administrator when such kite or moored balloon is operated:

(a) Within 5 miles of the nearest boundary of an airport, or

(b) Closer than 500 feet to the base of any cloud, or

(c) During the hours of darkness, or

(d) When ground visibility is less than 3 miles, or

§ 43.72 Operation requiring notice. Unless operated under the conditions specified in § 43.70 or § 43.71, written notice must be submitted to the nearest office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration at least 30 days prior to the date of operation when kites and moored balloons are operated between 150 and 500 feet above the surface. Such notice shall contain the name and address of the person operating such kite or balloon, the date or dates of such proposed operation, and the location and altitude at which the proposed operation will be conducted.

§ 43.73 Rapid deflation device. No moored balloon shall be operated unless it is equipped with a device or means of automatic and rapid deflation in the event of an escape from its moorings.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

It is the desire of the Bureau that those interested offer suggestions and comments regarding the proposed amendment. Comments in writing should be addressed to the Safety Bureau, Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington 25, D. C., for receipt within 30 days from the date of this public notice.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

NOTICE OF FINDING OF EMERGENCY OUTBREAK

Whereas, there has occurred in Mexico an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease; and

Whereas, this outbreak threatens the livestock industry of this country; and

Whereas, Congress has recognized the seriousness of this outbreak by authorizing measures of cooperation with the Government of Mexico in its eradication by the act of February 28, 1947 (Pub. Law 8, 80th Cong.), which measures, until they can be made effective, must be supplemented by control measures within the United States; and

Whereas, the strengthening of patrol measures at the Mexican border and the intensification of inspection work at stockyards and other points in the United States will tend to greater economy by preventing the outbreak of the disease in this country.

Now, therefore, in accordance with the provisions of the appropriation item in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1947 (60 Stat. 270), entitled "Eradication of Foot-and-Mouth Disease and other Contagious Diseases of Animals", I find an emergency arising out of the existence of the said foot-and-mouth disease which, in my opinion, threatens the livestock industry of the country and I authorize the use of the funds appropriated under the said appropriation item for all proper purposes to arrest the introduction of the disease into this country and its eradication wherever found, within the United States, including the strengthening of patrol measures at the Mexican border and the intensification of inspection work at stockyards and other points in the United States.

NEWNAN BROADCASTING CO. AND VOLUNTEER STATE BROADCASTING CO., INC.

ORDER REOPENING RECORD AND SETTING FORTH HEARING DATE

In re applications of Newnan Broadcasting Company, a partnership composed of D. T. Manget, Evan W. Thomasson, James Thomasson and Ida A. Thomasson, Newnan, Georgia, Docket No. 7442, File No. BP-4487; Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc., Nashville, Tennessee, Docket No. 7443, File No. BP-4531; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of March 1947;

The Commission having under consideration the petitions for rehearing filed February 17, 1947, by J. W. Woodruff, Sr., trading as Atlanta Broadcasting Company (WATL), Atlanta, Georgia, and Yetta G. Stamford, C. S. Shealy and Thomas D. Stamford, Jr., doing business as Opelika-Auburn Broadcasting Company (WJHO), Opelika, Alabama; the exceptions to proposed report and petition for rehearing filed February 17, 1947, by Newnan Broadcasting Company, Newnan, Georgia; and the petition to reopen record and for further hearing filed February 25, 1947, by Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc., Nashville, Tennessee; and

It appearing, that on January 16, 1947, the Commission adopted a proposed decision following a hearing on the above-entitled applications, in which it proposed to grant the said application of Newnan Broadcasting Company and to deny the said application of Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc., and found:

In view of the need for additional broadcast service and a local broadcast outlet in Newnan, Georgia, we have based our proposed decision on section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended. However, we recognize that Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc., made a strong showing in behalf of the service it proposes to render in Nashville, and that the regional channel involved could be efficiently utilized by this applicant in Nashville. Accordingly, if on or before February 7, 1947, Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc., can show that a local broadcast facility is available for use by Newman Broadcasting Company in Newnan, Georgia, the Commission will consider granting such facility to Newnan Broadcasting Company in lieu of the grant proposed herein, and granting the instant application of Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc.;

It appearing further, that Newnan Broadcasting Company agreed to accept a grant for a local channel, if such a channel could be found for Newnan, Georgia; that on or before said February 7, 1947, Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc., Nashville, Tennessee, advised the Commission relative to the availability of the frequency 1400 kc. for use by Newnan Broadcasting Company, at Newnan, Georgia, and, thereupon, the Commission on January 23, 1947, by order granted the application of Newnan Broadcasting Company for construction permit (File No. BP-4487; Docket No. 7442), authorizing the use of 1400 kc, with 250 watts power, unlimited time, subject to certain conditions; and granted the application of Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc. (File No. BP-4531; Docket No. 7443), for the use of the frequency 1300 kc, with 5 kw power, unlimited time; and

It further appearing, that the petitions of Atlanta Broadcasting Company (WATL), Atlanta, Georgia, and Opelika-Auburn Broadcasting Company (WJHO), Opelika, Alabama, licensees of existing stations, allege that the operation of a station at Newnan, Georgia, on 1400 kc, with 250 watts power, unlimited time, would result in objectionable daytime interference to the normally protected contours of their respective stations; and that such allegations are supported by affidavits of consulting engineers whose qualifications are recognized by the Commission;

It is ordered, That the Commission's order of January 23, 1947, granting construction permits to Newnan Broadcasting Company, Newnan, Georgia (File No. BP-4487; Docket No. 7442), authorizing the use of the frequency 1400 kc, with 250 watts power, unlimited time, and to Volunteer State Broadcasting Company, Inc., Nashville, Tennessee (File No. BP-4531; Docket No. 7443), for use of 1300 kc, with 5 kw power, unlimited time, be, and it is hereby, set aside; that the record in the above-entitled matters be, and it is hereby, reopened; and a further hearing in Washington, D. C., beginning 10 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, March 26, 1947, be, and it is hereby, scheduled, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether a station operating on 1400 kc, with 250 watts power, unlimited time, at Newnan, Georgia, would result in any daytime interference within normally protected contours of either Station WATL, Atlanta, Georgia, or Station WJHO, Opelika, Alabama, or any other existing station, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain primary service from the operation of a station at Newnan, Georgia, operating on 1400 kc, with 250 watts power, unlimited time.

3. To determine whether, in the event it appears that a station operating on 1400 kc, with 250 watts power, unlimited time, at Newnan, Georgia, would result in interference within normally protected contours of either Stations WATL, Atlanta, Georgia, or WJHO, Opelika, Alabama, or any other existing station, notwithstanding any such interference, public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by a grant to Newnan Broadcasting Company of a construction permit to construct a new standard broadcast station at Newnan, Georgia, on the frequency 1400 kc, with 250 watts power, unlimited time.

It is further ordered, That Atlanta Broadcasting Company (WATL), Atlanta, Georgia, and Opelika-Auburn Broadcasting Company (WJHO), Opelika, Alabama, be, and they are hereby, made parties to this further hearing.

FM APPLICATIONS

PROPOSED PROGRAM ANALYSIS REQUIRED

FEBRUARY 28, 1947.

Since March, 1946, applicants for FM construction permits have been required to file a proposed "Weekly Program Analysis" before a permit would be issued. An appropriate form (Mimeograph No. 94421) and Instructions for Log Analysis (Mimeograph No. 96000) have been provided for this purpose.

At the present time, however, approximately one out of every five applications filed for FM construction permits is not accompanied by a proposed weekly program analysis; and there are now on file 52 such applications which cannot be processed because the proposed weekly program analysis has not been filed.

Accordingly, the Commission announces that in the future no application for a Class A or Class B FM construction permit will be considered complete unless accompanied by three copies of the proposed weekly program analysis (Mimeograph No. 94421), properly filled out. All applications not accompanied by a proposed weekly program analysis will not be accepted for filing, but will be returned to the applicant under § 1.361 of the Commission's rules and regulations.

The Commission in the near future will re-examine all applications for FM construction permits now on file, and will take such action as may be appropriate in cases where a proposed weekly program analysis has not been submitted. Persons who have applications for FM construction permits pending should re-examine their applications to determine if the program information submitted is complete, and if not, the appropriate information should be submitted without delay.

Secretary.

CATALINA BROADCASTING CO.

PROPOSED TRANSFER OF CONTROL [1]

The Commission hereby gives notice that on March 5, 1947, there was filed with it an application (BTC-538) for its consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act to the proposed transfer of control of Catalina Broadcasting Company permittee of KCNA, Tucson, Arizona, from Erskine Caldwell to William A. Small, William H. Johnson, William R. Mathews, Betty B. Mathews, Clare R. Ellinwood, and George W. Chambers.

The proposal to transfer control arises out of a contract of October 31, 1946, pursuant to which Erskine Caldwell agrees to transfer to William A. Small, William H. Johnson, William R. Mathews, Betty B. Mathews, Clare R. Ellinwood, and George W. Chambers a total of 2,880 shares (60%) of the 4,800 shares of issued and outstanding common voting stock of Catalina Broadcasting Company for a total consideration of $26,640 subject to the terms and conditions provided in the memorandum of agreement attached thereto. Further information as to the arrangements may be found with the application and associated papers which are on file at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

On July 25, 1946, the Commission adopted § 1.388 (known as § 1.321 effective September 11, 1946) which sets out the procedure to be followed in such cases including the requirement for public notice concerning the filing of the application. Pursuant thereto the Commission was advised by application on March 5, 1947, that starting on March 6, 1947, notice of the filing of the application would be inserted in The Arizona Daily Star, a newspaper of general circulation at Tucson, Arizona, in conformity with the above rule.

In accordance with the procedure set out in said rule, no action will be had upon the application for a period of 60 days from March 6, 1947, within which time other persons desiring to apply for the facilities involved may do so upon the same terms and conditions as set forth in the above described contract.

FREQUENCY SERVICE-ALLOCATIONS

ADOPTION OF CERTAIN MODIFICATIONS

FEBRUARY 18, 1947.

In a public notice (No. 97274) dated September 17, 1946 (11 F. R. 11227), the Commission adopted a new table of service-allocations of frequencies between 25,000 kilocycles and 30,000,000 kilocycles. In a public notice (No. 97840) dated September 25, 1946 (11 F. R. 11824), the Commission adopted a new table of proposed service-allocations of frequencies below 25,000 kilocycles.

Recently the preparatory committee for the forthcoming International Telecommunications Conference, under the sponsorship of the Department of State, reviewed the frequency service-allocation proposal of the United States for the entire spectrum, 10 kilocycles to 30,000 megacycles, and effected certain modifications in the proposal. These will all be evident from a comparison of the attached table of service-allocations with the public notices dated September 17, 1946 (11 F. R. 11227), and September 25, 1946 (11 F. R. 11824), and may be summarized as follows:

1. A band has been added for the navigational service, between 10 and 14 kc.

2. Coastal telegraph stations are permitted in the band 14–100 kc.

3. An appropriate remark has been inserted opposite the band 200–280 kc. to indicate that the U. S. intends this band ultimately for a long distance aid.

4. The loran allocation between 1800 and 2000 kc. has been re-worded to indicate the regional nature of loran in any given area, and to indicate the degree of sharing which may be possible on a non-interference basis to loran.

5. An appropriate note has been inserted following the frequency 4000 kc. to indicate the intention of the United States with respect to tropical broadcasting.

6. The aeronautical mobile route band 16,490–16,540 kc. has been shifted to 15,300–15,350 kc.

7. The aeronautical mobile route band 17,980–18,040 kc. has been made available for sharing by the aeronautical fixed service.

8. An additional high frequency broadcasting band has been added at the request of the Department of State between 25,600 and 26,100 kc.

9. The band 27,185–27,455 kc has been widened to 27,160–27,480 kc, to be primarily for the use of the industrial, scientific and medical service, with sharing permitted by the amateur, fixed and mobile services.

10. The power limitation in the band 29.7–30 Mc has been eliminated.

11. The Commission's recent announcement regarding the frequency 2450 Mc for the use of the industrial, scientific and medical service has been appropriately incorporated.

12. Some slight adjustments were made in the high frequency maritime mobile service-allocations as follows:

(a) The 4 Mc band now starts at 4133 kc rather than 4135 kc, and the starting points at 6, 8, 12 and 16 Mc have been adjusted accordingly. The 2 Mc ship telegraph band was shifted to 2065–2105 kc.

(b) The ship telegraph bands have been widened by 20 kc at 4 Mc and pro rata according to the harmonic relationship previously established for the ship telegraph bands at 6, 8, 12 and 16 Mc.

(c) The 4 Mc coastal telegraph band has been reduced by 40 kc.

(d) The 4 Mc ship telephone band and its associated coastal telephone band have each been reduced by 5 kc.

(e) 8350 kc was selected for the ultimate air-sea rescue frequency.

The Commission has indicated its approval of the foregoing changes to the Department of State and has been advised that the United States expects to transmit its proposal for frequency service-allocations to the Bureau of the International Telecommunications Union for circulation to the member states of that body in the immediate future. The Commission is announcing these changes at this time for the information of all who have followed the proceedings of the Commission's Docket No. 6651 and the subsequent modifications to the allocation table. Any statements or comments which any person may wish to submit to the Commission with respect to these changes will be examined and given due consideration. The Commission is, of course, continuing its study of all the problems involved in the frequency allocations to the various services. Especial attention is invited to the fact that the attached table does not contain information as to detailed U. S. allocations. No change has been made in the division of spectrum space between the government and non-government services, but the detailed service-allocations in the bands 30–40 Mc, 152–162 Mc, 1000–13000 Mc were the subjects of recent oral arguments on February 3 and 4, 1947, and final allocations to the non-government fixed and mobile services in these bands will be issued in the near future.

T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

Since the United States has no requirement for tropical broadcasting, it has not included a specific provision for this service in its table of frequency allocations. Recognizing, however, that certain countries have repeatedly expressed a need for this service for domestic broadcasting, particularly in the American region, it is recommended that the appropriate committees of the Conference consider the proposals of the delegations concerned with this problem in the light of their essential needs with the objective that the necessary stations be given suitable frequency assignments shared with other services within that portion of the spectrum between 3000 kc and 5000 kc on a sound technical basis which will avoid mutual interference between the broadcasting service and the other services concerned.

[1] Lowest and highest assignable frequencies 540 and 1600 kc.

[2] 1800–1900 regional; 1900–2000 regional.

The Loran system requires a band of only 100 kilocycles in any particular area. The amateur, fixed, or mobile services may employ, in any particular area, whichever band is not required for Loran, but only on the condition that they do not cause harmful interference to the navigational service.

[3] Standard frequency 2500 kc.

[4] "Route"—Available exclusively for aeronautical mobile communications along air routes established for air carrier flying and only where the use of frequencies above 30 megacycles is impracticable.

PROPOSED TRANSFER OF CONTROL [1]

The Commission hereby gives notice that on December 24, 1946 there was filed with it an application (BTC–527) for its consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act to the proposed transfer of control of Spokane Broadcasting Corporation licensee of KFIO, Spokane, Washington from Arthur L. Smith to the proposed stockholders of the company consisting of Arthur L. Smith and 22 other proposed subscribers to stock. The proposal to transfer control arises out of arrangements pursuant to which the licensee would increase its capitalization from 5,000 shares of $1 par value common voting stock (of which Arthur L. Smith now owns 4,996 or 99 plus percent of the outstanding stock) to 300,000 shares of $1 par value stock of which there would be issued to Smith 50,000 shares covering his interest in physical properties of the station (including the stock now held by him) and an additional 15,000 shares for $1 per share resulting in Smith holding a 26% interest under the proposal. A loan to Smith of $5,968.19 would be waived. An additional 185,000 shares would be sold to 22 subscribers at par. The proceeds from the sale of the stock would be used in connection with the proposed betterments in facilities (see application B5–P–5559; Docket 8060 for change in frequency and increase in power) upon the grant of which application this proposal is contingent. Further information as to the arrangements may be found with the application and associated papers which are on file at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

On July 25, 1946 the Commission adopted § 1.388 (known as § 1.321 effective September 11, 1946) which sets out the procedure to be followed in such cases including the requirement for public notice concerning the filing of the application. Pursuant thereto the Commission was advised by applicant on March 1, 1947 that starting on March 10, 1947 notice of the filing of the application would be inserted in a newspaper of general circulation at Spokane, Washington in conformity with the above rule.

In accordance with the procedure set out in said rule, no action will be had upon the application for a period of 60

NATIONAL ASSN. OF SECURITIES DEALERS, INC., ET AL.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the 14th day of March 1947.

In the matter of application of National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., on behalf of John Doe and Company for approval of continuance in membership in the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. with Edward E. Trost employed as a registered representative.

Notice is hereby given that the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., a registered securities association (hereinafter referred to as the Association), has filed with this Commission, on behalf of John Doe and Company, an application for approval of the continuance of the membership of John Doe and Company in the Association, pursuant to the provisions of section 15A (b) (4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Among other things, the above application states that:

A. Edward E. Trost is now employed by John Doe and Company, a member of the Association, having its principal office in Buffalo, New York.

B. In 1942 and prior thereto, Edward E. Trost was president of Trost & Co., Inc., which at that time was a member of the Association with offices in Buffalo, New York.

C. By order of the Securities and Exchange Commission, issued on December 11, 1942, the firm of Trost & Co., Inc., was expelled from membership in the Association and its registration as a broker and dealer was revoked.

D. The District Committee for District No. 13 and the Board of Governors of the Association, having reviewed the record in the proceedings resulting in such order of expulsion and having considered the subsequent activity of Edward E. Trost and his general reputation in the business community, believe that he should be permitted to engage in the securities business as an employee and registered representative of John Doe and Company, and that the continuance of John Doe and Company in membership in the Association with Edward E. Trost as an employee and registered representative thereof would be consonant with the stated purposes and policies of section 15A of the act.

E. The Association now applies for approval of the Commission to continuance of John Doe and Company in membership in the Association with Edward E. Trost employed as a registered representative.

The public files of the Commission show that the order revoking the registration of Trost & Co., Inc., as a broker and dealer and expelling it from membership in the Association is still in effect and the opinion of the Commission in the matter tends to show that Trost, while acting as president of Trost & Co., Inc., was a cause of said order. Under the provisions of section 15A (b) (4), of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and section 2 of Article I of the Association's By-Laws the firm of John Doe and Company may not be continued in membership in the Association so long as Edward E. Trost is controlled by said company, if in fact Trost was a cause of the order above referred to, except with the approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission based upon a finding that such approval is appropriate in the public interest.

Any interested person may informally present his views or any information relating to this matter by communicating with Peter T. Byrne, Regional Administrator of the Commission's New York Regional Office, 120 Broadway, New York 5, New York, on or before April 8, 1947. Within the same time any person desiring that a formal hearing be held may file with the Secretary a written request to that effect, together with a brief statement of the nature of his interest in the proceeding and the position which he proposes to take. In the absence of such a request by any person having a bona fide interest in the proceeding, the Commission will either set the matter down for hearing on its own motion after appropriate notice or, if it should appear appropriate to do so, will grant the application on the basis of the record and without formal hearing.

This notice shall be served on John Doe and Company and the Association not less than fifteen (15) days prior to April 8, 1947, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in the manner prescribed by the Federal Register Act not later than fifteen (15) days prior to April 8, 1947.

By the Commission.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 14th day of March A. D. 1947.

Notice is hereby given that the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., a registered securities association (hereinafter referred to as the Association), has filed with this Commission, on behalf of John Doe and Company, an application for approval of the continuance of the membership of John Doe and Company in the Association, pursuant to the provisions of section 15A (b) (4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Among other things, the above application states that:

A. A. R. Miller is now employed by John Doe and Company, a member of the Association, having its principal office in New York, New York, and a branch office in Washington, D. C. A. R. Miller is employed at the branch office.

B. A. R. Miller, doing business as A. R. Miller & Company, a sole proprietor, was a registered broker and dealer and a member of the Association prior to June 7, 1943, with offices in Washington, D. C.

C. By decision of the Board of Governors, dated June 7, 1943, A. R. Miller, doing business as A. R. Miller & Company, was expelled from membership in the Association for violation of an Association rule prohibiting conduct inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade.

D. The District Committee for District No. 13 and the Board of Governors of the Association, having reviewed the record in the proceedings resulting in such order of expulsion and having considered the subsequent activity of A. R. Miller and his general reputation in the business community, believe that he has been sufficiently penalized for the violation of the rule which was the subject of such disciplinary proceedings, that he should be permitted to engage in the securities business as an employee and registered representative of John Doe and Company, and that the continuance of John Doe and Company in membership in the Association with A. R. Miller as an employee and registered representative thereof would be consonant with the stated purposes and policies of section 15A of the act.

E. The Association now applies for approval of the Commission to continuance of John Doe and Company in membership in the Association with A. R. Miller as an employee and registered representative.

Under the provisions of section 15A (b) (4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and section 2 of Article I of the Association's By-Laws, the firm of John Doe and Company may not be continued in membership in the Association so long as A. R. Miller is controlled by said company, except with the approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission based upon a finding that such approval is appropriate in the public interest.

Any interested person may informally present his views or any information relating to this matter by communicating with E. Russel Kelly, Regional Administrator of the Commission's Baltimore Regional Office, O'Sullivan Building, Baltimore, Maryland, on or before April 8, 1947. Within the same time any person desiring that a formal hearing be held may file with the Secretary a written request to that effect, together with a brief statement of the nature of his interest in the proceeding and the position which he proposes to take. In the absence of such a request by any person having a bona fide interest in the proceeding, the Commission will either set the matter down for hearing on its own motion after appropriate notice or, if it should appear appropriate to do so, will grant the application on the basis of the record and without formal hearing.

This notice shall be served on John Doe and Company and the Association not less than fifteen (15) days prior to April 8, 1947, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in the manner prescribed by the Federal Register Act not later than (15) days prior to April 8, 1947.

By the Commission.

ELECTRIC BOND AND SHARE CO. ET AL.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 13th day of March A. D. 1947.

In the matter of Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 54-127; Electric Bond and Share Company and its subsidiary companies, respondents, File No. 59-3; Electric Bond and Share Company, American Power & Light Company, National Power & Light Company, Electric Power & Light Corporation, et al., respondents, File No. 59-12.

Electric Bond and Share Company ("Bond and Share"), a registered holding company, having filed a supplemental application pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 regarding the following transactions:

Bond and Share's Plan II-A, as amended, approved by the Commission on September 6, 1946, provided, among other things, that the company sell within a specified period of time any shares of the common stock of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company ("Pennsylvania"), not offered to, or not purchased by, the common stockholders of Bond and Share in accordance with the provisions of Plan II-A, as amended. Bond and Share has notified the Commission pursuant to Rule U-44 (c) that it proposes to dispose of such Pennsylvania stock consisting of 153,753 shares of common stock (plus not exceeding 15,000 additional shares which may be purchased for stabilizing purposes) by means of the sale thereof to an underwriting group formed by Lehman Bros. for a secondary distribution after the close of the New York Stock Exchange (upon which the said shares of Pennsylvania are listed) on a day to be mutually agreed upon between Bond and Share and the underwriters. The initial public offering price is also to be mutually agreed upon between Bond and Share and the underwriters and is to be equal to the price at which the last sale of the common stock of Pennsylvania on the New York Stock Exchange was made prior to such mutual agreement, or to be equal to such price less 12½¢ per share.

Bond and Share now requests permission to acquire not in excess of 15,000 shares of the common stock of Pennsylvania on the New York Stock Exchange for the purpose of stabilizing the prices of such stock from 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., on March 13, 1947, until the time at which the initial public offering price is mutually agreed upon between Bond and Share and the underwriters, but in any event not later than the close of business on March 19, 1947.

Bond and Share also requests that the order of the Commission approving the proposed transactions contain findings and recitations conforming to the provisions and requirements of section 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

The Commission finding that no adverse findings are necessary under the applicable provisions of the act and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said application be granted, and further deeming it appropriate to grant the request of the applicant that the order conform to the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, including section 1808 (f) thereof:

(b) If the position to which he is appointed, reappointed, or transferred is not within the purview of the leave acts of March 14, 1936, the employee shall be furnished with a statement of his sick leave account and if he is subsequently appointed, reappointed, or transferred to a position within the purview of such acts, with no break in service or a break of less than 90 days, the leave shown to be due shall be credited to his account. NOTE: These amendments are intended to remedy a presently existing situation with respect to reductions in force that are currently being made in the staffs of Government agencies. For this reason the Commission finds that good cause exists for making them effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 4700—VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

GENERAL RESTRICTIONS ON CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIRS

The Veterans' Emergency Housing Program calls for the construction of a large number of housing accommodations to meet the needs of returning veterans. The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export of building materials, and facilities related to the utilization of building materials, suitable for the construction and/or completion of housing accommodations in rural and urban areas and for the construction and repair of essential farm buildings. It will be impossible to carry out the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program without diverting these critical materials from deferrable or less essential construction. The following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense and to effectuate the purposes of the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946.

§ 4700.1 Veterans' Housing Program Order 1—(a) What this order does. In order to carry out the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program, this order forbids the beginning of construction and repair work on buildings and certain other structures without specific authorization under paragraph (h) of the order with the exception of certain small jobs and other work covered by paragraphs (d), (e) and (f). The restrictions of the order apply whether or not the materials needed are on hand or are available without priorities assistance.

(b) Structures and work covered by this order—(1) Kind of structures. The restrictions of this order apply to certain kinds of work on structures.

As used in the order, "structure" means any of the following, whether of a temporary or permanent nature (See Interpretation 3 as to portable structures):

NOTE: "A billboard" deleted March 20, 1947.

A building.
An arena, stadium or grandstand, including bleachers or similar seating arrangements.
A pier or dock.
A boardwalk (not including wooden walks used in winter or bad weather).
A concrete surface or base for a drive-in theatre, parking lot or tennis court.
A moving picture set.
A roller coaster or similar device of a kind ordinarily used in amusement parks.
A swimming pool.
A wall or fence built primarily of wood, brick or concrete or concrete blocks.

The erection of stands or other structures which have been used before and are being erected only for a temporary purpose and are to be taken down after the temporary purpose is served is not covered by the order.

The term "structure" does not include any kind of equipment or furniture that is not attached to a building or other structure, whether or not it is inside a structure. Supplement 4 to VHP–1 contains examples of things which do not fall within the term "structure" as defined above.

(2) Kinds of work. The restrictions of this order apply to constructing, repairing, making additions or alterations (including alterations incidental to installing any kind of equipment), improving or converting structures, or installing or relocating fixtures or mechanical equipment in structures. These terms include any kind of work on a structure which involves the putting up or putting together of processed materials, products, fixtures or mechanical equipment, if the processed materials, products, fixtures or mechanical equipment are attached to a structure and used as a functional part of the structure, or are attached so firmly to the structure that removal would injure the material, product, fixture or mechanical equipment or the structure. The laying of asphalt or other tile or linoleum cemented or otherwise attached to the structure is covered by the order. However, the following kinds of work are not covered by the order:

Greasing, overhauling or repairing existing mechanical equipment or installing repair or replacement parts in existing mechanical equipment.
Sanding floors and sand blasting buildings.
Painting or papering an existing structure or applying waterproofing to an existing structure by painting or spraying where no work covered by the order is done in connection with the painting, papering or waterproofing.
Pointing bricks, sparkling plaster and caulking windows.
Installing loose fill, blanket, or batt insulation in existing buildings or installing insulation on existing equipment or piping.

(3) Fixtures and mechanical equipment. In general the term "fixture" means any article attached to a building or structure and used as part of it and the term "mechanical equipment" means plumbing, heating, ventilating and lighting equipment which is attached to the building and used to operate it. Supplement 1 to VHP–1 contains lists of articles which are considered fixtures or mechanical equipment when attached to a structure in the manner described in that supplement and a list of other articles which are never considered fixtures or mechanical equipment.

(c) Prohibited construction. (1) No person shall begin to construct, to repair, to make additions or alterations to, to improve, to convert from one purpose to another, or to install or to relocate fixtures or mechanical equipment in any structure, public or private, in the forty-eight States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands or the Territory of Hawaii, except to the extent permitted under paragraphs (d), (e) and (f), or when and to the extent specifically authorized under paragraph (h). No person shall carry on or participate in any construction, repair work, addition, improvement, conversion, alteration, installation or relocation of fixtures or mechanical equipment prohibited by this order. The prohibitions of this paragraph apply to a person who does his own construction work, to a person who gets a contractor to do the work, to contractors, sub-contractors, architects and engineers working on a job which is being carried on in violation of this order or getting others to work on it or to supply materials for it.

(2) This order forbids the beginning of certain kinds of work. To "begin" work on a structure means to incorporate into a structure on the site materials which are to be an integral part of the structure in question. Demolition, excavation and similar site preparation do not constitute beginning construction. The order does not apply to work which was begun before the order became effective and which was being carried on on that date and which is carried on normally after that date. However, this rule only applies to the particular building or other structure begun at that time. It does not apply to any other building or structure which had not itself been begun by that date even though the two are closely related. Supplement 2 to this order contains further provisions concerning the effective date of the order and concerning the beginning of construction. It also contains examples of work which constitute beginning construction, and the examples of other work which do not constitute beginning construction.

(3) [Deleted July 2, 1946.]

(d) Allowances for small jobs. This order does not prohibit the performance of any separate construction, repair, alteration or installation job, the cost of which does not exceed the allowance given in Supplement 3 to VHP–1 for the particular kind of structure or job involved. Supplement 3 lists various kinds of structures and states what the small job allowance is for each kind of structure or job. Supplement 3 also contains provisions as to the method of calculating the cost of a job for the purpose of this exemption, and also provides when a job is a separate job.

(e) Exemption for repair and maintenance work in industrial utility and transportation buildings and structures. The prohibitions of this order do not apply to maintenance and repair work in structures listed in paragraph (b) (3) of Supplement 3 to this order. For the purpose of the exemption given by this paragraph, "maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to keep a structure in sound working condition and "repair" means the restoration of a structure to sound working condition when the structure has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts, or the like. However, neither maintenance nor repair includes the improvement of any structure by replacing material which is still usable with material of a better kind, quality or design. Alterations to a building or other structure covered by paragraph (b) (3) of Supplement 3, including alterations incidental to installation of equipment, and not exempted by this paragraph, and may only be done when and to the extent permitted under Supplement 3 or when specifically authorized.

(f) Other exemptions—(1) Disasters. (i) The prohibitions of this order do not apply to the minimum work necessary to prevent more damage to a building or structure (or its contents) which has been damaged by flood, fire, tornado, or similar disaster. This does not include the restoration of the structure to its former condition.

(ii) The prohibitions of this order do not apply to the repair, rebuilding or reconstruction of any house (including a farmhouse) or any farm building which was destroyed or damaged by fire, flood, tornado or similar disaster, if the total cost of the repairs, rebuilding or reconstruction does not exceed $6,000 and if the reconstruction is started within sixty days of the occurrence of the disaster.

(2) Military construction. The prohibitions of this order do not apply to work by or for the account of the U. S. Army or Navy.

(3) Veterans' Administration. The prohibitions of this order do not apply to work on construction projects of the Veterans' Administration, including projects being built by the Corps of Engineers for the Veterans' Administration, or to the remodeling of a building or any part of a building which has been leased to the Veterans' Administration or to Public Buildings Administration for occupancy or use by the Veterans' Administration.

(g) Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver or cause to be delivered materials which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in work prohibited by this order.

(h) Authorizations. Persons who wish to begin work which is prohibited by this order may apply for authorization. Supplement 5 to this order states what forms should be used and where the applications should be filed. The assignment of priorities assistance or the approval of housing accommodations under Priorities Regulation 33, whether before or after the time when this order became effective, or under Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5 or other applicable regulation of the Housing Expediter, constitutes an authorization under this order to do the work for which priorities assistance or approval was given.

Applications for non-housing construction will be reviewed to determine whether they meet the standards set forth in Direction 3 to VHP–1.

(i) Construction under authorizations. When a person is specifically authorized, either by approval of Form CPA–4423 or Form CPA–4386 or otherwise, to do work restricted by this order, he must observe the restrictions imposed on him by the authorization, and in doing the authorized work, he must not do any work of the kinds covered by the order unless it is specifically covered by the authorization. He may not, in connection with a job which has been specifically authorized, do additional work under the exemption given by Supplement 3 to VHP–1. When an application on Form CPA–4423 has been approved a placard will be sent to the applicant stating that the construction has been approved under this order. The applicant must place in the placard the project serial number and must set up the placard in front of the project site in a conspicuous location within five days after construction has been started and he must keep the placard there until completion of the work. No person to whom an authorization under VHP–1 has been issued shall transfer the authorization. If for any reason a builder wishes to abandon a project and another builder wishes to continue it, the new builder should apply to the appropriate office, attaching to his application a letter from the former builder joining in the request for the issuance of the new authorization.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications. All communications concerning this order, except communications about applications filed with the Housing Expediter or an agency acting for him, should be addressed to the appropriate District Construction Office of the CPA or to the Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: VHP–1.

(l) Reports. All persons affected by this regulation shall file such reports as may be requested by the Civilian Production Administration, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 20th day of March 1947.

CIVILIAN PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATION,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1: Revoked July 2, 1946.

INTERPRETATION 2

PROHIBITED DELIVERIES

Paragraph (g) of Order VHP–1 provides that "No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver or cause to be delivered materials which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in work prohibited by this order."

The purpose of this provision is to prohibit the sale or delivery of materials by a supplier if he knows or has reason to believe that the materials supplied will be used in violation of VHP–1. This provision does not impose upon a fabricator or supplier any duty to investigate whether a proposed construction job for which he is asked to supply materials will be begun or carried on in violation of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, or whether it has been specifically authorized or is exempt under that order. Mere knowledge that the kind of work involved is a kind which ordinarily would require authorization under the order does not constitute reason to believe that the work will be begun or carried on in violation of the order and, in the absence of information to the contrary, the supplier may rely on the builder to get an authorization for the job if authorization is required.

Paragraph (g) of VHP–1 does not require a supplier to get from a customer a certificate to the effect that the customer is not violating and will not violate VHP–1, or a certificate to the effect that the job for which the materials will be used is exempt under the order or has been authorized under the order.

Section 944.14a of Priorities Regulation 1 contains a provision, similar to that in paragraph (g) of VHP–1, with respect to all Civilian Production Administration orders and regulations. In addition, Priorities Regulation 32, which controls inventories, contains a similar provision affecting suppliers, in paragraph (b), which is explained in detail in Interpretation 3 to that regulation. (Issued Apr. 29, 1946.)

PORTABLE AND PREFABRICATED STRUCTURES

(a) The erection of a "portable" or prefabricated building or other structure is construction and is restricted by Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, if the structure is placed on a foundation constructed on the site, or if the structure is connected to the ground by plumbing, wiring or other utility connection, or if the structure is placed on the ground on a spot where it is intended to remain for an undetermined time.

(b) Erection of a "portable" or prefabricated structure is not construction and is not covered by VHP–1 only if the structure is placed on a temporary site for the purpose of moving it from time to time, without any foundation or other connection with the ground. For example, the erection of a shelter to be moved around frequently for use on different parts of a farm from time to time is not construction, while the erection of a prefabricated or "portable" structure for use as a garage on a house lot is construction, and is restricted by VHP–1.

(c) If the erection of a "portable" or prefabricated building constitutes construction, as indicated above, the cost of the job must be computed in accordance with Supplement 3 to VHP–1. If the cost of the job exceeds the applicable allowance under that supplement, authorization for the job must be obtained. (Issued July 2, 1946.)

SMALL JOB ALLOWANCES FOR INDUSTRIAL UTILITY AND TRANSPORTATION STRUCTURES

(a) Paragraph (b) (3) of Supplement 3 to VHP–1 provides for small job allowances for certain industrial, utility and transportation structures. The small job allowance for one of these structures (with certain exceptions specified in the paragraph) depends upon the floor area which the particular structure has or will have. If the floor area of the particular building being built or altered is or will be 10,000 square feet or more, the allowance for alterations or additions or new construction is $15,000. On the other hand, if the floor area of the structure involved is and will be less than 10,000 square feet, the allowance is $1,000. If the cost of the proposed job, figured in accordance with paragraph (g) of Supplement 3, exceeds the small job allowance, authorization under VHP–1 must be obtained before starting the job.

(b) The following examples will explain the effect of this provision:

(1) A person proposes to construct a building to be used primarily as a factory. The floor area will be 1,500 square feet. The allowance for the job is $1,000.

(2) Any person owns a building which is used primarily as a factory and which has a floor area of 6,000 square feet. He proposes to make an alteration in the building. The allowance for this job is $1,000.

(3) A person owns a building which is used primarily as a factory and which has a floor area of 6,000 square feet. He proposes to build a wing on the building which will add 1,000 square feet, making a total of 7,000 square feet. The allowance for this job is $1,000.

(4) A person owns a building which is used primarily for a factory and which has a floor area of 8,000 square feet. He proposes to build a wing on the building which will add 2,000 square feet, making a total of 10,000 square feet. The allowance for this job is $15,000.

(5) A person owns a building which is used primarily for a factory and which has a floor area of 10,000 square feet or more. He proposes to make an alteration to the building. The allowance for this job is $15,000.

(6) A person proposes to build a building which will be used primarily for a factory and which will have a floor area of 10,000 square feet or more. The allowance for this job is $15,000.

(c) The floor area of the particular building which is to be built, in which the alteration is to be performed or to which the addition is to be built (including the floor area of any proposed addition) is the only floor area to be considered. The floor area of any other buildings may not be counted toward the 10,000 square feet, even though they are situated near to the building involved and are used for the same purpose.

(d) A building is considered a separate building from the one in which the construction is being done, if there are outside walls or party walls between the two buildings, even though the two are to be used for the same purpose, even though the two have common services, even though the two are connected by common roofs, continuous foundations, connecting passageways, covered passages, bridges, arcades or the like and even though the two have doorways or other openings providing for communication between the two buildings.

(e) The small job allowances provided in paragraph (b) (3) do not apply to structures of the kinds listed in paragraph (b) (4), and do not apply under the circumstances covered by paragraph (c) of Supplement 3. (Issued Oct. 31, 1946.)

WORK COVERED BY AUTHORIZATIONS; TEMPORARY CONSTRUCTION BUILDINGS

(a) When an authorization is issued for the construction of a building or other structure described in the approved application, the builder may construct temporary structures on the site of the approved project which are necessary for its construction. For example, an authorization for a building includes authorization to put up temporary fences around the excavation, and temporary buildings for the purpose of storing materials for use as work rooms for architects or engineers on the job or to provide toilet facilities or dressing rooms for people working on the job or shacks for watchmen. These temporary buildings are covered by the authorization, whether or not they are placed upon temporary foundations or have lighting or plumbing connections.

(b) An authorization to construct a building or other structure does not give permission to put up buildings or other structures off the site of the approved project nor does it include permission to put up permanent buildings or other structures which will remain after the completion of the construction job, except those specifically covered by the authorization. This is true even though the structures are of a kind which were exempt from the order at the time the original authorization was issued and were, therefore, not included in the original application.

(c) Where temporary construction buildings are put up in the course of building something which itself is not covered by the order, such as a bridge or dam, the usual rules set forth in VHP–1, as explained in Interpretation 3, apply. Authorization must be obtained if the proposed structure is covered by VHP–1 even though the structure is temporary and is to be removed when the job is finished. (Issued Nov. 22, 1946.)

PART 4700—VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

[Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, Supp. 1, as Amended Mar. 20, 1947]

FIXTURES AND EQUIPMENT

§ 4700.2 (a) What this supplement does. Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 restricts construction and alterations of buildings and certain other structures, including alterations incidental to the installation of equipment. It also restricts the installation of fixtures and mechanical equipment, whether or not alterations to the structure are involved. The installation of other machinery and equipment is not restricted by the order. Paragraph (b) (3) of VHP–1 defines a fixture as "any article attached to a building or structure and used as part of it", and defines mechanical equipment as "plumbing, heating, ventilating and lighting equipment which is attached to the building and used to operate it." This supplement lists various specific items indicating whether or not they are fixtures or mechanical equipment under VHP–1. It also explains other provisions of VHP–1 applying to these installations.

(b) Fixtures and mechanical equipment. (1) The following articles are considered fixtures and mechanical equipment if they are attached to a building or structure by nails or screws, or bolts, if they are connected with the plumbing or other piping system of the structure, if they are connected to the lighting system of the structure (except by connection to an existing outlet without installing new wires or a new outlet), if a base or foundation is built for the item, or if the item is cemented to the building or structure:

NOTE: Items "Partitions, wood or metal" and "Signs, electric and other" deleted March 20, 1947.

Air conditioning equipment (except when used for humidity or temperature control in industrial processing or as refrigeration equipment in a cold storage warehouse or a frozen food locker plant and except self-contained individual units with no duct systems).
Furnaces and furnace burner or boiler burner units.
Heating equipment.
Kitchen cabinets.
Lighting equipment:
Marquees.
Panelling.
Plumbing equipment.
Ventilating equipment.
Any other article falling within the definitions of fixture and mechanical equipment stated in paragraph (a) of this supplement.
(None of the above items include any item specifically listed in paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement.)

(2) The following articles are never considered fixtures or mechanical equipment:

Air conditioning equipment where required to provide humidity or temperature control for industrial processing and self-contained individual units with no duct systems.
Airport equipment such as cargo and passenger handling equipment, signalling equipment, obstruction marking equipment and equipment used for lighting runways or for signalling.
Altars, choir stalls and church pews.
Automatic fire protection sprinkler systems.
Barn equipment such as milking machines, hay or litter conveyors, stanchions and stalls.
Blast furnaces.
Control or testing equipment used for industrial or utility purposes or in a laboratory or hospital.
Conversion oil or gas burners installed in or attached to a furnace or boiler already in use in the building.
Conveyors.
Desks, chairs and cafeteria and gymnasium equipment in a school or college.
Electrical precipitators.
Escalators, elevators and dumb waiters.
Food warming, dishwashing and food preparation equipment in a restaurant or institution.
Furnaces for heat treating or similar industrial purposes.
Hospital equipment such as X-ray machines and operating tables.
Lighting equipment for flood lighting airports, railroads or other outdoor operations.
Machine tools.
Post-office equipment such as letter boxes and letter drops.
Power generating or transmitting equipment such as boilers, generators, and transformers (except where the primary purpose of the equipment is to provide electricity or steam for lighting or heating the building in which they are installed).
Projection and sound equipment.
Radio towers and other transmitting and receiving equipment
Refrigeration equipment, such as compressors, in a cold storage warehouse or a frozen food locker plant.
Scales.
Service station equipment such as gasoline pumps, hydraulic lifts, battery chargers.
Stokers installed in connection with heating equipment already installed in a building.
Storm windows, storm doors, screens, awnings and venetian blinds.
Stoves.
Theatre seats.
Washing machines or dryers.
Other processing machinery and equipment.
Other machinery and equipment installed to provide a special service in a structure and not installed merely to operate the structure.

(3) The following articles are considered fixtures only if they are constructed as an integral part of the building or structure and cannot be removed without demolition of the article or substantial injury to the building or structure:

Bars.
Bins.
Bookcases.
Booths.
Cooling towers.
Counters.
Partitions, movable.
Refrigerators.
Show cases, including refrigerated show cases.
Signs, electric and other.
Soda fountains.
Storage racks.
Water coolers.

(c) [Deleted Aug. 30, 1946.]

(d) Repairs to mechanical equipment. Paragraph (b) (2) of VHP–1 provides that greasing, overhauling, repairing, or installing replacement parts in existing mechanical equipment in all types of structures, is not covered by the order, regardless of whether the cost of the job is within the applicable allowance under Supplement 3 to VHP–1, and the cost of such work need not be included in the cost of a job for the purpose of determining whether the job is within the applicable allowance under that supplement. This provision applies to plumbing, heating, ventilating and lighting equipment. This provision covers the replacement of parts in a piece of mechanical equipment when the present parts are no longer serviceable but does not cover the replacement of an entire piece of equipment. For example, it is permissible, under this provision, to replace the grates in a furnace but not to replace the entire furnace; to replace the tubes in a boiler but not to replace the entire boiler, unless the total cost of the replacement is within the applicable job allowance under Supplement 3 to VHP–1.

(e) Installation of exempt machinery and equipment. VHP–1 does not restrict the installation of machinery and equipment other than mechanical equipment. Paragraphs (b) (2) and (b) (3) of this supplement explains what equipment may be installed without regard to the provisions of the order. VHP–1 does, however, restrict the making of alterations to a building or other structure covered by the order in connection with the installation of such exempt machinery and equipment. For example, if a foundation is built inside a building to receive the equipment, or if new walls are installed to separate a machine from the rest of the plant, the cost of these building alterations must be computed in accordance with Supplement 3 to VHP–1 and if the cost exceeds the applicable allowance for the building involved under that supplement, authorization must be obtained for the work. However, it is not necessary to include in the cost of the building alterations the cost of the exempt machinery or equipment or the cost of labor engaged in installing the exempt machinery and equipment. For example, in installing elevators, which are covered by paragraph (b) of this Supplement, it would be necessary to count toward the cost of the job the cost (computed in accordance with paragraph (g) of Supplement 3) of preparing the shaft, of strengthening the building to support the elevator, and of constructing a penthouse or bulkhead on the roof of the building or a room in the basement to enclose the motors. It would not, however, be necessary to include in the cost of the job the cost of the elevator car, the guide rails between which the car runs, the sheaves, the motors, the cables or the doors or frames to the elevator shaft or the cost of labor engaged in assembling and installing this equipment.

PART 4700—VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

[Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, Supp. 3 as Amended March 20, 1947]

SMALL JOB ALLOWANCES AND CLASSIFICATION OF STRUCTURES AS TO SMALL JOB ALLOWANCES

§ 4700.4 (a) What this supplement does. Paragraph (d) of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 provides that it is not necessary to get permission under the order to do one or more jobs on a structure if the cost of each job does not exceed the allowance given for the kind of structure or the kind of job involved. This supplement sets forth the small job allowances generally applicable to individual structures of various classes and lists certain specific structures falling within each class. The supplement also lists exemptions applicable to a particular kind of job. In addition, this supplement explains the rules for computing the cost of a job for the purpose of determining whether it comes within the exemption given under this supplement.

(b) Classification of structures. The small job allowances given under this supplement are based in general upon the kind or size of structure in which the job is to be done. They are not based upon the use to which the part of a structure being altered is to be put, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this supplement. If the job involved consists of changing a structure from one class to another class, the small job allowance applicable to the conversion is the allowance for the structure after the conversion, except where the conversion is from residential purposes to nonresidential purposes, in which case the job is covered by paragraph (c) of this supplement. The allowance provided for in paragraph (c) is applicable to a job covered by that paragraph, even though done in a structure which, as a whole, would have a larger allowance under this paragraph. With the exception of jobs covered by paragraph (c) of this supplement, it is not necessary to get permission under VHP–1 to do any separate construction, repair, alteration or installation job, the cost of which does not exceed the allowance given below for the individual structure involved.

(1) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kind listed below is $400 per job.

Any individual house designed for occupancy by 5 families or less even though it is on the property of a commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern and used for the purpose of housing employees of the commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern.

A house on a campus owned by a college and occupied by a college official.

A farmhouse or other housing accommodations on a farm (except a farm bunkhouse).
Row houses separated by party walls are considered separate houses.
All private structures situated near and used in connection with one to five family houses, such as garages, piers, tool sheds, greenhouses and the like even though these may be used in part or primarily for nonresidential purposes (except on farms, see paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement).

(2) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kinds listed below is $1,000 per job:

NOTE: "A billboard" deleted Mar. 20, 1947.

A private pier or bathhouse which is not situated near and used in connection with another structure.
A tourist cabin whether a single cabin or one of a group of separate cabins. A cabin is considered a separate cabin if it has independent outside walls even though the space between it and the next cabin is sheltered by a roof and is used as a garage. A management building used for operating the cabins is considered a commercial building under paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement.
A swimming pool.

A roller coaster or similar device of a kind ordinarily used in amusement parks.
A wall or fence built primarily of wood, brick, concrete, or concrete blocks.
Any other structure covered by the order and not coming within any other classification.

(5) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a non-residential structure on a farm is $5,000 per job, if the farm on which the structure is or is to be situated has an area of 5 acres or more. However, the small job allowance for a non-residential structure on a farm is $1,000 per job if the farm on which the structure is or is to be situated has an area of less than 5 acres. A residential structure on a farm has the small job allowance applicable under paragraph (b) (1) or paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement, as the case may be. A bunkhouse on a farm for farm laborers is considered a non-residential structure for the purpose of determining the applicable small job allowance. A "farm" means a place used primarily for the purpose of raising crops, livestock, dairy products or poultry for the market. Chicken hatcheries, plants used to raise mushrooms or other food products, and greenhouses (except those on residential property) and farm or ranches for raising fur-bearing animals are considered farms. Buildings situated on a farm and used primarily to process the products of that farm and buildings situated on a farm and used primarily to process materials for use on that farm are considered non-residential farm structures under this paragraph.

(c) Small job allowances for conversion from residential purposes. Regardless of the small job allowance given under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a particular structure, the small job allowance applicable to a job consisting of conversion to non-residential purposes of any part (or all) of a building last used for residential purposes is $200.

(d) Structures used for more than one purpose. If a structure is used for more than one purpose and might, therefore, fall within more than one of the classes indicated above, the use to which the greatest part of the structure will be put (computed on the basis of the floor area where applicable) determines the allowance. For example, if a building has three apartments occupying three floors of the building and a store on the ground floor, it is primarily residential and falls under paragraph (b) (1) of this supplement. If a building is half residential and half commercial or industrial or half residential and half agricultural, it is considered primarily residential. When alterations are being made to a building, the applicable small job allowance is the allowance applicable to the building as a whole under paragraph (b). Except in cases covered by paragraph (c), the purpose for which the particular space being altered was or is to be used does not affect the amount of the allowance.

(e) Subordinate structures. Where a non-residential structure of any of the kinds listed in paragraph (b) (2) is situated, near and used in connection with, a structure having a $15,000 small job allowance under paragraph (b) (3), the same allowance applies to the subordinate structure if the floor area of the subordinate structure is or will be 10,000 square feet or more. This means that if an office building, warehouse or garage of this size is situated on the immediate premises of an industrial or utility structure having a $15,000 small job allowance and is used in connection with the operation of that structure, the office building, warehouse or garage also gets the $15,000 small job allowance. However, a "downtown" office building, even though used exclusively for one industrial or utility company, is always under paragraph (b) (2), regardless of its size, like other office buildings. All residential structures, however, always get the allowance applicable under paragraphs (b) (1) or (b) (2), and all structures specifically listed in paragraph (b) (4) always get the $200 small job allowance of that paragraph.

(f) Separate jobs. For the purpose of determining whether work is exempt from VHP-1 under this supplement, a related series of operations in a structure which are performed at or about the same time or as part of a single plan or program constitute a single job. No job which would ordinarily be done as a single piece of work may be sub-divided for the purpose of coming within the allowance given under this supplement. When a building or part of a building is being converted from one purpose to another all work incidental to and done in connection with the conversion must be considered as one job. So also if a building is being renovated, improved or modernized over an extended period all work done in connection with the modernization (other than the work done before the issuance of the order) must be considered as part of one job, even though separate contracts are let for different parts of the work. However, if related work on two or more separate structures is performed, the work is not considered one job but the work done in each structure must be considered separately under the rules stated above. For example, if two or more related structures are to be built and the cost of each does not exceed the small job allowance applicable to each structure under paragraph (b) of this supplement, each of these structures may be built without getting an authorization under VHP-1. See paragraph (f) of Supplement 2 to VHP-1 for an explanation of what jobs are exempt from the order as having been started before it became effective.

(g) How to figure cost. For the purpose of determining whether a particular job is exempt from VHP-1 by this supplement, the "cost" of a job means the cost of the entire construction job as estimated at the time of beginning construction. (1) The cost of a job includes the following:

The cost or value of fixtures, mechanical equipment and materials incorporated in the structure, whether or not obtained without paying for them, except the items listed in paragraph (g) (1) below. (See Supplement 1 for definitions and illustrations of fixtures and mechanical equipment.)
The cost of paid labor engaged in the construction work, regardless of who pays for it, excluding, however, the cost of paid labor engaged in working on or installing fixtures, equipment or materials the cost of which need not be included in the cost of the job under paragraph (g) (2). If it is impracticable to allocate the labor specifically to exempt or non-exempt items, the cost of all paid labor may be divided between the work on the two different classes of items in proportion to the value of the two classes of items.
The amount paid for contractors' fees.

(2) The cost of a job does not include the following:

The cost or value of previously used fixtures, previously used mechanical equipment and previously used materials, when these have been severed from the same structure or another structure owned by the builder (the owner or occupant of the building) and are to be used without change of ownership.
The cost or value of materials used in repainting or repapering an existing structure or any unchanged part of a structure. However, this exception does not apply to painting a new structure or new parts of a structure which has been altered.
The cost or value of materials used in installing loose fill, blanket or batt insulation in existing buildings or in installing insulation on existing equipment or piping.
The cost or value of materials which were produced on the property of the owner or actual or proposed occupant of the structure, except where he is in business of producing these materials for sale (this exception does not include materials or products assembled by the builder from new or used materials not themselves excepted).
The value of unpaid labor and the cost of paid labor engaged in working on or installing fixtures, equipment or materials, the cost of which is exempt from the cost of the job.
The cost or value of machinery and equipment other than mechanical equipment.
Architect's and engineers' fees.
The cost of site preparation and other preparatory work which does not constitute beginning construction (Supplement 2 to VHP-1 contains illustrations of work which does not constitute beginning construction and the cost of which is not included in the cost of a job).

Issued this 20th day of March 1947.

PAR. 5. Section 402.228 (a) is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first three sentences of such section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(1) In general. Section 1426 (a) (1) of the act provides an annual $3,000 limitation on the amount of remuneration that may constitute wages, by excepting from the term "wages" remuneration paid after $3,000 has been paid. Under such section as amended by section 412 (a) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1946, the amount first to be included in wages, after which the exception operates, is measured in two ways, depending on whether the remuneration is paid before 1947 or is paid after 1946. In the case of remuneration paid before 1947, the amount first to be included in wages is remuneration paid up to and including $3,000 for employment performed by an employee for his employer during each calendar year regardless of when paid (before 1947); and additional amounts for employment performed in such calendar year by such employee for such employer are excluded regardless of when paid (before 1947). In the case of remuneration paid after 1946, the amount first to be included in wages in each calendar year is remuneration up to and including $3,000 paid in the calendar year by an employer to an employee for employment performed at any time after December 31, 1936; and additional amounts paid in such calendar year by such employer to such employee are excluded regardless of when earned. In general, the change is from an "earned within the calendar year basis" to a "paid within the calendar year basis." For a more complete explanation of the limitation, see subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph.

(2) Remuneration paid before 1947. This subparagraph (ending with Example 3) applies only with respect to remuneration paid before January 1, 1947.

The term "wages" does not include that part of the remuneration paid before January 1, 1947, by an employer to an employee for employment performed for him during any calendar year which exceeds the first $3,000 paid by such employer to such employee for employment performed during such calendar year.

In the case of remuneration paid before 1947, the $3,000 limitation applies only if the remuneration received by an employee from the same employer for employment during any one calendar year exceeds $3,000. The limitation in such case relates to remuneration for employment during any one calendar year and not to the amount of remuneration (irrespective of the year of employment) which is paid or received in any one calendar year.

(B) By inserting in the parenthetical matter in the third sentence of Example 1, immediately after the word "received" the following: "before January 1, 1947,".

(C) By striking out the clause, immediately following Example 1, "If the employee has more than one employer during a calendar year," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "In the case of remuneration paid before 1947, if the employee has more than one employer during a calendar year,".

(D) By inserting at the beginning of the first and fifth sentences of Example 2 the following: "During 1940".

(E) By inserting immediately following the word "and" where it last appears in the first sentence of Example 3, the following: "during such year".

(F) By inserting immediately following Example 3 the following new subparagraph:

(3) Remuneration paid after 1946. This subparagraph applies only with remuneration paid after December 31, 1946.

The term "wages" does not include that part of the remuneration paid within any calendar year beginning after December 31, 1946, by an employer to an employee which exceeds the first $3,000 paid within such calendar year by such employer to such employee for employment performed for him at any time after December 31, 1936.

In the case of remuneration paid after 1946, the $3,000 limitation applies only if the remuneration received during any one calendar year by an employee from the same employer for employment performed after 1936 exceeds $3,000. The limitation in such case relates to the amount of remuneration received during any one calendar year for employment after 1936 and not to the amount of remuneration for employment performed in any one calendar year.

Example 1. Employee G, in 1947, receives $2,500 from employer H on account of $3,000 due him for employment performed in 1947. In 1948 G receives from employer H the balance of $500 due him for employment performed in the prior year (1947), and thereafter in 1948 also receives $3,000 for employment performed in 1948 for employer H. The $2,500 received in 1947 is subject to tax in 1947. The balance of $500 received in 1948 for employment during 1947 is subject to tax in 1948, as is also the first $2,500 paid of the $3,000 for employment during 1948 (this $500 for 1947 employment added to the first $2,500 paid for 1948 employment constitutes the maximum wages which could be received by G in 1948 from any one employer). The final $500 received by G from H in 1948 is not included as wages and is not subject to the tax.

Example 2. Employee I, in 1946, receives $3,000 from employer J on account of $6,000 due him for employment performed in 1946. In 1947, before receiving any remuneration for employment performed in 1947, employee I receives the balance of $3,000 due him from J on account of employment performed in 1946. The $3,000 received in 1946 constitutes wages in 1946 and is subject to the tax, in accordance with the provisions set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. The balance of $3,000 received in 1947 on account of employment in 1946 constitutes wages and is subject to the tax in 1947, in accordance with the provisions set forth in this subparagraph. The $3,000 received in 1947 for 1946 employment constitutes the maximum wages which could be received by I from J in 1947. Any further remuneration received in 1947 by employee I for services performed for J is not included as wages and is not subject to the tax, whether for services performed before, during, or after 1947. (Assuming the same amounts of remuneration and times of payment, the same result would be reached if employee I had left the employ of J and performed no further services for J after 1946.)

If during a calendar year (after 1946) the employee receives remuneration from more than one employer, the limitation of wages to the first $3,000 of remuneration received applies, not to the aggregate remuneration received from all employers with respect to employment performed after 1936, but instead to the remuneration received during such calendar year from each employer with respect to employment performed after 1936. In such case the first $3,000 received during the calendar year from each employer constitutes wages and is subject to the tax, even though, under section 1401 (d) of the act, the employee may be entitled to a refund of any amount of employees' tax deducted from his wages which exceeds the employees' tax with respect to the first $3,000 of wages received during the calendar year from all employers. (In this connection and in connection with the two examples immediately following, see § 402.705, relating to special refunds of employees' tax on wages over $3,000.)

Example 3. During 1947 employee K receives from employer L a salary of $600 a month for employment performed for L during the first seven months of 1947, or a total remuneration of $4,200. At the end of the fifth month K has received $3,000 from employer L, and only that part of his total remuneration from L constitutes wages subject to the tax. The $600 received by employee K from employer L in the sixth month, and the like amount received in the seventh month, are not included as wages and are not subject to the tax. At the end of the seventh month K leaves the employ of L and enters the employ of M. K receives remuneration of $600 a month from employer M in each of the remaining five months of 1947, or total remuneration of $3,000 from employer M. The entire $3,000 received by K from employer M constitutes wages and is subject to the tax. Thus, the first $3,000 received from employer L and the entire $3,000 received from employer M constitute wages.

Example 4. During the calendar year 1947 N is simultaneously an officer (an employee) of the O Corporation, the P Corporation, and the Q Corporation and during such year receives a salary of $3,000 from each corporation. Each $3,000 received by N from each of the corporations O, P, and Q (whether or not such corporations are related) constitutes wages and is subject to the tax.

PAR. 6. Immediately preceding § 402.301 the following is inserted:

SECTION 101 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1946

Clauses (1) and (2) of section 1400 of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Internal Revenue Code, sec. 1400), as amended, are amended to read as follows:

(1) With respect to wages received during the calendar years 1939 to 1947, both inclusive, the rate shall be 1 per centum.

(2) With respect to wages received during the calendar year 1948, the rate shall be 2½ per centum.

PAR. 7. Section 402.302, as amended by Treasury Decision 5487, approved December 27, 1945, is further amended to read as follows:

§ 402.302 Rates and computation of employees' tax. The rates of employees' tax applicable for the respective calendar years are as follows:

	Percent
For the calendar years 1940 to 1947, inclusive	1
For the calendar year 1948	2½
For the calendar year 1949 and subsequent calendar years	3

The employees' tax is computed by applying to the wages received by the employee the rate in effect at the time such wages are received.

Example. During 1947 A is an employee of B and is engaged in the performance of services which constitute employment (see § 402.203). In the following year, 1948, A receives from B $1,000 as remuneration for services performed by A in the preceding year. The tax is payable at the 2½ percent rate in effect for the calendar year 1948 (the year in which the wages are received) and not at the 1 percent rate which is in effect for the calendar year 1947 (the year in which the services were performed).

PAR. 8. Immediately preceding § 402.401 the following is inserted:

SECTION 102 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1946

Clauses (1) and (2) of section 1410 of such act (Internal Revenue Code, sec. 1410), as amended, are amended to read as follows:

(1) With respect to wages paid during the calendar years 1939 to 1947, both inclusive, the rate shall be 1 per centum.

(2) With respect to wages paid during the calendar year 1948, the rate shall be 2½ per centum.

PAR. 9. Section 402.402, as amended by Treasury Decision 5487, is further amended to read as follows:

§ 402.402. Rates and computation of employers' tax. The rates of employers' tax applicable for the respective calendar years are as follows:

	Percent
For the calendar years 1940 to 1947, both inclusive	1
For the calendar year 1948	2½
For the calendar year 1949 and subsequent calendar years	3

The employers' tax is computed by applying to the wages paid by the employer the rate in effect at the time such wages are paid.

PAR. 10. Immediately preceding § 402.705, the following is inserted:

SECTION 413 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1946

Section 1401 (d) of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Internal Revenue Code, sec. 1401 (d)) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Special refunds. (1) Wages received before 1947. If by reason of an employee rendering service for more than one employer during any calendar year after the calendar year 1939, the wages of the employee with respect to employment during such year exceed $3,000, the employee shall be entitled to a refund of any amount of tax, with respect to such wages, imposed by section 1400, deducted from such wages and paid to the collector, which exceeds the tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages received. Refund under this section may be made in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal collection of the tax; except that no such refund shall be made unless (A) the employee makes a claim, establishing his right thereto, after the calendar year in which the employment was performed with respect to which refund of tax is claimed; and (B) such claim is made within two years after the calendar year in which the wages are received with respect to which refund of tax is claimed. No interest shall be allowed or paid with respect to any such refund. No refund shall be made under this paragraph with respect to wages received after December 31, 1946.

(2) Wages received after 1946. If by reason of an employee receiving wages from more than one employer during any calendar year after the calendar year 1946, the wages received by him during such year exceed $3,000, the employee shall be entitled to a refund of any amount of tax, with respect to such wages, imposed by section 1400 and deducted from the employee's wages (whether or not paid to the collector), which exceeds the tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages received. Refund under this section may be made in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal collection of the tax; except that no such refund shall be made unless (A) the employee makes a claim, establishing his right thereto, after the calendar year in which the wages were received with respect to which refund of tax is claimed, and (B) such claim is made within two years after the calendar year in which such wages were received. No interest shall be allowed or paid with respect to any such refund.

PAR. 11. Section 402.705, as amended by Treasury Decision 5487, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first sentence of the first paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(a) In general. If an employee receives wages from more than one employer, his aggregate wages from all employers may exceed the annual $3,000 limitation on wages from a single employer provided by section 1426 (a) (1) of the act. (See § 402.228 (a), relating to the $3,000 limitation.) Section 1401 (d) of the act provides in certain cases for refund to an employee of a portion of the employees' tax in event of such an excess. By reason of the amendment of such section by section 413 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1946, the conditions and limitations upon the refunds differ in certain respects, depending upon whether the tax, refund of which is claimed, is imposed with respect to wages received before 1947 or with respect to wages received after 1946.

(b) Wages received before 1947. This paragraph relates only to refunds, under section 1401 (d) (1) of the act, of employees' tax with respect to wages received before January 1, 1947. If, prior to 1947, an employee receives wages in excess of $3,000 from two or more employers for services performed during the calendar year 1940 or any subsequent calendar year, the employee may file a claim for refund of the amount, if any, by which the employees' tax deducted and paid to a collector with respect to such wages exceeds the employees' tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages.

(B) By striking out the words "Each claim" at the beginning of the third sentence of the first paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof "Each such claim".

(C) By inserting in the clause numbered (4) in the fourth sentence of the first paragraph, immediately after the word "year" where it first appears, the words "prior to 1947".

(D) By striking the word "section" wherever appearing therein from the last two sentences of the first paragraph, and inserting in lieu thereof "paragraph".

(E) By striking out the last paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Example 1. Employee A in the calendar year 1946 receives taxable wages in the amount of $2,000 from each of his employers, B, C, and D, for services performed during such year, or a total of $6,000. Employees' tax is deducted from A's wages and paid to the collector, in the amount of $20 by B and $20 by C, or a total of $40. Employer D pays employees' tax in the amount of $20 to the collector without deducting such tax from A's wages. The employees' tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages is $30. A may file a claim for refund of $10.

Example 2. Employee E in the calendar year 1946 performs employment for employers F and G, for which E is entitled to remuneration of $3,000 from each employer, or a total of $6,000. On account of such employment E in 1946 receives wages in the amount of $3,000 from F, and $2,000 from G; and on January 1, 1947, E receives the remaining $1,000 of wages from G. Employees' tax was deducted and paid to the collector as follows: in 1946, by employer F, $30, and by employer G, $20; and in 1947, by employer G, $10. Thus E, prior to January 1, 1947, received $5,000 in wages for services performed during the calendar year 1946, with respect to which wages $50 of employees' tax was deducted and paid to the collector. The amount of employees' tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages is $30. E may file a claim for refund of $20. (The $1,000 of wages received on January 1, 1947, and $10 of employees' tax with respect thereto, have no bearing on this claim because the wages were received after December 31, 1946; but if in 1947 E receives wages from one or more employers in addition to employer G, and the total wages received in such year from all employers exceeds $3,000, E may be entitled to another special refund of employees' tax. The determination in such case would include consideration of the $1,000 wages received on January 1, 1947, and the $10 of employees' tax with respect thereto, and such determination would be made under section 1401 (d) (2) of the act, which is dealt with in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(c) Wages received after 1946. This paragraph relates only to refunds, under section 1401 (d) (2) of the act, of employees' tax with respect to wages received after December 31, 1946. If, during any calendar year beginning after December 31, 1946, an employee receives wages in excess of $3,000 from two or more employers, the employee may file a claim for refund of the amount, if any, by which the employees' tax imposed with respect to such wages and deducted therefrom exceeds the employees' tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages. (See §§ 402.227 and 402.228, relating to wages.) Each such claim shall be made with respect to wages received within one calendar year (regardless of the year or years after 1536 during which the services are performed for which such wages are received). The employee shall submit with the claim, as a part thereof, a statement setting forth the following information, with respect to each employer from whom he received wages during the calendar year: (1) The name and address of such employer, (2) the account number of the employee and the employee's name as reported by the employer on his returns, (3) the amount of wages received during the calendar year to which the claim relates, (4) the amount of employees' tax, if any, deducted from such wages, and (5) the amount of such tax, if any, which has been refunded or otherwise returned to the employee. Other information may be required, but should be submitted only upon the receipt of a specific request therefor. The employee's claim shall be made on Form 843, in accordance with these regulations and the instructions relating to such form, and shall be filed with the collector for the district in which the employee resides. No interest will be allowed or paid by the Government on the amount of any refund to which this paragraph relates. No refund to which this paragraph relates will be made unless (i) the employee files a claim, establishing his right thereto, after the calendar year in which the wages are received with respect to which refund of tax is claimed, and (ii) such claim is filed within two years after the calendar year in which such wages are received.

Example 1. Employee H in the calendar year 1947 receives taxable wages in the amount of $2,000 from each of his employers I, J, and K, for services performed during such year (or at any time after December 31, 1936), or a total of $6,000. Employees' tax is deducted from H's wages, in the amount of $20 by I and $20 by J, or a total of $40. Employer K pays employees' tax in the amount of $20 to the collector without deducting such tax from H's wages. The employees' tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages is $30. H may file a claim for refund of $10.

Example 2. Employee L in the calendar year 1947 performs employment for employers M and N, for which L is entitled to remuneration of $3,000 from each employer, or a total of $6,000. On account of such employment L in 1946 received an advance payment of $1,000 in wages from M; and in 1947 receives wages in the amount of $2,000 from M, and $3,000 from N. Employees' tax was deducted as follows: in 1946, $10 by employer M; and in 1947, $20 by employer M, and $30 by employer N. Thus L in the calendar year 1947 received $5,000 in wages, from which $50 of employees' tax was deducted. The amount of employees' tax with respect to the first $3,000 of such wages received in 1947 is $30. L may file a claim for refund of $20. (The $1,000 advance of wages received in 1946 from M, and $10 of employees' tax with respect thereto, have no bearing on this claim, because the wages were not received in 1947; and such amounts could not form the basis for a refund unless L prior to 1947 received from M and at least one more employer advance wages totalling more than $3,000 for employment to be performed during 1947, in which case L's right to refund would be determined under section 1401 (d) (1) of the act, which is dealt with in paragraph (b) of this section.)

PAR. 12. Immediately preceding the caption "Section 3797 (a) and (b) of the Internal Revenue Code" as set forth preceding § 403.201, the following is inserted:

The provision in effect prior to January 1, 1940, and therefore applicable to services performed prior to such date, is section 1607 (c) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act as originally enacted February 10, 1939, as modified by section 13 (a) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act. Thus, services performed prior to January 1, 1940, within the United States by an employee for the person employing him, constitute employment within the meaning of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act in force on and after January 1, 1940, unless the services are excepted by section 1607 (c) as originally enacted, as modified by such action 13 (a)."

SECTION 305 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1946

Section 1607 of such Code, as amended, is further amended, effective July 1, 1946, by adding after subsection (m) a new subsection to read as follows:

(n) American vessel. The term "American vessel" means any vessel documented or numbered under the laws of the United States; and includes any vessel which is neither documented or numbered under the laws of the United States nor documented under the laws of any foreign country, if its crew is employed solely by one or more citizens or residents of the United States or corporations organized under the laws of the United States or of any State.

PAR. 17. Section 403.203, as amended by Treasury Decision 5519, is amended to read as follows:

§ 403.203 Employment after December 31, 1939—(a) In general. Whether services performed on or after January 1, 1940, constitute employment is determined under section 1607 (c) of the act, that is, section 1607 (c), as amended, effective January 1, 1940, by section 614 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, and as amended, effective January 1, 1946, by section 4 (d) of the International Organizations Immunities Act, and as further amended, effective July 1, 1946, by sections 302, 303, and 304 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1946. This section and all sections of this Subpart B which follow (except §§ 403.227 and 403.228, relating to wages), apply with respect only to services performed after December 31, 1939. Such sections apply with respect to services performed at any time after such date, except those provisions thereof in which a different period of application is expressly stated. (For provisions relating to the circumstances under which services which do not constitute employment are nevertheless deemed to be employment, and relating to the circumstances under which services which constitute employment are nevertheless deemed not to be employment, see § 403.207. For provisions relating to the circumstances under which certain services with respect to which the collection of tax is prohibited are deemed not to be included within the term "employment" as used in these regulations, see § 403.206. For provisions relating to services performed prior to January 1, 1940, see § 403.202.)

(b) Services performed within the United States. Services performed on or after January 1, 1940, within the United States, that is, within any of the several States, the District of Columbia, or the Territory of Alaska or Hawaii, by an employee for the person employing him, unless specifically excepted by section 1607 (c) of the act, constitute employment within the meaning of the act. Services performed outside the United States, that is, outside the several States, the District of Columbia, and the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii (except certain services performed after June 30, 1946, on or in connection with an American vessel—see paragraph (c) of this section), do not constitute employment.

With respect to services performed within the United States, the place where the contract of service is entered into and the citizenship or residence of the employee or of the person employing him are immaterial. Thus, the employee and the person employing him may be citizens and residents of a foreign country and the contract of service may be entered into in a foreign country, and yet, if the employee under such contract actually performs services within the United States, there may be to that extent employment within the meaning of the act.

(c) Services performed outside the United States. Services performed on or after July 1, 1946, by an employee for the person employing him "on or in connection with" an American vessel outside the United States constitute employment: Provided:

(1) The employee is also employed "on and in connection with" such vessel when outside the United States; and

(2) The services are performed under a contract of service, between the employee and the person employing him, which is entered into within the United States, or during the performance of which the vessel touches at a port within the United States; and

(3) The services are not excepted under section 1607 (c) of the act. (See particularly § 403.226b of these regulations, relating to fishing.)

An employee performs services on and in connection with the vessel if he performs services on the vessel which are also in connection with the vessel. Services performed on the vessel as officers or members of the crew, or as employees of concessionaires, of the vessel, for example, are performed under such circumstances since such services are also connected with the vessel. Services may be performed on the vessel, however, which have no connection with it, as in the case of services performed by an employee while on the vessel merely as a passenger in the general sense. For example, the services of a buyer in the employ of a department store while he is a passenger on a vessel are not in connection with the vessel.

If services are performed by an employee "on and in connection with" an American vessel when outside the United States and conditions subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph are met, then the services of that employee performed on or in connection with the vessel constitute employment. The expression "on or in connection with" refers not only to services performed on the vessel but also to services connected with the vessel which are not actually performed on it (for example, shore services performed as officers or members of the crew, or as employees of concessionaires, of the vessel).

Services performed by a member of the crew or other employee whose contract of service is not entered into within the United States, and during the performance of which the vessel does not touch at a port within the United States, do not constitute employment, notwithstanding similar services performed by others on or in connection with the vessel may constitute employment.

The word "vessel" includes every description of watercraft, or other contrivance, used as a means of transportation on water. It does not include any type of aircraft.

The term "American vessel" means any vessel which is documented (that is, registered, enrolled, or licensed) or numbered in conformity with the laws of the United States. It also includes any vessel which is neither documented nor numbered under the laws of the United States, nor documented under the laws of any foreign country, if the crew of such vessel is employed solely by one or more citizens or residents of the United States or corporations organized under the laws of the United States or of any State (including the District of Columbia or the Territory of Alaska or Hawaii).

With respect to services performed outside the United States, the citizenship or residence of the employee is immaterial, and the citizenship or residence of the person employing him is material only in case it has a bearing in determining whether a vessel is an American vessel.

(d) Services performed for Bonneville Power Administrator. Notwithstanding any other provision of these regulations, such services as constitute employment under section 1607 (m) of the act shall constitute employment within the meaning of the act and of these regulations (including § 403.205, relating to who are employers). Section 1607 (m) of the act relates to services performed after December 31, 1945, by a laborer, mechanic, or workman, in connection with construction work or the operation and maintenance of electrical facilities, as an employee of the United States employed through the Bonneville Power Administrator.

PAR. 18. Immediately preceding the caption "Section 5 (b) of the International Organizations Immunities Act", as inserted by Treasury Decision 5519 preceding § 403.206, the following is inserted:

SECTION 302 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1946

That part of section 1607 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which reads as follows:

(c) Employment. The term "employment" means • • • any service, of whatever nature, performed after December 31, 1939, within the United States by an employee for the person employing him • • • except—is amended, effective July 1, 1946, to read as follows:

(c) Employment. The term "employment" means any service performed prior to July 1, 1946, which was employment as defined in this section as in effect at the time the service was performed; and any service, of whatever nature, performed after June 30, 1946, by an employee for the person employing him • • • except—.

PAR. 19. Section 403.206, as amended by Treasury Decision 5519, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the period at the end of the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof a comma and the following: "and as further amended, effective July 1, 1946, by sections 302, 303, and 304 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1946."

(B) By striking out the following sentences where they appear: "This section, § 403.207 (relating to included and excluded services), and §§ 403.208 to 403.226, inclusive (relating to certain classes of excepted services), apply with respect only to services performed on or after January 1, 1940. Section 403.226a, relating to an additional class of excepted services, applies with respect only to services performed on or after January 1, 1946." and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "This section, and the sections which follow it relating to included and excluded services and the several classes of excepted services, apply with respect to services performed at any time after December 31, 1939, except where a different period of application is expressly stated."

PAR. 20. In those provisions of law which read as follows:

The term "employment" means • • • any service, of whatever nature, performed after December 31, 1939, within the United States by an employee for the person employing him • • • except—where they appear preceding each section from §§ 403.208 to 403.226a, both inclusive, the phrase "after December 31, 1939, within the United States" is stricken, and "• • •" is inserted in lieu thereof, so that such provisions of law read as follows:

The term "employment" means • • • any service, of whatever nature, performed • • • by an employee for the person employing him • • • except—

PAR. 21. Immediately preceding § 403.211 the following is inserted:

SECTION 303 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1946

Section 1607 (c) (4) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, is amended, effective July 1, 1946, to read as follows:

(4) Service performed on or in connection with a vessel not an American vessel by an employee, if the employee is employed on and in connection with such vessel when outside the United States;

PAR. 22. Section 403.211 is amended to read as follows:

§ 403.211 Maritime services—(a) In general. Section 1607 (c) (4) of the act, as amended, effective January 1, 1940, by section 614 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, excepts service performed within the United States as an officer or member of the crew of a vessel on the navigable waters of the United States. Such exception, which is dealt with in paragraph (b) of this section, applies only with respect to services performed before July 1, 1946. Section 1607 (c) (4) of the act, as amended, effective July 1, 1946, by section 303 of the Social Security Act amendments of 1946, excepts service performed within the United States on or in connection with a vessel not an American vessel by an employee, if the employee is employed on and in connection with such vessel when outside the United States. Such exception, which is dealt with in paragraph (c) of this section, applies only with respect to services performed on or after July 1, 1946. (For definitions of "vessel" and "American vessel," see § 403.203 (c).)

(b) Services performed prior to July 1, 1946. The expression "navigable waters of the United States" means such waters as are navigable in fact and which by themselves or their connection with other waters form a continuous channel for commerce with foreign countries or among the States.

The expression "officer or member of the crew" includes the master or officer in charge of the vessel, however designated, and every individual, subject to his authority, serving on board and contributing in any way to the operation and welfare of the vessel. The exception extends, for example, to services rendered by the master, mates, pilots, pursers, surgeons, stewards, engineers, firemen, cooks, clerks, carpenters, deck hands, porters, and chambermaids, and by seal hunters and fishermen on sealing and fishing vessels.

(c) Services performed after June 30, 1946. In order for services performed after June 30, 1946, within the United States "on or in connection with" a vessel not an American vessel to be excepted, the services must be performed by an employee who is also employed "on and in connection with" the vessel when outside the United States.

An employee performs services on and in connection with the vessel if he performs services on the vessel when outside the United States which are also in connection with the vessel. Services performed on the vessel outside the United States as officers or members of the crew, or as employees of concessionaires, of the vessel, for example, are performed under such circumstances, since such services are also connected with the vessel. Services may be performed on the vessel, however, which have no connection with it, as in the case of services performed by an employee while on the vessel merely as a passenger in the general sense. For example, the services of a buyer in the employ of a department store while he is a passenger on a vessel are not in connection with the vessel.

The expression "on or in connection with" refers not only to services performed on the vessel but also to services connected with the vessel which are not actually performed on it (for example, shore services performed as officers or members of the crew, or as employees of concessionaires, of the vessel).

The citizenship or residence of the employee and the place where the contract of service is entered into are immaterial for purposes of this exception, and the citizenship or residence of the person employing him is material only in case it has a bearing in determining whether the vessel is an American vessel.

Since the only services performed outside the United States which constitute employment are those described in § 403.203 (c) (relating to services performed outside the United States on or in connection with an American vessel), services performed outside the United States on or in connection with a vessel not an American vessel in any event do not constitute employment.

PAR. 23. The first sentence of § 403.213, as amended by Treasury Decision 5502, approved March 18, 1946, is amended by striking out "403.203 (b)" and inserting in lieu thereof "403.203 (d)."

PAR. 24. Immediately after § 403.226a, as added by Treasury Decision 5519, the following is inserted:

SECTION 1607 (c) (17) OF THE ACT

The term "employment" means • • • any service, of whatever nature, performed • • • by an employee for the person employing him • • • except—

(17) Service performed by an individual in (or as an officer or member of the crew of a vessel while it is engaged in) the catching, taking, harvesting, cultivating, or farming of any kind of fish, shellfish, crustacea, sponges, seaweeds, or other aquatic forms of animal and vegetable life (including service performed by any such individual as an ordinary incident to any such activity), except (A) service performed in connection with the catching or taking of salmon or halibut, for commercial purposes, and (B) service performed on or in connection with a vessel of more than ten net tons (determined in the manner provided for determining the register tonnage of merchant vessels under the laws of the United States). (Sec. 1607 (c) (17), I. R. C., as added, effective July 1, 1946, by sec. 304 (c), Social Security Act Amendments of 1946)

§ 403.226b Fishing—(a) In general. Subject to the limitations prescribed in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the services performed on or after July 1, 1946, as described in this paragraph are excepted. Services performed by an individual in the catching, taking, harvesting, cultivating, or farming of any kind of fish, shellfish (for example, oysters, clams, and mussels), crustacea (for example, lobsters, crabs, and shrimps), sponges, seaweeds, or other aquatic forms of animal and vegetable life are excepted. The exception extends to services performed as an officer or member of the crew of a vessel while the vessel is engaged in any such activity whether or not the officer or member of the crew is himself so engaged. In the case of an individual who is engaged in any such activity in the employ of any person, the services performed, by such individual in the employ of such person, as an ordinary incident to any such activity are also excepted. Similarly, for example, the shore services of an officer or member of the crew of a vessel engaged in any such activity are excepted if such services are an ordinary incident to any such activity. Services performed as an ordinary incident to any such activity may include, for example, services performed in such cleaning, icing, and packing of fish as are necessary for the immediate preservation of the catch.

(b) Salmon and halibut fishing. Services performed in connection with the catching or taking of salmon or halibut, for commercial purposes, are not within the exception. Thus, neither the services of an officer or member of the crew of a vessel (irrespective of its tonnage) which is engaged in the catching or taking of salmon or halibut, for commercial purposes, nor the services of any other individual in connection with such activity, are within the exception.

(c) Vessels of more than 10 net tons. Services described in paragraph (a) of this section performed on or in connection with a vessel of more than 10 net tons are not within the exception. For purposes of the exception, the tonnage of the vessel shall be determined in the manner provided for determining the register tonnage of merchant vessels under the laws of the United States.

PAR. 25. Immediately preceding § 403.227, the following is inserted:

SECTION 412 (b) OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1946

Section 1607 (b) (1) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (Internal Revenue Code, sec. 1607 (b) (1)) is amended to read as follows:

(1) That part of the remuneration which, after remuneration equal to $3,000 has been paid to an individual by an employer with respect to employment during any calendar year, is paid after December 31, 1939, and prior to January 1, 1947, to such individual by such employer with respect to employment during such calendar year; or that part of the remuneration which, after remuneration equal to $3,000 with respect to employment after 1938 has been paid to an individual by an employer during any calendar year after 1946, is paid to such individual by such employer during such calendar year;

PAR. 26. Section 403.227 (a) is amended by striking out the period at the end of the first sentence thereof and inserting in lieu thereof a comma and the following: "and as further amended by section 412 (b) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1946."

PAR. 27. Section 403.228 (a) is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first three sentences of such section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(1) In general. Section 1607 (b) (1) of the act provides an annual $3,000 limitation on the amount of remuneration that may constitute wages, by excepting from the term "wages" remuneration paid after $3,000 has been paid. Under such section as amended by section 412 (b) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1946, the amount first to be included in wages, after which the exception operates, is measured in two ways, depending on whether the remuneration is paid before 1947 or is paid after 1946. In the case of remuneration paid before 1947, the amount first to be included in wages is remuneration paid up to and including $3,000 for employment performed by an employee for his employer during each calendar year regardless of when paid (before 1947); and additional amounts for employment performed in such calendar year by such employee for such employer are excluded regardless of when paid (before 1947). In the case of remuneration paid after 1946, the amount first to be included in wages in each calendar year is remuneration up to and including $3,000 paid in the calendar year by an employer to an employee for employment performed at any time after December 31, 1938; and additional amounts paid in such calendar year by such employer to such employee are excluded regardless of when earned. In general, the change is from an "earned within the calendar year basis" to a "paid within the calendar year basis." For a more complete explanation of the limitation, see subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph.

(2) Remuneration paid before 1947. This subparagraph (ending with Example 3) applies only with respect to remuneration paid before January 1, 1947.

The term "wages" does not include that part of the remuneration paid before January 1, 1947, by an employer to an employee for employment performed for him during any calendar year which exceeds the first $3,000 paid by such employer to such employee for employment performed during such calendar year.

In the case of remuneration paid before 1947, the $3,000 limitation applies only if the remuneration paid to an employee by the same employer for employment during any one calendar year exceeds $3,000. The limitation in such case relates to remuneration for employment during any one calendar year and not to the amount of remuneration (irrespective of the year of employment) which is paid in any one calendar year.

(B) By inserting in the parenthetical matter in the third sentence of Example 1, immediately after the word "paid" where it last appears therein, the following: "before January 1, 1947,".

(C) By striking out the clause, immediately following Example 1, "If an employee has more than one employer during a calendar year," and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "In the case of remuneration paid before 1947, if an employee has more than one employer during a calendar year,".

(D) By inserting at the beginning of the first and fifth sentences of Example 2 the following: "During 1940."

(E) By inserting at the beginning of the second sentence of Example 3, the following: "During such year."

(F) By inserting immediately following Example 3 the following new subparagraph:

(3) Remuneration paid after 1946. This subparagraph applies only with respect to remuneration paid after December 31, 1946.

The term "wages" does not include that part of the remuneration paid within any calendar year beginning after December 31, 1946, by an employer to an employee which exceeds the first $3,000 paid within such calendar year by such employer to such employee for employment performed for him at any time after December 31, 1938.

In the case of remuneration paid after 1946, the $3,000 limitation applies only if the remuneration paid during any one calendar year by an employer to the same employee for employment performed after 1938 exceeds $3,000. The limitation in such case relates to the amount of remuneration paid during any one calendar year for employment after 1938 and not to the amount of remuneration for employment performed in any one calendar year.

Example 1. Employer H, in 1947, pays employee G $2,500 on account of $3,000 due him for employment performed in 1947. In 1948 employer H pays employee G the balance of $500 due him for employment performed in the prior year (1947), and thereafter in 1948 also pays G $3,000 for employment performed in 1948. The $2,500 paid in 1947 is subject to tax in 1947. The balance of $500 paid in 1948 for employment during 1947 is subject to tax in 1948, as is also the first $2,500 paid of the $3,000 for employment during 1948 (this $500 for 1947 employment added to the first $2,500 paid for 1948 employment constitutes the maximum wages which could be paid in 1948 by H to G). The final $500 paid by H to G in 1948 is not included as wages and is not subject to the tax.

Example 2. Employer J, in 1946, pays $3,000 to employee I on account of $6,000 due him for employment performed in 1946. In 1947 before paying any remuneration for employment performed in 1947 employer J pays to I the balance of $3,000 due employee I on account of employment performed in 1946. The $3,000 paid in 1946 constitutes wages in 1946 and is subject to the tax, in accordance with the provisions set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. The balance of $3,000 paid in 1947 on account of employment in 1946 constitutes wages and is subject to the tax in 1947, in accordance with the provisions set forth in this subparagraph. The $3,000 paid in 1947 for 1946 employment constitutes the maximum wages which could be paid by J to I in 1947. Any further remuneration paid in 1947 to employee I for services performed for J is not included as wages and is not subject to the tax, whether for services performed before, during, or after 1947. (Assuming the same amounts of remuneration and times of payment, the same result would be reached if employee I had left the employ of J and performed no further services for J after 1946.)

If during a calendar year (after 1946) an employee is paid remuneration by more than one employer, the limitation of wages to the first $3,000 of remuneration paid applies, not to the aggregate remuneration paid by all employers with respect to employment performed after 1938, but instead to the remuneration paid during such calendar year by each employer with respect to employment performed after 1938. In such case the first $3,000 paid during the calendar year by each employer constitutes wages and is subject to the tax.

Example 3. During 1947 employer L pays to employee K a salary of $600 a month for employment performed for L during the first seven months of 1947, or total remuneration of $4,200. At the end of the fifth month K has been paid $3,000 by employer L, and only that part of his total remuneration from L constitutes wages subject to the tax. The $600 paid to employee K by employer L in the sixth month, and the like amount paid in the seventh month, are not included as wages and are not subject to the tax. At the end of the seventh month K leaves the employ of L and enters the employ of M. Employer M pays to K remuneration of $600 a month in each of the remaining five months of 1947, or total remuneration of $3,000. The entire $3,000 paid by M to employee K constitutes wages and is subject to the tax. Thus, the first $3,000 paid by employer L and the entire $3,000 paid by employer M constitutes wages.

Example 4. During the calendar year 1947 N is simultaneously an officer (an employee) of the O Corporation, the P Corporation, and the Q Corporation, each such corporation being an employer for such year. During such year N is paid a salary of $3,000 by each corporation. Each $3,000 paid to N by each of the corporations O, P, and Q (whether or not such corporations are related) constitutes wages and is subject to the tax.

PAR. 28. Immediately preceding § 403.401, the following is inserted:

The last sentence of subsection (f) of section 1607 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, as amended, is amended by striking out the period at the end thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following: ": Provided, That an amount equal to the amount of employee payments into the unemployment fund of a State may be used in the payment of cash benefits to individuals with respect to their disability, exclusive of expenses of administration."

opening inventories for the previous month, the butterfat in such product shall be deducted pro rata from the butterfat in all products and classes leaving the plant from which butterfat in like form could be deducted. If the butterfat in such products leaving the plant is less than the butterfat in such opening inventories, any remaining butterfat in such opening inventories shall be deducted pro rata from the butterfat in all products and classes in the closing inventories at the plant from which butterfat in like form could be deducted."

4. Amendments to section 5:

a. In paragraph (a) amend the provision for establishing butterfat tests of milk shipments as follows:

Milk shipped from a plant or received from another plant (no specific tests shall be recognized for milk shipped except for breed milk and other special milk):

(8) Frozen cream leaving the plant or in the closing inventories at the plant. Butterfat will be considered to have left a plant or be in closing inventories at a plant in the form of frozen cream only if the butterfat is so identified in the handler's records that the source of such butterfat as a receipt of milk from producers can be ascertained. In the event that it is not so identified it will be considered to have left the plant or be in the closing inventories at the plant in the form of cream rather than frozen cream.

5. Add new section 7 as follows:

SEC. 7. Assignment of specific butterfat received or in the opening inventories in the form of frozen cream to the uses of butterfat in the form of frozen cream at the plant.

(a) Butterfat received or in the opening inventories in the form of frozen cream shall be assigned to butterfat leaving the plant or in the closing inventories at the plant in the form of frozen cream in accordance with its identification pursuant to section 5 (c) (8).

[Nos. 29663, 29664 and 29708]

TRANSPORTATION RAIL AND WATER RATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

MARCH 17, 1947.

Transcontinental rail rates, No. 29663; Intercoastal water rates, No. 29664; All-water, water-rail, and rail-water rates between Pacific coast ports and interior points, No. 29708.

The Commission has given consideration to the motion filed by the United States Maritime Commission February 26, 1947, requesting expedited disposition of these proceedings and suggesting means of accomplishing such expedition. In view of the limitation of June 30, 1947, placed by Congress on the continued operation of intercoastal steamship service by the Government it is clearly desirable that these proceedings be completed as soon as possible consistently with the rights of interested parties.

The proceedings are therefore assigned for hearing at the office of the Commission, Washington, D. C., April 22, 1947, 10 o'clock a. m., United States standard time before Commissioner Alldredge and Examiners Hosmer, Colgren, and McCloud. This hearing will be for the purpose of receiving evidence from the respondents and such shippers as may be prepared to proceed at that time. Additional hearings will be assigned at other points as soon as practicable after the conclusion of the Washington hearings. Shippers or others who plan to introduce evidence are requested to advise the Commission as soon as possible, stating the approximate time required and their preference as to place of hearing.

The prehearing conference in these proceedings held on January 17, 1947, disclosed an obstacle to expedited disposition due to the absence of definite proposals for adjustment of rates by either the water or rail respondents. As prayed in the motion of the Maritime Commission, and in order to afford the respondents, in conformity with the Commission's general rules of practice, an opportunity amicably to adjust their differences, to effect satisfactory settlement of the issues in these proceedings, and to promote peace and harmony in this phase of the transportation industry, the respondents are hereby directed to submit to this Commission, without prejudice to any party in interest, proposals of adjustment in the form of suggested rates which they are prepared to defend as just and reasonable in conformity with the rules of rate-making set forth in sections 15a (2) and 307 (f) of the Interstate Commerce Act. To that end the rail and water respondents are directed to confer for mutual consideration of their proposals in accordance with the letter from the Attorney General of the United States referred to in the motion of the Maritime Commission. The Commission also suggests the attendance at this conference of a representative of the Maritime Commission if it desires to participate. Proposals so arrived at shall be made public for the information of interested shippers not later than April 7, 1947. In this manner it is believed that the issues involved in these proceedings will be clarified and the shippers better enabled to meet those issues. Nothing done as a result of such a conference, however, shall bind the Commission in any way.

The prehearing conference also disclosed the need of certain amendments to the original orders of investigation in Nos. 29663 and 29664, as well as initiation of an additional proceeding embracing certain all-water, water-rail, and rail-water rates between Pacific Coast ports and interior points. Appropriate orders having that effect are attached hereto.

Special rules of procedure. Petitions of intervention are unnecessary. Persons who appear in opposition to respondents' proposed rates will be considered protestants.

In order to save time and expense it is strongly urged that persons having common interests endeavor, so far as possible, to consolidate their presentation of testimony and arrange for cross-examination by a limited number of counsel. The same course should be followed upon oral argument.

In the preparation of exhibits Rules 81-84 of the general rules of practice should be observed. If possible, all exhibits introduced by each witness should be included in a single pamphlet with pages consecutively numbered and suitably bound together. At least 150 copies of each exhibit should be available. So far as possible, exhibits should be self-explanatory to minimize the time required for oral testimony.

Witnesses who prepare their testimony in writing should comply with Rule 77 of the general rules of practice. They should have a sufficient number of copies to supply opposing counsel, the official reporter, and the presiding officers. To save time it is suggested that such written statements be prepared with a view to their being copied into the record by agreement without being read by the witness or that they be submitted as verified statements, as stated in the next paragraph.

Evidence in the form of verified statements (affidavits) without personal appearance of the affiant as a witness will be received in the absence of objection. Parties offering such statements should provide 150 copies thereof as early as possible in the hearings. Notice of objection to the receipt of any such statements should be given promptly to the Commission and to the party offering the statement. If no such notice is given, it will be assumed that objection is waived, subject to the right of any person in any appropriate manner to raise questions as to the weight of such verified statements. Such statements should conform to the general rules of practice with respect to style, mimeographing, printing, etc. They should be limited strictly to matters of fact and contain no argument; if not so limited, they may be excluded. The Commission on its own motion or objection may exclude a verified statement or any portion thereof which (a) is not material or relevant to the questions involved in these proceedings, (b) is obviously incompetent, or (c) is argumentative. All verified statements received in evidence will be part of the record upon which the Commission will base its decision.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

TENNESSEE GAS AND TRANSMISSION CO.

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO APPLICATION

MARCH 14, 1947.

Notice is hereby given that Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company (Applicant), a Tennessee corporation having its principal place of business at Houston, Texas, and authorized to do business in the States of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia, filed with the Federal Power Commission on March 7, 1947, an amendment to its application filed November 8, 1946, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of certain facilities hereinafter described.

Applicant in its original application sought authorization pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to construct and operate the following facilities: One new compressor station having a total of 6,000 H. P.; new compressor units totalling 81,600 H. P. to be constructed at existing compressor stations; 648.1 miles of 26-inch O. D. pipe, 68.7 miles of 24-inch O. D. pipe and 82.4 miles of 20-inch O. D. pipe to be used in looping its existing 24-inch O. D. main line; and various lateral lines to be composed of 6⅝-inch O. D. pipe, 8⅝-inch O. D. pipe and 10¾-inch O. D. pipe to connect its system into additional necessary supplies of gas.

Applicant, by amendment to its application of November 8, 1946, proposes to change its original project as follows: 95.6 miles of the proposed 648.1 miles of 26-inch line to be eliminated south of compressor station No. 5; the proposed increase of 81,600 H. P. at existing compressor stations to be reduced by a net of 6,200 H. P.; and additional construction of 83 miles of 20-inch O. D. pipeline, extending from the Carthage Field in Panola County, Texas, to the Applicant's No. 5 compressor station located near Natchitoches, Louisiana.

Applicant states that the construction and operation of the aforesaid 83 miles of 20-inch O. D. pipe will enable Applicant to purchase natural gas in the Carthage Field under agreements entered into on February 21, 1947, with the firms of Glassell and Glassell, Stanolind Oil and Gas Company, and Continental Oil Company, thereby substantially increasing the gas available to applicant.

Applicant estimates that the over-all capital cost of the facilities, as amended, will be approximately $53,000,000.[1]

PENNSYLVANIA POWER AND LIGHT CO. ET AL.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 13th day of March A. D. 1947.

In the matter of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, National Power & Light Company and Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 59-29; Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, National Power & Light Company and Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 54-128; Electric Bond and Share Company, National Power & Light Company, et al., File No. 59-12; Electric Bond and Share Company, National Power & Light Company, Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, Lehigh Valley Transit Company, The Edison Illuminating Company of Easton, et al., File No. 54-51. Applications 8, 9 and 10.

National Power & Light Company ("National"), a registered holding company having filed a declaration and an amendment thereto pursuant to section 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-46 promulgated thereunder regarding the following proposals:

Pursuant to the provisions of a plan approved by the Commission on October 26, 1945, Pennsylvania Power & Light Company ("Pennsylvania"), then a subsidiary of National, issued to National rights to subscribe to 1,818,700 shares of new common stock of Pennsylvania at $10 per share. National, in turn, through the issuance of warrants, exercisable from December 8 to December 22, 1945, offered such rights to its own common stockholders on a pro-rata basis (the right to purchase ½ a share of the common stock of Pennsylvania for each share of the common stock of National owned). Of the warrants issued to the holders of National's outstanding 5,456,100 shares, warrants issued with respect to 101,903 shares of the common stock of National, entitling the holders thereof to subscribe to approximately 33,968 shares of the common stock of Pennsylvania, were neither exercised nor disposed of. These shares of common stock of Pennsylvania to which such stockholders were entitled to subscribe were subscribed to by National in accordance with its obligation under the plan and are at present held by National.

National now proposes that there be paid to the holders of record on December 4, 1945, of such 101,903 shares, an amount of $3.341176 per share. This amount has been computed by averaging the closing price of the warrants on the New York Stock Exchange during the period within which such warrants were traded on the Exchange, less a deduction of 20% of such average closing price. The deduction is proposed in order to compensate National for expenses and risks incurred by it in connection with its obligations under the plan to subscribe for any shares of new Pennsylvania common stock not subscribed for by National's stockholders.

Said declaration as amended having been duly filed and notice of such filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration as amended within the period specified in said notice or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said declaration as amended that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration as amended be permitted to become effective;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that said declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

AMERICAN POWER & LIGHT CO. ET AL.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 14th day of March A. D. 1947.

In the matter of American Power & Light Company, Florida Power & Light Company, Texas Utilities Company, Texas Power & Light Company, Texas Electric Service Company, File No. 70-1461.

American Power & Light Company ("American"), a registered holding company subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company, also a registered holding company, and American's registered holding company subsidiary, Texas Utilities Company ("Texas Utilities"), its electric utility subsidiaries, Texas Electric Service Company ("Texas Electric"), and Texas Power & Light Company ("Texas Power"), and American's electric utility subsidiary, Florida Power & Light Company ("Florida"), having filed a joint application-declaration and amendment thereto pursuant to sections 6, 9, 12 (d) and 12 (f) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-45 thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

American proposes to lend at an interest rate of 1¾% per annum to Texas Utilities Company and Florida Power & Light Company during the year 1947 sums which will aggregate not more than $9,000,000 to be outstanding at any one time. Such sums as are borrowed by Texas Utilities will be passed on in the form of loans to Texas Electric and Texas Power at the interest rate stated above: Provided, however, That not more than $2,000,000 will be owed to Texas Utilities by Texas Electric and Texas Power at the time of American's sale of 15% of the stock of Texas Utilities as proposed in American's presently pending plan for the retirement of its preferred stocks. Texas Utilities also proposes to increase its equity interests in Texas Electric and Texas Power by making a cash contribution of $1,000,000 to the captial of or by purchasing $1,000,000 of additional common stock from each of said companies. Loans from Texas Utilities to Texas Electric and Texas Power outstanding at the time of the presently contemplated sale of additional bonds by the two latter companies are to be repaid when such bonds are sold. Texas Utilities and Florida will repay any loans made to them by American prior to American's sale of 15% of the common stocks of Texas Utilities and Florida. Florida proposes to repay any such loans out of the proceeds from the public sale of its securities contemplated in the near future. If, however, such public sale of its securities shall not have been made prior to the sale by American of 15% of Florida's common stock, Florida proposes to make temporary borrowings from banks for the purpose of repaying said loans to American prior to such sale. For the purpose of paying off any such loans as may be made to it by American, Texas Utilities proposes to make temporary borrowings from banks. In order to refund such bank borrowings, Texas Utilities proposes, sixty days after 15% of the common stock shall have been sold by American, or as soon as practicable thereafter, to issue and sell additional common stock to the public.

It is proposed that the loans be repaid to American by December 31, 1947, but such maturity may be extended by mutual consent of the parties to a date not later than one year from the date of making of such loans. However, the borrowing companies shall have the right at any time prior to such date to repay all or any part of the sums borrowed and the lending companies shall have the right to call all or any part of the loans currently outstanding upon 90 days' written notice.

The application-declaration having been filed February 14, 1947, and an amendment thereto having been filed on March 5, 1947, and notice of said filing, as amended, having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said application, as amended, within the period specified or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to the application-declaration, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder are satisfied, that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the said application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective, and deeming it appropriate to grant the request of applicants-declarants that the order become effective at the earliest date possible;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that said joint application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Civil Air Regs., Amdt. 41-5]

PART 41—CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES FOR SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER OPERATIONS OUTSIDE CONTINENTAL LIMITS OF THE UNITED STATES

FLIGHT ENGINEER CERTIFICATES

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of March 1947.

Section 41.321 of the Civil Air Regulations requires that each flight engineer shall hold a valid flight engineer certificate issued in accordance with the provisions of Part 35, effective March 15, 1947.

The Civil Aeronautics Board finds that it will require a period of about six months after March 15, 1947, for interested flight engineers in the various parts of the world to be given an opportunity to accomplish the flight engineer examinations necessary for the issuance of a flight engineer certificate under Part 35 of this chapter, and that notice and procedures provided for in sections 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act are impracticable and that this amendment should become effective immediately.

Now, therefore: Effective March 24, 1947, § 41.321 of the Civil Air Regulations is amended to read as follows:

§ 41.321 Certificate. Effective September 15, 1947, each flight engineer shall hold a valid flight engineer cetificate issued in accordance with the provisions of Part 35 of this chapter. (52 Stat. 984, 1007; 49 U. S. C. 425, 551)

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Secretary.

[Civil Air Regs., Amdt. 61-4]

PART 61—SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER RULES

FLIGHT ENGINEER CERTIFICATES

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of March 1947.

Part 61 of the Civil Air Regulations makes no provision requiring flight engineers. It is contemplated that such provision will be made in the proposed revision of this part.

The Civil Aeronautics Board finds that it will require a period of about six months after March 15, 1947, for interested flight engineers to be given an opportunity to accomplish the flight engineer examinations necessary for the issuance of a flight engineer certificate under Part 35, of this chapter; that amendment to Part 61 of the Civil Air Regulations should be promulgated to be consistent with § 41.321; and that notice and procedures provided for in sections 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act are impracticable and that this amendment should become effective immediately.

Now, therefore: Effective March 24, 1947, Part 61 of the Civil Air Regulations is amended by adding the following sections:

(52 Stat. 984, 1007; 49 U. S. C. 425, 551)

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VIII—Office of Housing Expediter

[Premium Payments Reg. 2, as Amended Feb. 12, 1947, Amdt. 1]

SOFTWOOD PLYWOOD

Section 805.2 (Housing Expediter Premium Payments Regulation No. 2) is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (e) (4) is deleted.

2. Paragraphs (k) and (l) are renumbered (q) and (r) respectively, and new paragraphs (k) to (p) inclusive are added to read as follows:

LIQUIDATION SETTLEMENT

(k) Purpose and general explanation. Paragraphs (m) through (p) provide the rates, terms and conditions for liquidation premiums to any plywood company that had a net increase in its inventory of peeler logs between June 1 and November 30, 1946, and for recovery or set-off in the case of any plywood company that had a net decrease in its inventory of peeler logs between those dates. Paragraph (l) below provides the method for calculating the net increase or net decrease in inventory of peeler logs.

(l) Method of calculating net change in inventory of peeler logs. (1) The method herein provided for determining whether there has been a net increase or a net decrease in inventory of peeler logs between June 1 and November 30, 1946, takes into account that, with respect to peeler log purchases between September 1 and November 30, 1946, only "Douglas fir peeler logs" would be eligible for the premium specified in paragraph (e). Thus it requires that each plywood company find the net change in inventory of "Douglas fir peeler logs" between June 1 and November 30, 1946, and separately the net change in inventory of "other peeler logs" between June 1 and August 31, 1946. The method further recognizes that, of the "other peeler logs" purchased between June 1 and August 31, 1946, some portion of those which are included in the August 31 inventory may have been consumed during September, October and November, 1946, and claims for the premium specified in paragraph (e) filed with respect thereto. To avoid paying double premiums on these "other peeler logs" (the paragraph (e) premium and the liquidation premium), the method requires that they be subtracted from the inventory change in "other peeler logs," in arriving at the final figure on which liquidation premiums are payable.

As used in this paragraph (l), "Douglas fir peeler logs" means Douglas fir, No. 1, 2 and 3 peeler. "Other peeler logs" mean Western hemlock and Western white fir, suitable for peeling; Sitka spruce, select; and Noble fir, aircraft grade and suitable for peeling.

(2) The net change in peeler log inventory shall be computed as follows:

Step 1. Find the difference between the inventory of Douglas fir peeler logs on June 1, 1946, and the inventory of such peeler logs on November 30, 1946. Where the June 1 inventory is less than the November 30 inventory, the result obtained is the "net increase" in inventory of Douglas fir peeler logs. Where the June 1 inventory is greater than the November 30 inventory, the result obtained is the "net decrease" in inventory of Douglas fir peeler logs.

Step 2. Find the "net increase" or "net decrease" in inventory of other peeler logs. To do this:

(a) Find the quantity of other peeler logs which were in inventory on June 1, 1946, and to this figure add the quantity of other peeler logs which were reported (in Block 6, Item C of form OHE 2–2) as consumed in the manufacture of plywood during September, October and November, 1946.

(b) Find the quantity of other peeler logs which were in inventory on August 31, 1946.

(c) Find the difference between the amount found in (a) and the amount found in (b). Where (a) is less than (b), the result obtained is the "net increase" in inventory of other peeler logs. Where (a) is greater than (b), the result is the "net decrease" in inventory of other peeler logs.

Step 3. If the amounts found in Steps 1 and 2 (c) are both "net increases," add them, and the result is the net increase in inventory of peeler logs on which liquidation premiums are payable at the rate found under paragraph (m) below. If the amounts found in Steps 1 and 2 (c) are both "net decreases," add them, and the result is the net decrease in inventory of peeler logs on which recovery or set-off will be made under paragraph (p) below. If the amount found in either Step 1 or Step 2 (c) is a "net increase," while the amount found in the other of these two steps is a "net decrease," find the difference between such "net increase" and "net decrease." Where such "net increase" is greater than the "net decrease," the result is the net increase in inventory of peeler logs on which liquidation premiums are payable. Where such "net decrease" is greater than the "net increase," the result is the net decrease in inventory of peeler logs on which recovery or set-off will be made.

Example: X's peeler log inventory situation is as follows (all figures are thousands feet logscale):

(1) Net change in inventory of Douglas fir peeler logs:

— 600, June 1, 1946

Since the November 30 figure is greater than the June 1 figure, 200 represents the "net increase" in inventory of Douglas fir peeler logs.

(2) Net change in inventory of other peeler logs:

300, June 1, 1946 inventory of other peeler logs.
+ 50, Other peeler logs in September, October, and November, 1946, claims for premium

— 200, August 31, 1946 inventory of other peeler logs

150

Since the June 1 figure plus the amount of other peeler logs consumed in September, October, and November is greater than the August 31 figure, 150 represents the "net decrease" in inventory of other peeler logs.

(3) Net change in inventory of peeler logs:

200, "Net increase" in inventory of Douglas fir peeler logs
— 150, "Net decrease" in inventory of other peeler logs

Since the "net increase" in Douglas fir peeler logs is greater than the "net decrease" in other peeler logs, 50 represents the net increase in inventory of peeler logs on which liquidation premiums are payable.

(3) Each plywood company for which a quota has been approved under paragraph (c) shall report the net change in its inventory of peeler logs between June 1 and November 30, 1946, on Section I of form OHE 2–5. This form shall be filed with the Office of the Housing Expediter, Washington 25, D. C., by April 30, 1947.

(m) Rate of liquidation premium. If, under paragraph (l) above, a plywood company had a net increase in peeler log inventory, the plywood company shall be entitled to receive liquidation premiums at a rate computed as follows:

(1) Consumption period. The "consumption period" shall be the period, beginning with December 1, 1946, during which the quantity of peeler logs (in thousand feet logscale) consumed in plywood shipped equals the net increase in peeler log inventory. If this period consists of or ends with a fraction of a month, the company shall include the entire month: Provided, however, That if the company's records enable it to compute plywood shipments and production costs for a fraction of a month, the consumption period may, at the option of the company, consist of or end with such fraction of a month.

Example: If the amount of peeler logs consumed in plywood shipped between December 1, 1946 and January 10, 1947, equals the net increase in peeler log inventory, the consumption period is December 1, 1946 through January 31, 1947. However, if the company has cost and shipment records for a fractional month, it may elect to use the period December 1, 1946 through January 10, 1947, as its consumption period.

If the amount of peeler logs consumed in plywood shipped between December 1, 1946 and April 25, 1947, equals the net increase in peeler log inventory, the consumption period is December 1, 1946 through April 30, 1947. However, if the company has cost and shipment records for a fractional month, it may elect to use the period December 1, 1946 through April 25, 1947, as its consumption period.

(2) Gross increases in sales income. Find the total sales income from the plywood shipped during the consumption period and subtract from this amount the sales income which would have been realized from the same shipments if they had been made at the OPA ceiling prices in effect on November 9, 1946. The result is the "gross increase in sales income."

(3) Increase in allowable costs. Find the production costs of the plywood shipped during the consumption period as if it had been produced in that period, and subtract from this amount the production costs of the same plywood as if it had been produced during October, 1946 (in finding these production costs, exclude the cost of peeler logs delivered at the plant and all general, administrative and selling costs). The result is the "increase in allowable costs."

(4) Net increase in sales income. Subtract the increase in allowable costs from the gross increase in sales income. The result is the "net increase in sales income."

(5) Rate of liquidation premium. Divide the net increase in sales income by the quantity (in thousand feet logscale) of peeler logs consumed in the plywood which was shipped during the consumption period. If the result is $7.50 per thousand feet logscale, or more, the rate of liquidation payment is zero. If it is less, the rate of liquidation premium per thousand feet logscale is the difference between that amount and $7.50.

(n) Computation of amount payable. (1) For each plywood company, the total amount payable as a liquidation premium is the amount obtained by multiplying its net increase in peeler log inventory by the rate found under paragraph (m).

(2) If a plywood company's consumption period extends beyond March 31, 1947, the company, if it desires to claim any liquidation premium, shall file a preliminary claim for the partial period December 1, 1946 through March 31, 1947. The company will then be eligible to receive an advance payment equal to the amount obtained by multiplying the quantity of peeler logs consumed in plywood shipped during such partial period by the rate found for such partial period under paragraph (m). However, at the end of the consumption period, the company shall recompute the rate of liquidation premium based upon the entire period, and file a final claim for the entire period, at which time a final settlement shall be made, taking into account the advance previously made. If a company whose consumption period extends beyond March 31, 1947, fails to file a preliminary claim within the time specified in paragraph (o) of this section, it shall not be eligible to claim or receive any liquidation premiums under this section.

(o) Claims for liquidation premiums. (1) Claims for liquidation premiums shall be filed with the Office of the Housing Expediter, Washington 25, D. C., on section II of form OHE 2–5.

(2) Final claims for a period which ends on or before March 31, 1947, and preliminary claims shall be filed by April 30, 1947. Final claims for a period which ends after March 31, 1947, shall be filed by the end of the month following the month in which the period ends: Provided, however, That no such claims shall be filed after September 30, 1947.

(3) With respect to all claims for liquidation premiums that have not been verified and audited by the Expediter, RFC may require that bond be furnished in form and amount satisfactory to it before making payment thereon.

(p) Recovery or set-off. If, under paragraph (l) above, a plywood company has a net decrease in peeler log inventory, the amount of the decrease shall be recovered or set-off at the rate of $7.50 per thousand feet logscale.

3. Paragraph (q), formerly (k), is amended to read as follows:

(q) Termination. This section shall terminate on March 20, 1947. Such termination shall not preclude the filing of (1) claims accrued on or before November 30, 1946, and (2) claims for liquidation premiums, which shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of this section in the same manner as if it had not been terminated.

Issued and effective this 19th day of March 1947.

FRANK R. CREEDON,
Housing Expediter.

On September 11, 1946, pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (a) (1) of the Administrative Procedure Act (Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 2d Sess.), the National Labor Relations Board separately stated and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER descriptions of its central and field organization, including delegations by the agency of final authority and the established places at which, and methods whereby, the public may secure information or make submittals or requests. The Board subsequently abolished its Eleventh Regional Office (Indianapolis, Indiana) and enlarged the areas serviced by the Ninth (Cincinnati, Ohio) and Thirteenth (Chicago, Illinois) Regional Offices so as to include the areas previously serviced by the Eleventh Region; at the same time, it established a Sub-Regional Office of the Ninth Region at Indianapolis, Indiana. PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-1102]

A. G. ODOM

A. G. Odom of 4416 South Walker Avenue, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, in December 1946, commenced construction of a commercial building designed as a tourist court of 29 units at 201 Southwest 44th Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, after application for authorization to construct same was made to the Civilian Production Administration in August 1946, at a cost of about $45,000, and denied. The beginning and carrying on of this construction constituted a wilfull violation of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1. This violation has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.1102 Suspension Order No. S-1102. (a) Neither A. G. Odom, his successors or assigns, nor any other person, shall do any further construction on the premises located at 201 Southwest 44th Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, including the putting up, alteration or completion of any structure located thereon, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration.

(b) A. G. Odom shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which he may file with the Civilian Production Administration for priorities assistance or for authorization to carry on construction.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve A. G. Odom, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Issued this 21st day of March 1947.

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised General Ration Order 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. The title of Article XIX is amended to read as follows: "Miscellaneous Rules and Prohibitions."

2. A new section 19.2 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 19.2 Interpretations. (a) Any interpretation of the provisions of this order shall be made in accordance with the provisions of sections 22.20 and 22.21 of Third Revised Ration Order 3.

Rationale Accompanying Amendment No. 41 to Third Revised Ration Order 3, Amendment No. 19 to Revised General Ration Order 5, Amendment No. 13 to General Ration Order 8, and Amendment No. 4 to Revised General Ration Order 18

Proposed amendment. These amendments provide a procedure to be followed in rendering official legal interpretations of any of the provisions of Third Revised Ration Order 3, Revised General Ration Order 5, General Ration Order 8 and Revised General Ration Order 18.

Reason for amendment. The members of the public and the field offices of the Office of Price Administration have been confused with respect to the proper procedure for the issuance of official legal interpretations of the various ration orders. In order to clarify this situation with respect to the issuance of authorized legal interpretations, these amendments specifically provide that official legal interpretations may only be made by the Temporary Controls Administrator, the Commissioner in Washington and by responsible members of the legal staff. The procedure set forth in these amendments with respect to the issuance of official rationing interpretations is similar to that provided for in Procedural Regulation 1 with respect to the issuance of official price interpretations.

in rendering official legal interpretations of any of the provisions of Third Revised Ration Order 3, Revised General Ration Order 5, General Ration Order 8 and Revised General Ration Order 18.

Reason for amendment. The members of the public and the field offices of the Office of Price Administration have been confused with respect to the proper procedure for the issuance of official legal interpretations of the various ration orders. In order to clarify this situation with respect to the issuance of authorized legal interpretations, these amendments specifically provide that official legal interpretations may only be made by the Temporary Controls Administrator, the Commissioner in Washington and by responsible members of the legal staff. The procedure set forth in these amendments with respect to the issuance of official rationing interpretations is similar to that provided for in Procedural Regulation 1 with respect to the issuance of official price interpretations.

PART 1334—SUGAR

[MPR 60,[1] Amdt. 9]

DIRECT CONSUMPTION SUGAR

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 60 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Maximum basis prices. The maximum basis prices per bag for the following direct-consumption sugars packed in paper bags, 100 pounds net weight, f. o. b. United States seaboard cane sugar refinery nearest freightwise to the point of delivery, shall be as follows:

(i) For sales of fine granulated cane sugar refined in Continental United States, $6.20.

(ii) For sales of fine granulated beet sugar processed in Continental United States, $8.10.

(iii) For sales of fine granulated cane sugar from off-shore areas, domestic or foreign, duty paid, $6.15.

(iv) For sales of turbinado, washed-white or similar sugar from off-shore areas, domestic or foreign, duty paid, for direct consumption, $5.85.

(v) For sales of plantation granulated sugar processed from United States mainland sugar cane, $6.10.

(vi) For sales of direct-consumption sugars other than those provided for above, in this section, processed from United States mainland sugar cane including but not limited to turbinado, plantation white and high-washed sugars, $6.00.

The prices set forth above shall be for those direct-consumption sugars which have customarily been used by the seller as his basis sugars in determining grade and package differentials, and shall be referred to in this regulation as basis sugars. Differentials for other grades and other containers shall be determined pursuant to section 2 (a) (2) below.

NOTE: The maximum basis prices specified above are subject to the specific additions permitted by sections 2 (e) and 2 (f).

2. Section 2 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

[1] 10 F. R. 14816; 11 F. R. 1434, 3299, 7036, 13254, 13524, 13695; 12 F. R. 391.

(2) Grade and package differentials. (i) The maximum basis prices specified in section 2 (a) (1) above shall be increased for direct-consumption basis sugar packed in containers other than 100 pound paper bags in accordance with the following packaging differentials for such other containers:

Container	Differential (per 100 pounds)
100 pound cotton bag	$0.15
100 pound burlap bag	.15
6 10-pound paper bags (all covers)	.12
12 5-pound paper bags (all covers)	.15
10 10-pound cotton bags (paper cover)	.30
20 5-pound cotton bags (paper cover)	.45
12 5-pound cartons (all covers)	.35
25 2-pound cartons (all covers)	.35
1 pound cartons (all covers)	.65

Differentials for other containers shall be determined pursuant to section 2 (a) (2) (ii) below.

(ii) To determine a packaging differential for direct-consumption basis sugar packed in a container other than a 100 pound paper bag or one listed above in section 2 (a) (2) (i), the seller shall: First, determine the listed container which he sells which is most closely comparable to the one for which a differential is to be established. The most closely comparable container means the container listed above in section 2 (a) (2) (i) which is of the same basic material as, and is closest in size to, the container being priced, or, if there is none of the same basic material, then the one closest in size to the container being priced.

He shall then determine his current direct packaging costs per one hundred pounds of both containers. Current direct packaging costs shall include only the costs of direct labor and direct material.

If the direct packaging costs of the container being priced hereunder are greater than those of the most closely comparable container listed, the seller shall add the amount of the difference to the differential specified for the most closely comparable container listed. If the direct packaging costs of the container being priced hereunder are less than those of the most closely comparable container listed, the seller shall subtract the amount of the difference from the differential specified for the most closely comparable container listed. The resulting figure shall be rounded to the nearest half-cent and shall be the seller's differential for the container being priced. This differential, with supporting data showing how it was determined, shall be reported to the Price Branch, Sugar Department, Office of Price Administration, Office of Temporary Controls, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after it is established.

(iii) Maximum prices for sales of grades of direct-consumption sugars other than the direct-consumption basis sugars shall be determined by adjusting the applicable maximum basis price set forth in section 2 (a) (1) above for package and grade differentials in accordance with the seller's differentials therefor published or in effect on December 1, 1941.

(iv) Maximum prices for sales of direct-consumption sugar, other than direct-consumption basis sugar, by a primary distributor for grades and packages for which he cannot determine a maximum price pursuant to section 2 (a) (2) (iii) above and for which there is no maximum price in effect on March 20, 1947, shall be as follows, Provided, however, That nothing contained herein shall be deemed to modify any order issued under, or any provision of, this regulation in effect on March 20, 1947 establishing a maximum price for such grades and packages as of that date.

(a) Maximum prices for sales to any Procurement Agency of the United States Government where the grade sold to such procurement agency is identical with one previously produced by the selling primary distributor, but where the packaging is different, shall be determined pursuant to the provisions of Supplementary Order 106 issued by the Office of Price Administration. Where the grade is not identical with one previously produced by the selling primary distributor, he shall determine his maximum price per 100 pounds net weight for such new grade and package by adding to his maximum price per 100 pounds net weight for direct-consumption basis sugar packed in 100 pound paper bags, the difference in direct cost per 100 pounds net weight between manufacturing and packaging the new item and manufacturing and packaging the direct-consumption basis sugar in 100 pound paper bags. Each maximum price determined under the foregoing provisions shall be reported, with a detailed explanation of costs, to the Price Branch, Sugar Department, Office of Price Administration, Office of Temporary Controls, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after the first delivery.

(b) Maximum prices for sales of a new grade or new package for civilian consumption, which is identical in grade, net weight and packaging material with that of any other primary distributor, shall be determined by adjusting the selling primary distributor's maximum basis price by the use of the same differential properly established on that date by the primary distributor located nearest freightwise to him with such differential.

If the new grade or package to be sold for civilian consumption is not so identical with that produced by another primary distributor he shall obtain a maximum price for it by application to the Price Branch, Sugar Department, Office of Price Administration, Office of Temporary Controls, Washington 25, D. C., in which he shall give full data, with a description of grade and package, detailed production and selling cost differences per 100 pounds net weight, f. o. b. refinery, between the new grade and package and the direct-consumption basis sugar packed in 100 pound paper bags at the date of application, and corresponding figures for his most nearly like grades and packages figured currently and as of December 1, 1941, together with a request for a specific differential. On the basis of this information, the Administrator may issue an order establishing a differential for the new grade or package proportionately in line with existing differentials. After filing the application and pending authorization, sales may be made (1) on open billing, or (2) on pro forma collection price based on the requested differential with an agreement for refund to the purchaser of such sum as this price may exceed the maximum price when duly established.

3. Section 16 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 16 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business or stock in trade of a seller subject to this regulation is sold or otherwise transferred on or after March 21, 1947, and the transferee continues the business, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those which the transferor would have been subject to if no transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify these prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or shall turn over to the transferee, all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions contained in this regulation.

This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. March 21, 1947.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 21st day of March 1947.

PHILIP B. FLEMING,
Temporary Controls Administrator.

Approved: March 19, 1947.

CLINTON P. ANDERSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Statement of the Considerations Involved in the Issuance of Amendment No. 9 to Maximum Price Regulation 60

The accompanying amendment establishes specific dollars and cents differentials over basis prices for certain packages of direct consumption sugar and also establishes the 100 pound paper bag as the uniform basis package for all sellers. Sugar sold in these packages accounts for over 90 percent of all direct consumption sugar sold in the United States. For packages of basis direct consumption sugars for which no differentials are established, a formula, which will result in differentials in line with those specifically formulated, is provided. No change has been made, however, in the differentials for various grades of these basis sugars, such as confectioners, powdered, brown, tablet, etc.

Prior to this action, one basis price applied to all sellers, but each seller was required to use the same basis package and the same packaging differential which he himself had established on December 1, 1941. In general, it had been customary for the packaging differentials applied by each seller to approximate the excess packaging cost involved in packing sugar in a particular package. While the actual differentials used varied from the amount of excess cost because of competitive reasons, on the whole there was a demonstrably close relationship between average differential and average excess packaging cost. Thus the application of the "freeze" technique at the inception of MPR 60 froze the differentials at levels definitely representative of the normal business custom.

However, unequal changes in packaging costs, more especially the unequal changes in the cost of packaging materials such as paper and cotton resulted in these frozen differentials no longer having any direct relationship to costs of packaging, nor being representative of normal business practice. As a result of almost universal complaints by members of the industry, this action was instituted to remove the existing inequities and maladjustments.

Dollars and cents differentials, more closely approximating packaging costs, have been established for the predominant packages and the 100 pound paper bag has been established as the basis package. In order to establish uniform differentials it was necessary for all sellers to have a uniform basis package. Prior hereto, since the regulation was silent as to the basis package each seller was frozen to his December 1, 1941 basis. As a result, sellers on the Pacific coast used the 100 pound paper bag, adding a differential when selling in cotton, whereas other sellers were required to use the 100 pound cotton bag deducting a differential when selling in paper.

It was found that under normal conditions the basis bag was the one in which the largest amount of sugar is packed. In 1941 this was predominantly the 100 pound cotton bag, except on the Pacific coast. Since that time the use of cotton has greatly decreased and the 100 pound paper bag has become predominant. Since it is apparent that in the increasing importance of the paper bag would have resulted in its becoming the basis bag, the Administrator has deemed it advisable to so provide in this action.

The establishment of the paper bag as the basis without changing the basis price results in a slight increase in price for those sellers formerly on a cotton basis. However, after careful consideration of all alternatives it was found to be neither administratively feasible nor desirable to alter the basis price at this time.

This action is taken pursuant to the Administrator's authority to make such adjustments in existing price controls as are necessary to correct maladjustments or inequities that would interfere with the effective transition to a peacetime economy. The establishment of a uniform paper basis and of uniform packaging differentials, applicable to all primary producers and in all selling territories, will eliminate a price maladjustment that presently exists.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[3d Rev. RO 3,[1] Amdt. 41]

SUGAR

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Third Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respects:

New sections 22.20 and 22.21 are added to Article XXII of Third Revised Ration Order 3 to read as follows:

SEC. 22.20 Interpretations. An interpretation rendered by an officer or employee of the Office of Price Administration with respect to any provision of this order or of General Ration Order 8 of Revised General Ration Order 5 or of Revised General Ration Order 18 or of any order, requirement, or agreement thereunder, will be regarded by the Office of Price Administration as official only if such interpretation was requested and issued in accordance with section 22.21 of this order. Action taken in reliance upon and in conformity with an official interpretation and prior to any revocation or modification thereof or to any superseding thereof by order or amendment, shall constitute action in good faith pursuant to the order, requirement or agreement to which such official interpretation relates. An official interpretation shall be applicable only with respect to the particular person to whom, and to the particular factual situation with respect to which, it is rendered, unless announced as an interpretation of general application.

SEC. 22.21 Requirements governing interpretations—(a) Requests for interpretations; form and contents. Any person desiring an official interpretation of any sugar rationing regulation, order, requirement or agreement thereunder shall request it in writing from the nearest Sugar Branch Office of the Office of Price Administration. Such request shall set forth in full the factual situation out of which the interpretative question arises and shall, so far as practicable, state the names and post office addresses of the persons involved. If the inquirer has previously requested an interpretation on the same or substantially the same facts, his request shall so indicate and shall name the official or office to whom his previous request was addressed. If the interpretation will affect operations of establishments located in more than one state, the request shall name the states in which the establishments are located. No interpretation shall be requested or given with respect to any hypothetical situation or in response to any hypothetical question.

(b) Interpretations to be written; authorized officials. With respect to sugar, official interpretations shall be made only in writing, and shall be signed by the Temporary Controls Administrator or by one of the following officers of the Office of Price Administration: The Commissioner, the General Counsel, an Associate or Assistant General Counsel of the Sugar Department, any Legal Branch Chief of the Sugar Department, or any Regional Sugar Attorney.

(c) Revocation or modification of interpretation. Any official interpretation, whether of general application or otherwise, may be revoked or modified by any official authorized to announce such interpretations of general application or by a statement or notice by the Commissioner or General Counsel of the Office of Price Administration. An official interpretation addressed to a particular person may also be revoked or modified at any time by a statement in writing mailed to such person and signed by an Associate or Assistant General Counsel, or by any Legal Branch Chief of the Sugar Department. An official interpretation addressed to a particular person by a Regional Sugar Attorney may also be revoked or modified at any time by a written statement mailed to such person and signed by the attorney, who issued it, or his successor.

(d) This section is applicable not only to Third Revised Ration Order 3, but also to General Ration Order 8, Revised General Ration Order 18, Revised General Ration Order 5 and to any other ration order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

This amendment shall become effective March 24, 1947.

PHILIP B. FLEMING,
Temporary Controls Administrator.

Rationale Accompanying Amendment No. 41 to Third Revised Ration Order 3, Amendment No. 19 to Revised General Ration Order 5, Amendment No. 13 to General Ration Order 8, and Amendment No. 4 to Revised General Ration Order 18

Proposed amendment. These amendments provide a procedure to be followed in rendering official legal interpretations of any of the provisions of Third Revised Ration Order 3, Revised General Ration Order 5, General Ration Order 8 and Revised General Ration Order 18.

Reason for amendment. The members of the public and the field offices of the Office of Price Administration have been confused with respect to the proper procedure for the issuance of official legal interpretations of the various ration orders. In order to clarify this situation with respect to the issuance of authorized legal interpretations, these amendments specifically provide that official legal interpretations may only be made by the Temporary Controls Administrator, the Commissioner in Washington and by responsible members of the legal staff. The procedure set forth in these amendments with respect to the issuance of official rationing interpretations is similar to that provided for in Procedural Regulation 1 with respect to the issuance of official price interpretations.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

PERIODIC PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR MEDICAL CERTIFICATES FOR PILOTS

Section 21.400 of the Civil Air Regulations provides that the holder of an airline transport pilot rating shall not pilot aircraft in flight unless he has met the physical requirements prescribed for such rating within the preceding 6 calendar months. Such a requirement may be interpreted that the holder of such a rating would not be permitted to fly any aircraft unless he has met the physical requirements within the preceding 6 calendar months. Pilots holding a higher pilot rating should be permitted the privilege of performing operations requiring a lower pilot rating. Therefore it is proposed to specifically provide that medical certificates appropriate to the higher pilot ratings will be permitted the privileges of medical certificates appropriate to lower pilot ratings during the period for which they are effective.

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act the Safety Bureau of the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby gives notice that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments to Parts 21 and 43 of the Civil Air Regulations as follows:

1. By amending § 21.400 to read as follows:

§ 21.400 Periodic physical examination. A certificated airline transport pilot shall not pilot an aircraft in operations for which he is required to possess an airline transport pilot rating unless, within the preceding 6 calendar months, he has met the physical requirements of this part by passing an examination given by an authorized airline medical examiner of the Administrator.

2. By amending § 43.402 to read as follows:

§ 43.402 Medical certificate and renewal. No person shall pilot an aircraft under authority of a pilot certificate issued by the Administrator, unless he has in his personal possession while piloting aircraft a medical certificate or other evidence satisfactory to the Administrator showing that he has met the physical requirements appropriate to his rating within the following time limits:

(a) Student or private pilot: 24 calendar months.

(b) Commercial pilot: 12 calendar months or 24 calendar months for operations requiring only a private pilot rating.

(c) Airline transport pilot: 6 calendar months, or 12 calendar months for operations requiring only a commercial pilot rating, or 24 calendar months for operations requiring only a private pilot rating.

These regulations are proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

It is the desire of the Bureau that those interested offer suggestions and comments regarding the proposed amendments. Comments in writing should be addressed to the Safety Bureau, Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington 25, D. C., for receipt within 30 days from the date of this public notice.

TENNESSEE GAS AND TRANSMISSION CO.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

Upon consideration of the application filed on September 23, 1946, in Docket No. G-780, by Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company (Applicant), a Tennessee corporation with its principal place of business at Houston, Texas, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize Applicant to construct and operate the following described natural-gas pipeline facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission:

A 12¾-inch O. D. pipeline approximately 7.1 miles in length and extending from a point of connection with Applicant's dehydration facilities at its existing Compressor Station No. 2 in Wharton County, Texas, to a point in the Chesterville Field designated as W. Thompson Survey, Section 16, Abstract No. 708, Colorado County, Texas.

It appearing to the Commission that:

CONSENT ORDER

Minot K. Milliken of 76 Marlboro Street, Boston, Massachusetts, was authorized by the Federal Housing Administration on June 17, 1946, to excavate, prepare foundations, and to use lumber on hand to start construction of an all-year-round house at Hulls Cove, Maine, at an estimated cost of $5,000. By January 30, 1947, over $40,000 had been expended, of which about $25,000 had been incorporated in the house and about $6,000 had been expended in clearing, blasting, excavating, road work and ditching, the balance representing materials purchased and on hand. Ralph L. White of Hulls Cave, Maine, is the contractor, and Rolf W. Bauhan of Princeton, New Jersey, is the architect who filed the application with the Federal Housing Administration and supervised the project. Construction on this project to an extent substantially in excess of the work and cost originally authorized, constituted a violation of Order VHP-1.

Minot K. Milliken, Ralph L. White, and Rolf W. Bauhan admit the violation as charged and allege that it resulted from a misunderstanding and deny that it was willful, and consent to the issuance of this order.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Minot K. Milliken, Ralph L. White, and Rolf W. Bauhan, the Regional Compliance Director, and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) Neither Minot K. Milliken, Ralph L. White, nor Rolf W. Bauhan, their successors or assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on the project owned by Minot K. Milliken located at Hulls Cove, Maine, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration and the Federal Housing Administration.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) above shall not apply to work specifically authorized by the Civilian Production Administration under Serial No. 1-3-964, dated February 25, 1947 to prevent deterioration of materials already incorporated into the structure

(c) Minot K. Milliken, Ralph L. White, and Rolf W. Bauhan shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which they may file with the Civilian Production Administration or any other federal agency to do any further construction on this project.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Minot K. Milliken, Ralph L. White, and Rolf W. Bauhan, their successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on the date of issuance.

AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 17th day of March A. D. 1947.

American Gas and Electric Company (American Gas), a registered holding company, having filed an application pursuant to section 2 (a) (8) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for an order declaring it not to be a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company (Bond and Share), also a registered holding company; and

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9835

PRESCRIBING PROCEDURES FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF AN EMPLOYEES LOYALTY PROGRAM IN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT

WHEREAS each employee of the Government of the United States is endowed with a measure of trusteeship over the democratic processes which are the heart and sinew of the United States; and

WHEREAS it is of vital importance that persons employed in the Federal service be of complete and unswerving loyalty to the United States; and

b. Investigations of persons other than those entering the competitive service shall be conducted by the employing department or agency. Departments and agencies without investigative organizations shall utilize the investigative facilities of the Civil Service Commission.

positions, as may be designated by the head of the employing department or agency, such designations to be based on the determination by any such head of the best interests of national security.

PART II—INVESTIGATION OF EMPLOYEES

1. The head of each department and agency in the executive branch of the Government shall be personally responsible for an effective program to assure that disloyal civilian officers or employees are not retained in employment in his department or agency.

a. He shall be responsible for prescribing and supervising the loyalty determination procedures of his department or agency, in accordance with the provisions of this order, which shall be considered as providing minimum requirements.

b. The head of a department or agency which does not have an investigative organization shall utilize the investigative facilities of the Civil Service Commission.

2. The head of each department and agency shall appoint one or more loyalty boards, each composed of not less than three representatives of the department or agency concerned, for the purpose of hearing loyalty cases arising within such department or agency and making recommendations with respect to the removal of any officer or employee of such department or agency on grounds relating to loyalty, and he shall prescribe regulations for the conduct of the proceedings before such boards.

a. An officer or employee who is charged with being disloyal shall have a right to an administrative hearing before a loyalty board in the employing department or agency. He may appear before such board personally, accompanied by counsel or representative of his own choosing, and present evidence on his own behalf, through witnesses or by affidavit.

b. The officer or employee shall be served with a written notice of such hearing in sufficient time, and shall be informed therein of the nature of the charges against him in sufficient detail, so that he will be enabled to prepare his defense. The charges shall be stated as specifically and completely as, in the discretion of the employing department or agency, security considerations permit, and the officer or employee shall be informed in the notice (1) of his right to reply to such charges in writing within a specified reasonable period of time, (2) of his right to an administrative hearing on such charges before a loyalty board, and (3) of his right to appear before such board personally, to be accompanied by counsel or representative of his own choosing, and to present evidence on his behalf, through witness or by affidavit.

3. A recommendation of removal by a loyalty board shall be subject to appeal by the officer or employee affected, prior to his removal, to the head of the employing department or agency or to such person or persons as may be designated by such head, under such regulations as may be prescribed by him, and the decision of the department or agency concerned shall be subject to appeal to the Civil Service Commission's Loyalty Review Board, hereinafter provided for, for an advisory recommendation.

4. The rights of hearing, notice thereof, and appeal therefrom shall be accorded to every officer or employee prior to his removal on grounds of disloyalty, irrespective of tenure, or of manner, method, or nature of appointment, but the head of the employing department or agency may suspend any officer or employee at any time pending a determination with respect to loyalty.

5. The loyalty boards of the various departments and agencies shall furnish to the Loyalty Review Board, hereinafter provided for, such reports as may be requested concerning the operation of the loyalty program in any such department or agency.

PART III—RESPONSIBILITIES OF CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

1. There shall be established in the Civil Service Commission a Loyalty Review Board of not less than three impartial persons, the members of which shall be officers or employees of the Commission.

a. The Board shall have authority to review cases involving persons recommended for dismissal on grounds relating to loyalty by the loyalty board of any department or agency and to make advisory recommendations thereon to the head of the employing department or agency. Such cases may be referred to the Board either by the employing department or agency, or by the officer or employee concerned.

b. The Board shall make rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this order, deemed necessary to implement statutes and Executive orders relating to employee loyalty.

c. The Loyalty Review Board shall also:

(1) Advise all departments and agencies on all problems relating to employee loyalty.

(2) Disseminate information pertinent to employee loyalty programs.

(3) Coordinate the employee loyalty policies and procedures of the several departments and agencies.

(4) Make reports and submit recommendations to the Civil Service Commission for transmission to the President from time to time as may be necessary to the maintenance of the employee loyalty program.

2. There shall also be established and maintained in the Civil Service Commission a central master index covering all persons on whom loyalty investigations have been made by any department or agency since September 1, 1939. Such master index shall contain the name of each person investigated, adequate identifying information concerning each such person, and a reference to each department and agency which has conducted a loyalty investigation concerning the person involved.

a. All executive departments and agencies are directed to furnish to the Civil Service Commission all information appropriate for the establishment and maintenance of the central master index.

b. The reports and other investigative material and information developed by the investigating department or agency shall be retained by such department or agency in each case.

3. The Loyalty Review Board shall currently be furnished by the Department of Justice the name of each foreign or domestic organization, association, movement, group or combination of persons which the Attorney General, after appropriate investigation and determination, designates as totalitarian, fascist, communist or subversive, or as having adopted a policy of advocating or approving the commission of acts of force or violence to deny others their rights under the Constitution of the United States, or as seeking to alter the form of government of the United States by unconstitutional means.

a. The Loyalty Review Board shall disseminate such information to all departments and agencies.

PART IV—SECURITY MEASURES IN INVESTIGATIONS

1. At the request of the head of any department or agency of the executive branch an investigative agency shall make available to such head, personally, all investigative material and information collected by the investigative agency concerning any employee or prospective employee of the requesting department or agency, or shall make such material and information available to any officer or officers designated by such head and approved by the investigative agency.

2. Notwithstanding the foregoing requirement, however, the investigative agency may refuse to disclose the names of confidential informants, provided it furnishes sufficient information about such informants on the basis of which the requesting department or agency can make an adequate evaluation of the information furnished by them, and provided it advises the requesting department or agency in writing that it is essential to the protection of the informants or to the investigation of other cases that the identity of the informants not be revealed. Investigative agencies shall not use this discretion to decline to reveal sources of information where such action is not essential.

3. Each department and agency of the executive branch should develop and maintain, for the collection and analysis of information relating to the loyalty of its employees and prospective employees, a staff specially trained in security techniques, and an effective security control system for protecting such information generally and for protecting confidential sources of such information particularly.

PART V—STANDARDS

1. The standard for the refusal of employment or the removal from employment in an executive department or agency on grounds relating to loyalty shall be that, on all the evidence, reasonable grounds exist for belief that the person involved is disloyal to the Government of the United States.

2. Activities and associations of an applicant or employee which may be considered in connection with the determination of disloyalty may include one or more of the following:

a. Sabotage, espionage, or attempts or preparations therefor, or knowingly associating with spies or saboteurs;

b. Treason or sedition or advocacy thereof;

c. Advocacy of revolution or force or violence to alter the constitutional form of government of the United States;

d. Intentional, unauthorized disclosure to any person, under circumstances which may indicate disloyalty to the United States, of documents or information of a confidential or non-public character obtained by the person making the disclosure as a result of his employment by the Government of the United States;

e. Performing or attempting to perform his duties, or otherwise acting, so as to serve the interests of another government in preference to the interests of the United States.

f. Membership in, affiliation with or sympathetic association with any foreign or domestic organization, association, movement, group or combination of persons, designated by the Attorney General as totalitarian, fascist, communist, or subversive, or as having adopted a policy of advocating or approving the commission of acts of force or violence to deny other persons their rights under the Constitution of the United States, or as seeking to alter the form of government of the United States by unconstitutional means.

PART VI—MISCELLANEOUS

1. Each department and agency of the executive branch, to the extent that it has not already done so, shall submit, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, either directly or through the Civil Service Commission, the names (and such other necessary identifying material as the Federal Bureau of Investigation may require) of all of its incumbent employees.

a. The Federal Bureau of Investigation shall check such names against its records of persons concerning whom there is substantial evidence of being within the purview of paragraph 2 of Part V hereof, and shall notify each department and agency of such information.

b. Upon receipt of the above-mentioned information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, each department and agency shall make, or cause to be made by the Civil Service Commission, such investigation of those employees as the head of the department or agency shall deem advisable.

2. The Security Advisory Board of the State-War-Navy Coordinating Committee shall draft rules applicable to the handling and transmission of confidential documents and other documents and information which should not be publicly disclosed, and upon approval by the President such rules shall constitute the minimum standards for the handling and transmission of such documents and information, and shall be applicable to all departments and agencies of the executive branch.

3. The provisions of this order shall not be applicable to persons summarily removed under the provisions of section 3 of the act of December 17, 1942, 55 Stat. 1053, of the act of July 5, 1946, 60 Stat. 453, or of any other statute conferring the power of summary removal.

4. The Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, and the Secretary of the Treasury with respect to the Coast Guard, are hereby directed to continue to enforce and maintain the highest standards of loyalty within the armed services, pursuant to the applicable statutes, the Articles of War, and the Articles for the Government of the Navy.

5. This order shall be effective immediately, but compliance with such of its provisions as require the expenditure of funds shall be deferred pending the appropriation of such funds.

6. Executive Order No. 9300 of February 5, 1943, is hereby revoked.

PART 805—PREMIUM PAYMENTS REGULATIONS UNDER VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING ACT OF 1946

ESTABLISHMENT OF QUOTA AND COMPUTATION OF CLAIMS BY PRODUCER WHO HAS NO PRODUCTION RECORDS (PARAGRAPHS (B) AND (C))

If a producer has no production records for each of the months which are to be used, pursuant to paragraph (c) of EPPR-1 in determining plant quota, then he may determine monthly production for purposes of quota by deducting his inventory at the beginning of each such month from the total of his sales during said month and his inventory at the end of said month. Issued this 27th day of February 1947.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised General Ration Order 5 is amended in the following respect:

1. Section 9.3 is amended by adding a paragraph (b) to read as follows:

(b) All coupons to be issued to institutional users who apply for allotments on OPA Form R-1309 shall be issued in multiples of five. If the amount to be issued is not a multiple of five, such amount shall be raised to the next multiple of five. (Thus, if the allotment for the institutional user who is to receive coupons is for 56 pounds, coupons for 60 pounds shall be issued.)

This amendment shall become effective March 29, 1947.

PHILIP B. FLEMING,
Temporary Controls Administrator.

Rationale Accompanying Amendment No. 18 to Revised General Ration Order 5

Present regulations. When the allotment of an institutional user, who is authorized to receive coupons, is for an amount which is not a multiple of ten, the Regional Issuance Unit must detach the correct number of one pound ration coupons from a coupon sheet in order to complete the issuance for the correct amount of the allotment.

Proposed amendment. This amendment provides that coupons to be issued to institutional users who apply for allotments on OPA Form R-1309 shall be issued in multiples of five. If the amount to be issued is not a multiple of five, such amount shall be raised to the next multiple of five.

Reason for amendment. The mechanical operation involved in the issuance of coupons will be simplified and the time necessary for such operation will be reduced by permitting Regional Issuance Units to detach five one-pound ration coupons at a time instead of an odd number of one-pound coupons when coupon issuances are made to institutional users who apply for their allotments on OPA Form R-1309.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, War Department

PART 206—FISHING AND HUNTING REGULATIONS

COASTAL WATERS OF ALASKA AND NAVIGABLE WATERS TRIBUTARY THERETO

Pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of the River and Harbor Act of March 3, 1899 (30 Stat. 1151; 33 U. S. C. 403), § 206.95 is amended as follows:

§ 206.95 Coastal waters of Alaska and navigable waters tributary thereto, fishing—(a) The regulations. (1) Subject to the provisions of the regulations in this section the placing and maintenance of fishing structures having been recommended by the Chief of Engineers is authorized by the Secretary of War in the Coastal waters of Alaska and navigable waters tributary thereto: Provided, That no such structure shall be erected until a permit therefor, in accordance with the conditions herein specified, shall have been issued by the District Engineer, Corps of Engineers, in charge of the coasts and waters within which said structure is located; and the District Engineer is hereby charged with the duty of supervising the enforcement of the spirit and letter of the law and the regulations in this section.

(2) Any person desiring to place and operate fish traps, weirs, or pounds in the waters herein described shall make application, in the manner prescribed in the attached form, to the District Engineer. A separate application shall be submitted for each structure proposed.

(3) Permits will be issued for a period of not to exceed five years and, if not previously revoked or specifically extended, will expire on December 31 of the fourth year subsequent to the year of issuance. Successive extensions of time not exceeding five years each will be granted if there has been no change in attendant circumstances.

(4) In case of receipt of more than one application for the same site a permit will be issued for each application.

(5) Each applicant for a permit must furnish with his application evidence satisfactory to the District Engineer that proper license has been granted by the Territory of Alaska. The application must be accompanied by a tracing and two prints of a map showing the plan and location of the proposed structure. The application shall further state the number of old piles, if any, standing on the site for which application is made and whether they were placed by applicant's order or by a former permittee.

(6) No permit will be issued for the erection and maintenance of any structure that is within 1,500 feet of any navigation aid, except with concurrence of the United States Coast Guard.

(7) No permit will be issued to any applicant until he has removed, to the satisfaction of the District Engineer, all piles or other obstructions to navigation for which the applicant has a whole or joint responsibility, and which are unfit for further use for fishing purposes: Provided, That if the structure for which application is made is to be placed on the location of an old structure, serviceable piles left standing on that location need not be removed if the District Engineer consents to their use in the new structure.

(b) Conditions. Every permit issued will be subject to the following conditions:

(1) That this authority does not give any property rights either in real estate or material, or any exclusive privileges; and its does not authorize any injury to private property or invasion of private rights, or any infringement of Federal, State, Territorial, or local laws or regulations, nor does it obviate the necessity of obtaining any required Territorial assent to the work authorized. It merely expresses the assent of the Federal Government so far as concerns the public rights of navigation. (See Cummings v. Chicago, 188 U. S. 410.) Issuance of a War Department permit does not authorize the operation of a fish trap, as operation of the trap is controlled by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

(2) That the work herein authorized—both construction and maintenance—shall be subject to the supervision and approval of, and all apparatus to inspection by, the District Engineer, Corps of Engineers, in charge of the locality, who is charged with the duty of supervising the enforcement of the law and the regulations, and who may temporarily suspend any or all classes of the work at any time, if, in his judgment, the interests of navigation so require.

(3) Unless prior advice is received, it will be assumed that the structure authorized by permit will be complete and ready for inspection on the opening date of the fishing season as set by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. If it is later determined that additional time is required to accomplish this completion, information as to the adjustment date shall be given to the District Engineer by the quickest available means. Failure to have the structure ready for inspection upon the date last set for its completion will render the permittee liable for payment to the Government of any additional costs incurred thereby, up to a maximum of $100.00: Provided, however, That if such failure of completion on the date stipulated is due to adverse weather conditions or other causes outside the control of the permittee, and supporting evidence satisfactory to the District Engineer is submitted, a waiver of such penalty may be made.

(4) That no floating fish trap having a depth of water of 100 feet or less at its outer end shall exceed 2,400 feet in over-all length. However, a floating fish trap may be constructed and operated in more than 100 feet of water at its outer end, Provided, That its over-all length, measured from the shoreline at mean high tide, does not exceed the maximum length for such structure specified in any Federal statute or regulation, And provided further, That in no such case shall the over-all length exceed 1,000 feet where the depth of water exceeds 100 feet. Depths specified above refer to mean high tide according to the tide tables published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.

(5) That the permittee shall give 10 days' advance notice of any proposed change of location, voluntary transfer, or abandonment of the structure hereby authorized. None of the above changes shall be made prior to surrender of this permit to the District Engineer and the formal approval of the change by him. Request for transfer shall contain evidence of the assumption of all responsibilities under the permit by the transferee. This permit, upon the death or mental incapacitation of the permittee, may follow the legal heirs or guardian as determined by the court.

(6) That the permittee shall promptly notify the District Engineer in writing of the date on which his weir, trap, or pound is in place, and shall also notify him promptly in writing of the date of its removal, or destruction by natural causes or otherwise. Failure to report promptly the placement of such a structure will be regarded as evidence that the structure was not placed. If a change in type or dimensions of the structure is proposed, revised plans must be submitted to the District Engineer for his prior approval.

(7) That within 20 days after the date of this permit, the permittee shall deposit with the District Engineer a bond in the penal sum of $500 for any fishing structure, except a hand trap or floating trap, hereby authorized, so drawn as to insure compliance with these conditions. The bond must be assured by one of the approved surety companies listed with the War Department, Washington, D. C. The form of the bond will be that furnished by the District Engineer. No work of construction hereby authorized shall be commenced until after such bond shall have been delivered to, and accepted by, the District Engineer: Provided, That the District Engineer, with the approval of the Division Engineer, may waive the requirement of a bond when the location of the applicant is so remote from a bonding agency that, in the opinion of the District Engineer, such action is justified. Such waiver will, however, not relieve the permittee from any obligations under his permit, and no subsequent permit will be granted to him until he has reimbursed the Government for any expenses incurred in enforcing these conditions. It is further provided, That fishing structures owned or operated by Indians enjoying special rights granted by the Government are exempted from the requirements of a bond and other conditions conflicting with such special rights.

(17) If the structure herein authorized is not driven or placed each season this permit shall be subject to cancellation: Provided, That if the District Engineer finds that inability to do the work was due to adverse weather conditions or other causes outside the control of the permittee, cancellation may be waived by the District Engineer.

(18) That this authority is revocable at will by the Secretary of War, and unless previously revoked or specifically extended by him shall cease and be null and void December 31, 19__ (fourth year subsequent to year of issuance).

The jurisdiction over and use of such lands granted to the War Department by Executive Order No. 9029 shall cease upon the date of the signing of this order. Thereupon, the jurisdiction over and administration of such lands shall be vested in the Department of the Interior and any other Department or agency of the Federal Government according to their respective interests then of record.

At that time the lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(c) Date for non-preference right filings authorized by the public-land laws. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on August 18, 1947, any of the lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, or selection by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws.

(d) Twenty-day advance period for simultaneous non-preference right filings. Applications by the general public may be presented during the 20-day period from July 29, 1947, to August 18, 1947, inclusive, and all such applications, together with those presented at 10:00 a. m. on August 18, 1947, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

Veterans shall accompany their applications with certified copies of their certificates of discharge, or other satisfactory evidence of their military or naval service. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated affidavits in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

§ 9.152 Station records in the aeronautical public service. All stations licensed in the aeronautical public service shall keep a file of all record communications handled and all ground stations so licensed shall keep a record of radiotelephone contacts either in the form of telephone traffic tickets or as a separate list. All such records shall be retained as provided in Part 42 of this chapter.

§ 9.153 Required retention period. The logs in the aeronautical service may be destroyed after a period of 30 days except:

(a) That logs involving communications incident to a disaster or which include communications incident to, or involved in, an investigation by the Commission and concerning which the licensee has knowledge, shall be retained by the licensee until specifically authorized in writing by the Commission to destroy them.

(b) That logs incident to or involved in any claim or complaint or which the licensee has knowledge shall be retained by the licensee until such claim or complaint has been fully satisfied or until the same has been barred by statute limiting the time for the filing of suits upon such claims.

§ 9.154 Logs, by whom kept. An entry or entries in the log of each station shall be signed or initialed by a person having actual knowledge of the facts recorded.

§ 9.155 Log forms. The logs shall be kept in an orderly manner, and in such detail that the data required are readily available. Key letters or abbreviations may be used if proper meaning or explanation is set forth in the log or in a communication manual available at the station. Recordings may be used in lieu of written logs provided there is associated with each recording a statement indicating the station and period covered over the signature of a person having knowledge of the facts recorded.

§ 9.156 Correction of log. No log or portion thereof shall be erased, obliterated, or wilfully destroyed within the required retention period. Any necessary correction may be made only by the person originating the entry who shall indicate the erroneous portion, initial the correction made, and indicate the date of correction.

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

§ 9.171 Installation and operation of transmitting equipment. The transmitter shall be so installed and protected that it is not accessible to other than duly authorized persons. The radiations of the transmitter shall be suspended immediately when there is a deviation from the terms of the station license.

§ 9.172 Frequency stability.[1] The carrier frequency of stations in the aeronautical service shall be maintained within the following percentage of the assigned frequency:

	Before Jan. 1, 1950	After Jan. 1, 1950
All aircraft stations on frequencies above 500 kc	Percent 0.02	Percent 0.01
All ground stations on frequencies above 500 kc	.01	.01
All stations on frequencies of 500 kc or below	.02	.02

[1] All new equipment shall meet this requirement. All existing equipment operating on frequencies below 30,000 kilocycles shall meet this requirement if this tolerance can be met by crystal change alone.

§ 9.173 Frequency measurements. (a) The assigned frequencies of all stations in the aeronautical service shall be measured (1) when the transmitter is initially installed, (2) at any time the frequency determining elements are changed, and (3) at any time the licensee may have reason to believe the frequency has shifted beyond the tolerance specified by the Commission's rules in § 9.172.

(b) Each frequency measurement shall be recorded in the station's records by a statement signed by the person making the measurement and showing the deviation above or below the assigned frequency in cycles per second or percentage of deviation plus or minus the assigned frequency. A statement showing that an automatic frequency monitor was in service during any period shall be deemed to meet the above requirement for such period.

[1] These tolerance requirements are obviously not applicable to certain devices such as altimeters and various radar equipments which are now operating on an experimental basis to determine their value, design and frequency requirements. Pending decision on the final status of such equipment and the modification of the Commission's rules to meet their needs, tolerance requirements will be specified on the licenses under which such devices operate.

§ 9.174 Power. The power which may be authorized to a station in the aeronautical service shall be not more than the minimum required for satisfactory technical operation.

§ 9.175 Types of emission. Stations in the aeronautical service may be authorized to use type A1, A2, A3 and special emission, as may be appropriate. Special emission includes all types not provided for by existing international regulations such as all types of FM, pulse transmission and frequency shift keying.

§9.176 Modulation and band width. The carrier shall be modulated to a sufficiently high degree to provide effective communication, but in no case shall modulation result in objectionable emission of energy outside the authorized communication band.

§ 9.177 Inspection of tower lights and associated control equipment. The licensee of any station in the aeronautical service which has an antenna or antenna supporting structure required to be illuminated pursuant to the provisions of section 303 (q) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (48 Stat. 1083, as amended):

(a) Shall make a daily check of the tower lights either by visual observation of the tower lights or by observation of an automatic indicator of proper or improper operation to insure that all such lights are functioning properly as required.

(b) Shall report immediately by telephone or telegraph to the nearest Airways Communication Station or office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration any observed failure of a code or rotating beacon light not corrected within thirty minutes, regardless of the cause of such failure. Further notification by telephone or telegraph shall be given immediately upon resumption of the required illumination.

(c) Shall inspect at intervals of at least one each three months all code or rotating beacon and automatic lighting control devices to insure that such apparatus is functioning properly as required. Upon completion of this periodic inspection, entries shall be made in the station's records as follows:

(1) The date of the inspection and the condition of all required lights and associated antenna lighting control devices together with the measured voltage at a reference point in the antenna lighting circuit and the computed voltage at each lamp socket.

(2) Any adjustments, replacements or repairs made to insure compliance with the lighting requirements.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 9.191 Station identification—(a) Telephony. (1) Air carrier aircraft: In lieu of radio station call letters, the official aircraft registration number, or company flight identification may be used, provided, adequate records are maintained by the air carrier to permit ready identification of individual aircraft.

(2) Private aircraft: In lieu of radio station call letters, only the official aircraft registration number may be used.

(3) When use is made of the aircraft registration number, the full number must be given upon initial call of each continuous series of communications. In other communications in each series, the last three (3) characters may be used, Provided, The practice is first inaugurated by the ground station operator.

(4) A public service aircraft station may use the identification of the aircraft station with which it is associated or an assigned telephone number, Provided, That, adequate records are maintained to permit ready identification of the aircraft station.

(5) A ground station in the aeronautical service may use in lieu of the assigned radio call letters the name of the city, area or airdrome which it serves, together with such additional identification as may be required.

(b) Telegraphy. In radio telegraphy the complete radio station call letters shall be used at the beginning and termination of each contact. After communication has been established, continuous two-way communication may be conducted without further identification or call-up (if no mistake in identity is liable to occur) until the termination of the contact. Aeronautical land stations utilizing automatic keying shall transmit call letters at the end of each sequence of communications and, in any event, at least once each hour during periods of transmission.

(c) Operation outside of the United States. In accordance with Article 14, General Radio Regulations (Revision of Cairo 1938) annexed to the International Telecommunications Convention, Madrid, 1932, assigned radio station call letters must be used outside of the United States except where special arrangements have been negotiated between the United States and another country such as the regional agreements reached under the auspices of the Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization.

§ 9.192 Availability for inspections. All classes of stations in the aeronautical service and the maintenance records of said stations shall be made available for inspection upon request of an authorized representative of the Commission made to the licensee or to his representative.

§ 9.193 Permissible communications. All ground stations in the aeronautical radiocommunication service shall transmit only communications for the safe, expeditious and economical operation of aircraft and the protection of life and property in the air. No such limitation is placed on aeronautical public service stations.

§ 9.194 Answers to notices of violations. Any licensee receiving official notice of a violation of the terms of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, any legislative act, Executive Order, treaty to which the United States is a party, or the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, shall, within three days from such receipt, send a written answer to the Federal Communications Commission at Washington, D. C., and a copy thereof to the office of the Commission originating the official notice when the originating office is other than the office of the Commission at Washington, D. C. If an answer cannot be sent, or an acknowledgment made within such three-day period by reason of illness or other unavoidable circumstances, acknowledgment and answer shall be made at the earliest practicable date with a satisfactory explanation of the delay. The answer to each notice shall be complete in itself and shall not be abbreviated by reference to other communications or answers to other notices.

If the notice relates to some violation that may be due to the physical or electrical characteristics of transmitting apparatus, the answer shall state fully what steps, if any, are taken to prevent future violations, and if any new apparatus is to be installed, the date such apparatus was ordered, the name of the manufacturer, and promised date of delivery. If the installation of such apparatus requires a construction permit, the file number of the application shall be given, or if a file number has not been assigned by the Commission, such identification as will permit ready reference.

If the notice of violation relates to incompetent maintenance resulting in improper operation of the transmitter, the name and license number of the operator performing the maintenance shall be given.

If the notice of violation relates to some lack of attention to or improper operation of the transmitter by other employees, the reply shall set forth the steps taken to prevent a recurrence of such lack of attention or improper operation.

§ 9.195 Movement of portable or mobile stations from one inspection district to another. When portable or mobile ground stations in the aeronautical service are moved from one radio inspection district to another, for regular operation therein, the licensee shall notify the Commission's Engineers-in-Charge of the respective districts. These Engineers-in-Charge shall be notified prior to the move, if practicable, but, in any event, not later than forty-eight hours thereafter.

§ 9.717 Power. The power output of flying school stations shall not be more than 50 watts for land stations and not more than 10 watts for aircraft stations.

§ 9.718 Frequency assignments non exclusive. No frequency available to a station engaged in instructional flying will be assigned exclusively to any applicant. All stations in this service are required to coordinate operation so as to avoid interference and make the most effective use of assignments.

§ 9.719 Private service prohibited. The use of flying school frequencies for other than instruction purposes and promotion of safety of life and property is prohibited.

AERONAUTICAL PUBLIC SERVICE STATIONS

These frequencies are assigned on the express condition that no interference is caused to marine operations.

§ 9.812 Stations licensed for aeronautical public service. Only those stations in the aeronautical service licensed for aeronautical public service may carry on public communication service. Coastal or ship stations licensed to carry on public communication service may provide such service to or from aeronautical public service aircraft stations. § 9.813 Scope of service. (a) All stations licensed in the aeronautical public service shall intercommunicate without discrimination with any other station similarly licensed, whenever necessary for the handling of traffic.

(b) Aeronautical public service stations shall, without discrimination and on reasonable demand, be made available for the use of all persons.

§ 9.814 Requirement for aeronautical public service station. A license or other instrument of authorization may be issued for a station for public correspondence: Provided, That a continuous effective listening watch is maintained on the frequency or frequencies used for the aviation safety service messages while public service messages are being handled; and that the installation and system of operation will permit instantaneous interruption of aeronautical public service communications to transmit or receive safety service messages.

§ 9.815 Priority of communications. (a) All communications of stations in the aeronautical radiocommunication service are essential to the safe operation of aircraft and shall have priority over public correspondence.

(b) The radio operator in charge of the aircraft station shall suspend operation of an aeronautical public service aircraft station when such operation will delay or interfere with messages pertaining to safety of life and property or when ordered to do so by the captain of the aircraft.

(c) The operation of an aeronautical public service station shall be suspended when it interferes with the radio communications of the safety service.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR, Ch. I]

ESTABLISHMENT OF SHIPBOARD RADAR ON REGULAR BASIS WITH FIVE YEAR LICENSE TERM

FEBRUARY 5, 1947.

As a part of its program to encourage the continued development and voluntary installation of radar as a navigational aid aboard ships, the Federal Communications Commission announced today that five year licenses on a regular basis will be issued for the operation of acceptable shipboard radar as soon as rules and regulations can be prepared and promulgated. At the present time, licenses are issued for radar on an experimental basis and for a term of one year.

Three frequency bands, namely, 3,000–3,246 megacycles, 9,320–9,500 megacycles, and 5,460–5,650 megacycles (together with the associated racon bands 3,246–3,266 Mc, 9,300–9,320 Mc, 5,440–5,460 Mc) have been allocated by the Commission for shipboard radar. Commercial type merchant marine radar equipment is available in the first two bands and many experimental licenses have already been issued for its use. Proponents of radar in the 3,000–3,246 megacycle band claim a superior ability to distinguish targets in all kinds of weather; advocates of radar in the 9,320–9,500 megacycle band claim a superior definition and increased dependability for navigating through narrow channels. Equipment for the third band, 5,460–5,650 megacycles, is not yet generally available; the Commission allocated this band, in addition to the other two, in order to provide an opportunity to determine whether it might combine the advantages claimed for the other two bands. While these three bands have not yet been standardized internationally, the Commission is optimistic as to the prospects of their standardization at the International Telecommunications Conference to be held this year.

The Commission takes no position as to which of these three bands is preferable. Nor does the Commission take a position as to the particular equipment to be installed. This will vary depending upon the needs of the user of the equipment. Various types of radar are capable of providing very satisfactory service for certain specific purposes. However, the Commission recognizes that there is no type of radar presently available which may be approved as a standard device serving all shipboard needs. The Commission encourages the users and potential users of shipboard radar to have studies made by their own experts so that they will be in a position to present concrete evidence as to the types of equipment which best suit their needs for various specific purposes.

The Commission's study of radar is a part of its over-all investigation of electronic devices developed during and since the war which are potential aids to navigation and to safety of life and property. The staff work involved in this investigation in the marine field is being conducted by the Commission's Special Marine Safety Survey Group, organized on July 31, 1946, and consisting of members of the Commission's Engineering, Law and Accounting Departments. This group is engaged in studying the relative value of electronic aids to navigation, both from the technical and economic points of view, and in considering whether changes in the Commission's rules and regulations, in Federal statutes and in treaties, might be needed, either to encourage or require the use of these aids. During the course of this investigation, all interested persons and organizations will be given an opportunity to be heard.

[SEAL] FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

Subject to these reservations, subscriptions for amounts up to and including $25,000 will be allotted in full, and subscriptions for amounts over $25,000 will be allotted to all holders on an equal percentage basis, but not less than $25,000 on any one subscription. The basis of the allotment will be publicly announced, and allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. Payment. 1. Payment at par for certificates allotted hereunder must be made on or before April 1, 1947, or on later allotment, and may be made only in Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness of Series D–1947, maturing April 1, 1947, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription.

V. General provisions. 1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve Banks of the respective Districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for certificates allotted, to make delivery of certificates on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive certificates.

2. Limit of acreage for which entry may be made or water secured. No person may acquire, own or hold irrigable land under a Federal Reclamation project in excess of one farm unit unless all construction charges on the excess lands have been paid in full. The maximum area for which water may be secured for lands in private ownership shall be 160 acres of irrigable land for each landowner.

3. Application for farm unit. Beginning at 2:00 p. m., April 8, 1947, applications will be considered in accordance with this notice for the vacant public land farm unit described in paragraph 1.

(a) When and how to file an application for a farm unit. (1) Blanks on which to make application for a farm unit under this notice may be secured from the Superintendent, Bureau of Reclamation, Fairfield, Montana; the Regional Director, Bureau of Reclamation, Billings, Montana; or the Commissioner, Bureau of Reclamation, Washington, D. C. No advantage will accrue to an applicant who inspects the unit prior to filing application, although the successful applicant must personally inspect the unit awarded prior to filing homestead entry with the District Land Office of the Bureau of Land Management. All questions on the farm application blank must be fully answered. Irrespective of any preference established under subparagraph (b), there must be strict compliance with the provisions of subparagraph (e).

(2) An application for the farm unit listed in this notice must be filed with the Superintendent, Bureau of Reclamation, Fairfield, Montana, if the applicant desires to qualify under the terms of this notice. No advantage will accrue to an applicant presenting his application in person. All applications received prior to 2:00 p. m., April 8, 1947, will be held and treated as simultaneously filed, except that applications of persons not entitled to veterans' preference as set forth in paragraph 3 (b) immediately following will not be considered until July 8, 1947.

(b) Preference rights of veterans of World War II. Pursuant to the provisions of the act of Congress of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747), as amended by the Act of June 25, 1946 (Public Law 440, 79th Congress), a preference right of application for a period of ninety days will be given to veterans, including veterans under 21 years of age, who have served in the military or naval forces of the United States for a period of at least ninety days during World War II, and who are honorably discharged, and who make homestead entries subsequent to such discharge. Such right extends to the veteran's widow or to the guardian of his minor, orphan child. The entrance of the United States into World War II commenced with the declaration of war against Japan made by Resolution of December 8, 1941 (55 Stat. 795).

(1) An honorable discharge within the meaning of the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747) shall mean (a) the separation of the veteran from the service by means of an honorable discharge, or a discharge under honorable conditions, (b) the transfer of the veteran from active duty to a reserve or retired status prior to the termination of the war, or (c) the ending of the period of the veteran's war service by reason of termination of the war, even though the veteran remains in the military or naval service.

(2) All applicants are required to answer fully question 1, on the Farm Application Blank, and, if claiming veterans' preference, must attach thereto a photostatic, certified or authenticated copy of an official document of his respective branch of military or naval service which clearly indicates an honorable discharge as described in subsection (1) of paragraph (b).

(3) Applicants entitled to veterans' preference must satisfy all requirements of entryman set forth in this notice. They will be rated as prescribed in subparagraph (e) and, if found eligible, will be listed on a preference register as set forth in paragraph (f).

(4) Applicants for the farm unit who do not claim or establish such veterans' preference will not be rated until it is evident that a qualified applicant, who has veterans' preference rights and who has filed application not later than July 8, 1947, is not available to enter the farm unit listed in this notice. Non-preference applicants, if and when rated, will be listed on a non-preference register in the order of their ratings. Should applicants on the preference register be unavailable or fail to qualify for award of the farm unit, award will be made to an applicant on the non-preference register in the manner described in subparagraph (f).

(c) Applicants must be qualified. No entry shall be accepted or allowed by the Manager of the local office of the Bureau of Land Management until the applicant therefor has satisfied the examining board appointed as set forth in subparagraph (d) below, that he is possessed of qualifications of industry, experience, character, and capital, as set forth in subparagraph (e). These qualifications are in addition to those required under the homestead laws. A statement of the qualifications required by the homestead laws may be secured from the local office of the Bureau of Land Management at Great Falls, Montana, or from the Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D. C.

(d) Examining Board. An examining board of three members has been approved by the Commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation to assist in the establishment of qualifications and consider the fitness of each applicant to undertake the development and operation of a farm. The project Superintendent, who is a member of this board, representing the United States, will act as Secretary. Careful investigations will be made to verify the statements and representations made by applicants both on the farm application blanks and in the course of personal interviews, to the end that no misunderstandings may prevail, either regarding the applicant's fitness or his appreciation of the problem before him. The Board is authorized to make rules incident to carrying out the provisions of this public notice with respect to rating and selection of applicants and to establish the time for personal interviews. The Board will rate applicants according to standards described in subparagraph (e), and award the public land unit to the successful applicant as set forth in subparagraph (f).

(e) Determination of relative standing of applicants. To determine whether an applicant for the farm unit is qualified under the provisions of sub-section (c) of section 4 of the act of December 5, 1924 (43 Stat. 702), he will be rated and examined. The relative standings of the applicants will be based upon percentage rating with the following maximum weights given to the four prescribed qualifications:

	Percent
I. Character	20
II. Industry	20
III. Capital	25
IV. Farm Experience	35

Applicants for the farm unit will be rated for each of the above four qualifications according to the following schedules and no applicants will be considered eligible who fall below the minimum named in any one of the headings of these schedules:

	Percent
I. Character:
(a) Fair	6 (Minimum) to 9.
(b) Good	10 to 15.
(c) Excellent	16 to 20.
II. Industry:
(a) Fair	6 (Minimum) to 9.
(b) Good	10 to 15.
(c) Excellent	16 to 20.
III. Capital:
(a) $1,000 to 1,499	18 (Minimum) to 20.
(b) $1,500 to 1,999	21 to 24.
(c) $2,000 and above	25 (Maximum).
(d) One to four percent may be added to items (a) and (b) for guaranteed credit of from $1,000 to $1,999: Provided, That the total percentage allowed for capital shall not exceed 25 percent. The credit must be suitable for the establishment of an economically sound farming operation.
IV. Farm experience:	Percent
(a) 2 years of work as a farm hand, farmer's son or farm operator after the age of 15 years and within the last 8 years of civilian life	25
(b) Each additional year's work as farm hand, farmer's son or farm operator	5
(c) Each year of agricultural training in college, or technical experience in field of agriculture, if deemed by the Board to be equivalent to farm experience	5

NOTE: Item (a) is the minimum required for all applicants. The total percent allowed for items (a), (b), and (c), shall not exceed 35 percent.

V. Although no rating is provided for the physical condition of the applicant, he must be in such physical condition as to permit satisfactory farm operation. If physically handicapped or afflicted with ailments making the condition questionable, a detailed statement by an examining physician should accompany the application. The examining board will determine from the individual's application blank and from a personal interview, should he be one of those applicants selected as set forth in subparagraph f (4) below, whether the applicant is physically able to operate a farm and shall disqualify him if facts are such as to warrant such disqualification.

(f) Showing of applicants and selection thereof. In conformity with the following method and in accordance with detailed procedure approved by the Commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation, the farm unit listed in this Public Notice will be awarded by the Board as follows:

(1) Each applicant qualifying for veterans' preference under the Act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747), as amended, who satisfies the minimum requirements set forth in paragraph (e) shall be given a preliminary rating based upon the showing made by his farm application blank. If the applicant has a rating of 75 per cent or above, he will be listed on a preference register and notified by registered mail, with return receipt demanded, of his standing and that since the number of qualified applicants exceeds the number of available farms, his application will be held for drawing and the establishment of a priority list for award of the farm unit, in the order drawn. Applicants who do not fulfill the minimum requirements or do not have a preliminary rating of at least 75 per cent will be notified by registered mail, with return receipt demanded, that they will not be further considered for the farm unit.

(2) As soon as possible after the notification of the rejected applicants and after the elapse of the appeal period as set forth in subsection 6 of paragraph (f), the Board will hold a drawing of applicants with rating of 75 per cent or above, as set forth in subparagraph (f) (3) below.

(3) The Board, in a suitable and impartial manner shall then conduct a drawing of the names of all applicants as set forth in subparagraph (f) (2) and establish a priority list for award of the farm unit in the order drawn.

(4) The Board shall then call the first applicant on the priority list for personal interview, advising him of his standing on the priority list as established by the drawing. He shall be advised of the probability that he will be certified as an entryman if the interview is satisfactory. Ordinarily the applicant will be certified as an entryman after the interview unless he fails to substantiate his showing on the farm application blank. If any applicant is disqualified as set forth in paragraph 3 (e), or his percentage rating after interview is less than 75 per cent, his name shall be removed from the priority list and the next applicant on the priority list, in order, called in for interview. As soon as the farm unit is allocated, each remaining applicant on the priority list shall be notified by registered mail, with return receipt demanded, that the farm unit to be opened has been allocated and that his application must be held for rejection. He will, however, retain his place on the priority list for further consideration should this unit become available through failure of the entryman to complete his transaction, as provided in paragraph (h) below.

(5) Should the farm unit remain available at the end of the 90-day preference period extended veterans of World War II, and the register of applicants holding veterans' preference be exhausted, applications of other persons will be considered.

(6) Each action of the Board with respect to any individual applicant as provided in this subparagraph (f) is subject to appeal to the Director of Region VI, Bureau of Reclamation, Billings, Montana. Such appeals must be filed through the Project Superintendent, Fairfield, Montana, within ten days of receipt of notice of any action of the Board with respect to his application.

(g) Notification of applicants. The successful applicant shall be notified in writing of the award of the farm unit. The notice will state the operation and maintenance charges for the delivery of water which must be paid to the Greenfields Irrigation District. Payment of such charges must be made within 10 days of receipt of this notice. Upon payment of the charges within the 10-day period, the secretary of the examining board will furnish the applicant a certificate, stating that his qualifications to enter public lands have been passed upon and approved by that board as required by subsection C of section 4 of the act of December 5, 1924 (43 Stat. 702). A copy of the certificate will be forwarded by the board to the district office of the Bureau of Land Management. The applicant's copy of the certificate must be attached by the applicant to his homestead application when he files the application with the District Land office of the Bureau of Land Management at Great Falls, Montana. Such homestead application must be filed within 15 days from the date of the receipt by the applicant of said certificate. Failure to pay the charges required by the Greenfields Irrigation District or to make application for homestead entry within the prescribed periods will cause the application to be rejected.

(2) After the farm unit has been entered, all applicants whose applications have not been previously rejected will be notified that the farm unit listed in Public Notice No. 29 has been entered and all pending applications therefore are held for rejection.

(h) Failure of selected applicant to complete transaction. Failure of the selected applicant to pay the water charges or to make homestead application, or to execute or comply with any or all of the requirements named above, within the time herein or hereafter specified, shall disqualify the applicant and entitle the Board to cancel the award of his farm unit and to award the same farm unit to another applicant selected in the manner prescribed in subparagraph (f).

(i) Warning against unlawful settlement. No person shall be permitted to gain or exercise any right under any settlement or occupation of any of the public lands covered by this notice, except under the terms and conditions prescribed by this notice: Provided, however, That this shall not affect any valid existing right obtained by settlement or entry while the land was subject thereto.

(j) Reservation of rights-of-way for County highways and access roads. Rights-of-way are reserved for County highways along all section lines, such rights-of-way being 30 feet in width on each side of said section lines.

(k) Reservation of rights-of-way for telephone and electric transmission lines. Rights-of-way are reserved for Government-owned telephone and electric transmission lines over and across the farm unit above described, as hereafter, in the opinion of the Secretary of the Interior, are necessary for the proper construction and operation and maintenance of said project.

(l) Waiver of mineral rights. Homestead entry on the above described farm unit will be subject to the laws of the United States governing mineral land, and the homestead applicant under this notice must waive the right to the mineral content of the land, if required to do so by the Bureau of Land Management; otherwise, the homestead application will be rejected or the homestead entry cancelled.

4. Farm unit is included in Greenfields Irrigation District and subject to construction and operation and maintenance charges levied under District's contract with the United States. The lands covered by this public notice are within the Greenfields Irrigation District, organized under the laws of the State of Montana, with offices located at Fairfield, Montana. The United States and the Greenfield Irrigation District entered a contract June 22, 1926, which provided for payment of charges and operation of works. Copy of the contract may be examined in the office of the Superintendent of the Sun River Project at Fairfield, Montana, or in the office of the Commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation, Washington, D. C. The lands covered by this public notice are subject to the payment of the following charges in accordance with the terms of the District's contract with the United States:

a. Construction charges.

b. Operation and maintenance charges. The first of the operation and maintenance charges must be paid within ten days after successful applicant is notified of the award of the farm unit, as provided in paragraph 3, (g) above. Subsequent operation and maintenance charges and construction charges must be paid on the payment dates fixed by the Greenfields Irrigation District.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

[Project No. 637]

WASHINGTON WATER POWER CO.

ORDER FIXING HEARING AND MODIFYING LICENSE TEMPORARILY

Upon application filed January 22, 1947, by The Washington Water Power Company, licensee for Project No. 637, for amendment of license requesting modification of Article 13 thereof as hereinafter specified;

Upon application filed March 12, 1947, by the licensee for a temporary modification of said Article 13 as hereinafter specified; and

It appearing that:

(a) Article 13 of said license reads as follows:

ARTICLE 13. The Licensee shall at no time cause or permit the elevation of the surface of Chelan Lake to be raised above elevation 1100 or to be drawn below elevation 1079 feet; and unless otherwise specifically authorized by the Commission the draft of water from said lake by the Licensee shall not exceed in any year an average rate of 1000 cubic feet per second during the period April 1 to August 15 unless or until the surface of said lake is at or above elevation 1096, and such draft shall during the period August 16 to September 15 of every year be limited to an amount which will not cause the elevation of the surface of said lake to be drawn below elevation 1092: Provided, that if in any year under the restrictions herein named the surface of said lake does not reach elevation 1096 by August 1, said date shall apply in lieu of August 16 as determining the beginning of the period during which the surface of the lake may be drawn down to elevation 1092. Said elevations are in feet above mean sea level, as determined by reference to the United States Geological Survey bench mark, elevation 1091.182, as now located and established on Johnson's Point, near Lakeside, Chelan County, or such other bench marks as may be established by the U. S. Geological Survey having the same datum. Licensee shall establish such additional bench marks as appear necessary in the judgment of the Commission, or its authorized representative, to permit accurate and convenient determination of said elevations. [Italics supplied.]

(b) The application for amendment filed January 22, 1947, requests that Article 13 be modified by placing a period after the word "feet" in the third line thereof, and that the underscored portion of the quoted article be eliminated and the following text substituted therefor:

Beginning April 1st, in each year, a maximum average draft of 1000 c. f. s. will be permitted; Provided, That, in years of sufficient run-off, this average draft may be exceeded in such an amount as will not prevent the lake surface from reaching and maintaining elevation 1096, or above, for the period June 30th to August 15th of each year. Following August 15th, withdrawals from storage shall be limited to amounts which will maintain lake levels above elevation 1092 until September 15th, after which the draft shall be unrestricted down to the minimum permissible lake level of 1079 feet. It is further provided, That if, in any year, the lake surface elevation, under the draft of 1000 c. f. s. shall not reach elevation 1096 by August 1st, that date, instead of August 15th, shall mark the beginning of the period during which the lake may be drawn down to elevation 1092.

(c) The application filed March 12, 1947, for temporary modification requests that Article 13 as quoted in paragraph (a) above be modified for a period of one year to provide that, beginning April 1, 1947, the draft on Lake Chelan water storage shall not exceed 1000 cubic feet per second until the lake surface has been raised to elevation 1086; that after the lake surface has reached elevation 1086 the draft on storage may be increased to not exceeding 2100 cubic feet per second: Provided, That by so doing the lake surface not be lowered below elevation 1086: And provided further, That such draft shall be so adjusted as to insure that the lake surface shall be raised to elevation 1096 or above, on or before June 30th, and that such temporary authorization shall not be construed as modification of any other limitations contained in said article;

(d) Various landowners, orchardists, municipalities, and others have expressed opposition to the granting of the application for amendment;

(e) Estimates of probable runoff during the summer of 1947 indicate that the water available in Lake Chelan during that period will be in greater volume than normally and, therefore, temporary authorization to operate the project in the manner proposed by licensee should not have a substantial adverse affect on other water users if such temporary authorization is made subject to modification or revocation at the order of the Commission. Such a temporary modification of Article 13 will alleviate to some extent the power shortage in the Pacific Northwest since operation of the project in the manner proposed will result in the production of additional power.

The Commission, having considered the aforesaid applications, the protests filed and the project record, finds that:

(1) The licensee and all other interested persons should be afforded an opportunity to present their views together with appropriate evidence on the question of whether the January 22, 1947 application for amendment should be granted and whether the temporary modification of the license granted herein should be modified or revoked;

(2) It will be in the public interest to modify Article 13 of the license temporarily as hereinafter provided; and

It is ordered, That:

(A) A public hearing be held in Civil Service Room 201, Second Floor, Post Office Building, in Wenatchee, Washington, beginning at 10:00 a. m., on April 14, 1947, on the issues presented;

(B) Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 13 of the license for said project, beginning on April 1, 1947, the draft on Lake Chelan water storage shall not exceed 1,000 cubic feet per second until the lake surface has been raised to elevation 1086; after the lake surface has reached elevation 1086 the draft on storage may be increased to not exceeding 2,100 cubic feet per second; Provided, That by so doing the lake surface shall not be lowered below elevation 1086; And provided further, That such draft shall be so adjusted as to insure that the lake surface shall be raised to elevation 1096 or above on or before June 30, 1947.

(C) The temporary authorization carried in paragraph (B) above shall not be construed as a modification of any provisions in Article 13 of the license other than those provisions expressly modified by paragraph (B); and such temporary authorization shall be subject to the further order of the Commission at any time prior to June 30, 1947, in such manner as may be found by the Commission to be in the public interest.

Date of issuance: March 19, 1947.

By the Commission.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Potomac Electric proposes to borrow from twenty commercial banking institutions, from time to time, during a period of two years, not to exceed $12,000,000 and to issue in evidence thereof its promissory notes, due April 1, 1952, with right of prepayment, bearing interest at the rate of 2% per annum, in accordance with the terms of a credit agreement between the company and said banks dated February 19, 1947.

Under the terms of said credit agreement said banking institutions agree to extend credit to the company in the aggregate amount of $12,000,000, for the purpose of enabling Potomac Electric to borrow the proposed $12,000,000 represented by said notes, of which amount the company agrees to borrow not less than $2,000,000 on April 1, 1947, and to borrow a further $2,000,000 for the purpose of paying its 1⅝% notes maturing September 3, 1947. The company also agrees to pay on or before April 1, 1947, a commitment fee of ⅛ of 1% of the difference between $10,000,000 and the amount of the initial borrowing. It is also provided by the terms of the agreement that Potomac Electric should be entitled to extensions of time within which to make said borrowings, for a period of six months from April 1, 1947, and for not more than four further consecutive periods of three months from April 1, 1948, by paying to the said banks, in advance for each such extension, a commitment fee of ⅛ of 1% of the amount of credit to be available during each such period.

Applicant states that the proposed transaction is subject to approval of the Public Utilities Commission of the District of Columbia, which Commission approved the proposed transactions by order dated March 10, 1947. Applicant has requested that this Commission's order approving the application be granted on or before March 26, 1947.

STANDARD GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of March 1947.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to sections 6 and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Standard Gas and Electric Company ("Standard"), a registered holding company.

Notice is further given that any interested person may not later than March 28, 1947 at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. At any time after March 28, 1947, said declaration as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Standard proposes, with the consent of the holders of its outstanding bank loan notes, to extend the maturity of such of its bank loan notes as mature on April 10, 1947, from that date to May 10, 1947. The amount of such notes now outstanding which mature on April 10, 1947, aggregates $13,350,410.20. Said notes are a portion of an issue, originally made on April 10, 1946, in the sum of $51,000,000, of which the total now outstanding aggregates $38,850,410.20.

Standard states that said amount of $13,350,410.20 of notes now outstanding which are due on April 10, 1947, will be reduced on or about March 17, 1947, by the sum of approximately $4,402,252, representing proceeds (less expenses and payment of interest on such notes) to be received from the sale of 140,614 shares of common stock of Mountain States Power Company. (A declaration with respect to this sale was permitted to become effective on March 12, 1947, in File No. 70-1312.)

Standard represents that it will further reduce the amount of its notes due April 10, 1947, by a payment in the approximate amount of $800,000 out of its net income for the quarter annual fiscal period ended March 31, 1947. The declarant further represents that it plans to file in the near future a new declaration for the sale, at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 promulgated under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, of the 312,000 shares of common stock of The California Oregon Power Company held by Standard and to apply the proceeds of such sale to the further payment of Standard's notes. The declaration states that Standard is of the opinion that the proceeds of such sale will be sufficient to pay the remaining balance of the notes now due on April 10, 1947, the maturities of which it proposes to extend to May 10, 1947, and to reduce substantially the remainder of the notes which by their terms are due on April 10, 1949.

Section 6 of the act has been designated as being applicable to the proposed transaction and Standard requests that action by the Commission be taken as soon as possible.

By the Commission.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2721

CANCER CONTROL MONTH, 1947

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the health of the citizens of this Nation is vitally important to its strength; and

WHEREAS this Nation, in a grave period of world affairs, is called upon for strong and wise leadership; and

WHEREAS cancer, one of mankind's most insidious enemies, takes an annual toll of 177,000 American lives, and the National Cancer Institute in the United States Public Health Service estimates that 17,000,000 persons now living will perish of this disease unless a cure is found; and

WHEREAS medical science needs the cooperation of every individual and agency to further its fight for the control of this dread malady; and

WHEREAS, by Public Resolution approved March 28, 1938 (52 Stat. 148), the Congress has authorized and requested the President to issue annually a proclamation setting apart the month of April of each year as Cancer Control Month:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby set apart the month of April 1947 as Cancer Control Month, and do invite the Governors of the several States and the Territories and possessions of the United States to issue proclamations for a like purpose. I also invite the medical profession, the press, the radio, the motion picture industry, and all organizations and individuals interested in this momentous problem to unite during the month of April in a program of education in methods now available for the control of cancer, as well as a program of promotion of scientific research necessary to alleviate further the suffering caused by this scourge.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 21st day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-first.

[SEAL] HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Acting Secretary of State.

rough, which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, and from serious damage, caused by bruises, dryness or mushy condition, sprayburn, fumigation, exanthema, scars, green spots, scale, sunburn, sprouting, dirt or other foreign materials, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. Stems shall be properly clipped.

(4) U. S. Combination Grade: Any lot of grapefruit may be designated "U. S. Combination" when not less than 40 percent, by count, of the fruits in each container meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade and the remainder U. S. No. 2 grade.

(5) U. S. No. 3 shall consist of grapefruit of similar varietal characteristics, which are mature, slightly colored, which may be slightly spongy, misshapen, rough, but not seriously lumpy, which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, from serious damage by bruises, dryness or mushy condition, and from very serious damage caused by sprayburn, fumigation, exanthema, scars, green spots, scale, sunburn, sprouting, dirt or other foreign materials, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. Stems shall be properly clipped.

(6) Unclassified shall consist of grapefruit which have not been classified in accordance with any of the foregoing grades. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards but is provided as a designation to show that no definite grade has been applied to the lot.

(b) Tolerances for preceding grades. In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling in each of the foregoing grades, the following tolerances are provided as specified:

(1) U. S. Fancy, U. S. No. 1, U. S. No. 2 and U. S. No. 3 Grades. Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of the specified grade, other than for color, but not more than one-twentieth of this amount, or one-half of 1 percent, shall be allowed for decay at shipping point: Provided, That an additional tolerance of 2½ percent, or a total of not more than 3 percent, shall be allowed for decay en route or at destination. In addition, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may not meet the requirements relating to color.

(2) U. S. Combination Grade. Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may fail to meet the requirements of this grade, other than for color, but not more than one-twentieth of this amount, or one-half of 1 percent, shall be allowed for decay at shipping point: Provided, That an additional tolerance of 2½ percent, or a total of not more than 3 percent, shall be allowed for decay en route or at destination. This 3 percent tolerance may be used to reduce the percentage of U. S. No. 1 grade required in the combination, provided the affected fruits meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade in other respects. In addition, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may not meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 grade for color. No part of any tolerance, other than that for decay, shall be allowed to reduce for the lot as a whole the percentage of U. S. No. 1 in the combination, but individual containers may have not more than a total of 10 percent less than the percentage of U. S. No. 1 specified: Provided, That the entire lot averages within the percentage specified.

(c) Standard pack. (1) Grapefruit shall be fairly uniform in size, and, when packed in boxes, shall be arranged according to the approved and recognized methods. Each wrapped fruit shall be fairly well wrapped.

(2) All packages shall be tightly packed and well filled but the contents shall not show excessive or unnecessary bruising because of overfilled packages.

(3) When packed in standard nailed boxes, grapefruit shall show a minimum bulge of 2 inches, except that grapefruit of a size 80 or smaller need only show a bulge of 1½ inches.

(4) "Fairly uniform in size" means that not more than 5 percent, by count, of the fruit in any container may be more than one standard size larger or smaller than the standard size for the count packed.

(5) Example of standard size grapefruit. The standard size grapefruit for a 64 count is that size grapefruit which will pack tightly 64 grapefruit of uniform size when packed according to the approved and recognized method.

(6) In order to allow for variations, incident to proper packing, not more than 5 percent of the packages in any lot may not meet the requirements of standard pack.

(d) Standards for export. (1) Not more than a total of 10 percent of the grapefruit in any container shall be soft, affected by decay, damaged by skin breakdown, have broken skins which are not healed, or be seriously damaged by dryness or mushy condition, except that:

(i) Not more than ½ of one percent shall be allowed for grapefruit affected by decay.

(ii) Not more than 3 percent shall have broken skins which are not healed.

(iii) Not more than 5 percent shall be soft.

(iv) Not more than 5 percent shall be seriously damaged by dryness or mushy condition.

(v) Not more than 5 percent shall be damaged by skin breakdown.

(2) Any lot of grapefruit shall be considered as meeting the standards for export if the entire lot averages within the requirements specified: Provided, That no sample from the containers in any lot is found to exceed double the percentage specified, and that not more than a total of 10 percent of all defects enumerated or itemized is found in any container.

(e) Application of tolerances. The contents of individual containers in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations, provided the averages for the entire lot are within tolerances specified:

(1) When a tolerance is 10 percent or more, individual containers in any lot shall have not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified, except that at least one defective and one off-size specimen may be permitted in any container.

(2) When a tolerance is less than 10 percent, individual containers in any lot shall have not more than double the tolerance specified, except that at least one defective and one off-size specimen may be permitted in any container.

(f) Definitions. (1) "Similar varietal characteristics" means that the fruits in any container are similar in color and type.

(2) "Well colored" means that the fruit is yellow in color, with not more than a trace of green.

(3) "Firm" means that the fruit is not soft or noticeably wilted or flabby. The skin may feel slightly springy or spongy.

(4) "Well formed" means that the fruit shows the normal shape characteristic of the variety.

(5) "Smooth" means that the skin is of fairly fine grain, the "pebbling" not pronounced, and any furrows radiating from the stem end are short and shallow.

(6) "Fairly thin skinned" means that the skin thickness does not average more than ⅜ of an inch, on a central cross section, in sizes 100 or smaller, or more than 7/16 of an inch in sizes larger than 100.

(7) "Injury" means any defect which more than slightly affects the appearance, or edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as injury:

(i) Sprayburn which changes the color to such an extent that the appearance of the fruit is noticeably injured, or which causes scarring that aggregates more than one-half inch in diameter.

(ii) Fumigation injury which noticeably detracts from the appearance of the fruit, or which occurs as small, thinly scattered spots over more than 10 percent of the fruit surface, or as solid or depressed scarring which aggregates more than one-half of an inch in diameter.

(iii) Exanthema which noticeably detracts from the appearance of the fruit, or which occurs as small, thinly scattered spots over more than 10 percent of the fruit surface, or as solid scarring which aggregates more than one-half of an inch in diameter.

(iv) Scars which are very rough or very deep. Scars which are very dark when more than one-fourth of an inch in diameter.

(a) Scars which are dark, rough, or deep, and aggregate more than one-half of an inch in diameter.

(b) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough, or of slight depth and aggregate more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(c) Scars which are light colored, fairly smooth, with no depth and aggregate more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(v) Green spots, which are depressed or soft, or more than four in number, or which aggregate more than one inch in diameter.

(vi) Scale, more than 5 medium to large California red or purple scale adjacent to "button" at stem end, or scattered over the fruit, or any scale which affects the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent.

skins, bruises (except those incident to proper handling and packing), and from damage caused by dryness or mushy condition, sprayburn, fumigation, exanthema, scars, green spots, scale, sunburn, sprouting, dirt or other foreign materials, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means. Stems shall be properly clipped.

(3) U. S. No. 2 shall consist of grapefruit of similar varietal characteristics, which are mature, slightly colored, fairly firm, fairly well formed, not decidedly

(vii) Sunburn, which appreciably changes the normal color or shape of the fruit, or affects more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(8) "Fairly well colored" means that yellow color predominates on the fruit.

(9) "Fairly smooth" means that the skin does not feel noticeably rough or coarse. The size of the fruit should be considered in judging texture, as large fruit is not usually as smooth as the small. It is common for the fruit to show larger and coarser "pebbling" on the stem end portion than on the blossom end. Slight furrows or grooves which may be present on the stem end portion of the fruit shall not be considered as slightly rough unless they are of sufficient depth, length, and number to materially affect the appearance and smoothness of the grapefruit.

(10) "Excessively thick skinned" means that the skin thickness averages more than 7/16 of an inch, on a central cross section, in sizes 100 or smaller, or more than ½ of an inch in sizes larger than 100.

(11) "Damage" means any injury which materially affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(i) Dryness or mushy condition, which extends into segments more than one-fourth of an inch at the stem end, or more than the equivalent of this amount by volume, when occurring in other portions of the fruit.

(ii) Sprayburn, which changes the color to such an extent that the appearance of the fruit is materially injured, or which causes scarring that aggregates more than three-fourths of an inch in diameter.

(iii) Fumigation injury, which materially detracts from the appearance of the fruit, or which occurs as small, thinly scattered spots over more than 25 percent of the fruit surface, or as solid scarring or depressions which aggregate more than three-fourths of an inch in diameter.

(iv) Exanthema which materially detracts from the appearance of the fruit, or which occurs as small, thinly scattered spots over more than 25 percent of the fruit surface, or as solid scarring (not cracked) which aggregates more than three-fourths of an inch in diameter.

(v) Scars which are very deep. Scars which are very rough or very dark and aggregate more than one-half of an inch in diameter.

(a) Scars which are dark, rough or deep and aggregate more than three-fourths of an inch in diameter.

(b) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough, or of slight depth and aggregate more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(c) Scars which are light colored, fairly smooth, with no depth and aggregate more than 15 percent of the fruit surface.

(vi) Green spots, which are depressed or soft, or more than seven in number, or which aggregate more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(vii) Scale, more than 10 medium to large California red or purple scale adjacent to "button" at stem end, or scattered over the fruit, or any scale which effects the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent.

(viii) Sunburn which causes appreciable flattening of the fruit, drying or darkening of the skin, or affects more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(12) "Slightly colored" means that sufficient yellow color is distributed over the fruit surface which, blended with the green color present, is equivalent to 25 percent of full yellow color characteristic of the variety.

(13) "Fairly firm" means that the fruit may be slightly soft but is not decidedly flabby. The skin may be thick and slightly puffy.

(14) "Fairly well formed" means that the fruit is not materially flattened, materially pointed, extremely elongated, or otherwise decidedly deformed.

(15) "Decidedly rough" means that the skin is materially rough, materially lumpy, decidedly folded, or decidedly ridged.

(16) "Serious damage" means any injury which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as serious damage:

(i) Dryness or mushy condition, which extends into segments more than one-half of an inch at the stem end, or more than the equivalent of this amount by volume, when occurring in other portions of the fruit.

(ii) Sprayburn, which changes the color to such an extent that the appearance of the fruit is seriously injured, or which causes scarring that aggregates more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(iii) Fumigation injury, which occurs as small thinly scattered spots over more than one-half of the fruit surface, or solid scarring or depressions which aggregate more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(iv) Exanthema which occurs as small thinly scattered spots over more than one-half of the fruit surface, solid scarring (not cracked) which aggregates more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(v) Scars which are very deep. Scars which are very rough or very dark and aggregate more than one inch in diameter.

(a) Scars which are dark, rough or deep and aggregate more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(b) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough or of slight depth and aggregate more than 15 percent of the fruit surface.

(c) Scars which are light colored, fairly smooth, with no depth and aggregate more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(vi) Green spots, which are soft or aggregate more than 2 inches in diameter.

(vii) Scale. California red or purple scale concentrated as a ring or blotch, or which are more than thinly scattered over the fruit surface, or any scale which affects the appearance of the fruit to a greater extent.

(viii) Sunburn, which causes decided flattening of the fruit, drying or dark discoloration of the skin, or affects more than one-third of the fruit surface.

(17) "Slightly spongy" means that the fruit is puffy or slightly wilted but not decidedly flabby.

(18) "Misshapen" means that the fruit is materially flattened, materially pointed, extremely elongated or otherwise decidedly deformed.

(19) "Very serious damage" means any injury which very seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as very serious damage:

(i) Sprayburn, which seriously affects more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(ii) Fumigation injury which causes deep, rough, or dark scarring which aggregates more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(iii) Exanthema, which aggregates more than 10 percent of the fruit surface, or causes serious cracks.

(iv) Scars, which are very dark, very rough, or very deep and aggregate more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(a) Scars which are dark, rough or deep and aggregate more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(b) Green spots, which are badly sunken or soft.

(c) Scale, which are so numerous or large that the appearance of the fruit is very seriously affected.

(d) Sunburn, which seriously affects more than one-third of the fruit surface.

These revised standards for grapefruit (California and Arizona) shall, on and after the effective time hereof, supersede the standards that have been in effect since March 15, 1941.

It is hereby found and determined that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 2d Sess.) in connection with the issuance of these revised standards, is impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interests in that: (1) The standards for grapefruit (California and Arizona) have been in the process of revision since July 1946 and the revised standards have been prepared on the basis of suggestions of growers, packers, shippers, and other handlers of grapefruit (California and Arizona); (2) the issuance of the revised standards, effective March 30, 1947, is necessary to make such standards conform to present handling and packing practices; and (3) the issuance of these revised standards, which include only minor changes which improve the standards, should be accomplished as soon as possible because the seasonal shipments of grapefruit (California and Arizona) have begun.

(Pub. Law 422, 79th Cong.)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of March 1947, to be effective on and after the 30th day of March 1947.

R. 7959), paragraph (d) of § 600.30 (11 F. R. 177A-298) of Subpart B, Chapter VI, Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

§ 600.30 Water conservation and utilization. • • •

(d) Acquired project lands will be sold, insofar as practicable, in family-size farm units, as determined by Regional Conservators. Prior to sale the land may be leased, at the prevailing rental rate in the area, in limited acreage to qualified farmers or ranchers upon application to the Project Supervisor. After the project lands have been developed and irrigation water is available, Regional Conservators will, except as to units to be sold to persons to whom commitments to purchase were made prior to September 11, 1946, and who have been approved by the Family Selection Committee, advertise the number of family-size farm units on projects which will be available for sale at any specified time. For a period of 90 days after such advertisement, preference will be given to qualified veterans of the present war as defined in the Surplus Property Act of 1944, Public Law 457, 78th Congress. Application forms, for showing the applicant's qualifications, and information concerning the purchase of project farms may be obtained from the respective Project Supervisors or Regional Conservators. Prospective tenants and purchasers must, insofar as practicable, be in need of a family-type farm; be citizens of the United States; have had previous experience in farming where the major portion of the family income was from the farm; have a satisfactory credit reputation; and own or be in a position to secure necessary equipment and livestock to operate the land for which application is being made. In addition, prospective purchasers must be free from permanent infectious diseases or disabilities that are likely to obstruct the fulfillment of their obligations incident to the purchase of the farm. Applicants will be considered and passed upon by a Family Selection Committee composed of seven persons residing in the community or county in which the project is located. The applicants will be notified of the action taken by the Family Selection Committee.

Samples shall be obtained by such officers, together with the original and one copy of the chop list and release permit (T. I. S. Cat. No. 1), and shall be forwarded to the nearest qualified tea examiner for his report and return. Samples sent for the purpose of examination from ports of importation to ports where tea examiners are located shall be packed in clean tin cans, free from odor, fitted with tight covers, and of a capacity to hold about 4 ounces avoirdupois of tea. PART 170—REGULATIONS FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE FEDERAL TEA ACT

TEA STANDARDS

Pursuant to the authority of sections 2 and 3 of the Federal Tea Act (29 Stat. 604; 35 Stat. 163; as amended, 41 Stat. 712; 21 U. S. C. 41), the following standards prepared and submitted by the Board of Tea Experts are hereby fixed and established as standards under the Tea Act for the year beginning May 1, 1947, and ending April 30, 1948. Section 170.19 (b) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 170.19 Tea standards. • • •

(b) The following standards prepared and submitted by the Board of Tea Experts are hereby fixed and established as standards under the Tea Act for the year beginning May 1, 1947, and ending April 30, 1948:

(1) Formosa Oolong.

(2) China Congou (to be used for all fully fermented teas of similar type or manufacture).

(3) India (to be used for all fairly fermented East India type teas).

(4) Japan Green.

(5) China Gunpowder.

(6) Scented Canton (to be used for all scented teas).

(7) Canton Oolong.

These standards apply to tea shipped from abroad on or after May 1, 1947. Tea shipped prior to May 1, 1947, will be governed by the standards which became effective May 1, 1942, and which were continued in force and effect until April 30, 1947, except that no standards were in effect from May 1, 1943, to April 30, 1944.

I find that notice and public procedure on the foregoing is unnecessary since the Board of Tea Experts is composed of persons who are experts in tea and who represent the domestic tea trade as a whole.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Regulation 35, Interpretation 1]

RESTRICTIONS ON THE USE OF CC RATINGS APPLY TO THE USE OF RR RATINGS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Priorities Regulation 35:

The question has arisen as to whether certain special rules concerning the use of CC ratings, such as those in Direction 15 to Priorities Regulation 3 and Direction 6 to Priorities Regulation 28 apply in the same way and to the same extent to the use of RR ratings.

Subparagraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation 35 states that the new RR rating is equivalent to CC under the rules stated in Priorities Regulation 1, 3 and other general priorities regulations. Therefore special rules in general priorities regulations and directions to such regulations applicable to the use of CC ratings also apply in the same way and to the same extent to the use of RR ratings.

PART 1042—IMPORTS OF STRATEGIC MATERIALS [1]

[General Imports Order M–63, as Amended Mar. 25, 1947]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain imported materials for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1042.1 General Imports Order M–63—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether or not incorporated.

(2) "Owner" of any material means any person who has any property interest in such material except a person whose interest is held solely as security for the payment of money.

(3) "Consignee" means the person to whom a material is consigned at the time of importation.

(4) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States. It includes shipments into a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States and shipments into the continental United States for processing or manufacture in bond for exportation. It does not include shipments in transit in bond through the continental United States without processing or manufacture, to Canada, Mexico or any other foreign country, or shipments through a free port or free zone to a foreign country without processing or manufacture.

(5) [Deleted Mar. 1, 1946.]

(6) Material shall be deemed "in transit" if it is afloat, if an on board ocean bill of lading has actually been issued with respect to it, or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States.

(7) "Governing date" with respect to any material means the date when such material first became subject to General Imports Order M–63.

(b) Restrictions on imports of materials—(1) General restriction. No person, except as authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration shall purchase for import, import, offer to purchase for import, receive, or offer to receive on consignment for import, or make any contract or other arrangement for the importing of, any material subject to this order after the governing date. The foregoing restrictions shall apply to the importation of any material subject to the order regardless of the existence on the governing date or thereafter of any contract or other arrangement for the importation of such material. The materials subject to this order are those listed from time to time upon Lists A attached hereto.

(2) Authorization by Civilian Production Administration. Any person desiring such authorization, whether owner, purchaser, seller, or consignee of the material to be imported, or agent of any of them, shall make application therefor in duplicate on Form CPA–1041 addressed to the Civilian Production Administration Ref: M–63, Washington 25, D. C. Unless otherwise expressly permitted, such authorization shall apply only to the particular material and shipment mentioned therein and to the persons and their agents concerned with such shipment; it shall not be assignable or transferable either in whole or in part.

(3) Restrictions on financing of imports. No bank or other person shall participate by financing or otherwise, in any arrangement which such bank or person knows or has reason to know involves the importation after the governing date of any material subject to this order, unless such bank or person either has received a copy of the authorization issued by the Civilian Production Administration under the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) or is satisfied from known facts that the proposed transaction comes within the exceptions set forth in paragraph (b) (4).

(4) Exceptions. Unless otherwise directed by the Civilian Production Administration, the restrictions set forth in this paragraph (b) shall not apply:

(i) To the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, U. S. Commercial Company, Commodity Credit Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, or any agent acting for any such department, agency or corporation; or

(ii) To any material of which any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation, or to any material which the owner at the time of importation had purchased or otherwise acquired from any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation; or

(iii) To any material which on the governing date was in transit to a point within the continental United States.

(iv) [Deleted Mar. 30, 1944]

(v) To any material consigned as a gift or imported for personal use where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $100.00; or to any material consigned or imported as a sample where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $25.00; or to any used material in the category of household goods imported by the owner for his own personal use; or

(vi) To materials consigned as gifts for personal use by or to members of the Armed Services of the United States; or

(vii) [Deleted Nov. 13, 1944.]

(viii) To manufactured materials which are imported in bond solely for the purpose of having them repaired and then returned to the owner outside the continental United States; or

(ix) To materials which were grown, produced, or manufactured in the continental United States, and which were shipped outside the continental United States on consignment or pursuant to a contract of purchase, and which are now returned as rejected by the prospective purchaser; or

(x) [Deleted July 16, 1946.]

(xi) [Deleted July 1, 1946.]

(c) Criteria for adding materials to List A. Materials are put on List A and made subject to the restrictions of General Imports Order M–63 only if they qualify under one of the following criteria:

(1) Control of the import of the material is necessary to implement an international allocation to which the United States is a party; or

(2) Control of the import of the material is necessary to implement a government purchase program.

(d) [Deleted June 4, 1945.]

(e) Restrictions on distribution of List A materials. Unless otherwise provided by the terms of the authorization issued pursuant to paragraph (b) (2), any material on List A which is imported in accordance with the provisions of this order after the governing date, may be sold, delivered, processed, consumed, purchased, or received without restriction under this order, but all such transactions shall be subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the Civilian Production Administration and to all orders and directions of the Civilian Production Administration which now or hereafter may be in effect with respect to such material.

(f) Reports—(1) Reports on customs entry. No material which is imported [as defined in paragraph (a) (4)] after the governing date, including materials imported by or for the account of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, U. S. Commercial Company, Commodity Credit Corporation or any other United States governmental department, agency or corporation, shall be entered through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose, unless the person making the entry shall file with the entry Form CPA–1040 in duplicate. The filing of such form a second time shall not be required upon any subsequent entry of such material through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose; nor shall the filing of such form be required upon the withdrawal of any material from bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs, regardless of the date when such material was first transported into the continental United States. Both copies of such form shall be transmitted by the Collector of Customs to the Civilian Production Administration, Imports Division, Ref.: M–63, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) Other reports. All persons having any interest in, or taking any action with respect to any material imported after the governing date, whether as owner, agent, consignee, or otherwise, shall file such other reports as may be required from time to time by the Civilian Production Administration.

(3) Exceptions. The provisions of this paragraph (f) shall not apply to materials imported and consigned as gifts for personal use by or to members of the Armed Services of the United States.

(g) Routing of communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise herein directed be addressed to: Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: M–63.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or who furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority assistance. In addition, the Civilian Production Administration may direct the disposition and use of any material which is imported without authorization as required by paragraph (b).

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the Civilian Production Administration as amended from time to time.

(j) Effect on liability of removal of material from order. The removal of any material from the order shall not be construed to affect in any way any liability for violation of the order which accrued or was incurred prior to the date of removal.

Issued this 25th day of March 1947.

CIVILIAN PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATION,

Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1: Revoked June 4, 1945

INTERPRETATION 2

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Civilian Production Administration with respect to the meaning of the term "in transit" as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of General Imports Order M–63 (§ 1042.1) as amended.

By amendment dated December 17, 1942, the definition of material "in transit" was changed by adding the following clause, "or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier for transportation to a point within the continental United States." The question has been raised as to the meaning of the term as applied to a case where the material on the governing date had been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on a through bill of lading for transportation to a specified port and from thence by boat to a point within the continental United States.

[1] Certain food items formerly on Lists I, II, and III are now subject to import control in accordance with War Food Administration Order 63.

The material in the stated case is not deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order. If the material is to be carried to the port of arrival in the continental United States by ship the material must have been afloat, or an on board ocean bill of lading must have been issued with respect to it on the governing date in order for it to be considered as having been in transit on such date.

Material which has been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on the governing date for transportation to a point within the continental United States is deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order only when the transportation specified in the bill of lading issued by such carrier calls for delivery of the material at the port of arrival in the continental United States by rail, truck, or air carrier, not by ship. (Issued March 5, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 3: Revoked June 4, 1945.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

MANILA (ABACA) AND AGAVE FIBER AND CORDAGE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of manila and agave and products made from them for defense for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3290.221 Conservation Order M-84—(a) Restrictions on sales, deliveries, receipts, and use of certain cordage products—(1) Rope and twine (except binder and baler twine). No processor or dealer may sell, deliver, or accept delivery of new rope or new twine produced in the United States in whole or in part from Manila or agave, or from yarn made from such fibers, for end uses for which the rope or twine may not be manufactured under this order. However, this rule shall not prohibit the sale, delivery, or acceptance of rope made from agave fiber put into process before January 16, 1947 for any end use, or of those twines listed in Schedule B made from agave fiber put into process before March 25, 1947.

(2) Binder and baler twine. No person may sell or deliver new binder or new baler twine (wherever produced) if he knows or has reason to believe that:

(i) The binder twine will not be used with mechanical harvesting equipment or in the growing, harvesting, or delivering of agricultural crops, or that the binder twine will be converted into rope or any other product; or

(ii) The baler twine will not be used in a self-tying machine for baling hay, straw, or other fodder crops.

(3) No person may use new binder or new baler twine (wherever produced) to manufacture rope for sale.

(b) Purposes for which Manila or agave fiber or yarn may not be used—(1) Manila. No processor may put into process any spinnable Manila fiber, or yarn made from such fiber (wherever produced) except to make rope for any end use, or twines permitted in Schedule B of this order. Non-spinnable Manila fiber may be used for any purpose.

(2) Agave. No processor may put into process any agave fiber, or yarn made from such fiber (wherever produced), except to make rope in the sizes described in Schedule A of this order, and binder and baler twine.

Except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by the Civilian Production Administration, no processor may manufacture any binder or baler twine from agave fiber, unless made in accordance with the following specifications: The binder twine must measure 500 feet to the pound with a plus or minus tolerance of five per cent; and must contain a lubricant of at least ten per cent of the total weight of the twine, and an insect repellent. The baler twine must measure 200 to 225 feet to the pound with a plus or minus tolerance of five per cent; must contain a lubricant of at least ten per cent of the total weight of the twine, and an insect and rodent repellent.

(c) Quantities of manila and agave fibers which may be used. (1) Processing quotas will be issued in writing by the Civilian Production Administration to processors making any of the products permitted under paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) above. No person shall put into process any spinnable Manila fiber or any agave fiber, until he has received such a quota, or in amounts in excess of his quota, regardless of whether the fiber is taken from inventory, or obtained by allocation under this order or in any other way. These quotas may not be transferred except as specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration, or in accordance with Priorities Regulation 7A.

(2) In general, processing quotas for spinnable Manila fiber or agave fiber, for rope and products permitted in Schedule B, will be issued upon the following basis: The aggregate processing quota for Manila and agave fibers for each processor will be in proportion to his average monthly sales of both types of rope during the period January 1, 1939 through December 31, 1941; his processing quota for Manila fiber for rope and twines listed in Schedule B will be in proportion to his average monthly sales of Manila rope during the period January 1 through December 31, 1939; and his processing quota for agave fiber will be in proportion to his processing quota for both fibers, less that for Manila. A manufacturer who was not in the hard fiber cordage business during 1939-40-41 may apply to the Civilian Production Administration, Textile Division, Washington 25, D. C. for a processing quota. The application should be filed by letter stating the quantity of fiber desired to be processed for each permitted product, and should include a statement of the facilities available for the manufacture of cordage products, as permitted under Order M-84, the maximum poundage of fiber which can be processed with his facilities on the basis of a 40-hour week, and the minimum poundage of fiber needed for economical operation during a three-month period. Applications from new manufacturers will be considered on an equitable basis, in view of the quotas issued to other manufacturers.

(3) Processing quotas for agave fiber for binder twine and baler twine will be prorated among processors on the basis of information previously filed with the War Production Board and Civilian Production Administration as to productive capacity, method, and rate of operation.

(4) Processing quotas for Manila fiber other than spinnable, are not required under this order.

(5) The Civilian Production Administration may also issue specific directions to processors as to the extension of more critical fibers by mixture with less critical ones (i. e., use of "extenders") in the manufacture of any product permitted under this order. No processor shall put any Manila or agave fibers into process contrary to the terms of any such direction, regardless of whether the fiber is taken from inventory, or obtained by allocation under this order or in any other way.

(d) Inventory restrictions on Manila and agave fiber, and cordage products.—(1) Processors' inventories. No processor may accept delivery of any spinnable Manila fiber, or yarn made from such fiber, if his inventory of spinnable Manila fiber will be more than the amount he needs during the next 150 days, on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation, and for making only those products permitted under this order. No processor may accept delivery of any such fiber or yarn for making any product not permitted by this order.

(2) Importers' and dealers' inventories. No person, other than a processor or the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, may accept delivery of any spinnable Manila fiber if his inventory of such fiber held for resale will be more than the amount he would normally stock up in the ordinary course of his business to meet reasonably anticipated requirements, while continuing to dispose of such inventory as promptly as practicable in view of the orders received by him from persons permitted to accept deliveries under this order. If a person imports or buys fiber both for resale and for processing on his own facilities, and keeps separate inventory records of the fiber held for each purpose, his inventory held for resale shall be governed by this rule instead of that in paragraph (d) (1); but if he does not keep separate inventory records, his inventory shall be governed by the rule in (d) (1).

(3) Manila being imported. The limitations in paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) above apply to deliveries and inventories within the continental United States only. Material which is being imported, but has not been released from United States Customs, is not to be considered as in inventory.

(4) Inventories of rope and twines. A person buying new rope or new twines made from Manila or agave fiber, whether for use or resale (including a person buying for export) may not accept delivery of any of such materials if his inventory of that material is, or will be, more than a practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet his own deliveries or to supply his services on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation.

(5) Restriction on ordering more than needed. A person may not place any order for delivery of any material on earlier dates or in larger amounts than he would be permitted to receive under this order or any other applicable orders or regulations of CPA. Orders aggregating more than he is allowed to receive may not be placed with different suppliers even though he intends to cancel one or more of them before delivery.

(6) Adjusting outstanding orders when requirements change. If because of a change in operations, slowing or stoppage of production, delayed delivery by a supplier, or any other change in requirements, a person who has ordered material for future delivery would, if he accepted delivery on the date specified, exceed the limits prescribed by this order, he must promptly adjust his outstanding orders, and if necessary, postpone or cancel them.

(f) Allocation of fiber. (1) No processor shall make or accept delivery of any Manila or agave fiber contrary to directions which from time to time the Civilian Production Administration may issue. The Civilian Production Administration may from time to time allocate to processors the available supplies of Manila and agave fiber held by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and specifically direct the time, manner, and quantities in which deliveries to processors shall be made or withheld.

(2) In general, allocations of spinnable Manila fiber and agave fiber held by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, for rope and products permitted in Schedule B, and of agave fiber for binder twine and baler twine, will be prorated upon the same bases as are the processing quotas issued under paragraph (c) above. Applications need not be made by processors who have processing quotas. An application for a processing quota under paragraph (c) from a manufacturer who was not in the hard fiber cordage business during 1939-40-41 will also be considered as an application for an allocation, unless the applicant specifically indicates that he does not want to get any fiber from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Since the only Manila fiber to be allocated will be that held by RFC, the amounts allocated will usually be less than those which may be accepted and used under the inventory limitations and processing quotas; and such additional amounts as may be accepted or used under this order within those limitations and quotas may be obtained from other sources without allocations.

(3) Manila, other than spinnable, held by RFC, will not be allocated after March 25, 1947, applications may be made to RFC for such non-spinnable Manila fiber, and not to CPA.

(g) End use information. No person may sell or deliver any product controlled by this order to any person who he knows or has reason to believe will use the product in a manner which this order does not permit. He should satisfy himself as to this in some reasonable manner before delivering. He may, but need not, require a statement in writing showing the specific purpose or use for which the item is ordered.

(h) Restrictions on the use of damaged material. Any processor or dealer who has in his possession damaged or defective manila or agave fiber or cordage, may report by letter the extent of the damage and state to the Civilian Production Administration the percentage not suitable for the manufacture of products or for use permitted by this order. He may then upon receipt of acknowledgment, without objection from the Civilian Production Administration, use or dispose of any portion unsuitable for the manufacture of products permitted by this order, free from its restrictions.

(i) Reports. (1) Processors of manila and agave fiber shall report monthly on CPA-2901, sections 1 and 2.

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

HOUSING

Section 2 (d) of the rent regulation for housing is amended by adding the following paragraph:

(9) Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this paragraph (d), any landlord may demand, receive and retain as a security deposit, the rent for the last rental period of the term, not exceeding one month, where a newly constructed housing accommodation is rented and occupied for the first time after March 25, 1947, fully furnished, under a written lease.

This amendment shall become effective March 25, 1947.

PHILIP B. FLEMING,
Temporary Controls Administrator.

Statement To Accompany Amendment 112 to the Rent Regulation for Housing; Amendment 36 to the Rent Regulation for Housing in the New York City Defense-Rental Area; Amendment 31 to the Rent Regulation for Housing in the Miami Defense-Rental Area; Amendment 27 to the Rent Regulation for Housing in the Atlantic County Defense-Rental Area

The rent regulation for housing now prohibits the demand or receipt of a security deposit where a dwelling unit is first rented after the effective date of the regulation, whether it is rented unfurnished or fully furnished. By this amendment, any landlord may demand, receive and retain a security deposit representing payment of rent for the last rental period of the term, not exceeding one month, in cases where the housing accommodation is newly constructed and fully furnished and rented and occupied for the first time under a written lease after March 25, 1947, the effective date of this amendment.

This exception to the general rule barring security deposits in the rental of housing accommodations is being incorporated in the regulation to provide an additional incentive to builders to construct rental housing and in this way to help to relieve the acute housing shortage. The amendment was requested by the Housing Expediter and a large segment of the Housing Industry.

In the judgment of the Temporary Controls Administrator, these amendments are necessary and proper in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act.

No provisions which might have the effect of requiring a change in established rental practices have been included in the amendments unless such provisions have been found necessary to achieve effective rent control and to prevent circumvention or evasion of the rent regulations and the act. To the extent that the provisions of these amendments compel or may operate to compel changes in established rental practices, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of the rent regulations and the act.

§ 8302.1 Definitions—(a) Terms defined in act. Terms not defined in paragraph (b) of this section which are defined in the Surplus Property Act of 1944 shall in this part have the meaning given to them in the act.

(b) Other terms. (1) [Deleted Aug. 19, 1946.]

(2) "Standard administrative and maintenance property" means all property from time to time listed in stock catalogues issued by the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department. These catalogues normally include, among other items, office supplies, furniture and equipment, and maintenance operating supplies.

(3) "State and local governments" means any State, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and any political subdivision or instrumentality thereof.

(4) "Own" business or professional or agricultural enterprise of a veteran means one of which more than fifty (50) per cent of the invested capital thereof is beneficially, and not merely nominally or formally, owned by a veteran or veterans, or one of which more than fifty (50) per cent of the net income thereof beneficially, and not merely nominally or formally, accrues to a veteran or veterans. A veteran may be deemed to have his "own business or professional or agricultural enterprise" for the purpose of acquiring particular tools or equipment when he is engaged by others as an employee or agent and is required by his employment to have his own tools or equipment.

(5) "Small business" when used herein means a veteran's own small business and may include any commercial or industrial enterprise or group of enterprises under common ownership or control, which does not at the date of purchase of surplus property hereunder have more than five hundred (500) employees, or any such enterprise which by reason of its relative size and position in its industry is determined by War Assets Administration to be a small business. The War Assets Administration may in its discretion apply either or both criteria in determining whether or not the veteran's business is a small business.

(6) "Veteran" means any person in the active military or naval service of the United States during the present war, or any person who served in the active military or naval service of the United States on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to the termination of the present war, and who has been discharged or released therefrom under honorable conditions. Veterans "released" from military or naval service shall include persons on terminal leave or final furlough and those whose status has been changed from "active" to "inactive".

§ 8302.2 Scope. This part shall apply only to disposals made by disposal agencies within the continental United States, its territories and possessions; Provided, That § 8302.10 shall apply only within the continental United States. This part shall not apply to any disposals of real property; nor to personal property appurtenant to, or assigned for disposal in connection with, real property, and disposed of pursuant to Parts 8305,[1] 8310,[2] 8316,[3] or 8320.[4]

§ 8302.3 Applicability of regulations and directives of other agencies, and disposals which may be exempted from this part. (a) Transfers to the National Housing Administrator pursuant to the provisions of section 502 (b) of the Lanham Act,[5] as amended, (Public Law 292, 79th Congress, as amended) may be made without regard for any provisions of this part. Transfers to the Federal Works Administrator pursuant to the provisions of section 504 (a) of the Lanham Act, as amended, (Public Law 697, 79th Congress) may be made without regard for any provisions of this part except those provisions which govern set-asides for veterans and priorities of Government agencies and veterans.

(b) Except for disposals under paragraph (a) of this section, disposals made hereunder shall be subject to applicable regulations and directives issued under the authority of the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946, or under the authority of any law referred to in section 34 (b) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 including those issued by the War Production Board, the Civilian Production Administration, the Office of Price Administration, and the Secretary of Agriculture, and shall be exempted from the provisions of this part to the extent necessary to comply with the provisions of such regulations and directives.

(c) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, disposal agencies may dispose of surplus property at a fair and reasonable price without regard for any provisions of this part:

(1) Until peace is concluded to supply the needs of the armed forces;

(2) When, upon a finding by the Secretary of Agriculture that farm production is impaired or threatened to be impaired, the Administrator shall, pursuant to the provisions of Part 8303,[6] direct the disposal of trucks, machinery, or equipment (including farm supplies) to farmers or farmers' cooperatives;

(3) When the property is of such nature or in such situation that its immediate disposal is necessary to prevent its deterioration, spoilage, or serious loss or damage;

(4) When, upon application to the War Assets Administrator by a disposal agency, the Administrator shall find that it is impracticable or uneconomical for the disposal agency to be required to dispose of designated property according to the provisions of this part;

(5) When the nature or condition of any surplus property sold is such that it is not usable or safe for use by the consumer in its existing form without processing, reprocessing, reconditioning, or repackaging;

(6) When the cost (estimated if not known) of all substantially similar items of such property in the possession of the disposal agency at any one location at any one time does not exceed $300; or when the cost (estimated if not known) of any group of identical items, normally constituting a single entry on War Assets Administration Form 1001 and in the possession of the disposal agency at any one location at any one time, does not exceed $100.

§ 8302.4 Set-asides for veterans. (a) Except as to the amounts of any property necessary for the temporary use of any disposal agency to carry out its responsibilities in disposing of surplus property under the Surplus Property Act of 1944, each disposal agency to which there is assigned for disposal any property of the types set forth by order issued hereunder shall set aside all, or such percentage as is designated in such order of such property in its possession for exclusive disposal to veterans. The Administrator has determined that, in the case of set-asides made pursuant to this section as distinguished from the priorities accorded veterans pursuant to § 8302.5 (b), it is considered inappropriate to cause to be set aside quantities and types of any surplus property for the purpose of resale as distinguished from use. Such determination does not apply to acquisitions by veterans as priority claimants who purchase pursuant to the provisions of § 8302.5. Accordingly, disposals hereunder shall be limited to veterans who acquire surplus property:

(1) For their own personal use, or

(2) For use in establishing and maintaining their own small business, professional, or agricultural enterprises: Provided, however, That such use shall not include the acquisition of surplus property for the purpose of resale.

Set-aside property shall be held for disposal at fair value, as provided in § 8302.11, to veterans upon presentation of their discharge papers or other satisfactory evidence that the person is a veteran for a period of not less than fifteen (15) days after public notice of its availability for such disposal, or for such longer period as the Administrator may direct, and any balance remaining undisposed of thereafter may be made available for disposal in accordance with the other provisions of this part.

(b) In disposing of property to veterans under this section, disposal agencies may establish the maximum and minimum quantities which may be acquired by any one veteran at any one time during a given period of time. When the supply of any type of surplus property offered at any time will be insufficient to fill the orders of the eligible veterans, equitable distribution among such veterans may be accomplished (1) on a first-come, first-served basis in fixed price sales or (2) on such other basis as shall be approved by the Administrator; Provided, That in any method adopted there shall be equitable distribution among veterans desiring to acquire property for their own personal use and veterans desiring to acquire it for business, professional, or agricultural use. In giving public notice of availability of any property, disposal agencies shall specify the method by which distribution of such property will be made among veterans.

§ 8302.5 Order of priorities. Except as to property disposed of under § 8302.4, disposal agencies shall, subject to the provisions of § 8302.6, observe the following order of priorities:

(a) Transfers to Government agencies for their own use shall be given priority over disposals to all others.

(b) Disposals to veterans holding certificates to acquire property to enable them to establish and maintain their own small business, professional, or agricultural enterprises shall be given priority over disposals to all others except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Purchases by Reconstruction Finance Corporation, as successor to Smaller War Plants Corporation, for resale under section 18 (e) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 shall be given priority over disposals to all others except as provided in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) Disposals to State and local governments for their own use shall be given priority over disposals to all others except as provided in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section.

§ 8302.6 Reservations for priority claimants. (a) In giving effect to the provisions of § 8302.5, disposal agencies shall observe the following requirements with respect to the periods of time during which property will be offered to priority claimants:

(1) Government agencies shall in no case be given a period in excess of twenty days after the date of public notice of availability of the property.

(2) Property offered to veterans may not be disposed of to others for a minimum period of fifteen (15) days after the date of public notice to veterans.

(b) Each disposal agency, based upon experience and demonstrated demand, may estimate the quantity of each item of surplus property which it is necessary to hold in reserve in order to provide an adequate supply thereof to satisfy the probable needs of priority claimants for such item. Such quantities shall be reviewed and adjusted periodically by the disposal agency in the light of the changing requirements of priority claimants and the areas in which such requirements exist. There need be no earmarking of specific property, but the quantities of surplus property so estimated shall be reserved for exclusive disposal to priority claimants subject to the periods specified in paragraph (a). Any property in excess of such reserved quantities may, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a), be disposed of promptly to others.

(c) In order to assist the disposal agencies to reserve quantities of surplus property, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b), adequate to satisfy the needs of priority claimants including Reconstruction Finance Corporation as successor to Smaller War Plants Corporation for resale under section 18 (e) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944, Reconstruction Finance Corporation may advise the disposal agencies from time to time of the quantities and kinds of surplus property which it needs or may need for such purposes to the end that any reservations established under paragraph (b) of this section may be adequate to supply such anticipated needs.

§ 8302.7 Information about available property—(a) Availability of records of surplus property; Government requirements officers. Disposal agencies shall establish procedures to insure that designated representatives or procurement officers of Government agencies and State and local governments shall have access to the information on the property records of the disposal agencies, and shall upon request from time to time inform such representatives or procurement officers about surplus property for which declarations have been received or are anticipated. Each disposal agency shall appoint in its central office and in each regional office thereof a Government requirements officer or officers, whose duties shall include (1) transmitting to Government agencies and State and local governments information concerning surplus property which is or may become available for disposal; (2) assisting in programming sales or offerings in such a manner as to afford Government agencies and State and local governments an opportunity to purchase any and all kinds of property they desire; (3) ascertaining the probable needs for all kinds of property of Government agencies and State and local governments within the region served by each regional office to the end that any reservations established under § 8302.6 (b) may be adequate to supply the probable needs of Government agencies and State and local governments within the region served by the office; (4) cooperating with such advisory committees as the Administrator may appoint; and (5) taking all other necessary or desirable steps to see that all requirements of this part are complied with. It shall be the responsibility of Government agencies, in order to avoid making purchases through commercial channels, continuously to consult the records of the disposal agencies and to determine whether their requirements for all items of property can be satisfied out of surplus property in the hands of the disposal agencies.

(b) Notice of offering. Disposal agencies shall give uniform and wide public notice of all offerings to priority claimants and to the extent feasible shall adopt other procedures which will allow priority claimants to receive notice of what surplus property is available or offered for sale within the area in which the offering is made. Government agencies and State and local governments shall also have the right upon request to be put on mailing lists for notices in all cases where such lists are used to offer property for disposal, including mailing lists otherwise reserved to special classes of buyers, unless the disposal agency shall find that the giving of such notices to Government agencies and State and local governments shall for any particular type of property become impracticable, unduly expensive to the Government, or unreasonably burdensome on the facilities of the disposal agency. When paid advertising is used as the method of offering, no other notice need be given to priority claimants. Public notice to Government agencies may be omitted if actual notice by mail is given to all of them.

§ 8302.8 Issuance of certificates to veterans. (a) A veteran desiring to exercise his priority under § 8302.5 shall apply to any certifying office of War Assets Administration and shall furnish the Administration with complete information regarding the property desired. The War Assets Administration will satisfy through reference to the applicant's discharge papers or to other satisfactory evidence that the applicant is a veteran. It shall also satisfy itself that the property applied for is to enable the veteran to establish or maintain his own small business, professional, or agricultural enterprise. The War Assets Administration shall require of the applicant a supporting statement or affidavit and will issue an appropriate certificate to such veteran stating that he is a veteran entitled to purchase the types and quantities of the property described therein, which certificate may be canceled for cause. No person shall be certified as a veteran for property to be used in more than one small business, professional or agricultural enterprise.

(b) Whenever a disposal agency within the continental United States other than War Assets Administration receives an application from a veteran desiring to acquire property hereunder but not accompanied by a certificate, the application shall be referred to War Assets Administration for certification, together with full information regarding the availability of the property and the price, terms, and conditions of sale.

(c) [Deleted March 1, 1947.]

(d) Each veteran shall present the certificate when acquiring property under § 8302.5 from a disposal agency, which shall rely upon the certificate that the holder is a veteran entitled to acquire property described therein in accordance with the terms of the certificate. Veterans shall be entitled to acquire the quantity of property for which they are certified, subject to such equitable distribution among veterans as may be adopted by the disposal agency pursuant to the provisions of § 8302.4 (b) or § 8302.9 (c), before such property may be made available to lower priority or non-priority claimants. Special effort shall be made to insure that property available to veterans may be inspected by them. Surplus property may be offered for sale to veterans on credit on terms and conditions established by the disposal agencies.

§ 8302.9 Transfers and disposals to priority claimants. (a) Subject to the provisions of § 8302.10 in the case of Government agencies, disposal agencies shall transfer or dispose of surplus property to a priority claimant in quantities not smaller than the smallest lot consistent with commercial practice and at the fair value of such property as provided in § 8302.11. Disposal agencies shall make such transfers of surplus property to a Government agency without reimbursement or transfer of funds whenever a transfer on such terms by the owning agency by which such property was declared surplus would be authorized by any law approved subsequent to June 21, 1944 to be made to the agency desiring such property. The agency desiring such property without reimbursement or transfer of funds shall cite its authority for such transfer and shall pay all transportation charges but not the cost of packing, and shall furnish when necessary a Government bill of lading bearing identification of the appropriation against which such transportation charges are to be charged.

(b) Except in the case of transfers to Reconstruction Finance Corporation as successor to Smaller War Plants Corporation for resale under section 18 (e) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944, and disposals to veterans of property to be resold with or without processing or fabrication in the regular course of business, transfers or disposals to priority claimants shall be for their own use only and not for transfer or disposition by them to others, and disposal agencies shall require priority claimants so to certify. Title to property being acquired by priority pursuant to the provisions of this part shall not be transferred by the disposal agency to any person other than the acquiring priority claimant, except in the case of purchases by Reconstruction Finance Corporation under section 18 (e) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944, and except in the case of purchases by veterans, who may take title either in their own names or in the names of their own business or professional or agricultural enterprises as defined in § 8302.1 (b) (4). The priorities granted pursuant to the provisions of this part may not be assigned or transferred to others. The provisions of this paragraph (b) shall not apply to the exercise of any authority under the Veterans Emergency Housing Act of 1946,[7] or under the Second War Powers Act of 1942[8] directing disposals to a specified class of purchasers or to specifically named purchasers.

(c) The maximum quantity which should be offered by the disposal agency to any one priority claimant should, to the extent feasible, be a quantity which will assure wide distribution of the available property. Such maximum quantities shall be established in all cases where it reasonably may be expected that the total demand from claimants in a given priority class will exceed the supply offered to them. Maximum quantities shall not be established in a manner which will prevent claimants in a higher priority class from satisfying their legitimate requirements, in order to offer a portion of the property to claimants in a lower class or to non-priority buyers. No priority claimant shall be denied by reason of location or residence the right to priority during the period of offering to claimants in the same class.

(d) Orders from priority claimants shall be filled from any available surplus property, subject to the provisions of §§ 8302.4, 8302.5 and 8302.6. If no property is available or likely to become available, the disposal agency shall notify the claimant and upon the dispatching of such notification the order shall lapse. Unless the advertising otherwise states, property already advertised for public competitive bids or for sale at auction or for immediate purchase at a fixed time and property specifically selected by a prospective purchaser shall not be considered available. No property shall be offered for disposal to non-priority claimants unless it has first been offered to priority claimants or necessary provision has been made for reservations for priority claimants in accordance with § 8302.6.

§ 8302.10 Transfers of surplus standard administrative and maintenance property to the Treasury Department and acquisition of such property by Government agencies. (a) In order to facilitate the transfer of surplus property from one Government agency to other Government agencies for their own use and not for transfer or disposition to others outside the Government, the Treasury Department as the central procurement agency of the Government may acquire from the disposal agencies such quantities of surplus standard administrative and maintenance property as it needs to satisfy the requirements for such property of all Government agencies within the continental United States, other than the War Department, Navy Department, and Veterans Administration, and other than each disposal agency for the types of property for which it is designated as such under Part 8301.[9] Government agencies shall cooperate with the Treasury Department in compiling estimates and shall provide the Treasury Department with such information concerning their requirements as it may need in order to promote the fullest utilization of surplus property.

(b) Disposal agencies shall transfer surplus standard administrative and maintenance property to the Treasury Department in accordance with the provisions of § 8302.9 and at a fair value which reflects the estimated expenses to be incurred by the Treasury Department in making distribution to Government agencies, and the Treasury Department shall promptly upon such transfer take possession and assume responsibility for the care, handling, and disposition of such property.

(c) It shall be the responsibility of all such Government agencies, in order to avoid making purchases of such property through commercial channels when such property is available from surplus, continuously to consult the stock catalogues issued by the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department.

(d) Except in cases where transfers may be made without reimbursement or transfer of funds, no Government agency other than the War Department, Navy Department, and Veterans' Administration, and other than each disposal agency for the types of property for which it is designated as such under Part 8301,[10] shall within the continental United States acquire by direct transfer from a disposal agency any type of surplus standard administrative or maintenance property which is offered for disposal by the Treasury Department and immediately available for acquisition by such Government agency; Provided, That if none of a desired type of property is immediately available for acquisition by a Government agency, such agency may purchase such desired property directly from the disposal agency; and Provided, further, That Reconstruction Finance Corporation, as successor to Smaller War Plants Corporation, shall be entitled to acquire any such property from a disposal agency for resale under section 18 (e) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944.

§ 8302.11 Fair value. Disposal agencies shall fix the fair value at which property shall be acquired by priority claimants. Such a fair value shall not be greater than the lowest price which is offered to any trade level at the time of acquisition by the priority claimant, or where the fair value is fixed after examining competitive bids, it shall not be greater than the lowest acceptable bid.

§ 8302.12 Acquisitions by priority claimants without exercising priority. In addition to acquiring property under §§ 8302.5 and 8302.6, Government agencies, except as to standard administrative and maintenance property desired for their own use, and State and local governments shall be entitled to submit offers whenever surplus property is otherwise offered for sale, without regard for the location of the property, but shall not be entitled to priority. Government agencies may under this section acquire any surplus property (including standard administrative and maintenance property) for transfer or disposition to others, including transfers or dispositions to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. Nothing in this part shall prevent veterans from acquiring any property directly from a disposal agency without exercising priority if they are included within the class of buyers to whom the disposal agency is offering such property. Such purchases made by a priority claimant without priority shall be governed by the prices, terms, and conditions of the offering made by the disposal agency and not pursuant to any other provisions of this part.

§ 8302.13 Records and reports. Owning and disposal agencies shall prepare and maintain such records as will show full compliance with the provisions of this part and with the applicable provisions of the act. Reports shall be prepared and filed with the War Assets Administrator in such manner as may be specified by orders issued under this part subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

§ 8302.14 Regulations by disposal agencies to be reported to the War Assets Administrator. Each disposal agency shall file with the War Assets Administrator copies of all regulations, orders, and instructions of general applicability which it may issue in furtherance of the provisions, or any of them, of this part.

This revision of this part shall become effective March 1, 1947.

Administrator.

Section 8302.4 (a) of this part provides that except as to the amounts of any property necessary for the temporary use of any disposal agency to carry out its responsibilities in disposing of surplus property under the Surplus Property Act of 1944, each disposal agency to which there is assigned for disposal any property of the types set forth by order issued thereunder shall set aside all, or such percentage of such property as is designated in such order. SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[17 CFR, Part 270]

APPLICATIONS AND EXEMPTION OF TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN REGISTERED INVESTMENT COMPANIES AND FULLY OWNED SUBSIDIARIES

NOTICE OF PROPOSALS WITH RESPECT TO ADOPTION AND AMENDMENT OF RULES

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration the following proposals with respect to the adoption and amendment of rules pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940, particularly sections 6 (c), 17 (a), 17 (b), 17 (d) and 38 (a) thereof:

I. The adoption of a rule providing a procedure to be followed with respect to applications filed pursuant to the act or the rules and regulations thereunder. The purpose of the proposed rule is to provide a general procedure for the disposition of applications filed pursuant to any section of the act or any rule or regulation of the Commission thereunder, except in special cases, such as § 270.30a-1 [Rule N-30A-1], where a different procedure is more appropriate. The text of the proposed rule is as follows:

§ 270.0-5 [Rule N-5] Procedure with respect to applications. The procedure hereinbelow set forth will be followed with respect to an application filed pursuant to any section of the act or any rule or regulation thereunder, unless in the particular case a different procedure is provided for such application:

(a) Notice of the filing of the application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and will indicate the earliest date upon which the application may be granted. The notice will also provide that any interested person may, within the period of time specified therein, submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing upon the application and may request that a hearing be held, stating his reasons therefor and the nature of his interest in the matter.

(b) The application will be granted by an order issued as of course on a date to be specified in the notice, unless prior to such date the Commission orders a hearing on the application.

(c) The Commission will order a hearing on the application (1) upon the request of any interested person; or (2) upon its own motion if it appears that a hearing is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors. In such case, the hearing and all further procedure with respect to the application will be conducted in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice.

II. The adoption of a rule exempting from section 17 (a) of the act transactions between a registered investment company and one or more of its fully-owned subsidiaries or between two or more fully-owned subsidiaries of such a company. The purpose of this rule is to provide an automatic exemption for such transactions since such subsidiaries are completely owned by the registered investment company and there is no public or investor interest in transactions within the group. The text of the proposed rule is as follows:

§ 270.17a-3 [Rule N-17A-3] Exemption of transactions between registered investment companies and fully-owned subsidiaries. (a) Transactions solely between a registered investment company and one or more of its fully-owned subsidiaries, or solely between two or more fully-owned subsidiaries of a registered investment company, shall be exempt from section 17 (a) of the act.

(b) The term "fully-owned subsidiary" as used in this rule, means a subsidiary (1) all of whose outstanding securities are owned by its parent and/or the parent's other fully-owned subsidiaries, and (2) which is not indebted to any person other than its parent and/or the parent's other fully-owned subsidiaries in an amount which is material in relation to the particular subsidiary, excepting indebtedness incurred in the ordinary course of business which is not overdue and which matures within one year from the date of its creation, whether evidenced by securities or not.

III. The amendment of the Commission's existing § 270.17d-1 [Rule N-17D-1] (11 F. R. 1461) which pertains to applications regarding bonus, profit-sharing and pension plans and arrangements. The purpose of the amendment of this rule is to delete the special procedure for the disposition of such applications and to make the general procedure provided by the proposed new § 270.0-5 [Rule N-5] applicable thereto. The text of § 270.17d-1 [Rule N-17D-1] as proposed to be amended is as follows:

§ 270-17d-1 [Rule N-17D-1] Applications regarding bonus, profit-sharing and pension plans and arrangements. (a) No affiliated person of any registered investment company, or of any company controlled by any such registered company, shall participate in, or effect any transaction in connection with, any bonus, profit-sharing or pension plan or arrangement in which any such registered or controlled company is a participant unless an application regarding such plan or arrangement has been filed with the Commission and has been granted by an order entered prior to the submission of such plan or arrangement to security holders for approval, or prior to the adoption thereof if not so submitted.

(b) In passing upon such applications the Commission will consider:

(1) Whether participation in the plan or arrangement by any such registered or controlled company is on a basis substantially different from or less advantageous than that of other participants therein;

(2) Whether the provisions of the plan or arrangement are consistent with the policy and purposes set forth in section 1 (b) of the act; and

(3) Whether the provisions of the plan or arrangement are in contravention of sections 18 or 23 (a) of the act or any other provisions of the act.

All interested persons may submit data, views and comments in writing to the Securities and Exchange Commission at its main office, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, on or before April 9, 1947.

By the Commission.

WLIB, INC., AND WESTINGHOUSE RADIO STATIONS, INC. (WOWO)

ORDER ENLARGING ISSUES IN CONSOLIDATED HEARING

In re applications of WLIB, Inc. (WLIB), New York, New York, Docket No. 7819, File No. BP-4681, for construction permit; Westinghouse Radio Stations, Inc. (WOWO), Fort Wayne, Indiana, Docket No. 7674, File No. BP-4019, for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 12th day of March 1947;

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed February 17, 1947, by WLIB, Inc. (WLIB), New York, New York, requesting the Commission to enlarge the issues in the consolidated hearing upon the above-entitled applications so as to include the following issue:

To determine the nature and design of possible directive antennae which permit simultaneous operation of both applicants at night; and an opposition thereto filed February 26, 1947, by Westinghouse Radio Stations, Inc. (WOWO), Fort Wayne Indiana; and

It appearing that the opposition of WOWO to the WLIB proposal is based upon an allegation that WOWO advised WLIB several months ago that the WLIB proposal for a directional antenna for use by WOWO was unsatisfactory and unacceptable to WOWO, and that, notwithstanding this, WLIB did not file its petition to enlarge the issues until after WOWO had completed its case; and

It appearing, that no showing has been made that the delay by WLIB to request enlargement has prejudiced WOWO; and

It appearing further, that a specific proposal for use by WOWO of a directional antenna was submitted by WLIB at the Engineering Conference on the frequency 1190 kc held pursuant to the Commission's Temporary Expediting Procedure, and that it is claimed by WLIB that both applications can be granted if WOWO uses the said antenna pattern proposed by WLIB, and that such grants would provide a more equitable distribution of radio facilities; and

It further appearing, that a grant of the subject petition and enlargement of the issues so as to limit the additional issue to the specific proposal presented in the WLIB Exhibit No. 34, Figure 32-A and associated material rather than the general issue requested by petitioner, is consistent with the Commission's Public Notice of January 8, 1947, relative to the temporary expediting procedure, and will be in the public interest, convenience and necessity;

It is ordered, That the said petition be, and it is hereby, granted, in part; and the issues adopted July 18 and August 29, 1946, in the proceeding upon the above-entitled applications, be, and they are hereby, enlarged, to include the following:

To determine whether the alternative directional antenna pattern for nighttime operation of Station WOWO, as set forth in WLIB Exhibit No. 34, Figure 32-A and associated material, is suitable for use by said station WOWO, and, if so, whether public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by a grant of the application of said station WOWO, subject to the condition that it use the said alternative pattern.

Notice is hereby given that the foregoing action is not to be construed in any way as having the effect of constituting an amendment to any above-entitled application within the meaning of the Commission's rules, regulations and standards.

HOPE NATURAL GAS CO.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

Upon consideration of the application filed February 12, 1947, in Docket No. G-861, by Hope Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a West Virginia corporation with its principal place of business at Clarksburg, West Virginia, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize Applicant to construct and operate the following described natural gas facilities, all in the State of West Virginia, subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission:

One 400-horsepower Cooper Bessemer gas engine to which will be attached two gas compressors. The size of these gas compressors will be 22-inch for low-stage and 11-inch for high-stage, together with auxiliary equipment consisting of water pumps, air compressors, electric generators and miscellaneous appurtenant equipment sufficient to increase the capacity of its existing transmission facilities by about 16,000 Mcf per day. Said facilities to be located on its Line H-255 near Kenna, Jackson County, West Virginia.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) Applicant proposes the construction and operation of the aforesaid described facilities for the purpose of increasing the capacity of its system to provide greater deliveries to meet the present and future demands and to utilize more fully existing pipeline capacity on that portion of its pipeline system described and designated as H255. By use of the proposed installations the daily capacity of line H255 (as shown on the map attached to the application), south of Lee Compressor Station would be increased from 4,000 Mcf to 25,000 Mcf per day and the daily capacity of the line north of Lee Compressor Station would be increased from 14,000 Mcf to 35,000 Mcf. By diverting 16,000 Mcf daily from Cornwell Station of the Applicant through its Turner and Hunt Compressor Stations to line H255 additional capacity will be made available in the main transmission line running north out of Cornwell Station thus creating pipeline capacity for available natural gas from the fields in Wyoming County, West Virginia, up to the amount of 70,000 Mcf per day as heretofore authorized by the Commission in Docket No. G-788;

(b) This proceeding is a proper one for disposition under the provisions of Rule 32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (effective September 11, 1946), Applicant having requested that its application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by the aforesaid rule for noncontested hearings, and no request to be heard, protest or petition having been filed subsequent to the giving of due notice of the filing of the application, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 13, 1947 (12 F. R. 1739).

The Commission, therefore, orders that:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules and practice and procedure (effective September 11, 1946) a hearing be held on the 8th day of April at 9:45 a. m. (e. s. t.) in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters of fact and law asserted in the application filed in the above-entitled proceeding: Provided, however, That if no request to be heard or protest or petition to intervene, raising, in the judgment of the Commission an issue of substance, has been filed or allowed prior to the date hereinbefore set for hearing, the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, forthwith dispose of the proceeding by order upon consideration of the application and the evidence filed therewith and incorporated in the record of the proceeding, together with such additional evidence as may be available or as the Commission may require to be filed and incorporated in the record for its consideration;

(B) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by Rules 7 and 37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules and practice and procedure (effective September 11, 1946).

MEMPHIS NATURAL GAS CO. AND KENTUCKY NATURAL GAS CORP.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

Upon consideration of the joint application filed in this matter on January 30, 1947, by Memphis Natural Gas Company ("Memphis"), a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business at Memphis, Tennessee, and Kentucky Natural Gas Corporation ("Kentucky"), a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business at Owensboro, Kentucky, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing Memphis to purchase the gas system and related physical assets of Kentucky and thereafter to operate the same, and authorizing Kentucky to sell such gas system and related physical assets;

It appears to the Commission that:

(a) The natural-gas pipeline system of Memphis extends from the Lisbon and Monroe Fields in Louisiana across a portion of Arkansas and Mississippi to Memphis, Tennessee, and other points in western Tennessee. The natural-gas pipeline system of Kentucky lies principally in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. Its main transmission line commences approximately 25 miles north of Terre Haute, Indiana, at a point of connection with the pipeline system of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, and extends in a southerly direction across the States of Indiana and Kentucky and into Tennessee, to a point near Mitchellville, where connection is made with the pipeline system of Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company. Several branch pipelines extend from Kentucky's main pipeline above-described, which receive natural gas into the system, deliver natural gas to other utilities and serve various communities at wholesale. One of such branch lines extends into the State of Illinois, and two others across the Indiana-Kentucky boundary at two points on the Ohio River.

(b) Memphis proposes to acquire by purchase from Kentucky, and Kentucky proposes to sell to Memphis, the gas plant and related physical assets owned by Kentucky, at the net book value thereof, which the application states coincides with original cost depreciated, which at December 31, 1946, was $4,957,488.39. It is proposed that the consideration for said sale is to be the following: 272,345 shares of Memphis $5.00 par value common capital stock at book value of $7,187.54 per share at December 31, 1946, or $1,957,488.39; and $3,000,000 principal amount of 3¼ per cent Memphis debenture notes, at par, making a total of $4,957,488.39.

(c) The main issues presented by the application appear to be the following:

(i) Whether any detriment will result to (a) consumers served by means of the facilities of Kentucky or Memphis, (b) stockholders of either company, or (c) any other persons, from the acquisition by Memphis of the gas system and related physical assets of Kentucky.

(ii) Whether the acquisition and operation of such properties by Memphis is justified in the public interest, in view of the fact that the facilities of Memphis and Kentucky are not interconnected and are separated by a distance of approximately 200 miles.

(iii) Whether Kentucky will retain any properties pertinent to its present gas operations.

(iv) Whether Kentucky has complied with its charter or other corporate requirements respecting disposal of the property which it proposes to sell to Memphis.

(v) Whether without interconnection between Memphis and Kentucky, corporate integration is justified.

(vi) Whether Memphis will be able and willing properly to do the acts and to perform the service properly related to the combined properties after the proposed acquisition, and to conform to the provisions of the Natural Gas Act and the requirements, rules and regulations of the Commission thereunder.

(vii) Whether the proposed acquisition and operation by Memphis are or will be in the public interest.

(d) For a more detailed statement of facts and law asserted, interested persons may refer to and examine said application at the offices of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C.

The Commission, therefore, orders that:

(A) A public hearing be held commencing on April 1, 1947, at 10:00 a. m. (e. s. t.) in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by the application in the above-entitled proceeding.

[File Nos. 54-9, 54-155, 59-2]

AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING AND ORDER OF CONSOLIDATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 20th day of March A. D. 1947.

In the matter of American Gas and Electric Company, File No. 54-155; American Gas and Electric Company, Atlantic City Electric Company, Deepwater Operating Company, South Pennsgrove Realty Company, File Nos. 54-9 and 59-2.

Notice is hereby given that American Gas and Electric Company ("American Gas"), a registered holding company, has filed an application pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for approval of a plan the stated purpose of which is effectuation of the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, and compliance with the order of this Commission dated December 26, 1945, directing American Gas to sever its relationships with Atlantic City Electric Company ("Atlantic City"), and Atlantic City's subsidiaries, Deepwater Operating Company ("Deepwater") and South Pennsgrove Realty Company ("Pennsgrove").

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

American Gas owns all the issued and outstanding common stock of Atlantic City, consisting of 1,150,000 shares of the par value of $10 per share. The plan provides for the sale of 522,416 shares of the common stock of Atlantic City in accordance with the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 promulgated under said act. The plan further provides that effective as of June 15, 1947, American Gas will adopt a dividend policy providing for the payment of regular quarterly dividends of 25 cents in cash and 2/100's of a share of the common stock of Atlantic City to the holder of each share of the common stock of American Gas, said quarterly dividend payments to continue through December 15, 1948. The proposed dividend distribution will result in the disposition of the remaining 627,584 shares of Atlantic City held by American Gas by December 31, 1948.

No fractional shares will be issued in connection with the declaration and distribution of dividends in shares of common stock of Atlantic City. In lieu thereof, American Gas will issue scrip-certificates which will be delivered to the holders of shares of common stock of American Gas, said scrip-certificates to be in bearer form and to have no rights as to dividends or voting. As scrip-certificates are issued, certificates for the stock of Atlantic City represented thereby will be delivered to a designated scrip agent, said full share certificates to be registered in the name of American Gas. Dividends paid on the shares of common stock of Atlantic City represented by scrip-certificates not surrendered for full share certificates on or before the record date for such dividends, will be paid to American Gas, and holders of outstanding scrip-certificates will have no rights in respect thereto. Prior to December 30, 1949, holders of scrip-certificates will be entitled to receive from the scrip agent, upon surrender of scrip-certificates aggregating one or more full shares, certificates for the full share or shares represented by such scrip-certificates and a new scrip-certificate for any unutilized balance. The scrip agent will hold the shares of common stock of Atlantic City represented by the outstanding scrip subject to the rights of holders of such scrip-certificates until December 30, 1949. As soon after December 30, 1949 as practicable the scrip agent will sell for cash at the then currently prevailing market prices the shares of common stock of Atlantic City held as of December 30, 1949, the scrip agent to hold the proceeds of such sale subject to the rights of the holders of scrip-certificates.

For a period of three years from December 30, 1949 the holders of scrip-certificates will be entitled to receive from the scrip agent upon surrender of scrip-certificates the appropriate proportionate part of the net proceeds from the sale of the shares sold by the scrip agent without interest. Any funds held by the scrip agent as of the close of business on December 31, 1952 shall be paid to American Gas and the holders of scrip-certificates (subject to certain exceptions occasioned by war legislation) will have no further rights to or claims against either American Gas, Atlantic City or the scrip agent.

All expenses of the scrip agent, including his reasonable compensation incurred with respect to the holding of the shares represented by the scrip-certificates and the sale thereof, will be paid by American Gas.

American Gas reserves the right to sell at any time prior to December 31, 1948 the then remaining shares of common stock of Atlantic City pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, or upon such terms as may be authorized by the Commission. American Gas further reserves the right to alter the dividend policy in such manner as the Board of Directors in the exercise of sound business judgment may deem advisable.

As further steps in the divestment of its interest in Atlantic City, American Gas will use its best efforts to cause the election of one independent director to the Board of Directors of Atlantic City at or about the time of the payment of each of the quarterly dividends described above. Upon final consummation of the plan all directors of Atlantic City who are officers of American Gas will be replaced by independent directors.

Prior to consummation of the plan, American Gas will assign to Atlantic City the note of Pennsgrove in the principal amount of $16,000 for a like amount of cash plus accrued interest. Further, American Gas will cause its wholly owned service company, American Gas and Electric Service Corporation, to cease rendering all service to Atlantic City by December 31, 1948, unless Atlantic City requests that such service be continued, and the regulatory bodies having jurisdiction approve such continuance.

American Gas further requests that the Commission find and its order recite that the transactions contemplated by the plan are necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which American Gas is a member, and necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 of the act, all in accordance with the meaning and requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, including section 1808 (f) and Supplement R thereof.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act before approving any plan thereunder to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that the plan as submitted or as modified is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby; and it appearing appropriate to the Commission that notice be given and a hearing be held on the plan filed by American Gas to afford all interested persons an opportunity to be heard with respect thereto; and

The Commission reserves the right to separate, whether for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition in whole or in part, any of the matters and questions hereinafter set forth or which may arise in this proceeding or to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

It is further ordered, Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act, that a hearing in these consolidated proceedings be held on April 3, 1947, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. The members of the Committee and its staff shall not engage in any investigatory or adversary activities and shall perform no duties inconsistent with their duties and responsibilities as Examiners, members of the Committee or members of the Committee's staff.

(d) Any person appearing in any proceeding before the Committee or an Examiner may be represented by counsel or otherwise. The claimant and the General Counsel, or assistant designated by him, shall be deemed necessary parties to any hearing on a claim. Any other person who asserts that he will be affected by grant or denial of the claim shall, on appropriate application to the Committee, be designated by the Committee as an additional party: Provided, That the Committee may in its discretion reject any such application which it deems frivolous.

(e) The Committee shall not determine any claim (other than a claim which is the subject of a summary proceeding for allowance as provided in paragraph (i) of this section) except after hearing on appropriate notice to all parties, but any party may waive hearing or notice of hearing, and on consent of all parties any claim may be submitted to the Committee on a stipulated record. Hearings may be held at the discretion of the Committee (1) before the Committee as a whole or a quorum thereof, (2) before a Committee member assigned as an examiner, or (3) before an examiner on the staff of the Committee assigned to the particular case. All assignments of examiners shall be made by the Committee which shall endeavor to make assignments to examiners in rotation so far as practicable. Any examiner assigned to the hearing of a claim shall act for the purpose of administering oaths, taking testimony, ruling on objections to the admission of evidence and performing any other functions of the Committee other than the final consideration and determination of claims.

(f) A record shall be kept of all hearings before the Committee or before an Examiner including a transcript of testimony and exhibits together with all papers and requests filed in the proceeding. When the hearing has been conducted before an Examiner (either a member of the Committee, or another examiner on the Committee's staff), the record shall be transmitted to the Committee together with the Examiner's recommended determination of all issues of fact and law necessary to the disposition of the claim. Before submitting the recommended determination to the Committee, the examiner shall afford to the parties appropriate opportunity to submit proposed recommended determinations and briefs thereon. The recommended determination of the examiner shall be made available to the parties and shall become a part of the record. The parties shall be given appropriate opportunity to submit exceptions, proposals for modification and briefs and oral argument thereon before final determination by the Committee. When a hearing has been conducted before the Committee or a quarum thereof, the Committee shall issue a tentative determination. Before issuing tentative determination, the Committee shall afford to the parties appropriate opportunity to submit proposed tentative determinations and briefs thereon. The tentative determination shall be made available to the parties and shall become a part of the record. The parties shall be given appropriate opportunity to submit exceptions, proposals for modification and briefs and oral argument thereon before final determination by the Committee.

(g) The final determination of the Committee shall be effectuated by the Philippine Alien Property Administration unless the Administrator undertakes a personal review thereof. Application by any party for such review shall be made within twenty days after receipt by him of the final determination of the Committee or within such further time as may be allowed by the Committee or the Administrator. If the Administrator undertakes such review, he will afford all parties opportunity for submission of briefs to him and, in his discretion, for oral argument before him. Upon consideration of the record, the final determination of the Committee, and any such briefs and argument, he will make a personal determination adopting, modifying, reversing, remanding, or otherwise disposing of the Committee's determination and will cause his personal determination to be transmitted to the parties and be effectuated.

(h) Each party, on submitting any paper under paragraphs (f) and (g) of this section, shall transmit copies thereof to every other party. Oral argument shall be held only upon notice to all parties.

(i) The General Counsel of the Philippine Alien Property Administration may, in his discretion, initiate a summary proceeding for allowance of any claim which he deems clearly entitled to allowance that the public interest does not require contest thereof nor hearing thereon, by submitting to the Committee a recommendation for allowance, stating the facts considered in making the recommendation. The Committee shall thereupon make its own review of the claim and the recommendation and shall cause to be made any further investigation which it deems proper, but need not issue any notice of hearing nor issue any recommendation or tentative determination nor transmit to the claimant any copy of any document. If the Committee concurs in the recommendation, it shall issue a final determination allowing the claim (which may be in the form of an approval of the recommendation) and such determination will be effectuated by the Philippine Alien Property Administration. If the Committee does not concur in the recommendation or if an application for hearing is timely filed, the Committee shall set the claim down for hearing in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section, and neither the recommendation for summary allowance nor its dismissal shall be considered in the hearing.

(j) At least thirty days before the issuance of a final determination allowing a claim for the return of property, the Committee shall cause to be published, in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Manila, P. I., and when necessary in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a notice of intention to make such return, specifying the person to whom such return is to be made and where the properties, interest or proceeds to be returned is located. If, within thirty days, no response to such notice is received indicating any reason for withholding return of the vested property, the final determination may then be issued and effectuated by the Philippine Alien Property Administration.

(k) The Committee may, in its discretion, allow any claim to be withdrawn upon application of the claimant. The Committee may, on its own motion or motion of the General Counsel, dismiss any claim if (1) the claimant fails to prosecute the claim or unreasonably delays such prosecution or (2) the facts alleged by the claimant do not entitle the claimant to relief under the applicable provisions of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and the Philippine Property Act of 1946. No claim shall be dismissed until thirty days after the Committee shall have given notice to the claimant of the proposed dismissal and opportunity to show cause why such dismissal shall not be effected.

§ 601.2 Rules of Vested Property Claims Committee. (a) All claims are listed for disposition according to the date on which they were received for filing. In scheduling claims for hearing those claims which assert an erroneous determination by the Administrator, either of nationality or of ownership, will, however, be given general preference on the Committee's calendar. Two or more claims related to the same property or presenting a common question of law or fact may, upon notice to the parties, be consolidated by the Committee for hearing.

(b) Hearings before the Committee shall be at the time and place ordered by the Committee and for cause may be adjourned from time to time. Notice of a hearing will be served on the claimant (or the person designated by him in his notice of claim, as the case may be) by registered letter, mailed at least ten days in advance of the date of the hearing. All hearings before the Committee shall be public, except as otherwise ordered in the national interest by the Committee.

(c) Subpoenas will be issued upon request of any party to the hearing upon a showing that the proposed witness is needed and can testify to material facts at issue. Testimony at any hearing will be upon oath (or affirmation) and subject to cross-examination. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law and equity will not necessarily be controlling. For example, hearsay and secondary evidence may be admitted, but the Committee will give consideration to its nature in determining its weight and credibility, if any. The Committee will, however, on its own motion or on objection, exclude evidence which it deems privileged by law from disclosure, or which it deems immaterial, irrelevant, unduly repetitious, or otherwise of no probative value. On objection to rulings made during the examination of witnesses, a brief statement of grounds of objection must be made, but an automatic exception will follow if the objection is overruled by the Committee.

(d) The claimant shall be the moving party and the burden of proof on the issues tendered by the claim shall be on him and he shall proceed first at the hearing. The Committee shall, in each case, determine the time and manner of filing and exchanging tentative determinations and briefs.

(e) Any notice of claim, or other paper filed in a proceeding, may be corrected or amended, but any such correction or amendment taking place after a claim is noticed for hearing shall be by leave of the Committee. By leave of the Committee, any party who has made profert of an original exhibit may withdraw it from the record of the proceeding by substitution of a certified copy on notice to all other parties.

(f) It is the policy of the Committee to arrange prehearing conferences for the purpose of clarifying the issues, agreeing on matters of exhibits, and taking other steps related to simplification of the hearing.

§ 601.3 Service of process on persons within enemy territory. See § 611.4 of this chapter.

§ 601.4 Sale of property by the Philippine Alien Property Administration—(a) General sales. Unless otherwise determined by the Philippine Alien Property Administrator, all sales by the Administrator other than those treated in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, shall be public sales, conducted under the procedure hereinafter set forth.

(1) Advertising. Each sale shall be advertised in a newspaper of general circulation in the place where the property or a major portion thereof is located, and in such trade and other publications, if any, as the Chief of the Division conducting the sale may deem appropriate. The initial advertisement shall appear at least fifteen days before the date set for opening bids, or at such other time as in the opinion of the Chief of the Division affords to interested parties an adequate opportunity for bidding.

(2) Information. The Chief of the Division involved may designate one or more of the employees of the Philippine Alien Property Administration to be present at the places and times specified in the advertisement to furnish such available information as may be requested with respect to the property to be sold. Confidential information or matter which might be of benefit to competitors, or information with respect to formulae, processes, or trade secrets, will be furnished in appropriate cases only when upon direct approval of the Administrator.

(3) Inspection. Appropriate opportunity for inspection of the property to be sold will be afforded.

(4) Bids. Bids shall be submitted to the Philippine Alien Property Administrator to the appropriate office designated in the advertisement of sale. All bids shall be in writing and sealed in plain envelopes suitably marked to identify the sale in connection with which they are submitted and, until the award is made or the bids are rejected, shall constitute irrevocable offers to purchase the property. Bids will be opened in public at the hour and place, and by the person, appointed by the Chief of the Division involved, and in the presence of such bidders as may desire to attend. The absence of bidders at the time and place of the opening shall not prevent the making of the award.

(5) Award. Within the thirty days after the opening of bids or such lesser period as may be set forth in the terms and conditions of sale the Administrator will make the award to the highest qualified bidder or reject the bids, stating the reason therefor.

(6) Notification. The successful bidder will be notified in writing of the award.

(7) Execution of documents. All papers and documents issued in consummating such sales may be executed and delivered on behalf of the Administrator by his duly authorized representative.

(8) Return of checks. Where earnest money checks are required to accompany the bid, the checks shall be returned to the unsuccessful bidders together with notice of the rejection of their bids.

(9) Methods of payment. Unless otherwise determined by the Administrator, the sales price or any part thereof shall be paid by certified cashier's or banker's check. Each such instrument shall be made payable to the "Philippine Alien Property Administrator", and shall be delivered to a duly authorized representative of the Administrator.

(b) The sale of property of a value determined to be not in excess of $15,000—(1) Methods of sale. The Chief of the Division having jurisdiction thereof may, after authorization by the Philippine Alien Property Administrator, sell at public or private sale, with or without public or other advertisement, any right, title, interest or estate the Administrator has vested in chattels, land, securities, contracts, claims, choses-in-action, or any other property whether tangible or intangible, in items, lots, or quantities having a value, determined as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, not exceeding $15,000 for each item, lot or quantity to be sold.

(2) Determination of value. The Administrator will determine whether the value of any item, lot or quantity of property is not in excess of $15,000. If the Administrator determines the value of any item, lot, or quantity of property to be an amount not exceeding $15,000, the sale shall be made by the Chief of the Division on such terms and in such manner as the Administrator shall direct.

(3) Execution of documents. All papers and documents issued in consummating such sales may be executed and delivered on behalf of the Administrator by his duly authorized representative.

(4) Methods of payment. Unless otherwise determined by the Administrator, the sales price or any part thereof shall be paid by certified, cashier's or banker's check. Each such instrument shall be made payable to the "Philippine Alien Property Administrator" and shall be delivered to a duly authorized representative of the Administrator.

(c) Special sales—(1) Types of special sales. Sales of the following types involving property of any value whatsoever are hereby designated as "special sales":

(i) Sales pursuant to regulations, requests or instructions of any Department or Agency of the United States;

(ii) Sales to the United States or any Agency thereof;

(iii) Sales of property which is perishable, or the preservation, storage, or retention of which entails undue expense or loss;

(iv) Sales of any rights which lapse unless exercised within a limited time, including, but not limited to, rights appurtenant to the ownership of securities;

(v) Sales of securities or any commodities which are made upon public exchange under government regulations;

(vi) Sales of real estate.

(2) Methods of special sales. Such sales shall be made in compliance with the applicable provisions of this section governing sales of property of a value determined by the Administrator to be not in excess of $15,000 and such other terms and conditions as the Administrator shall determine in each case.

(d) Miscellaneous. (1) Unless the Administrator shall otherwise direct, no person or business organization shall be qualified to bid for or purchase property if he or it is on the Proclaimed List of Certain Blocked Nationals or is not an American citizen or a Filipino citizen or is not a business enterprise controlled by an American or Filipino citizen and organized under the laws of the United States, or any State or Territory thereof or of the laws of the Republic of the Philippines.

(2) Sales by corporations, all or part of the shares of which have been vested by the Administrator, or sales in the normal course of operation (not liquidation) of unincorporated business enterprises, the assets of or interests in which have been vested, in whole or in part, by the Administrator, shall not be subject to this section.

(3) Sales shall be made in conformity with the applicable laws and regulations of Governmental Agencies of the United States and the Republic of the Philippines.

(4) No representative of the Administrator is authorized to make any warranty or guaranty, expressed or implied, respecting or in any way concerning any property or enterprise being sold.

(5) The Administrator reserves the right to waive, change, amend or modify any or all of the regulation in this part and the terms and conditions of sale at any time; the Administrator also reserves the right to withdraw any property from sale at any time or to reject any or all bids.

Reasons for issuance of regulations regarding sales of property by Philippine Alien Property Administration. Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, the Philippine Property Act of 1946 and appropriate Executive orders thereunder, the Administrator, determining:

That any vested property under the jurisdiction of the Philippine Alien Property Administration, may be sold to Filipino citizens, unless there is a showing that the proposed Filipino purchaser was disloyal to the United States during the war with Japan. The reasons for selling vested property to Filipino citizens are; that they were formerly nationals of the United States; that the United States Congress and Government so intended as indicated by legislative history, particularly the approval of the sale of vested property to Filipino citizens by the act approving the budget of 1946 and by the Philippine Property Act of 1946. Moreover, it is unreasonable to exclude loyal Filipinos from purchasing the vested property all of which is located in the Republic of the Philippines. Furthermore, the sale of vested property to Filipinos will benefit the economy of the Islands, improve the present friendly relations between the two governments and is in the public interest; and

That any of the vested property may be sold to American citizens, unless the laws of the Republic of the Philippines prohibit American citizens from holding title to the property being sold; and

That in the course of the operation of the Philippine Alien Property Administration many types of property have been vested; and

That the public interest requires that such property be liquidated and sold in manners best suited to the type of property involved and at prices consistent with present price structures and

That public sales with written bids publicly opened at a designated place are in general best calculated to protect both the interests of the United States and the purchasers; and that such sales have the advantage of providing complete records of the proceedings; and that in the case of such sales by written bids the place of sale may most advantageously be determined by considerations of administrative convenience without injury to the interest of the United States or of the bidders or other interested parties; and that it is therefore not necessary in the public interest that such bids be opened at the place where the property or a major portion thereof is situated; and

That properties in lots of small value cannot usually be sold to best advantage at public sale, but are most efficiently disposed at the time and place of the most favorable demand and upon such terms and conditions as may be necessary to secure the best market price; and that in such cases by such informal procedure unnecessary expense, delay and inconvenience may be avoided; and

That real estate may be disposed of at the most favorable prices through the medium of recognized brokers or by direct negotiations; and

That many properties may be sold at the request of other departments and agencies of the United States under regulations fully protecting the United States; and

That perishable or expendable commodities must be quickly sold in order to preserve the value of the property; and

That many goods are best disposed of in government-regulated securities and commodity markets where the rules and regular quotation of prices on the exchange offer more complete protection to the public interest than would a public sale; for the above-stated reasons in the public interest, hereby issues § 601.4.

(j) To issue subpoenas;

(k) To make initial decisions.

This part shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

11. By amending § 0.57 (e) to read as follows:

(e) Who may act in the absence of the referee. In case of the absence of the referee, or his inability to act, the powers and duties to be performed by him under these rules of practice in connection with a proceeding assigned to him may, without abatement of the proceeding unless otherwise ordered by the Commission, be assigned to any other referee.

Failure to file an answer to or plead specifically to any allegation of the complaint shall constitute an admission of such allegation.

(c) Procedure upon admission of facts. The admission, in the answer or by failure to file an answer, of all the material allegations of fact contained in the complaint shall constitute a waiver of hearing. Upon such admission of facts, the referee, without further investigation or hearing, shall prepare his report, in which he shall adopt as his proposed findings of fact the material facts alleged in the complaint. Unless the parties have waived service of the referee's report, it shall be served upon them in the manner provided in § 0.72. The parties shall be given an opportunity to file exceptions to the report, to file briefs in support of such exceptions, and to make oral argument thereon before the Commission. Every such petition shall be served by the hearing clerk on the other parties to the proceeding.

17. By striking the period at the end of the third sentence of § 0.73 Requests for promulgation, amendment, or rescission of regulations and inserting a colon in lieu thereof and adding the following proviso: "Provided, That notice shall be given of the denial in whole or in part of any such request and, except in affirming a prior denial or where the denial is self-explanatory, such notice shall be accompanied by a simple statement of procedural or other grounds for denial."

§ 0.93 Preparation and issuance of order—(a) Preparation of order. As soon as practicable after the receipt of the record from the hearing clerk, the Commission, upon the basis, and after due consideration, of the record, shall prepare its order in the proceeding which shall include findings, conclusions, order, and rulings on motions, exceptions, proposed findings, conclusions and orders submitted by parties, not theretofore ruled upon.

(b) Issuance of order. The order, prepared as described in paragraph (a) of this section, shall be issued and served upon the parties as the final order in the proceeding without further procedure: Provided, That, if the terms of the order differ substantially from those proposed in the report of the referee, the Commission may, if it deems it advisable to do so, direct that a copy of the order be served upon the parties as a tentative order; and, in such event, opportunity shall be given the parties to file exceptions thereto and written arguments or briefs in support of such exceptions. In such case, if no exceptions are filed within 20 days following the service of the tentative order, it shall be issued and served as the final order in the proceeding.

31. By adding a new subheading and section as follows:

RULES APPLICABLE TO ALL PROCEEDINGS

§ 0.96 Hearings before the Commission. The Commission may act in the place and stead of a referee or presiding officer in any proceeding hereunder. When it so acts, the hearing clerk shall transmit the record to the Commission at the expiration of the period provided for the filing of proposed findings of fact, conclusions and orders, and the Commission shall thereupon, after due consideration of the record, issue its final order in the proceeding: Provided, That it may issue a tentative order, in which event the parties shall be afforded an opportunity to file exceptions before the issuance of the final order.

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

SCHEDULES TO BE FILED

The Securities and Exchange Commission deems it necessary for the exercise of the functions vested in it and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors to amend § 210.6-10 (a) (1) (Rule 6-10 (a) (1)) of Regulation S-X. The amendment makes the rule also applicable to Schedule I (Investments in securities of unaffiliated issuers) thereby requiring such schedule to be filed only as of the date of the most recent balance sheet instead of for each period for which a statement of income and expense is filed as presently required by § 210.6-10 (a) (2) (Rule 6-10 (a) (2)) of Regulation S-X. The purpose of the amendment is to relieve registrants of a reporting requirement which the Commission considers has no material adverse effect on investors. The Commission for good cause finds that notice and public procedure provided for in section 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act are unnecessary for the reasons that the amendment has no material adverse effect on investors and the effect on the registrants is to reduce their reporting requirements; and the Commission deems that the amendment is exemptive or relieving restriction within the meaning of section 4 (c) of that act. Therefore, the Commission, pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, particularly sections 7 and 19 (a) thereof, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly 12, 13, 15 (d), and 23 (a) thereof, and the Investment Company Act of 1940, particularly sections 8, 30, 31 (c), and 38 (a) thereof, hereby amends, effective immediately § 210.6-10 (a) (1) (Rule 6-10 (a) (1)) of Regulation S-X by inserting between the word "schedules" and the Roman numeral "VII," the Roman numeral "I" with a comma thereafter.

(1) The schedules specified below in this rule as Schedules I, VII, VIII and IX shall be filed as of the date of the most recent balance sheet filed for each person and for each group for which separate statements are filed. Such schedules shall be certified if the related balance sheet is certified.

(Secs. 7 and 19 (a), 48 Stat. 78, 85, secs. 12, 13, 48 Stat. 892, 894, sec. 15 (d), 49 Stat. 1379, sec. 23 (a), 48 Stat. 901, secs. 8, 30, 31 (c), 38 (a) 54 Stat. 803, 836, 838, 841; 15 U. S. C. 77g, 77s, 78l, 78m, 78o, 78w, 80a-8, 80a-29, 80a-30, 80a-37)

Secretary.

SUBPART A—INSURED STATUS

§ 237.101 Statutory provisions.

An employee will have been "completely insured" if it appears to the satisfaction of the Board that at the time of his death, whether before or after the enactment of this section, he will have had the qualifications set forth in any one of the following paragraphs:

(i) A current connection with the railroad industry; and a number of quarters of coverage, not less than six, and at least equal to one-half of the number of quarters, elapsing in the period after 1936, or after the quarter in which he will have attained the age of twenty-one, whichever is later, and up to but excluding the quarter in which he will have attained the age of sixty-five years or died, whichever will first have occurred (excluding from the elapsed quarters any quarter during any part of which a retirement annuity will have been payable to him); and if the number of such elapsed quarters is an odd number such number shall be reduced by one; or

(ii) A current connection with the railroad industry; and forty or more quarters of coverage; or

(iii) A pension will have been payable to him; or a retirement annuity based on service of not less than ten years (as computed in awarding the annuity) will have begun to accrue to him before 1948. (Section 5 (1) (7) of the Act)

An individual shall be deemed to have "a current connection with the railroad industry" at the time an annuity begins to accrue to him and at death if, in any thirty consecutive calendar months before the month in which an annuity under section 2 begins to accrue to him (or the month in which he dies if that first occurs), he will have been in service as an employee in not less than twelve calendar months and, if such thirty calendar months do not immediately precede such month, he will not have been engaged in any regular employment other than employment for an employer in the period before such month and after the end of such thirty months. For the purposes of section 5 only, an individual shall be deemed also to have a "current connection with the railroad industry" if he is in all other respects completely insured but would not be fully insured under the Social Security Act, or if he is in all other respects partially insured but would be neither fully nor currently insured under the Social Security Act, or if he has no wage quarters of coverage. (Section 1 (o) of the Act)

The term "quarter of coverage" shall mean a compensation quarter of coverage or a wage quarter of coverage, and the term "quarters of coverage" shall mean compensation quarters of coverage, or wage quarters of coverage, or both: Provided, That there shall be for a single employee no more than four quarters of coverage for a single calendar year. (Section 5 (1) (3) of the Act)

The term "compensation quarter of coverage" shall mean any quarter of coverage computed with respect to compensation paid to an employee after 1936 in accordance with the following table:

Months of service in a calendar year	Total compensation paid in the calendar year
	Less than $50	$50 but less than $100	$100 but less than $150	$150 but less than $200	$200 or more
7-9	0	1	2	3	3
10-12	0	1	2	3	4

The term "wage quarter of coverage" shall mean any quarter of coverage determined in accordance with the provisions of Title II of the Social Security Act. (Section 5 (1) (5) of the Act)

§ 237.102 Completely insured status—(a) Payments based upon, and existence of, completely insured status. All insurance annuities and lump sums for survivors are conditioned upon a deceased employee's insured status. This status is determined by his service, compensation and wage history. Unless a deceased employee was completely insured at death, his widow cannot become entitled to a widow's insurance annuity, and his surviving parent cannot become entitled to a parent's insurance annuity, on the basis of his earnings. For the purpose of determining whether a deceased employee was a completely insured employee at death it is immaterial whether his death occurred before, on, or after the enactment date of section 5 of the act.

A deceased employee was completely insured at death if (1) he had acquired a certain number of quarters of coverage and had a current connection with the railroad industry at the time of his death, or (2) there had been payable to him a pension under section 6 of the act, or (3) there had begun to accrue to him, before 1948, a retirement annuity based on not less than ten years of service (as computed in awarding the annuity).

(b) Quarter of coverage. A quarter of coverage may be either a compensation quarter of coverage or a wage quarter of coverage.

A compensation quarter of coverage is a quarter of coverage computed, with respect to compensation paid an employee after 1936, regardless of his age, in accordance with the table contained in section 5 (1) (4) of the act.

A wage quarter of coverage is a quarter of coverage determined in accordance with the provisions of title II of the Social Security Act.

The term "quarters of coverage" includes compensation quarters of coverage, wage quarters of coverage, or both. However, no employee may acquire more than four quarters of coverage for a single calendar year.

(c) Current connection with the railroad industry. A deceased employee had a current connection with the railroad industry at the time of his death if he had had a period of thirty consecutive calendar months which met certain requirements set out in the act. First of all, that period must have been before any retirement annuity began to accrue to the employee, or before the month in which he died, if that occurred first. Secondly, he must during that period have been in service as an employee in at least twelve calendar months. A third requirement must have been met if there was any interval between the end of the thirty-month period in question and the month in which a retirement annuity began to accrue to the employee, or the month in which he died, if that occurred first. In that interval the employee must not have been engaged in any regular employment other than employment for an employer; as here used, "regular employment" means full or part-time service, for remuneration, by an individual in the employ of another on a recurring basis. For the purpose of determining the existence of a current connection, an individual performing service for remuneration, whether or not under a contract, is deemed to be in the employ of another unless such service is performed as a part of his independently established trade, business, or occupation; and in the absence of evidence to the contrary, an individual is presumed to be regularly employed if he has been paid remuneration of not less than $200 in each of two consecutive calendar quarters.

Even though the deceased employee had no period of thirty consecutive calendar months which met the requirements discussed above, he may, nevertheless, have had, at the time of his death, a current connection with the railroad industry for the purposes of this part. This will be true if the employee was not fully insured under the Social Security Act, but met all the requirements (aside from that of current connection with the railroad industry) of a completely insured status under paragraph (d) of this section. It will also be true if the employee was neither fully insured nor currently insured under the Social Security Act, but met all the requirements (aside from that of current connection with the railroad industry) of a partially insured status under § 237.103. Finally, it will be true if the employee had no wage quarters of coverage.

(d) Determination of completely insured status on basis of quarters of coverage and current connection. A deceased employee, whether or not he was completely insured at death by virtue of having been a pensioner or an annuitant, could have been completely insured at the time of his death if at that time he had a current connection with the railroad industry, and at least forty quarters of coverage. Even if he had less than forty quarters of coverage, he could have been completely insured at the time of his death if at that time he had a current connection with the railroad industry, and a required number of quarters of coverage, not less than six, as provided in this paragraph. If such an employee did not have, at the time of his death, a current connection with the railroad industry, or if he had less than six quarters of coverage, he was not a completely insured employee under the provisions of this paragraph. In the case of a deceased employee who, at the time of his death, had a current connection with the railroad industry, and at least six, but less than forty, quarters of coverage, the determination of whether he had a completely insured status under the provisions of this paragraph is made as follows:

(1) Elapsed quarters. Take the number of calendar quarters which have elapsed after 1936, or after the quarter in which the employee attained the age of 21 if he attained such age after 1936, and up to but excluding the quarter in which the employee attained the age of 65 or died, whichever occurred first. Subtract from that number of elapsed quarters the number of such quarters during any part of which a retirement annuity was payable to the employee. If the resulting number of elapsed quarters is an odd number, subtract one. Take one-half of the number of elapsed quarters thus obtained, and the resulting number, if six or more, is the number of quarters of coverage required; if the resulting number is less than six, the number of quarters of coverage required is six.

(2) Quarters of coverage determined. Determine the number of quarters of coverage the employee had acquired. If this number equals or exceeds the number required, the employee was completely insured.

A quarter of coverage may be acquired at any time subsequent to December 31, 1936, regardless of whether there are any elapsed quarters under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and regardless of the age of the employee.

§ 237.103 Partially insured status—(a) Payments based upon partially insured status. An employee who was not completely insured at death may nevertheless have had a service, compensation and wage history which, upon his death, will give him the status of a partially insured employee. Unless he was either completely insured or partially insured at death, his widow cannot become entitled to a widow's current insurance annuity, his surviving child cannot become entitled to a child's insurance annuity, and no person can become entitled to a lump-sum payment, on the basis of his earnings. For the purpose of determining whether a deceased employee was a partially insured employee at death it is immaterial whether his death occurred before, on, or after the enactment date of section 5 of the act.

(b) Determination of partially insured status. A deceased employee was a partially insured employee at death if he had a current connection with the railroad industry, and at least six quarters of coverage in a prescribed period. That period consists of the three calendar years preceding the year in which the employee died, and those calendar quarters of the year of his death which preceded the quarter in which he died.

SUBPART B—BASIC COMPUTATION

(i) For an employee who will have been partially insured, or completely insured solely by virtue of paragraph (7) (i) or (7) (ii) or both: the sum of (A) 40 per centum of his average monthly remuneration, up to and including $75; plus (B) 10 per centum of such average monthly remuneration exceeding $75 and up to and including $250, plus (C) 1 per centum of the sum of (A) plus (B) multiplied by the number of years after 1936 in each of which the compensation, wages, or both, paid to him will have been equal to $200 or more; if the basic amount, thus computed, is less than $10 it shall be increased to $10;

(ii) For an employee who will have been completely insured solely by virtue of paragraph (7) (iii): the sum of 40 per centum of his monthly compensation if an annuity will have been payable to him, or, if a pension will have been payable to him, 40 per centum of the average monthly earnings on which such pension was computed, up to and including $75, plus 10 per centum of such compensation or earnings exceeding $75 and up to and including $250. If the average monthly earnings on which a pension payable to him was computed are not ascertainable from the records in the possession of the Board, the amount computed under this subdivision shall be $33.33, except that if the pension payable to him was less than $25, such amount shall be four-thirds of the amount of the pension or $13.33, whichever is greater. The term "monthly compensation" shall, for the purposes of this subdivision, mean the monthly compensation used in computing the annuity;

(iii) For an employee who will have been completely insured under paragraph (7) (iii) and either (7) (i) or (7) (ii): the higher of the two amounts computed in accordance with subdivisions (i) and (ii). (Section 5 (1) (10) of the Act)

An employee's "average monthly remuneration" shall mean the quotient obtained by dividing (A) the sum of the compensation and wages paid to him after 1936 and before the quarter in which he will have died, eliminating for any single calendar year, from compensation, any excess over $300 for any calendar month in such year, and from the sum of wages and compensation any excess over $3,000, by (B) three times the number of quarters elapsing after 1936 and before the quarter in which he will have died: Provided, That for the period prior to and including the calendar year in which he will have attained the age of twenty-two there shall be included in the divisor not more than three times the number of quarters of coverage in such period: Provided further, That there shall be excluded from the divisor any calendar quarter during any part of which a retirement annuity will have been payable to him.

With respect to an employee who will have been awarded a retirement annuity, the term "compensation" shall, for the purposes of this paragraph, mean the compensation on which such annuity will have been based. (Section 5 (1) (9) of the Act)

The term "wages" shall mean wages as defined in section 209 (a) of the Social Security Act. (Section 5 (1) (6) of the Act)

§ 237.202 Basic amount—(a) Payments fixed with relation to basic amount. The amounts of all insurance annuities and lump sums for survivors are fixed with relation to the basic amount of the deceased employee on whose insured status they are conditioned.

(b) Computation of basic amount. The manner in which a deceased employee's basic amount is computed depends upon the nature of his insured status.

In the case of completely insured employees, a distinction is made between those whose completely insured status was based solely on a current connection with the railroad industry and the acquisition of the required numbers of quarters of coverage, and those who were completely insured solely because of having been pensioners or annuitants. The computation is made as follows:

(1) Employee partially insured, or completely insured solely because of current connection and quarters of coverage. In these cases:

(i) If the employee's average monthly remuneration does not exceed $75, take forty percent of such average monthly remuneration. If the average monthly remuneration exceeds $75, take forty percent of $75 and add thereto ten percent of the amount by which the average monthly remuneration exceeds $75 and does not exceed $250.

(ii) Determine the number of calendar years, after 1936, in which $200 or more of compensation, wages, or both, were paid to the employee. ("Wages" are defined in section 209 (a) of the Social Security Act as amended.) Multiply the number of such years by one percent of the amount computed under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

(iii) Add the figure computed under subdivision (i) and the figure computed under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph. The sum so obtained is the basic amount. If such sum is less than $10, it is increased to $10.

(2) Employee completely insured solely because of being a pensioner. In these cases:

(i) If the average monthly earnings on which the pension was computed are ascertainable from the records in the possession of the Board, and if such average monthly earnings do not exceed $75, take forty percent of such average monthly earnings. If such average monthly earnings exceed $75, take forty percent of $75 and add thereto ten percent of the amount by which the average monthly earnings exceed $75 and do not exceed $250.

(ii) If the average monthly earnings on which the pension was computed are not ascertainable from the records in the possession of the Board, and if the pension was $25 or more, the basic amount is $33.33, but if the pension was less than $25, the basic amount is four-thirds of the amount of the pension, or $13.33, whichever is greater.

(3) Employee completely insured solely because of being an annuitant. In these cases: If the employee's monthly compensation does not exceed $75, take forty-percent of such monthly compensation. If the monthly compensation exceeds $75, take forty percent of $75 and add thereto ten percent of the amount by which the monthly compensation exceeds $75 and does not exceed $250. For the purposes of this subparagraph, "monthly compensation" means the monthly compensation which was used in computing the employee's annuity.

(4) Employees completely insured both because of being pensioners or annuitants, and also because of current connection and quarters of coverage. In these cases: If the employee was a pensioner, compare the amount computed under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph with the amount computed under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph; whichever is greater is the basic amount. If the employee was an annuitant, compare the amount computed under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph with the amount computed under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph; whichever is greater is the basic amount.

§ 237.203 Average monthly remuneration. A deceased employee's average monthly remuneration is computed by dividing his total compensation and wages by three times the number of his expired quarters. The total compensation and wages and the number of expired quarters are determined as follows:

(a) Total compensation and wages. With respect to the period after 1936 and up to but excluding the quarter in which the employee died:

(1) For each calendar year during that period take the total of the amounts of compensation paid the employee in each calendar month during that year, excluding any excess over $300 for any calendar month.

(2) For each calendar year during that period take the amount of wages paid the employee in that calendar year. ("Wages" are defined in section 209 (a) of the Social Security Act as amended.)

(3) For each calendar year during that period add the figure arrived at under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and the figure arrived at under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, with regard to that year. Exclude from the result any excess over $3,000.

(4) For all calendar years during that period take the sum of the figures arrived at under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph with regard to each year. The result is the employee's total compensation and wages.

(b) Expired quarters. Take the number of calendar quarters which have elapsed after 1936 and up to but excluding the quarter in which the employee died; in arriving at this number, if the employee attained the age of 22 after 1936, include, for the period after 1936 and through the calendar year in which he attained that age, only a number of quarters equal to the number of quarters of coverage in that period. Subtract from the number of quarters thus arrived at the number of such quarters during any part of which a retirement annuity was payable to the employee.

SUBPART 3—FAMILY RELATIONSHIPS

§ 237.301 Statutory provisions. For the purposes of this section:

(1) The qualifications for "widow", "child", and "parent" shall be, except for the purposes of subsection (f), those set forth in section 209 (j) and (k), and section 202 (f) (3) of the Social Security Act, respectively; and in addition—

(i) A "widow" shall have been living with her husband employee at the time of his death;

(ii) A "child" shall have been dependent upon its parent employee at the time of his death; shall not be adopted after such death; shall be unmarried; and less than eighteen years of age; and

(iii) A "parent" shall have been wholly dependent upon and supported at the time of his death by the employee to whom the relationship of "parent" is claimed; and shall have filed proof of such dependency and support within two years after such date of death, or within six months after January 1, 1947.

A "widow" or a "child" shall be deemed to have been so living with a husband or so dependent upon a parent if the conditions set forth in section 209 (n) or section 202 (c) (3) or (4) of the Social Security Act, respectively, are fulfilled. In determining whether an applicant is the wife, widow, child, or parent of an employee as claimed, the rules set forth in section 209 (m) of the Social Security Act shall be applied. (Section 5 (1) of the Act)

The term "widow" (except when used in section 202 (g)) means the surviving wife of an individual who either (1) is the mother of such individual's son or daughter, or (2) was married to him prior to the beginning of the twelfth month before the month in which he died. (Section 209 (j) of the Social Security Act)

The term "child" means (1) the child of an individual, and (2) in the case of a living individual, a stepchild or adopted child who has been such stepchild or adopted child for thirty-six months immediately preceding the month in which application for child's benefits is filed, and (3) in the case of a deceased individual, stepchild or adopted child who was such stepchild or adopted child for twelve months immediately preceding the month in which such individual died. (Section 209 (k) of the Social Security Act)

As used in this subsection, the term "parent" means the mother or father of an individual, a stepparent of an individual by a marriage contracted before such individual attained the age of sixteen, or an adopting parent by whom an individual was adopted before he attained the age of sixteen. (Section 202 (f) (3) of the Social Security Act)

• • • A widow shall be deemed to have been living with her husband at the time of his death if they were both members of the same household on the date of his death, or she was receiving regular contributions from him toward her support on such date, or he had been ordered by any court to contribute to her support. (Section 209 (n) of the Social Security Act)

A child shall be deemed dependent upon a father or adopting father, or to have been dependent upon such individual at the time of the death of such individual, unless, at the time of such death, or, if such individual was living, at the time such child's application for child's insurance benefits was filed, such individual was not living with or contributing to the support of such child and—

(A) Such child is neither the legitimate nor adopted child of such individual, or

(B) Such child has been adopted by some other individual, or

(C) Such child was living with and was chiefly supported by such child's stepfather. (Section 202 (c) (3) of the Social Security Act)

A child shall be deemed dependent upon a mother, adopting mother, or stepparent, or to have been dependent upon such individual at the time of the death of such individual, only if, at the time of such death, or, if such individual was living, at the time such child's application for child's insurance benefits was filed, no parent other than such individual was contributing to the support of such child and such child was not living with its father or adopting father. (Section 202 (c) (4) of the Social Security Act)

In determining whether an applicant is the wife, widow, child, or parent of a fully insured or currently insured individual for purposes of this title, the Board shall apply such law as would be applied in determining the devolution of intestate personal property by the courts of the State in which such insured individual is domiciled at the time such applicant files application, or, if such insured individual is dead, by the courts of the State in which he was domiciled at the time of his death, or if such insured individual is or was not so domiciled in any State, by the courts of the District of Columbia. Applicants who according to such law would have the same status relative to taking intestate personal property as a wife, widow, child, or parent shall be deemed such. (Section 209 (m) of the Social Security Act)

§ 237.302 Applicable State law and status—(a) Applicable State law defined. "Applicable State law" is the law which the courts of the domicile of the deceased employee, on the basis of whose insured status an individual claims an insurance annuity or lump sum under this part, would apply in deciding who is a widow, child, or parent, when determining the devolution of intestate personal property. The deceased employee's domicile is determined as of the time of his death. If the deceased employee was not domiciled in any State, applicable State law is the law which the courts of the District of Columbia would apply when determining the devolution of such property.

(b) Status under applicable State law. An individual who is not a widow, child, or parent under applicable State law, but who is treated as such under such law for the purpose of determining the devolution of intestate personal property, has the same "status" as a widow, child, or parent. Thus, under the law of some States, an individual who is not a widow because her supposed marriage was void, may nevertheless be treated as a widow under such law, under certain strictly limited conditions. Such an individual has the "status" of a widow.

§ 237.303 Definition of "widow". An individual is the "widow" of a deceased employee, as that term is used in section 5 of the act (except as stated in § 237.504 (b) under section 5 (f) of the act), if she meets the following requirements:

(a) She is the widow of the deceased employee, or has the same status as a widow, under applicable State law, and

(b) She either (1) is the mother of the deceased employee's son or daughter, or (2) was married to the deceased employee (became his wife, or acquired the status as such, under applicable State law) prior to the beginning of the twelfth month before the month in which he died (an individual is the mother of a deceased employee's son or daughter, within the meaning of this paragraph, if a son or daughter was born to her and such deceased employee, even though such son or daughter died before an application was filed which involved the determination of whether such individual is a "widow," and even though such son or daughter was born after the death of such employee), and

(c) She was living with her husband employee at the time of his death.

(a) If the husband and wife were at such time members of the same household.

A husband and wife were members of the same household if they were living together, and customarily lived together, in the same place of abode.

A husband and wife who customarily lived together in the same place of abode but who were not actually doing so at such time, may nevertheless be members of the same household, if they were apart only temporarily and intended to resume living together in the same place of abode.

(b) If the wife was at such time receiving regular contributions from her husband toward her support.

Contributions must be substantial, and may be made in cash or other medium. In determining the sufficiency of contributions under this paragraph, the surrounding circumstances with respect to both the time when contributions are made and the amount thereof shall be taken into consideration.

(c) If the husband had, at such time, been ordered by any court to contribute to his wife's support.

This condition is met if the husband was legally obligated to contribute to the support of his wife at such time by virtue of any order, judgment, or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, regardless of whether he actually made any such contribution. In determining the existence of such a legal obligation, any such order, judgment, or decree shall be considered as in full force and effect unless it had expired or had been vacated.

§ 237.305 Definition of "child." An individual is a "child," as that term is used in section 5 of the act (except as stated in § 237.504 (b) under section 5 (f) of the act), if he falls in one of the three classes described in paragraph (a) of this section, and if he meets all four of the requirements set out in paragraph (b) of this section.

(a) Classes. For the purposes of this section, individuals are classified as follows:

(1) Children. A son or daughter (by blood) of a deceased employee, who is the child of such deceased employee, or has the same status as a child, under applicable State law, is a "child" of such employee.

(2) Stepchildren. An individual who is the stepchild of a deceased employee by virtue of a marriage valid under applicable State law, which was contracted prior to the beginning of the twelfth month before the month in which the employee died, is a "child" of such employee.

(3) Adopted children. An individual who was legally adopted by a deceased employee, in accordance with applicable State law, prior to the beginning of the twelfth month before the month in which the employee died, is a "child" of such employee.

(b) Requirements. An individual must meet all four of the following requirements in order to be a "child" for the purposes of this section:

(1) The individual must have been dependent upon his parent employee at the time of the employee's death.

(2) The individual shall not have been adopted after the employee's death.

(3) The individual shall be unmarried.

(4) The individual shall be less than 18 years of age.

§ 237.306 Definition of "dependent upon"—(a) Dependency upon a father or adopting father. An individual who has filed an application for a child's insurance annuity based on the insured status of a deceased father or adopting father, who was an employee, is deemed to have been dependent upon such deceased employee at the time of the employee's death if, at such time, such employee was either living with or contributing to the support of such individual.

Even though the deceased employee was not living with or contributing to the support of the individual at the time of the employee's death, the individual is deemed to have been dependent upon such employee at such time if the individual:

(1) Was either the legitimate or adopted child of such employee; and

(2) Was not then the adopted child of someone else; and

(3) Was not living with and being chiefly supported by the stepfather of the individual.

(b) Dependency upon a mother, adopting mother, or stepparent. An individual who has filed an application for a child's insurance annuity based on the insured status of a deceased mother, adopting mother, or stepparent, who was an employee, is deemed to have been dependent upon such deceased employee at the time of the employee's death if, at such time, both of the following conditions existed:

(1) Neither the father nor adopting father of the individual was contributing to his support, and

(2) The individual was not living with his father or adopting father.

§ 237.307 Definition of "parent." An individual is a "parent," as that term is used in section 5 of the act (except as stated in § 237.504 (b) under section 5 (f) of the act), if he falls in one of the three classes described in paragraph (a) of this section, and if he meets both of the requirements set out in paragraph (b) of this section.

(a) Classes. For the purposes of this section, individuals are classified as follows:

(1) Parents. A mother or father (by blood) of a deceased employee, who is the parent of such employee, or has the same status as a parent, under applicable State law, is a "parent" of such employee.

(2) Stepparents. An individual who is a stepparent of a deceased employee by reason of a marriage valid under applicable State law, which was contracted before such employee attained the age of 16, is a "parent" of such employee.

(3) Adopting parents. An individual by whom a deceased empoyee was legally adopted, in accordance with applicable State law, before the employee attained the age of 16, is a "parent" of such employee.

(b) Requirements. An individual must meet both of the following requirements in order to be a "parent" for the purposes of this section:

(1) The individual must have been wholly dependent upon and supported by the deceased employee at the time of the employee's death.

(2) The individual must file proof of dependency and support, within the meaning of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, within

(i) two years after the date of the death of the employee, or

(ii) six months after January 1, 1947 (see § 237.905).

§ 237.308 Definition of "wholly dependent upon and supported by." An individual was "wholly dependent upon and supported by" a deceased employee at the time of the employee's death if, at that time, such individual was supported by such employee and

(a) Had no income or means of support other than the income or support received from such employee; or

(b) Had only inconsequential income or means of support other than that received from such employee.

SUBPART D—INSURANCE ANNUITY PAYMENTS TO SURVIVORS

§ 237.401 Statutory provisions.

Widow's Insurance Annuity. A widow of a completly insured employee, who will have attained the age of sixty-five, shall be entitled during the remainder of her life or, if she remarries, then until remarriage to an annuity for each month equal to three-fourths of such employee's basic amount. (Section 8 (a) of the Act)

Widow's Current Insurance Annuity. A widow of a completely or partially insured employee, who is not entitled to an annuity under subsection (a) and who at the time of filing an application for an annuity under this subsection will have in her care a child of such employee entitled to receive an annuity under subsection (c) shall be entitled to an annuity for each month equal to three-fourths of the employee's basic amount. Such annuity shall cease upon her death, upon her remarriage, when she becomes entitled to an annuity under subsection (a), or when no child of the deceased employee is entitled to receive an annuity under subsection (c), whichever occurs first. (Section 5 (b) of the Act)

Child's Insurance Annuity. Every child of an employee who will have died completely or partially insured shall be entitled, for so long as such child lives and meets the qualifications set forth in paragraph (1) of subsection (1), to an annuity for each month equal to one-half of the employee's basic amount. (Section 5 (c) of the Act)

Parent's Insurance Annuity. Each parent, sixty-five years of age or over, of a completely insured employee, who will have died leaving no widow and no child, shall be entitled, for life, or, if such parent remarries after the employee's death, then until such remarriage, to an annuity for each month equal to one-half of the employee's basic amount. (Section 5 (d) of the Act)

Correlation of payments. (1) An individual, entitled on applying therefor to receive for a month before January 1, 1947, an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act on the basis of an employee's wages, which benefit is greater in amount than would be an annuity for such individual under this section with respect to the death of such employee, shall not be entitled to such annuity.

(2) A widow or child, otherwise entitled to an annuity under this section, shall be entitled only to that part of such annuity for a month which exceeds the total of any retirement annuity, and insurance benefit under the Social Security Act to which such widow or child would be entitled for such month on proper application therefor. A parent, otherwise entitled to an annuity under this section, shall be entitled only to that part of such annuity for a month which exceeds the total of any other annuity under this section, retirement annuity, and insurance benefit under the Social Security Act to which such parent would be entitled for such month on proper application therefor. (Section 5 (g) of the Act)

When annuities begin and end.—No individual shall be entitled to receive an annuity under this section for any month before January 1, 1947. An application for any payment under this section shall be made and filed in such manner and form as the Board prescribes. An annuity under this section for an individual otherwise entitled thereto shall begin with the month in which such individual filed an application for such annuity: Provided, That such individual's annuity shall begin with the first month for which he will otherwise have been entitled to receive such annuity if he files such application prior to the end of the third month immediately succeeding such month. No application for an annuity under this section filed prior to three months before the first month for which the applicant becomes otherwise entitled to receive such annuity shall be accepted. No annuity shall be payable for the month in which the recipient thereof ceases to be qualified therefor. (Section 5 (j) of the Act)

§ 237.402 Widow's insurance annuity—(a) Conditions of entitlement. Subject to the provisions of § 237.406, an individual is entitled to a widow's insurance annuity if she:

(1) Is the widow of a deceased employee who, at the time of his death, was completely insured; and

(2) Was not entitled, and would not have been entitled even if she had applied therefor, to receive, for a month before January 1, 1947, an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act based on the deceased employee's wages and in an amount greater than the widow's insurance annuity would be; and

(3) Has attained the age of 65; and

(4) Has not remarried.

(b) Duration of annuity. Subject to the provisions of § 237.406, an individual is entitled to a widow's insurance annuity for each month beginning with the first month after December, 1946, in which all of the conditions of entitlement are satisfied. The last month for which she is entitled to such annuity is the month immediately preceding the first month in which either of the following events occurs:

(1) She remarries; or

(2) She dies.

(c) Rate of annuity. A widow's insurance annuity for a month is an amount equal to three-fourths of the basic amount of her deceased husband. However, if the widow is entitled, or would have been entitled had she applied therefor, to a retirement annuity, or to an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act, for such month, she shall be entitled only to that part of her current insurance annuity for that month which exceeds the total of such retirement annuity and insurance benefit.

§ 237.403 Widow's current insurance annuity—(a) Conditions of entitlement. Subject to the provisions of § 237.406 of this chapter, an individual is entitled to a widow's current insurance annuity if she:

(c) Rate of annuity. A widow's current insurance annuity for a month is an amount equal to three-fourths of the basic amount of her deceased husband. (d) Meaning of "in her care." A widow has a child "in her care" within the meaning of paragraph (a) (5) of this section if she takes parental responsibility for the welfare and care of such child, even though she does not live in the same home with the child.

(2) Was not entitled, and would not have been entitled even if he had applied therefor, to receive, for a month before January 1, 1947, an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act based on the deceased employee's wages and in an amount greater than the child's insurance annuity would be.

(b) Duration of annuity. Subject to the provisions of § 237.406, an individual is entitled to a child's insurance annuity for each month beginning with the first month after December, 1946, in which all of the conditions of entitlement are satisfied. If the child is born after the death of the employee on whose insured status the child's insurance annuity is based, the first month for which the child may be entitled to such an annuity is the month in which such child is born. The last month for which an individual is entitled to a child's insurance annuity is the month immediately preceding the first month in which any of the following events occurs:

(1) He dies; or

(2) He marries; or

(3) He is adopted; or

(4) He attains the age of 18.

(c) Rate of annuity. A child's insurance annuity for a month is an amount equal to one-half of the basic amount of the deceased employee. If there is more than one deceased employee on the basis of whose insured status an individual is entitled to a child's insurance annuity, the annuity is equal to one-half of the basic amount of whichever employee's basic amount is greatest. If the child is entitled, or would have been entitled had he applied therefor, to an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act, for such month, he shall be entitled only to that part of his insurance annuity for that month which exceeds such insurance benefit.

§ 237.405 Parent's insurance annuity—(a) Conditions of entitlement. Subject to the provisions of § 237.406, an individual is entitled to a parent's insurance annuity if such individual:

(1) Is the parent of a deceased employee, and such employee at the time of his death was completely insured and was survived neither by a widow nor a child; and

(2) Was not entitled, and would not have been entitled even if he had applied therefor, to receive, for a month before January 1, 1947, an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act based on the deceased employee's wages and in an amount greater than the parent's insurance annuity would be; and

(3) Has attained the age of 65; and

(4) Has not remarried since the death of the deceased employee. One or more parents of a deceased employee who had a completely insured status may become entitled to insurance annuities hereunder.

(b) Duration of annuity. Subject to the provisions of § 237.406 of this chapter, an individual is entitled to a parent's insurance annuity for each month beginning with the first month after December, 1946, in which all of the conditions of entitlement are satisfied. The last month for which such individual is entitled to such annuity is the month immediately preceding the first month in which any of the following events occurs:

(1) He dies; or

(2) He remarries.

(c) Rate of annuity. A parent's insurance annuity for a month is an amount equal to one-half of the basic amount of the deceased employee. If there is more than one deceased employee on the basis of whose insured status an individual is entitled to a parent's insurance annuity, the annuity is equal to one-half of the basic amount of whichever employee's basic amount is greatest. If the parent is entitled, or would have been entitled had he applied therefor, to any other insurance annuity under this part, to a retirement annuity, or to an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act, for such month, he shall be entitled only to that part of his parent's insurance annuity for that month which exceeds the total of such other insurance annuity, retirement annuity, and insurance benefit.

§ 237.406 Beginning and ending of insurance annuities—(a) Beginning. An insurance annuity under this subpart shall begin with the first month, after December, 1946, with respect to which all the conditions of entitlement for such annuity, as set out in the preceding sections of this subpart, are satisfied, if the individual shall have filed an application for such annuity, as prescribed in subpart H, either:

(1) In such month; or

(2) In the three months immediately preceding such month; or

(3) In the three months immediately succeeding such month.

Otherwise, such annuity shall begin with the month, after December, 1946, in which the individual files an application therefor, as prescribed in Subpart H, and with respect to which month all the conditions of entitlement for such annuity, as set out in the preceding sections of this subpart, are satisfied.

(b) Ending. No insurance annuity under this subpart shall be payable for the month in which the conditions of entitlement for such annuity, as set out in the preceding sections of this subpart, cease to be satisfied.

SUBPART E—LUMP-SUM DEATH PAYMENTS

§ 237.501 Statutory provisions.

Lump-sum payment. Upon the death, on or after January 1, 1947, of a completely or partially insured employee who will have died leaving no widow, child, or parent who would on proper application therefor be entitled to receive an annuity under this section for the month in which such death occurred, there shall be paid a lump sum of eight times the employee's basic amount to the following person (or if more than one there shall be distributed among them) whose relationship to the deceased employee will have been determined by the Board, and who will have been living on the date of such determination: to the widow or widower of the deceased; or, if no such widow or widower be then living, to any child or children of the deceased and to any other person or persons who, under the intestacy law of the State where the deceased will have been domiciled, will have been entitled to share as distributees with such children of the deceased, in such proportions as is provided by such law; or, if no widow or widower and no such child and no such other person be then living, to the parent or parents of the deceased, in equal shares. A person who is entitled to share as distributee with an above-named relative of the deceased shall not be precluded from receiving a payment under this subsection by reason of the fact that no such named relative will have survived the deceased or of the fact that no such named relative of the deceased will have been living on the date of such determination. If none of the persons described in this subsection be living on the date of such determination, such amount shall be paid to any person or persons, equitably entitled thereto, to the extent and in the proportions that he or they shall have been paid the expenses of burial of the deceased. If a lump sum would be payable to a widow, child, or parent under this subsection except for the fact that a survivor will have been entitled to receive an annuity for the month in which the employee will have died, but within one year after the employee's death there will not have accrued to survivors of the employee, by reason of his death annuities which, after all deductions pursuant to paragraph (1) of subsection (1) will have been made, are equal to such lump sum, a payment to any then surviving widow, children, or parents shall nevertheless be made under this subsection equal to the amount by which such lump sum exceeds such annuities so accrued after such deductions. No payment shall be made to any person under this subsection, unless application therefor shall have been filed, by or on behalf of any such person (whether or not legally competent), prior to the expiration of two years after the date of death of the deceased employee, except that if the deceased employee is a person to whom section 2 of the Act of March 7, 1942 (56 Stat. 143, 144), is applicable such two years shall run from the date on which the deceased employee, pursuant to said Act, is determined to be dead, and for all other purposes of this section such employee, so long as it does not appear that he is in fact alive, shall be deemed to have died on the date, determined pursuant to said Act to be the date or presumptive date of death. (Section 5 (f) of the Act.)

§ 237.502 Lump-sum death payments—(a) Conditions of payment. A lump sum is payable to one or more of the persons described in paragraph (b) of this section if:

(1) An employee has died, on or after January 1, 1947, and was completely insured or partially insured at the time of his death; and

(2) Such deceased employee was not survived by a widow, child, or parent (see § 237.504 (a)), who, upon application therefor, would be entitled to receive a widow's insurance annuity, a widow's current insurance annuity, a child's insurance annuity, or a parent's insurance annuity, upon the basis of the insured status of such employee, for the month in which such employee died; and

(3) An application (see Subpart H) for such lump sum has been filed within two years following the death of such employee (see §237.902 (b)).

The lump sum is not in lieu of, and does not affect, later entitlement of survivors to insurance annuities.

(b) Persons entitled to receive payments—(1) Survivors of deceased. The following person or persons whose relationship to the deceased employee is determined by the Board, and who are living at the time of such determinations, are, in the order named, entitled to a lump sum under the conditions stated in paragraph (a) of this section:

(i) The widow or widower (see § 237.504 (b)) of such employee. If there is no such widow or widower, the lump sum is payable to

(ii) The child or children (see § 237.504 (b)) of such employee and any other person or persons who are, under the intestacy law of the State where the deceased was domiciled, entitled to share with such child or children in the distribution of intestate personal property of such employee. Persons entitled to share with such child or children are not precluded from receiving the lump sum by reason of the fact that no child survived such employee or was living at the time of the Board's determination of relationship. If there is no such child or other person, then the lump sum is payable to

(iii) The parent or parents (see § 237.504 (b)) of such employee.

(2) Persons equitably entitled. If none of the persons described under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph is living on the date of the Board's determination of relationship, the lump sum will be payable to any person or persons, equitably entitled thereto, to the extent and in the proportions that he or they shall have paid the burial expenses of the employee.

(c) Amount of payment. The lump sum to which a widow, widower, child (or distributee with a child), or parent, is entitled under paragraph (b) of this section is an amount equal to eight times the basic amount of the deceased employee. Where there is more than one child or person entitled to share as distributee with a child, the lump sum shall be divided among them in the proportions provided by the intestacy laws of the State where the deceased employee was domiciled. Where there is more than one parent the lump sum shall be divided equally between such parents.

Where an applicant (other than a person named in paragraph (b) (1) of this section) is equitably entitled to a lump sum under paragraph (b) (2) of this section, the amount payable to him will be determined as follows:

(1) If no person other than such applicant is, or becomes, equitably entitled under paragraph (b) (2) of this section, the amount payable will be an amount equal to the amount of burial expenses paid by the applicant, or eight times the basic amount of the deceased, whichever is less.

(2) If two or more persons are, or become, equitably entitled under paragraph (b) (2) of this section, the amount payable to any such applicant is an amount equal to that proportion of eight times the basic amount of the deceased which the amount of burial expenses paid by such applicant bears to the total amount of burial expenses paid by all persons equitably entitled, but in no event shall the amount paid to such applicant exceed the amount of burial expenses paid by him.

§ 237.503 Payment when lump sum exceeds insurance annuities accrued—(a) Conditions of payment. The payment provided for in this section shall be made to one or more of the persons described in paragraph (b) of this section if:

(1) A lump sum would have been payable to a widow, child, or parent (see § 237.504 (b)) under § 237.502, except for the fact that a survivor was entitled to receive an insurance annuity for the month in which the employee died (see § 237.502 (a) (2)); and

(2) Within one year after the employee's death there did not accrue to his survivors, by reason of his death, insurance annuities which, after all deductions required by § 237.702 were made, were equal to the lump sum referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and

(3) An application (see subpart H of this part) for such payment has been filed within two years following the death of such employee (see § 237.902 (b)).

The payment provided for in this section is not in lieu of, and does not affect, later entitlement of survivors to insurance annuities.

(b) Persons entitled to receive payment. The payment provided for in this section shall be made to the widow, children, or parents of the deceased employee surviving at the expiration of one year after the employee's death.

(c) Amount of payment. The payment to be made under this section is an amount equal to the excess of the lump sum referred to in paragraph (a) (1) of this section over the insurance annuities which accrued to survivors within one year after the employee's death, as such annuities may have been reduced by any deductions required by § 237.702 (see paragraph (a) (2) of this section).

§ 237.504 Meaning of terms. (a) The terms "widow," "child," and "parent" as they first appear in section 5 (f) of the act (see § 237.502 (a) (2)), are

(b) The meaning of the terms "widow," "child" (or "children"), and "parent" (or "parents"), except as they first appear in section 5 (f) of the act, and of the term "widower" as used in such section 5 (f), is determined by reference to applicable State law. An individual is such a "widow," "widower," "child," or "parent" of a deceased employee if he is the widow, widower, child, or parent of the deceased employee, or has the same status as such, under applicable State law, without regard to the definitions referred to in paragraph (a) of this section.

SUBPART F—MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM INSURANCE ANNUITY TOTALS

Maximum and minimum annuity totals. Whenever according to the provisions of this section as to annuities, payable for a month with respect to the death of an employee, the total of annuities is more than $20 and exceeds either (a) $120, or (b) an amount equal to twice such employee's basic amount, or with respect to employees other than those who will have been completely insured solely by virtue of subsection (1) (7) (iii), such total exceeds (c) an amount equal to 80 per centum of his average monthly remuneration, whichever of such amounts is least, such total of annuities shall, prior to any deductions under subsection (1), be reduced to such least amount or to $20, whichever is greater. Whenever such total of annuities is less than $10, such total shall, prior to any deductions under subsection (1), be increased to $10. (Section 5 (h) of the Act)

§ 237.602. Application of maximum and minimum and basis for computation—(a) Application of maximum and minimum. The reductions and increases provided for in this subpart apply only to insurance annuities for survivors. Lump sums under section 5 (f) of the act are not subject to reductions or increases hereunder.

(b) Basis for computing reductions and increases. Whether there is to be a reduction or increase in any insurance annuity or annuities, and the extent of such reduction or increase, depends upon the total amount of insurance annuities for a month as calculated under section 5 of the act with respect to the insured status of a deceased employee.

§ 237.603 Reduction—(a) Conditions requiring reduction. Reductions are made only when there are two or more insurance annuities for a month based upon the insured status of a deceased employee, and when the total amount of such annuities for such month, as calculated under subpart D, is more than $20 and also

(1) In any case in which the employee's basic amount was computed in accordance with § 237.202 (b) (2) or (3), exceeds either:

(i) $120, or

(ii) An amount equal to twice the basic amount of the employee;

(2) In any case other than one in which the employee's basic amount was computed in accordance with § 237.202 (b) (2) or (3), exceeds either

(i) $120, or

(ii) An amount equal to twice the basic amount of the employee, or

(iii) An amount equal to eighty percent of the average monthly remuneration of the deceased employee.

(b) Amount of reduction. If the conditions described in paragraph (a) of this section exist, each of the insurance annuities must be proportionately reduced so that the total of the insurance annuities will be whichever is the least of the amounts stated in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of paragraph (a) (1) of this section, in cases to which that paragraph is applicable, or whichever is the least of the amounts stated in subdivisions (i), (ii), and (iii) of paragraph (a) (2) of this section, in cases to which that paragraph is applicable. If, however, such least amount is under $20, the total is reduced only to $20.

§ 237.604 Increase—(a) Conditions requiring increase. An increase is made when the insurance annuity or total of insurance annuities for a month calculated under Subpart D on the basis of the insured status of a deceased employee is less than $10.

(b) Amount of increase. If the condition described in paragraph (a) of this section exists, the insurance annuity or total of insurance annuities is increased to $10.

§ 237.605 Monthly application of provisions. The total amount of insurance annuities based on the insured status of a deceased employee, as calculated under Subpart D, may be different in one month than in another. Accordingly, a reduction or increase may be required in one month and not in another, or the amount of the reduction or increase may be greater or less in one month than in another.

§ 237.606 Relation to provisions for deductions and adjustments. Reductions and increases under this subpart are made prior to making any deductions which may be required under Subpart G and prior to making any adjustments under Part 255 of this chapter.

SUBPART G—DEDUCTIONS

Deductions from Annuities.—(1) Deductions shall be made from any payments under this section to which an individual is entitled, until the total of such deductions equals such individual's annuity or annuities under this section for any month in which such individual:

(i) Will have rendered compensated service within or without the United States to an employer;

(ii) Will have rendered service for wages of not less than $25;

(iii) If a child under eighteen and over sixteen years of age, will have failed to attend school regularly and the Board finds that attendance will have been feasible; or

(iv) If a widow otherwise entitled to an annuity under subsection (b) will not have had in her care a child of the deceased employee entitled to receive an annuity under subsection (c);

(2) The total of deductions for all events described in paragraph (1) occurring in the same month shall be limited to the amount of such individual's annuity or annuities for that month. Such individual (or anyone in receipt of an annuity in his behalf) shall report to the Board the occurrence of any event described in paragraph (1).

(3) Deductions shall also be made from any payments under this section with respect to the death of an employee until such deductions total:

(i) Any death benefit, paid with respect to the death of such employee, under sections 5 of the Retirement Acts (other than a survivor annuity pursuant to an election):

(ii) Any lump sum paid, with respect to the death of such employee, under title II of the Social Security Act, or under section 203 of the Social Security Act in force prior to the date of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939;

(iii) Any lump sum paid to such employee under section 204 of the Social Security Act in force prior to the date of the enactment of the Social Security Act amendments of 1939, provided such lump sum will not previously have been deducted from any insurance benefit paid under the Social Security Act; and

(iv) An amount equal to 1 per centum of any wages paid to such employee for services performed in 1939, and subsequent to his attaining age sixty-five, with respect to which the taxes imposed by section 1400 of the Internal Revenue Code will not have been deducted by his employer from his wages or paid by such employer, provided such amount will not previously have been deducted from any insurance benefit paid under the Social Security Act.

(4) The deductions provided in this subsection shall be made in such amounts and at such time or times as the Board shall determine. Decreases or increases in the total of annuities payable for a month with respect to the death of an employee shall be equally apportioned among all annuities in such total. (Section 5 (i) of the Act).

§ 237.702 Deductions because of compensated service, etc. Section 5 (i) (1) of the act provides for deductions from an individual's insurance annuity or annuities upon the occurrence of certain events, which are enumerated in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section.

(a) Compensated service. If an individual, in any month for which he is entitled to an insurance annuity, renders compensated service (see Parts 220 and 222 of this chapter), within or without the United States, to an employer (see part 202 of this chapter), deductions are made from any payments under this part to which such individual is entitled. The amount to be deducted is equal to the amount of such individual's insurance annuity or annuities for the month in which the compensated service was rendered.

Since the amount to be deducted is measured by the insurance annuity or total of insurance annuities for the month in which the compensated service was rendered, it is not material in what month the compensation was paid.

(b) Service for wages. If an individual, in any month for which he is entitled to an insurance annuity, renders service for wages (see section 209 (e) of the Social Security Act as amended) of $25 or more, deductions are made from any payments under this part to which such individual is entitled. The amount to be deducted is equal to the amount of such individual's insurance annuity or annuities for the month in which the service for wages was rendered.

Since the amount to be deducted is measured by the insurance annuity or total of insurance annuities for the month in which the service for wages was rendered, it is not material in what month the wages of $25 or more were paid. In determining, for the purpose of this section, whether an individual has rendered services for "wages" of $25 or more, the $3,000 limitation provisions of section 209 (a) of the Social Security Act do not apply.

(c) Failure to attend school. If a child under 18 and over 16 years of age fails, in any month for which he is entitled to an insurance annuity, to attend school regularly, and the Board finds that attendance was feasible, deductions are made from any payments under this part to which such child is entitled. The amount to be deducted is equal to the amount of his insurance annuity or annuities for the month in which he failed to attend school regularly.

(d) Failure of widow to have a child in her care. If, in a month for which she is otherwise entitled to a widow's current insurance annuity, a widow does not have in her care a child of her deceased husband entitled to a child's insurance annuity for such month, deductions are made from any payments under this part to which such widow is entitled. The amount to be deducted is equal to the amount of the widow's current insurance annuity to which she was entitled for the month in which she did not have such a child in her care.

The fact that a child's insurance annuity for a particular month is withheld to effect a deduction under any of the other paragraphs of this section, or under § 237.703, or an adjustment under part 255 of this chapter, does not affect the right of a widow, who has the child in her care, to a widow's current insurance annuity, since the child is nevertheless "entitled" to the child's insurance annuity.

(e) Manner of making deductions. Deductions are made by withholding insurance annuities in whole or in part, depending upon the amount to be deducted. If the amount to be deducted is not withheld from the insurance annuity or annuities for the month in which the event occurred which occasioned the deduction (if, for example, the occurrence has not been brought to the attention of the Board), such amount will be withheld from the insurance annuity or annuities for one or more subsequent months. The total amount to be deducted may, therefore, at the time of withholding, be greater or less than any insurance annuity or annuities for a month, from which such amount is to be withheld.

When it is determined that a deduction is required under paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section, no insurance annuity to which the individual in question is entitled for any month will be paid until a total amount equal to the amount to be deducted has been withheld. If the amount of the required deduction is less than any such insurance annuity, or the total of such insurance annuities, for a month, the amount to be deducted will be withheld from such insurance annuity or annuities.

(f) Accumulation of deductions. Section 5 (i) (2) of the act prevents duplication of deductions under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section, by reason of the occurrance in one month of more than one of the events enumerated in those paragraphs. If more than one such event occurs in a month, the total amount of the deductions is the same as if only one such event had occurred. Section 5 (i) (2) of the act has no application to any other deductions or adjustments under the act (see paragraph (h) of this section.

If, however, any of the events occasioning a deduction under paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section occurs in more than one month, the total amount to be deducted is equal to the sum of the deductions for all months in which any such event occurred.

(g) Relation to maximum and minimum insurance annuity totals. In effecting a deduction, no amount can be considered as having been withheld from an insurance annuity for a particular month, which is in excess of the amount of such insurance annuity as reduced or increased (if required) under section 5 (a) of the act (see subpart F). Likewise, the amount of an insurance annuity by which a deduction is measured (i. e., an insurance annuity for the month in which the event occasioning the deduction occurred) is the amount of such insurance annuity as so reduced or increased.

(h) Relation to other provisions for deductions and adjustments. A deduction required under section 5 (i) (1) of the act is made prior to and in addition to any deductions under section 5 (i) (3) of the act (see § 237.703), and prior to and in addition to any adjustments under Part 255 of this chapter.

(i) Reports to Board of events occasioning deductions. Section 5 (i) (2) of the act imposes upon an individual the obligation to report to the Board the occurrence of any of the events enumerated in paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section, if such individual is in receipt of an insurance annuity or insurance annuities (on his own behalf or on behalf of another) from which a deduction is to be made under such paragraphs.

§ 237.703 Deductions because of death-benefit payments, etc. Section 5 (i) (3) of the act provides for certain deductions from any insurance annuities, or lump-sum death payments, under section 5, on the basis of the insured status of a deceased employee. The basis for, and the amount of, each of these deductions are set out in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section.

(a) Death benefits under Retirement Acts. Prior to the amendments approved July 31, 1946, effective January 1, 1947, with regard to the matters here involved, section 5 of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935, and section 5 of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937, provided for certain payments upon the death of an employee. Those provisions are superseded, effective January 1, 1947, by the provisions of Section 5 of the Railroad Retirement Act as amended. The amendatory act provides that payments upon death as provided in section 5 of the 1935 and 1937 Acts, other than survivor annuities pursuant to an election, shall be made only with respect to deaths occurring before January 1, 1947. The total amount paid under the unamended section 5 with respect to the death of an employee, except survivor annuity payments made pursuant to an election, must be deducted from any insurance annuities under this part based on the insured status of that deceased employee.

(b) Lump-sum death payments under Social Security Act. Prior to the amendments approved August 10, 1939, Section 203 of the Social Security Act provided for certain payments upon the death of an individual. Under that act as amended in 1939, Title II provides for lump-sum death payments. The total amount of any such lump-sum death payments under the Social Security Act, whether before or after the 1939 amendments, with respect to the death of an employee, must be deducted from any insurance annuities under this part based on the insured status of that deceased employee.

(c) Lump-sum payments to employees under Social Security Act prior to 1939 amendments. Prior to the amendments approved August 10, 1939, section 204 of the Social Security Act provided for certain lump-sum payments to aged employees not qualified for benefits. As amended in 1939, the Social Security Act provides that any payments which were made under section 204, as it was prior to the amendments, are to be deducted from insurance benefits under the amended Social Security Act. To the extent that any payments were made to an employee under section 204 prior to the amendments, and have not since been deducted from insurance benefits paid under the Social Security Act as amended in 1939, such payments must be deducted from any insurance annuities, or lump-sum death payments, made under this part on the basis of the insured status of such employee.

(d) Percentage of certain wages. Section 907 of the Social Security Act amendments of 1939 provides for deductions from benefits and lump-sum death payments under that Act in cases in which the taxes imposed by section 1400 of the Internal Revenue Code with respect to a wage earner's employment in 1939 and subsequent to his attaining the age of 65 have neither been deducted by his employer from the wages paid him for services in such employment nor paid by such employer. Under section 907 the total amount to be deducted is an amount equal to one per cent of such wages with respect to which taxes have neither been deducted nor paid by the employer. To the extent that the deduction provided for in section 907 has not been made from insurance benefits paid under the Social Security Act, it must be made from any insurance annuities, or lump-sum death payments, made under this part on the basis of the insured status of the employee.

(e) Manner of making deductions. If more than one person is entitled to any insurance annuity or annuities, or to any lump-sum death payment, under this part, on the basis of the insured status of the same deceased employee, the deduction required under paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section is made from the insurance annuity or annuities, or from the share of the lump sum, to which each such person is entitled, in the proportion that his insurance annuity or annuities for a month, or his share of the lump sum, bears to the total of such insurance annuities for a month, or the total of such lump sum.

In any case in which a deduction under paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section is to be made from an insurance annuity under this part, such deduction is made in the following manner:

(1) If the individual had been receiving an insurance benefit under the Social Security Act, and ceased to be entitled thereto because of the provisions of section 5 (g) (1) of the Railroad Retirement Act, as amended, the deduction is made by withholding, to the extent hereinafter indicated, the amount designated in such paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section, from any such insurance annuity under this part to which such individual is or becomes entitled on the basis of the insured status of the employee referred to in such paragraph. Upon determination that such a deduction is required, there will be withheld from the insurance annuity the amount by which such insurance annuity exceeds the amount of the insurance benefit to which the individual had been so entitled under the Social Security Act; this withholding will be continued until such time as the total of the amounts thus withheld from the insurance annuity equals the amount to be deducted from such insurance annuity.

(2) If the case is not within the purview of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the deduction is made by withholding, to the extent hereinafter indicated, the amount designated in such paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section, from any such insurance annuity under this part to which such individual is or becomes entitled on the basis of the insured status of the employee referred to in such paragraph. Upon determination that such a deduction is required, no such insurance annuity for any month will be paid until a total amount equal to the amount to be deducted has been withheld. If the amount to be deducted is less than the amount of any such insurance annuity for a month, the amount to be deducted will be withheld from the amount of such insurance annuity.

In any case in which a deduction under paragraph (c) or (d) of this section is to be made from lump-sum death payments under this part, such deduction is made by withholding the amount designated in such paragraph from any such lump-sum death payments to which any individual is or becomes entitled on the basis of the insured status of the employee referred to in such paragraph. Upon determination that such a deduction is required, no such lump-sum death payment will be paid until a total amount equal to the amount to be deducted has been withheld. If the amount to be deducted is less than the lump sum then payable, the amount to be deducted will be withheld from such lump sum.

(f) Relation to other provisions. When deductions are to be made under this section from an insurance annuity or insurance annuities, the amounts to be deducted are measured by and are withheld from the amount of the insurance annuity, or the amounts of the insurance annuities, as reduced or increased under section 5 (h) of the act (see subpart F).

A deduction required under this section is made in addition to any deductions required under section 5 (i) (1) of the act (see § 237.702), and in addition to any adjustment under Part 255 of this chapter.

SUBPART H—APPLICATION FOR INSURANCE ANNUITIES AND LUMP SUMS FOR SURVIVORS

§ 237.801 Statutory provisions. See section 5 (j) of the act, quoted in § 237.401, and the last sentence of section 5 (f) of the act, quoted in § 237.501.

§ 237.802 Necessity of application. No payment shall be made to any person under this part unless application therefor, in such manner and form as the Board prescribes, shall have been filed by or on behalf of such person (whether or not legally competent).

§ 237.803 Filing date of application. An application for any payment under this part shall be considered filed with the Board as of the date it is received at an office of the Board, or the date it is delivered into the custody of a duly authorized field agent, specifically authorized to receive custody thereof in the district where delivery is made, whichever date is earlier: Provided, however, That if, in the adjudication of an application, filed by or on behalf of any person, for a payment under this part, it is determined that such person's interests would be adversely affected by the fact that the application, mailed to the Board, was not received by the Board until the first business day following a Sunday or other non-work day on which the offices of the Board were closed, rather than on such Sunday or other non-work day, such application shall be considered as filed on such Sunday or other non-work day if it is established to the satisfaction of the Board that the application was mailed in sufficient time to have been received by the Board on such Sunday or other non-work day.

§ 237.804 Record of expressed intention as application. Where an individual orally or in writing expresses to the Board an intention to claim a payment under this part, either on his own behalf or on behalf of some other person, and it appears that such individual or other person is not eligible, or that his eligibility is so doubtful that the taking of an application upon a prescribed form would not be warranted, the Board shall so advise such individual and shall also advise him that if he desires he may file an application on a prescribed form to obtain a formal adjudication. Where an application on a prescribed form is not then filed because of doubtful eligibility, the Board shall make and maintain in its files a written record of the expressed intention to claim payment, in all cases in which some possibility of entitlement exists, even though remote. If it is later found that such individual or such other person was eligible for a payment under this part at the time the record was made, this record shall, except where such individual or such other person otherwise indicates, be deemed an application filed with the board as of the date such record was made: Provided, That an application on a prescribed form is also furnished to the Board.

Where an individual orally or in writing expresses to the Social Security Administration an intention to claim benefits or a lump sum, either on his own behalf or on behalf of some other person, and notice of such intention is communicated in writing to the Railroad Retirement Board by the Social Security Administration, the Social Security Administration's record of the individual's expressed intention to claim benefits or a lump sum shall, except where such individual or such other person otherwise indicates, be deemed an application filed with the Board as of the date the Social Security Administration's record was made: Provided, That such individual or other person was eligible for a payment under this part at the time such record was made; and Provided further, That an application on a prescribed form is also furnished to the Board.

§ 237.805 Limitation on filing. No application for an insurance annuity under this part filed prior to three months before the first month for which the applicant becomes otherwise entitled to receive such annuity shall be accepted.

§ 237.806 Filing of application with Social Security Administration. The claim or application of an individual, filed with the Social Security Administration on or after October 1, 1946, for an insurance benefit or a lump-sum death payment under subsection (c), (d), (e), (f), or (g) of section 202 of title II of the Social Security Act, as amended August 10, 1946, based upon the death of an individual who has had service covered under the Railroad Retirement Act, as amended July 31, 1946, shall be deemed to be an application for the corresponding survivor benefit under subsection (a), (b), (c), (d), or (f) of section 5 of the Railroad Retirement Act, and shall be deemed filed with the Railroad Retirement Board on the date as of which the Social Security Administration certifies that such application is deemed filed with that agency.

SUBPART I—MISCELLANEOUS

An annuity under this section which is not in excess of $5 may, in the discretion of the Board, be paid in a lump sum equal to its commuted value as the Board shall determine. (Section 5 (i) (4) of the act)

§ 237.902 Act of March 7, 1942 (56 Stat. 143, 144)—(a) Provisions. The act of March 7, 1942 (56 Stat. 143, 144) is entitled "An act to provide for continuing payment of pay and allowances of personnel of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, including the retired and reserve components thereof; the Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Public Health Service, and civilian employees of the executive departments, independent establishments, and agencies, during periods of absence from post of duty, and for other purposes." Section 2 of that act relates to "Any person who is in active service and is officially reported as missing, missing in action, interned in a neutral country, or captured by an enemy." Section 5 of that act provides that "Upon the expiration of twelve months from the date the person is reported as missing, or missing in action, in the absence of an official report of the death of the missing person, the head of the department concerned is authorized to make a finding of death of such person."

(b) Relation to application for lump-sum death payments. For the purposes of §§ 237.502 (a) (3) and 237.503 (a) (3), if the deceased employee is a person to whom section 2 of the act of March 7, 1942, is applicable, the two years within which an application must be filed run from the date on which he was determined, under that act, to be dead.

(c) Relation to other matters. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, if the deceased employee is a person to whom section 2 of the act of March 7, 1942, is applicable, he is, for all purposes of this part, deemed to have died on the date determined pursuant to that act to be the date or presumptive date of his death, so long as it does not appear that he is in fact alive.

§ 237.903 Payment of insurance annuity in lump sum. If an insurance annuity is not more than $5, it may, in the discretion of the Board, be paid in a lump sum equal to its commuted value as determined by the Board.

§ 237.905 Filing date of proof of dependency and support. In determining the date as of which the proof of dependency and support required by § 237.307 (b) (2) shall be regarded as having been filed, the provisions of the proviso contained in § 237.803, with regard to applications, shall be applied in like manner with regard to the proof of dependency and support.

By authority of the Board.

§ 8305.3 Basic policy—(a) In all actions taken pursuant to this part the disposal agency shall give due weight to the applicable objectives set forth in section 2 of the act. The Administrator finds that it is imperative that prompt action be taken with respect to the disposal of Government-owned real property except such property as may be needed for purposes of national defense. The disposal agency may, upon receipt of notice from the owning agency that property is to be declared surplus, take appropriate steps hereunder leading toward the disposal of real property prior to its declaration as surplus: Provided, however, That no final action shall be taken until an acceptable declaration has been filed.

(b) It is the policy of the Administrator that real property shall be disposed of by such methods as best meet the objectives of the act, including in appropriate cases the use of sealed bids.

(c) The disposal agency shall accept that proposal which it finds, upon an evaluation of all the information available to it, will most clearly tend to meet the applicable objectives and provisions of the act. In any case, the disposal agency shall reject any proposal if it finds that on the whole it conflicts with such objectives. In considering proposals the disposal agency shall give thorough consideration to whether such objectives can best be met by leasing. Emphasis shall be placed upon the urgency of getting industrial property into civilian production or operation speedily so as to provide maximum employment in the postwar period. Due regard shall be given, however, to the possibility of enlarging the present major contribution to this objective which is made by small business and to the importance in this connection of maintenance of free independent competitive enterprise and the establishment of a maximum of independent operators in industry.

(d) It is the policy of the Administrator in considering equivalent or substantially equivalent proposals that medium-sized and small plants be sold or leased to local or small firms, preferably those owned or controlled by veterans. The disposal agency should therefore accept offers from responsible local groups with adequate working capital, experience, and other necessary qualifications, and should where necessary extend liberal credit terms over a period of years in preference to a cash offer from a firm or group which would tend to concentrate economic power.

(e) It is hereby declared that the national interest requires the disposal of surplus airport property in such a manner and upon such terms and conditions as will encourage and foster the development of civil aviation and provide and preserve for civil aviation and national defense purposes a strong, efficient, and properly maintained nationwide system of public airports, and will insure competition and will not result in monopoly. It is further declared that in making such disposals of surplus airport property the benefits which the public and the nation will derive therefrom must be the principal consideration, and financial return to the Government a secondary consideration. Airports which are surplus to the needs of owning agencies may be essential to the common defense of the nation or valuable in the maintenance of an adequate and economical national transportation system. In such cases and in accordance with the rules established herein such airports may be disposed of to State or local governments for considerations other than cash.

(f) The disposal agency shall keep a written record of the factors it weighed in arriving at a decision.

§ 8305.4 Declarations—(a) General. Declarations of surplus real property and surplus personal property located therein or thereon shall be filed with the Administrator as provided in Part 8301.[1] Such property shall be declared surplus subject to any outstanding rights of refusal or options to purchase or otherwise acquire the property, and nothing in this part shall be deemed to impair the right of any person to exercise any valid right of refusal or option.

(b) Reservations, restrictions, and conditions. In conjunction with a declaration of surplus real property hereunder, the owning agency and, in appropriate cases, the Navy Department, the War Department, or the Civil Aeronautics Administration, may request that the disposition of the property be made subject to any reservations, restrictions, and conditions deemed desirable. In the event the Administration does not approve of any or all of the reservations, restrictions, or conditions requested by the owning agency or sponsoring agency, or the disposal agency finds that it is unable to dispose of the property subject to the reservations, restrictions, or conditions imposed on the property as requested, the owning agency shall be so notified by the Administration, whereupon the owning agency may either: (i) eliminate, or cause to be eliminated, or modify or cause to be modified, any request for such reservations, restrictions, or conditions, or (ii) withdraw such property from surplus upon making reimbursement, where authorized by law, to the disposal agency for the costs of care and handling. If the owning agency does not follow either course, the Administrator may within a reasonable time and upon notice to the owning agency direct the disposal agency to dispose of the property without such reservations, restrictions, or conditions.

§ 8305.5 Classification. All surplus real property shall be classified by the Administration to determine the methods and conditions of, and the priorities applicable to, the disposition of the property. The classification may be revised from time to time.

§ 8305.6 Permit or order use. When a Government agency utilizing Government-owned real property under some form of arrangement with another Government agency having primary jurisdiction over the property no longer needs the property, such real property and any interest therein shall be returned to the agency having primary jurisdiction over the property in accordance with the arrangement between such agencies, except where the property has been substantially improved while being so utilized. In this latter event, the agency utilizing the property shall make a report of the facts to the Administration for a determination as to how the interests of the Government will be best served.

§ 8305.7 Disposal of leasehold interests and improvements by owning agency—(a) Leaseholds. (1) A Government agency owning a leasehold interest or similar right of occupancy which is no longer needed by such agency but which is needed by another Government agency shall, unless prohibited by the terms of the lease or other instrument under which the interest was acquired, transfer such interest directly to such other agency without declaring it surplus. The consideration for any such transfer shall be the fair value of any Government-owned structures or improvements included in the transfer unless otherwise authorized by the Administration or unless a transfer without reimbursement or transfer of funds is authorized by law. The owning agency shall take reasonable steps to ascertain the needs of Government agencies for such interests, and to this end may utilize the facilities of the Public Buildings Administration of the Federal Works Agency.

(2) If such leasehold or other interest is not claimed by any Government agency within a reasonable time and such leasehold or other interest does not include a purchase option in favor of the Government such leasehold or other similar interest may, subject to the provisions of subparagraph (b) (3) and paragraph (c) of this section, be terminated by the owning agency without declaring it surplus, after making arrangements for disposing of the Government-owned improvements as herein provided.

(b) Improvements. (1) When a Government agency no longer needs improvements located on Government-owned land which is not surplus and which is not expected to become surplus, or on land held only under leasehold or other similar right which is to be cancelled pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the owning agency may, subject to the provisions of this section, dispose of the improvements (except readily severable property which may be disposed of under other applicable regulations, and improvements erected under Emergency Plant Facility contracts, title to which has not vested in the Government, and similar contracts, which improvements shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of § 8305.8 of this part, or other applicable regulations of the Administrator) by any one or more of the following methods:

(i) By transfer to the lessor or owner of the premises in full or partial satisfaction of any obligation to restore the premises or upon the release by the lessor or owner of a restoration obligation, if any, and upon the payment of a consideration that is fair and reasonable under all the circumstances;

(ii) By disposition in accordance with contractual commitments;

(iii) By transfer to another Government agency for removal from the site;

(iv) By sale intact;

(v) By contract for demolition, let only on competitive bids, whereby title to material not readily severable passes to the contractor;

(vi) By demolition of property not readily severable and disposal of surplus used building and construction materials by competitive bidding and of other resulting materials in accordance with any other applicable regulations of the Administrator. Any such competitive bidding shall be conducted under rules and regulations prescribed by the owning agencies containing provisions, among others, requiring lots to be offered in such reasonable quantities as to permit all bidders, small as well as large, to compete on equal terms, requiring wide public notice concerning such sales and time intervals between notice and sale adequate to give all interested purchasers a fair opportunity to buy, and reserving the right to reject all bids;

(vii) By abandonment if the owning agency has no obligation to remove such improvements and it finds in writing that such property is without commercial value or that the estimated cost of its care, handling, removal, and disposition would exceed the estimated proceeds of sale.

(2) No improvements on industrial real property costing more than $100,000 shall be disposed of under this section by the owning agency without prior submission to and consent of the Administration, unless such improvements are located on Government-owned land which is not surplus and which is not expected to become surplus.

(3) With the exception of transfers to other Government agencies, no improvements (except scrambled facilities) on land which the Government by lease, option to lease, or otherwise, has a right to occupy for an additional definite period of five (5) years or more from the time it is determined to be surplus, shall be disposed of by the owning agency hereunder if the leasehold or other interests are no longer needed by the owning agency, but such improvements, together with the leasehold or other interests, shall be declared as surplus. At the direction of the Administration, any improvements, regardless of cost or the terms under which the land is occupied, shall be declared surplus in place, together with any related leasehold or other interests no longer needed by the owning agency.

(c) Airport property. No leasehold covering all or any portion of airport property shall be cancelled by an owning agency except upon prior written approval of the Administration.

§ 8305.8 Options. The owning agency, where valid options are in force and the property is under its control, may dispose of the property covered by the option strictly in accordance with the terms of the option where the option price may be determined solely by a mathematical computation under the provisions of the option contract, or where by the terms of such option the fair value or selling price is to be determined by a designated official in such owning agency. In all other cases, the owning agencies shall declare surplus the property covered by the options, and disposals of such property shall be made by the designated disposal agency pursuant to the rights of refusal or option, if exercised by the holder thereof. The disposal agencies may request the assistance of the owning agencies where necessary. Upon the lapse or waiver of any such right or option, the property shall be disposed of as promptly as possible in accordance with the provisions of this part.

§ 8305.9 Duties of owning and disposal agencies—(a) Care and handling. Upon the filing of an acceptable declaration of surplus property as provided in § 8305.4 of this part, the Administration or the disposal agency shall work out with the owning agency mutually satisfactory agreements for the assumption by the Administration or the disposal agency of the physical custody and control of, and accountability for, the property covered by the declaration. The owning agency shall take necessary steps to insure the reasonable preservation and safety of the property pending assumption of the physical custody by the designated disposal agency: Provided, however, That any existing agreements between an owning and disposal agency heretofore approved by the Administrator shall not be affected by this section. Any agreements made between an owning and disposal agency which postpone the date on which such disposal agency shall be responsible for the physical care and handling of such property shall not postpone such date for more than ninety (90) days from the date when the acceptable declaration is filed, unless the prior approval of the Administration is obtained.

(b) Repairs and improvements. The disposal agency shall make or cause to be made repairs necessary for the protection and maintenance of the property. Where necessary, in order best to attain the applicable objectives of the act, consideration may be given to improvements or alterations which involve completing, converting, or rehabilitation of the property, and the disposal agency may make commitments and expenditures within its budgetary allotment for such purposes as in its opinion will further such objectives: Provided, however, That the disposal agency shall make no commitment or expenditure on account of such repairs or alterations in excess of $100,000 without prior written approval of the Administrator.

(c) Taxes and other obligations. Taxes, rents, and insurance premiums for a certain period which is partially prior and partially subsequent to the date on which the declaration of surplus is filed, shall be prorated between the owning agency and the disposal agency as of the date of the filing of an accpetable declaration. The agency paying the taxes, rents, and insurance premiums for such period shall be reimbursed by the other agency for that portion of such disbursements properly allocable to the other agency under such proration. Rents or other income received for any such period shall be prorated in like manner. The disposal agency shall be responsible for reimbursing the owning agency for payment of taxes covering any taxable period commencing after the filing of the acceptable declaration. The disposal agency may renew any lease pursuant to which the Government is in possession, and may assume and carry out any of the obligations of the lessee thereunder. It shall be the duty of the owning agency to renew any lease to be declared surplus to this Administration when the date upon which such property is to be declared surplus is within ninety (90) days of the period within which notice to renew, under the terms of the lease, shall be given.

(d) Transfer of title papers, documents, etc. Upon request of the disposal agency, and consistent with any necessary restrictions in the interest of national security, the owning agency shall supply the disposal agency with the originals or true copies of all documents or portions thereof pertaining to the property in the possession of the owning agency and copies of which have not been filed with the declaration. These may include leases, permits, appraisal reports, abstracts of title, tax receipts, deeds, affidavits of title, copies of judgments in condemnation proceedings, maps, surveys, and such other papers as may relate to the property. All such papers and documents which may still be needed by the owning agency shall be returned to it as soon as the needs of the disposal agency have been satisfied. The disposal agency may transfer to the purchaser of the property, as a part of the disposal transaction, any abstract of title, or title guaranty or title insurance policy, which relates to the property being transferred and which is no longer needed either by the owning agency or the disposal agency. The terms upon which such a transfer shall be made shall be fixed by the disposal agency.

(e) Studies by disposal agency. The disposal agency shall compile appropriate information regarding all real property to be disposed of hereunder. Any report by any person engaged to collect or evaluate information pursuant to this part shall contain a certificate that he has no interest, direct or indirect, which would conflict in any manner or degree with the preparation and submission of an impartial report. Consistent with any necessary restrictions in the interest of national security, the owning agency shall render all possible assistance to the disposal agency in compiling such information, and, where the owning agency shall have prepared any such information, it shall immediately upon request forward the same to the disposal agency and shall cooperate with the disposal agency in obtaining any further necessary information. The owning agency and the disposal agency shall avoid duplication of work in compiling or preparing any such information.

§ 8305.10 Revocable leases or permits. A lease or permit may be granted by the Government agency having custody of the property to place surplus real property in productive use: Provided, That such lease or permit shall be made revocable on not to exceed thirty (30) days' notice by the Government agency having jurisdiction of the property, and, Provided further, That the use and occupation will not interfere with, delay, or retard the disposition of the property. In such cases, an immediate right of entry to such property may be granted pending execution of the formal lease or permit. Unless otherwise authorized by the Administration, the lease or permit shall be for a consideration that is fair and reasonable under all the circumstances, with or without cash consideration, and shall be on such terms and conditions as are deemed appropriate properly to protect the interests of the United States. In the event the disposal agency, after the filing of an acceptable declaration, has not assumed physical custody and control, and accountability, of the property at the time the permit is to be issued, the issuance of the permit and the grant of immediate right of entry shall be by the owning agency,

§ 8305.11 Easements—(a) To owner of servient estate. The owning agency or the disposal agency, whichever has custody, control, and accountability of the property may, with or without consideration, dispose of an easement to the owner of the land which is subject to the easement when it is determined that the easement has no commercial value and is no longer needed: Provided, That, when any such easement was acquired for a substantial consideration such disposal shall be made at a consideration that is fair and reasonable under all the circumstances with due regard for any portion of the purchase price paid for severance damages.

(b) To others. Subject to the provisions of §§ 8305.12 and 8305.14 of this part, a disposal agency may grant easements in or over real property: Provided, That the prior approval of the Administration shall be obtained where the disposal agencies determine that the granting of such easements substantially decreases the value of the property, and, in such cases, the granting of the easement shall be for a consideration that is fair and reasonable, or without compensation when authorized by law.

(1) Government agencies shall be accorded first priority to acquire all classes of surplus real property for their own use.

(2) Reconstruction Finance Corporation, successor to Smaller War Plants Corporation, shall have a second priority to acquire any such surplus property for resale to such purchasers as it determines to be small business, as provided in section 18 (e) of the act. Such purchases shall be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in its own name, and payment therefor shall be made by the Corporation. Each purchase order by the Corporation for resale purposes shall be based upon a written finding that the resale is required to preserve and strengthen the competitive position of small business, or will assist the Corporation in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities imposed upon it as successor to Smaller War Plants Corporation.

(3) State or local governments shall be accorded third priority to acquire all classes of surplus real property in order to fulfill, in the public interest, their legitimate needs. Any State or local government which has lost a highway or street over surplus section 23 real property because of Government acquisition or action shall be accorded a special priority, with precedence over all other State or local governments, to permit it to re-establish such highway or street. This right shall extend to the original right-of-way and any new or additional rights-of-way needed to re-establish the street or highway on a new or more adequate location. States and local governments in which a surplus airport, harbor, or port terminal is situated (including municipalities in the vicinity thereof) shall have a special priority over other State and local governments to acquire such property.

(4) A former owner shall be accorded fourth priority as to any surplus section 23 real property acquired from him by any Government agency after December 31, 1939. This priority shall relate to property which is substantially the identical tract acquired by the Government from the owner. If this tract is not available to the former owner or is not desired by him because it is no longer suitable for the purpose for which it was used when acquired by the Government, he may be offered substitute property. Such substitute property shall be in the same area, be classified as suitable for the use for which the original tract was used when acquired, and otherwise be similar to the original tract. With respect to any substitute property thus made available to him the former owner shall be accorded a priority subordinate only to the priorities of Government agencies, State or local governments, a former owner or a tenant of a former owner of the substitute property. Acquisition of a substitute tract shall extinguish the priority of the former owner with respect to the original tract. Where only a portion of an original tract acquired from a former owner is declared surplus and the circumstances indicate that the remainder of such former owner's original tract will be declared surplus within a reasonable time, the disposal agency, without affecting the priorities of Government agencies or State and local governments, may grant the former owner a priority to the portion first declared surplus and extend the same to a date ninety (90) days from the date notice is forwarded to the former owner of the availability of the entire original or substantially identical tract acquired from him.

(5) A tenant of a former owner, who was in possession of agricultural section 23 real property at the time the same was acquired by any Government agency after December 31, 1939, shall be accorded fifth priority with respect to substantially the same property occupied by him as tenant at the time of such acquisition.

(6) A veteran and the spouse and children (in that order) of a person who died while in the active military or naval service of the United States on or after September 16, 1940, shall be accorded a priority as to all surplus section 23 real property classified by the Administration as suitable for agricultural, residential, or small business purposes. This priority shall be subordinate to all the priorities described in subparagraphs (1) through (5) of this paragraph. The disposal agency shall satisfy itself, by reference to the veteran's discharge papers or other evidence, that the applicant is qualified to exercise this priority, and that the property applied for is for the applicant's own personal use for agricultural or residential purposes, or to enable the applicant to establish or maintain his own small business enterprise as defined in this part.

(7) Owner-operators shall be accorded a priority with respect to all surplus section 23 real property classified by the Administration as suitable for agricultural use. This priority shall be subordinate to the priorities described in subparagraphs (1) through (6) of this paragraph.

(8) Nonprofit institutions shall be accorded a priority to acquire all classes of surplus real property, except airport, harbor, or industrial real property, in order to fulfill, in the public interest, their own legitimate needs. This priority shall be subordinate to the priorities described in subparagraphs (1) through (7) of this paragraph.

(b) Extent of priorities. A priority may be exercised only for the entire interest which is offered: Provided, however, That the disposal agency may, in its discretion, accept an offer for less than such entire interest. The priorities of Government agencies, State, or local governments, and nonprofit institutions are continuing priorities which are not exhausted because of their effective exercise with respect to a given piece of property. The priority of a veteran, the spouse and children of a deceased serviceman, or an owner-operator, ceases to exist after it has once been effectively exercised with respect to one appropriate unit. The priority of a former owner or tenant is limited to the particular property as described in subparagraphs (a) (4) and (5) of this section.

(c) Transfer of priorities and transmission on death. No assignment or transfer of a priority shall be recognized, but the priority of a former owner may be exercised through an agent duly authorized in writing where the priority holder is so situated that he cannot exercise it in person. Upon the death of a veteran or former owner, his spouse and children (in that order) shall succeed to his priority rights. The priority right of a tenant shall be extinguished by his death.

(d) Time and method of exercise. Government agencies, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for resale to small business, and State or local governments shall have a period of ten (10) days in which to exercise their respective priorities after the date notice of availability is first published. The priority of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to acquire industrial property for resale to small business, under § 18 (e) of the act, may be exercised at any time after notice of availability is first published up to and including the cut-off date provided for in section 8305.14. Where the former owner has a priority, the time for the exercise of the former owner's priority and all subordinate priorities shall be ninety (90) days after the date notice of availability is first published, or such additional period as the Administration may allow when necessary or appropriate to facilitate a sale of the property to a former owner entitled to priority. In all other cases, the priority period shall be a period of ten (10) days after the first publication of notice of availability. Within the established priority period, the priority holder shall indicate an intention to exercise his priority by submitting to the disposal agency a written offer to acquire the property, stating the price that the applicant is willing to pay or, in the case of a Government agency, that a transfer without reimbursement or transfer of funds is authorized by law. Each offer shall be accompanied by such deposit as the disposal agency may require, except that no deposit shall be required from a Government agency, including the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or State or local government. The offer of a Government agency shall state that the property is being acquired for its own use and not for transfer or disposition, and shall set forth all pertinent facts pertaining to its need for the property. The offer of a State or local government or nonprofit institution shall show in detail the contemplated use of the property. Veterans, the spouse and children of deceased servicemen, and the owner-operators may offer to purchase any or all units offered for sale. When an offer cannot be made because the disposal agency lacks necessary information on price, units, or other matter, it shall be sufficient if the priority holder, within the applicable priority period, files a written statement of his desire to acquire the property or one or more appropriate units thereof. As soon as the necessary information becomes available (whether during or after the priority period), those who have filed such statements shall be so advised and given an opportunity to make an offer. The offer must be completed within a reasonable time as determined by the disposal agency. If a Government agency or State or local government shall require time to acquire funds or authority to acquire the property, the claimant shall, within the priority period, so state in its application and indicate the length of time needed for that purpose. The disposal agency will review the application and determine what time, if any, shall be allowed applicant to conclude the acquisition of the property and will advise the applicant of such determination.

(e) Failure to offer full amount or to exercise in time. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of § 8305.12, all priorities not exercised during the priority period shall expire upon the termination of such period. The disposal agency may, in its discretion, permit priority holders to make offers after the priority period has ended, and such offers may be considered on the same basis as if they had been submitted during the priority period. Such action by the disposal agency, however, shall not be construed as extending the priority period, and such offers may not be accepted to the prejudice of a timely and acceptable offer from another priority offeror. In order to exercise his priority, the offer of a priority offeror shall meet all the requirements of § 8305.18 with respect to consideration, which consideration shall be established in each case by the disposal agency. If his bid is less than the established consideration, such bid shall be treated as a nonpriority offer: Provided, however, That an offer from a Federal agency, which offer is less than fair value, shall be rejected, except where a transfer without reimbursement or transfer of funds is authorized by law. Offers by those entitled to a priority hereunder, which offers do not meet all the requirements of this part, may, at the option of the disposal agency, be treated as nonpriority offers.

§ 8305.13 Valuation and appraisal—(a) General. Except as provided otherwise in this section, the disposal agency shall in all cases establish the fair value of the property assigned to it for disposition: Provided, however, That in those cases in which the property assigned for disposition is airport property, or propery which it is contemplated will be transferred to a Federal agency without reimbursement or transfer of funds, no estimate need be made of the value of the property.

(b) Property to be acquired through exercise of former owner's and tenant's priority. When necessary in connection with the sale of property to a person exercising the priority accorded under the act and this part to a former owner or tenant of section 23 real property, the disposal agency shall establish, by appraisal, the market price of such property.

(c) Method of determining values. To determine values, the disposal agency shall have the property appraised by experienced and qualified appraisers familiar with the types of property to be appraised by them. They may be staff appraisers of the disposal agency, individuals employed on a loan reimbursable basis from other Federal agencies, or independent appraisers in private business. All appraisal reports shall contain a certificate executed by the appraiser certifying that he has no interest, direct or indirect, in the property, or sale or disposition thereof.

§ 8305.14 Notice and advertisement—(a) Wide publicity. Except where a transfer is requested by a Government agency, including the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for resale to small business, the disposal agency shall widely publicize all real property which becomes available for disposal hereunder, giving information adequate to inform interested persons of the general nature of the property and its possible uses, as well as any reservations, restrictions, and conditions imposed upon its disposition by the Administration. Such publicity shall be by public advertising or other appropriate public notice. The disposal agency may consult with local groups and organizations. The disposal agency shall, upon request, supply to bona fide potential purchasers and lessees adequate preliminary information and, with the cooperation of the owning agency where necessary, shall render such assistance to such persons as may enable them so far as feasible to acquire adequate information regarding the property. The disposal agency shall establish procedures so that all persons showing due diligence are given full and complete opportunity to make a proposal.

(b) Notice to priority holders. At the time of the first publication of the advertising required by this section, or where advertising is not required, notice shall be sent by mail to all Government agencies listed in Exhibit A of this part, to the State and political subdivisions in which the propery is located, and, in the case of harbor, port terminal, or airport property, to political subdivisions in the vicinity thereof, and to any State or local governments and nonprofit institutions which have expressed an interest in the property. Where, however, a transfer is requested by one of the armed forces for national defense purposes prior to the conclusion of peace, its need being recognized as paramount, no notice to other Government agencies is necessary. Where the former owner is entitled to a priority, the disposal agency, at the time of the first publication of such notice, shall send a copy thereof to the former owner at his last known address by registered mail, with return receipt requested, except in those cases where a State and local government has indicated its intention to exercise its priority to acquire the property.

(c) Inspection. All persons interested in the acquisition of surplus property available for disposal under this part shall, with the cooperation of the owning agency where necessary, be permitted to make a complete inspection of such property, including any engineering reports made in connection therewith, subject to any necessary restrictions in the interest of national security and subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the owning or disposal agency. The consent of the sponsoring agency is required where the property is still in production or use.

(d) Cut-off date. All advertisements published pursuant to the requirements of this section shall contain a cut-off date for the submission of offers.

§ 8305.15 Submission of proposals by nonpriority offerors. All proposals made by any nonpriority holder interested in the acquisition of surplus real property available for disposal in accordance with the provisions of this part shall be in writing and, in addition to the financial terms upon which the proposal is predicated, shall set forth the willingness of the offeror to abide by the terms, conditions, reservations, and restrictions upon which the property is offered, and shall contain such other information as the disposal agency may request. Any information submitted, the disclosure of which might tend to subject the offeror to a competitive business disadvantage shall, upon request, be held in strict confidence by the disposal agency and by any other Government agency to which it is made available.

§ 8305.16 Donations. Surplus real property may be donated only to any agency or institution supported by the Federal Government, or any State or local government, or to any nonprofit educational or charitable organization, and only when the disposal agency finds in writing either: (a) that the property has no commercial value or (b) that the cost of its care, handling, and disposition would exceed the estimated proceeds of a sale. Before making any donation, however, the disposal agency shall in all cases obtain the prior approval of the Administration. To obtain such approval, the disposal agency shall submit to the Administration a copy of its findings, together with any supporting evidence, and a full description of any donation that may be proposed.

§ 8305.17 Disposals for educational or public-health purposes. State or local governments or educational or public-health institutions seeking to acquire surplus real property hereunder for educational use or to promote or protect the public health may qualify for an allowance from the fair value because of the benefit which has accrued or which may accrue to the United States by such use: Provided, That no public-benefit allowance may be allowed to any nonprofit institutions which are not exempt from taxation under section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code. Applications for such allowances shall be filed with the Administration and shall indicate with reasonable completeness the nature of the contemplated use of the property, the basis for claiming preferential treatment, a full description of the applicant, and the ways in which and the extent to which the United States will be benefited by the proposed use. Each such application shall be accompanied by a certificate of an authorized official of the buyer that the buyer is a State or local government, or that it is a nonprofit institution as defined in § 8305.1 (b) of this part, and that the property is being acquired for educational or public-health purposes. The application also shall be accompanied by a statement from the disposal agency setting forth such information as the disposal agency is able to secure with respect to the applicant, the contemplated use by such applicant, and the disposal agency's estimate of the fair value of the property. After considering the application and any additional evidence deemed appropriate, including additional information required from the disposal agency or the applicant, the Administration shall notify the disposal agency of its decision on the application, certifying the amount of the public-benefit allowance granted and directing the terms and conditions of the disposal.

§ 8305.18 Price to priority claimants—(a) General. Except as hereinafter provided, the price to be charged priority purchasers shall be the fair value of the property offered for disposal.

(b) Transfers to Federal agencies without reimbursement. Transfers may be made to Federal agencies without reimbursement or transfer of funds when such transfers are authorized by law.

(c) Former owners and tenants. The price to be paid by a former owner or tenant acquiring surplus section 23 real property shall be a price not greater than that for which it was acquired by the United States, such acquisition price being properly adjusted to reflect any increase or decrease in the value of such property resulting from action by the United States, or a price equal to the market price at the time of sale of such property, whichever price is the lower.

(d) Airport, harbor, or industrial real property. The consideration for a transfer of airport, harbor, or industrial real property shall be the fair value of such property considered in the light of the applicable objectives of the act and the reservations, restrictions, and conditions imposed upon the future use and disposition of the property: Provided, however, That disposals of surplus airport property as such may be made to a State or local government without the payment of a monetary consideration by the transferee in those uses where such airport property is taken under such reservations, restrictions, and conditions as may be determined by the Administration to constitute in the aggregate adequate consideration for such transfer, and: Provided, further, That disposals of such property shall provide that there shall be no exclusive right for the use of any landing area or air navigation facility upon which Federal funds have been expended.

§ 8305.19 Acceptance of offers—(a) General. The disposal agency shall allow a reasonable period of time within which the successful bidder shall consummate the transaction and shall notify the successful bidder of the period allowed. Offers from priority holders at their respective established considerations shall be accepted in the order of their priority. If there are several acceptable offers at the same price or consideration from offerors in the same priority group or from nonpriority offerors, the offer to be accepted from that group shall be selected as provided in paragraph (c) of this section. In evaluating offers, the disposal agency shall be guided by all of the applicable objectives of the act. In addition, due consideration shall be given to the offers of nonprofit institutions and such offers shall be carefully considered, bearing in mind the nature of the nonprofit institution and the use to which it proposes to put the property. Disposal agencies may reject any offer which is below the fair value of the property other than an offer from a priority holder for the maximum consideration established for a transfer to such a priority holder. When a veteran, the spouse and children of a deceased serviceman, or an owner-operator has made an offer for more than one unit, only one of the offers of such offeror shall be accepted. No disposal shall be made at a price which is more than twenty-five (25) per centum below the established fair value until such disposal has been reviewed and approved by the Administration, unless that price or consideration is the maximum price or consideration which may be charged the purchaser.

(b) Proof of priority status. Before a disposal agency shall dispose of surplus real property on the basis of the priority claimed by the offeror, it shall require satisfactory proof of the priority status, identity, or authority of the person making the offer.

(c) Equal offers. If equal acceptable offers are received for the same property from two or more offerors of the same priority group, or if equal offers are received from two or more nonpriority offerors, selection shall be made as follows:

(1) In the case of Government agencies, State or local governments, or nonprofit institutions the selection shall be determined on the basis of need. If the matter cannot be determined by agreement between the claimants, the disposal agency shall report the matter in writing to the Administration, setting forth the names of the competing claimants, a summary of their respective claims, a description of the property involved, and the recommendations, if any, of the disposal agency, together with any statements in writing which the claimants, or any of them, may wish to file with the Administration. The Administration shall review the matter and report its determination to the disposal agency. The Administration's determination shall be final for all purposes.

(2) With respect to veterans, the selection shall be by lot. With respect to all other priority groups and nonpriority offerors, the selection shall be determined, unless otherwise directed by the Administration, by taking into consideration actual proposals received and the use of the property most desirable in the light of the applicable objectives of the act.

(3) If a veteran, the spouse and children of a deceased serviceman, or an owner-operator is selected for more than one unit, he shall elect in writing which one he shall take and thereupon the right to purchase the remaining unit or units of property shall go to the remaining applicants in the particular priority group in the order in which the names are drawn.

(d) Notice to unsuccessful bidders; nonperformance by successful bidder. When an offer for surplus real property has been accepted, the disposal agency shall notify the unsuccessful bidders of such acceptance and return their deposits, if any, to them. If the successful bidder fails to complete the transaction, the disposal agency shall promptly notify by mail all those who made unsuccessful offers during the priority period or any time allowed thereafter that if they renew their offers within fifteen (15) days from the date of mailing of the notice they will be reconsidered on the same basis on which they would have been considered had the offer accepted not been received in the first instance.

(e) Absence of acceptable offers; methods of sale. If no acceptable offer is received, the disposal agency shall proceed to dispose of the property by negotiated sale, auction, or other suitable method. Such disposals shall be subject to the price restrictions of paragraph (a) of this section, unless otherwise authorized by the Administration.

§ 8305.20 Form of conveyance—(a) General. The deed or instrument of transfer shall be on a form approved by the Attorney General. Disposals shall be by quitclaim deed unless the disposal agency finds that a warranty deed is necessary to obtain a reasonable price for the property or to render the title marketable and unless the use of such a deed is recommended and approved by the Attorney General as provided in the act.

(b) Conditions in disposal instrument. Unless otherwise authorized by the Administration, as a part of each disposal pursuant to this part, any priority claimant, or any person acquiring surplus industrial property, shall certify in writing that he is acquiring the property for the uses and purposes set forth in his proposal and (1) if a purchaser, that he is not acquiring it for the purpose of reselling it and in no case will he resell it within three (3) years without first obtaining the written authorization of the Administration; (2) if a lessee, that he will not assign the lease or sublet all of the property without the prior written consent of the Administration, nor will he sublet any portion of the premises without such approval, except as permitted under the terms of the lease: Provided, however, That no such restriction as to resale shall be imposed upon a conveyance to a former owner, or the tenant of a former owner, acquiring surplus section 23 real property through an exercise of his priority, or upon a conveyance of airport property, or war housing or other structures and improvements sold for removal from the site. If the disposal agency extends credit, the purchaser shall agree that, until full payment is made, he will not resell the property without the prior written authorization of the Administration to such resale. Any deed, lease, or other instrument executed to dispose of property under this part, subject to reservations, restrictions, or conditions, as to the future use, maintenance, or transfer of the property, shall recite all representations and agreements pertaining thereto and may contain a provision to the effect that, upon a breach of any of the reservations, restrictions, or conditions by the immediate or any subsequent transferees, the title, right of possession, or other right disposed of shall, at the option of the Government, revert to the Government upon demand.

§ 8305.21 Disposal of leasehold interests and improvements by disposal agencies—(a) Improvements: leaseholds. Where surplus real property held only under lease or other similar right of occupancy, with or without improvements thereon, is assigned to a disposal agency for disposition, such disposal agency, subject to the provisions of section 8305.14 of this part, (1) may accept a proposal from a priority holder under this part, in order of priority, or, if there is no priority offeror, then from a nonpriority offeror, to assume the obligations of the lease, unless such a transfer is prohibited by the terms of the lease or other instrument under which the interest was acquired, and may dispose of any structures or improvements located on or in the property, subject to such reservations, restrictions and conditions, if any, as the Administration deems necessary properly to protect the interests of the United States, in the following order:

First, by any one or more of the following methods:

(i) By disposition of all or a portion thereof to the transferee of the leasehold interest for a consideration that is fair and reasonable under all the circumstances.

(ii) By disposition in accordance with contractual commitments, or

(iii) By transfer to the lessor or owner of the premises in full or partial satisfaction of any obligation to restore the premises, or upon a release by the lessor or owner of a restoration obligation plus the payment of a consideration that is fair and reasonable under all the circumstances, or

Second, by disposition to priority holders under this part, in their order of priority, for removal from the site, or

Third, by disposition to nonpriority holders for removal from the site; or

(2) may cancel the lease, by notice or negotiated agreement, and dispose of any structures or improvements located on or in the property, subject to such reservations, restrictions, and conditions, if any, as the Administration deems necessary properly to protect the interests of the United States in the same manner as described in subparagraph (1) above for the disposition of structures and improvements in those cases in which the lease is to be transferred or assigned, except that the method providing for disposition to the transferees or assignee of the leasehold or other similar right of occupancy would not be applicable.

(b) Improvements, Government-owned land. In the case of Government-owned land, the disposal agency may dispose of structures and improvements with the land or intact and separate from the land. In either case, disposals shall be subject to applicable provisions of this part.

(c) Personalty. Where it is determined that equipment or supplies or other personal property located in or on surplus real property is to be disposed of in conjunction with real property, it may be disposed of with the real property subject to applicable provisions of this part. The disposal agency shall hold such surplus personalty intact until such time as the disposal agency determines in writing that the retention of any part of the personalty will not facilitate the disposition of any or all of the surplus real property, at which time the personalty to be released shall be transferred to the jurisdiction of the agency designated in Part 8301 to dispose of such property. In connection with the leasing of any surplus real property, the disposal agency may sell to the lessee any personal property determined to be necessary for the operation of the realty.

§ 8305.22 Disposal under authority other than the Surplus Property Act. Disposals of airport, harbor, or industrial real property shall not be made under other laws, pursuant to section 34 (a) of the act, but shall be made only in strict accordance with the provisions of this part unless the Administrator, upon written application by the owning agency or other interested Government agency, shall consent in writing to a disposal under such other laws.

§ 8305.23 Functions of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. In the disposal of surplus airport property under this part, the disposal agency may avail itself of the services of representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Administration in connection with the disposal of surplus airport property, and shall consult with and obtain the recommendations of the Civil Aeronautics Administration in all decisions pertaining to civil aviation. In addition, the Civil Aeronautics Administration shall furnish such technical assistance as the Administrator or the disposal agency may request and the Civil Aeronautics Administration is in a position to provide.

§ 8305.24 Fissionable materials. (a) In all disposals of lands hereafter made under the authority and provisions of the act;

(b) In all leases, permits, or other authorizations of whatever kind, hereafter granted to remove minerals from such lands;

(c) In all leases, permits or other authorizations which otherwise would preclude the United States from exercising its right to enter upon such lands and prospect for, mine, and remove minerals, there shall be reserved to the United States all fissionable materials in the lands, together with the right, at any and all times, to enter upon the lands and prospect for, mine, and remove such materials: Provided, That no such reservation shall interfere with the primary use of the land established or indicated by any act of Congress, and: Provided, further, That no such reservation shall be required whenever the Secretary of the Interior shall determine that the land affected does not contain substantial deposits of fissionable materials, or that, in view of all the circumstances, there is no reasonable probability that such materials are present in quantities sufficient to justify their extraction. Unless the lands are within the exceptions above provided, all notices of sale or availability given or published by the disposal agencies shall disclose that the lands involved will be disposed of or sold subject to the reservation of the mineral rights referred to in this section.

§ 8305.25 Submission to Attorney General and approval by regulatory agencies—(a) Attorney General. In any case in which real property available for disposal hereunder cost $1,000,000 or more, a complete statement of any proposed disposal to private interests which has been tentatively decided upon, including all information compiled or obtained by the disposal agency, shall be made available by the disposal agency to the Attorney General as required by section 20 of the act.

(b) Regulatory agencies. All disposals of surplus transportation property shall be subject to the approval of any regulatory agency, Federal or State, having jurisdiction of such disposal by reason of the type of property involved.

§ 8305.26 Records and reports. Owning and disposal agencies shall prepare and maintain such records as will show full compliance with the provisions of this part and with the applicable provisions of the act. Reports shall be prepared and filed with the Administrator in such manner as may be specified by order issued under this part subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

§ 8305.27 Regulations by agencies to be reported to the Administrator. Each owning and disposal agency shall file with the Administration copies of all regulations, orders and instructions of general applicability which it may issue in furtherance of the provisions, or any of them, of this part.

§ 8305.28 Exceptions. Exceptions to any portions of the procedure set forth in this part may be made by direction of the Administrator where such exception would not be in violation of the act.

This part shall become effective March 17, 1947.

Administrator.
